After considerable negotiations, Mr. A. J. Small has secured for the Russell Theatre for Fair week, commencing Monday, September 13, the famous comic opera, "The Gay Musician," by the noted composer, Julian Edwards. The fame of "The Gay Musician" is too well known in Canada to need any particular exploitation at this time, for it has been seen twice during the past season, and was declared by all who saw the production of Manager John P. Slocum, to be the best musical attraction that has been seen in Ottawa for many years. Those who will visit Ottawa during Fair week should not fail to see "The Gay Musician" at the Russell, for if they do they will miss one of the big features of the week's celebration, and a treat of a lifetime. The company of eighty people comprises some of the best known singers on the stage to-day, and Manager Slocum has made a careful selection of his singers, comedians, chorus and dancers. In "The Gay Musician" there will be entertainment for all tastes and desires, for it comprises all that should be in high class comic opera. There is the delightful music of the renowned English composer, Julian Edwards, to please lovers of good music. Then there is the splendid story and its amusing situations and comedy lines that have kept laughing hundreds of thousands of people all over the country. Those who are pleased by seeing pretty women on the stage will have a feast in seeing "The Gay Musician," for its chorus is said to be one of the best ever gathered together in New York, consisting of trained singers and the most beautiful "show girls" known on Broadway. Those who appreciate dancing will have all they desire in this comic opera, for its "pony ballet" has been recruited from the best dancers on the stage. The beautiful scenery and the glitter of gorgeous costumes and effects all combine to make "The Gay Musician" one of the most notable theatrical attractions that has ever visited Ottawa, and Manager Gorman is now busy preparing for the Fair week engagement, which promises to be the biggest and most successful in the history of the Russell Theatre.

PRISONERS TALK OF SOLICITORS

Policeman Hears Conversation of Prisoners in Cells

An amusing piece of evidence came up in the trial of Fallen and Connors the other day, when the two young men were up before Magistrate Dumble, charged with highway robbery. While the two young men were in the cell awaiting their call, they struck up a conversation and P. C. Newhall, hearing them from outside, copied it down and presented it as evidence to the court. During the conversation Conner said to Fallen:

"Who are you going to have to defend you, Fallen?"

"I don't know yet," replied Fallen. "I'd have Gordon only he wouldn't defend me. I owe him some money for the last time. How would McWilliams do?"

"Oh, we would have to show him the money first," said Conners.

"No we wouldn't—he's easy. We'll tell him that we'll pay him, and then as soon as we're out he can go to the Dickens," concluded Fallen.

Mr. Gordon was in the court at the time when the above evidence was given, and enjoyed it immensely; his only sorrow being that Mr. McWilliams was not present to hear it also.

LITTLE BRITAIN'S BIG CONFLAGRATION

Very Heavy Loss by Fire—One Frame Building and One Brick Structure—Destructive Sweep of the Flame.

Little Britain, Aug. 16.—Fire which threatened to develop into a conflagration that would sweep all the village from one end to the other, broke out in the grocery store of R. S. Robertson, King street, about 2.30 p. m. Saturday. Most of the structures in the block were frame, and with a brisk breeze blowing and in the absence of any fire-fighting apparatus, there was keen apprehension. So serious was the situation considered that besides hurry-up calls sent to the villages of Oakwood and Valencia, a few miles away, Reeve Varcoe wired Chief Thompson, of the Toronto Fire Department, for assistance about 5.30 p.m. A special train with a steam engine and two hose sections, and a detachment of ten men arrived at 7.45, but the aid was not needed, as the fire was then under control.

The damage is estimated to have been $30,000, the fire having consumed ten buildings. The blaze was brought to a standstill on reaching the corner of the street, the bucket brigade succeeding in preventing the flames from sweeping across the intervening street to a business block on the other side, although for a time it looked as though the fire could not be stayed.

The sufferers by the conflagration, which extended over ten or twelve acres, are:

R. S. Robertson, grocery store, carriage factory and residence, $3,000.

A. L. Tremeer, general store and residence, $8,000.

J. Jones, implement shop, $1,100.

W. E. Yerex, implement shop, $1,000. [illegible]

Wm. Rudd, hotel $1,400.

A. J. Rich, tailor shop and house, $2,000.

Mrs. Sale's house, $1,400.

J. J. Sloan's house, $1,400.

With the exception of Rich's tailor shop, all the buildings were of frame construction.

The cause of the blaze is not known. Flames were observed in the rear of Robertson's grocery and spread rapidly. They speedily enveloped the carriage factory adjoining, and it was seen that the whole block was in peril. A strong wind from the south-east was blowing. A bucket brigade was formed but could do little. A fire engine arrived from Oakwood later in the afternoon, but broke down on the first attempt to use it. More effective work was done, however, by two engine water tanks, to which lengths of 2 1-2 inch hose were attached, two teams being kept busy drawing water from a nearby creek.

The fire caused great excitement for miles around, hundreds of farmers and residents of villages within a ten-mile radius, being attracted, as well as many from Lindsay, ten miles away. Little Britain

REMEMBERED BY BIBLE CLASS

Mr. F. C. Moore Presented With Bible and Hymn Book at George St. Church

Mr. F. C. Moore, who has been connected with the local branch of T. Kinnear & Co. for over a year, leaves to-morrow for Toronto, having been transferred to the head office of the company. He will be greatly missed in Peterborough as he had made a large number of friends in the city. Yesterday afternoon at George st. church Mr. Moore was presented with a handsome Bible and hymn book by the Inthou Bible Class with which he had been actively identified, being the assistant teacher. An address expressing regret at Mr. Moore's departure and wishing him success in his new sphere of labor was read by Mr. W. B. Warne, president of the class, and the presentation was made by ex-alderman Johnston.

Mr. Moore thanked the class for the handsome gifts and referred to the pleasure it had given him to be associated in the good work of the organization. He regretted leaving Peterborough and wished the Inthou Bible Class continued success.

WHO WILL BE NEW BISHOP?

The rumor has been revived that Father Hand, rector of St. Paul's Roman Catholic church, Toronto, is a likely choice for the Roman Catholic bishopric of London. Three names have been mentioned:—Father J. P. Aylward, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, London, who has the support of Archbishop McEvay; Dean Mahoney, of Hamilton, who is supported by Bishop Dowling, of Hamilton, and Father Hand. No official confirmation of these rumors were made by any of the Toronto clergy Saturday, but acknowledgement was made that the rumor had reached their ears before. It is, however, unlikely that Father Aylward will desire to take up the heavy duties involved in the bishopric because of personal reasons.

WHEN YOU NEXT VISIT BUFFALO

The Right Place to Stay — The Lenox Hotel for the Ladies

To those who purpose visiting Buffalo in the near future, a hint as to where to stay while in that city might not be amiss. Ladies who are travelling alone or without male escort are often perplexed as to a suitable place to stay where they will be comfortable and perfectly sure that they will not be subject to such annoyances as are likely to occur in the hotels in a big city. The Lenox Hotel in Buffalo is one of the most up-to-date and well equipped of modern hotels, and special attention is given to the comfort of the ladies. The hotel is in the most beautiful residential portion of the city on Delaware and North streets, and is away from the noise and bustle that is so annoying in the centre of the city. An auto bus from the hotel meets all the trains, and rooms may be reserved by mail or 'phone in advance if desired. The Lenox is run on the European plan, there being a beautiful and well-equipped grill room in connection, where the service is all that can be desired. An advertisement of the hotel appears in another column, and intending visitors to Buffalo should decide to stay there while in the city.

Apple Crop Poor

The apple crop of the township will fall considerably short of last year, yet there are a few good orchards and the fruit is of a better grade than last season. Buyers are out picking up orchards, and some fancy prices are reported. ## SOUTH AFRICA'S FREE HAND WITH THE RACE PROBLEMS

British Commons Unanimously Passes Second Reading of Constitution Bill—Race Features of Bill do Not Make Blacks Equal to Whites, Says Balfour.

London, Aug. 17.—The House of Commons last night unanimously passed the second reading of the South African constitution bill.

In the course of the debate ex-Premier Balfour said that the House in dealing with the question of a constitution for the federation of South African colonies — the Transvaal,, Cape Colony, the Orange River State, and Natal—was discussing one of the most important events in the history of empire.

The bill, he declared, was a most wonderful issue from all the controversies, battles, bloodshed and difficulties to peace, and he believed the world could not show anything like it.

The race problem, Mr. Balfour said, was but a fractional part of the great question Parliament was now deciding.

He strongly denied that it was intended to give the colored races equality with Europeans, declaring that so far as the Government, society and the higher forms of civilization were concerned, it would be impossible to give equal rights to the colored races without threatening the whole fabric of civilization.

In the opinion of Mr. Balfour, the best hope for the solution of this great problem was to place absolute and implicit confidence in the representative institutions the South Africans are now creating, and for the Home Government not to meddle with it.

He added that he desired to do nothing that would hamper the Government in carrying out a measure so essential to the future of South Africa.

Prince Praises Papa.

Antwerp, Aug. 17.—Prince Albert Leopold, heir to the Belgian throne, arrived here yesterday on his return from the Congo and was given an ovation. He spoke in praise of what King Leopold had accomplished in the Congo, and said the resources and possibilities of development of the country had exceeded his expectations.

SMUGGLERS HAD ISLAND

Detroit River Band is Broken up by the Police—Trafficked in Chinamen

Windsor, Aug. 17.—A band of Chinese smugglers, using a deserted island ten miles down the river as a base of operations, is believed to have been broken up by the capture of three young Detroit men and two Chinamen in Lansing, last week. With the knowledge gleaned from the prisoners, it is believed a temporary check, at least, has been put on the bold gang. The headquarters of this gang of smugglers, according to assistant U. S. District Attorney Bland, is on Fighting Island, inside the Canadian border. It is the belief of the Government authorities that the gang, checkmated at every point, hit upon the deserted island as their headquarters, and that Chinamen to be smuggled were taken in hand upon their arrival in Windsor and secreted on the island, probably in one of the fishermen's huts, until an opportunity arose to take them across the line in a launch. But the scheme went wrong on its first trial, it is believed, and all because the white men involved were unable to control their hunger. They stopped in Lansing to ask a policeman the way to a restaurant, and the officer saw the Chinamen, insufficiently covered by a rug, in the bottom of their automobile. He accordingly seized the machine, the two Chinamen, and three of the four white men in the rig. The Chinamen were remanded for a hearing by U. S. Commissioner Davison, and the white men are making an effort to obtain bail.

BRANTFORD MAN FATALLY HURT

Brantford, Aug. 17.—John Cornish, an employe of the Waterous Engine Works, was fatally injured yesterday afternoon.

He was helping unload a car of sheet iron by means of a crane, and one of the pieces, weighing 800 pounds, when suspended about ten feet in the air, fell, levelling the unfortunate fellow to the ground, the sharp edge severing one leg and inflicting severe internal injuries. Cornish was warned not to stand under the iron when it was swinging. He was removed to the hospital, but no hope is held out for his recovery.

ATTEMPTS TO END THE STRIKE

Glace Bay, N.S., Aug. 17.—It is expected that the Premier of Nova Scotia, Hon. George H. Murray, will be here to-day to render his assistance towards a settlement of the coal strike.

He will likely suggest a course already agreed upon. This is what is expected, but reports from the inside are few and meagre. Meanwhile, a more optimistic sentiment prevails and the feeling of irritation has been modified and quiet indications point that negotiations for a settlement will be started in a few days.

LATEST COUP OF HARRIMAN

New York, Aug. 17.—A report that E. H. Harriman has obtained an option on a controlling interest in the New York Central lines which, if exercised, will give him control of a through route from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans, was circulated on the Stock Exchange yesterday. Such a route has been the dream of railroad men for years.

The option taken by Mr. Harriman is said to cover about $80,000,000 worth of New York Central stock, a large part of which formerly was controlled by the Vanderbilt interests. The price at which the stock may be taken over is said to be $160 a share.

It was pointed out that the acquisition of the New York Central would give Mr. Harriman an ocean route by way of the New York Central, Chicago & Northwestern, Illinois Central, Union Pacific and Southern

MANY PLACES ARE WRECKED BY ELECTRICAL DISTURBANCE

Windsor is Visited by Two Gales in Rapid Succession and Many Roofs Are Blown off—Barns at Sunderland and Alvington Are Burned.

Windsor, Aug. 17.—A terrific wind and rain storm, which passed over this city Sunday night, was augmented by a second storm yesterday afternoon, and together they inflicted serious damage in many quarters.

It is more than probable that at least two persons have been drowned by the overturning of canoes in the river.

In Windsor roofs were blown off several houses, chimneys blown down, trees damaged, and several people had narrow escapes from being injured by flying debris. Lightning also struck in several places, and at Belle Isle, directly across from Walkerville, one man, Noble T. Bristow of Cleveland, was struck and instantly killed. The rapidity with which the storm came up caught many sailboats and canoes out on the river, and reports of overturned boats are numerous. There is some apprehension that two Detroit boys named Starr may have lost their lives.

Walkerville probably suffered the most severely. Three iron warehouses of the Walkerville Distillery plant were unroofed and thrown to the ground.

Two large barns, owned by Francis Pratt, above Walkerville, and filled with the season's crops, were struck by lightning and destroyed.

Loses Barn and Crops.

Sunderland, Aug. 17.—During a heavy thunderstorm yesterday afternoon, the barn of Thomas Mulligan, two miles northwest of the village, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Mulligan lost all the season's crop of hay and fall wheat, a small quantity of alsike feed, all the fowl, three pigs and a calf, also some of his implements. Mulligan carried some insurance, but his loss will be heavy.

Two Barns Burned.

Alvington, Aug. 17.—During the electric storm that passed over this district Sunday evening, the barn of Albert Cox, a farmer in Brooke Township, was burned down. Yesterday afternoon during another storm, the barn of W. F. Armstrong of the Township of Euphemia was destroyed.

Knocked Out of Bed by Lightning.

Brantford, Aug. 17.—George Snazle, residing on William street, Paris, was knocked out of bed by lightning on Sunday night. There was a severe storm in that vicinity. Snazle went to bed, and about eleven o'clock lightning struck the house, tearing away part of the roof, the bolt crashing into the bedroom, tearing off the plaster, and throwing Snazle to the floor, where he later recovered without serious effects.

YOUTH IS CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF OLD MAN

Michael Hall, Aged 80, is Found Dead With Bullet Wound Behind Ear and Two Others in Body—Young Farm Hand is Arrested.

Simcoe, Ont., Aug. 17.—Emerson Shelley, 15 years of age, is locked up in jail here, charged with having shot and killed Michael Hall, an almost blind octogenarian, on Sunday afternoon. He is also alleged to have fired several shots at Mrs. Hall.

From all accounts, the shooting was most deliberate.

Hall, who was 80 years of age, almost blind, and somewhat crippled, lived near Walsh, ten miles from the town. Shelley has been working for him, his stepfather living in the neighborhood.

As far as can be learned the old man was shot with a 32 calibre rifle from behind, the bullet entering the back of his head. Two more bullets were then fired into the prostrate body. This was about 5 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. Yesterday morning Constable Abel went out and arrested him.

Shelley is the stepson of one Staebler, a poor farmer living nearby. He denies that he was in the vicinity of the Hall premises on Sunday, but acknowledged he had been in the woods with his rifle.

He has been in the habit of carrying a revolver recently, it appears, and discharging it at random, causing much alarm among residents of the neighborhood. He looked upon himself, it is said, in the light of an emulator of Jesse James and men of like criminal tendencies. Certainly his mind has become more or less impregnated with tales of their deeds.

His companions, too, have been men of a desperate code of morals. Warnings from neighbors had no effect and he persisted in his practices.

The boy is small and slight of figure and does not look at all vicious as he lies in his cell here.

It is said the motive for the shooting was a reprimand from Hall some days before.

WAS HURLED FROM AUTO

Atlantic City, N.J., Aug. 17.—In a blinding rainstorm, a large automobile carrying five men from this city to Philadelphia [illegible] bridge spanning a creek on the [illegible] just outside the city early yesterday and, striking the railing of the structure with terrific force threw its occupants into the water fifteen feet below. All were painfully injured, but they escaped death, from drowning by swimming and wading ashore. The automobile was wrecked.

AVIATOR CURTISS HAD AN ACCIDENT

Rheims, France, Aug. 17.—Glen Curtiss, the American aviator, met with an accident during a trial flight yesterday.

The accident was due to a large gust of wind catching the aeroplane crosswise and causing it to strike the ground hard on its side. It is stated that the aeroplane was damaged greater than at first appeared and it is feared that repairing it possibly will be a long operation and even may preclude Mr. Curtiss' participation in the first days of the meeting.

Mr. Curtiss is suffering from shock and bruises, though his condition is not serious.

A hurricane, accompanied by hail and torrents of rain, swept over the aeroplane last night, unroofing a number of sheds.

SAYS STEEL WILL PAY DIVIDEND

Montreal, Aug. 17.—The Herald prints the following on its financial pages:

"The Herald has it on the best authority that the Dominion Iron & Steel Co. is earning sufficient to warrant a dividend on the common stock next year and leave a substantial surplus to be carried forward.

"The company, if the present rate of production continues, will show earnings at the rate of well over 8 per cent. per annum on the common stock, and there is now little doubt that holders of the stock will receive at least a 4 per cent. dividend during the next fiscal year.

"There is reason to believe that the company's business will continue at the present profitable rate for at least the remainder of the current year."

BIG TRESTLE COLLAPSES

St. John, N.B., Aug. 17.—A Fredericton special says that six spans of one of the largest trestles on the New Brunswick section of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway collapsed, with the result that one workman was killed and several others had miraculous escapes.

The trestle spanning Mullin's Brook, near McGinvey's Siding, was 1,400 feet long and fifty feet high. Cars were dumping rock into the valley, and went down with the trestle, carrying six with them.

An inquest was held, and the Toronto Construction Co., who were in charge of the work, are not exonerated from blame.

DETERMINED TO HAVE ICE CREAM

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 17.—William Morwick is wroth at the Lord's Day Alliance people and is confounded at what he terms the inconsistencies of the law.

Morwick is an ice cream manufacturer, and the latest dictum of the Alliance is that he cannot sell ice cream to persons who go to his factory to buy it, but he is allowed to sell and deliver the cooling cream to hotels, restaurants and boarding-houses.

Determined to have ice cream many people bought sweet cream Sunday and took it home and made ice cream out of it.

UNDENTIFIED BODY FOUND

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Aug. 17.—The body of a man was taken from the river by a couple of men who had been out for a trip in a launch. At first it was supposed the body was that of a sailor of the ill-fated steamer Clemson of Aurania, but later investigation proved it to be that of an unknown Finlander. In the pockets of the coat were found heavy stones, showing that the man had either been a suicide or had met foul play. The clothes bore the stamp of a Milwaukee firm.

FARMER HAS A CLOSE CALL

Guelph, Aug. 17.—A farmer by name of William Hall, who resides near Elora, had a miraculous escape from being killed at a level crossing. He was met on the crossing by the 2.20 train from Elora. The engine struck his horse, throwing it into a fence corner about 30 feet, killing it instantly. The shock broke the tips of the shafts from Hall's buggy, but left him and his vehicle otherwise uninjured.

From Great Britain 1,212 immigrants came to Canada in April, May and June.

Assault or Suicide?

PAGEANT

About a year ago the Review advocated a procession or celebration which should be a moving picture history of Peterborough. This manner of attracting visitors and pleasing the city's own people is general in England, where, of course, greater age gives more history. But there is change enough since the oldtimers held sway here, to enable the dullest to look upon a pageant history of Peterborough with pleasure. There is a great deal in it — much more than we could elaborate in a single article. With such a pageant for the summer of 1910, and with a horse show for the winter of 1909-10, Peterborough might have a few very profitable days in more ways than one.

PROFESSIONAL HOUSEHELP

The old word, "servants" drove out of domestic life the great majority of girls employed in it. At first it is true the wages in factories springing up everywhere under the new Protective Policy of Sir John Macdonald were higher than in domestic work. But it was not long until the latter advanced with board and lodging to a higher point than the factory wage. Still it did not bring back the deserters. To the other attractions of factory life it was found that the one of new found liberty to go out at night had become added. To counteract this the householder doubled the weekly privileges of his "help." Why was it that conditions reversed did not produce the desired result? Because the old odium of "servant" still clung to it. A Peterborough lady suggests that the work should be professionalized as nursing is. All honest toil is honorable, and nowhere is a girl more under another person than in a factory. If the work were professionalised trained maids would perform a recognized duty in a recognized calling just in the same way as in any other form of employment. This would put it on a proper competitive plane with the rest, and once it was so recognized the advantages of domestic life would become apparent to those who appreciate the security and protection of that form of employment. Many girls are now working for what they could get in cash as housemaids, although the latter have board and lodging in addition, but they will not go as such because of the seeming degradation. This spirit of independence can be satisfied by making the service a professional calling. It will then rank with the rest except in the matter of its security in which it far excels any other form of work. The professional training of girls in addition to teaching them what to do and how to do it will show them exactly what their rights are, which will be protected by the "order," and it will also show them what the rights of the mistress are—two very important things. Much of the unhappiness, to use a mild word, prevalent at the present day, is directly due to a complete disregard of domestic discipline. There is a moral as well as economic side to the whole question. It must be remembered, too, that the craving for distinction is greater in a democracy than in any age of class. The florid names of societies show that. The only difference is that under a democracy it is open to any man who can pay his dues for one year to be a Most Eminent [illegible], and this is esteemed a great privilege. The same feeling of equality in distinction pervades the entire mass of humanity, and it should be taken notice of in a hitherto neglected direction.

THE LUMBER FIELD

Trade Review.

An instructive and suggestive bulletin has been issued by the Forestry branch of the Department of the Interior, prepared by Mr. H. H. Ross. The bulletin gives figures in support of the theory lately advanced by Dr. Fernow, that Canada is destined to become the producer of the world's supply of sawn lumber. It indicates that Canada's exports of manufactured and unmanufactured wood products have increased from less than $19,000,000 in 1868, to $49,000,000 last year. Of these products Great Britain took $9,354,244 worth, and the United States $7,842,526 worth in 1868, while last year the Mother Country's share was $11,463,094 worth, and that of the United States $27,470,754 worth, including a very large portion of the manufactured wood products. Mr. Ross emphasises the need of obtaining more information respecting the forest resources of the Dominion, and points out that it was for this that the Forestry Branch was organised. Canada's vast forest areas are among her most important resources. The census of 1901 estimated the forest area as 799,000,000 acres, but Mr. Ross says that more recent estimates reduce it to between 500,000,000 and 600,000,000 acres. This includes areas of timber which is not at present merchantable. For land covered with merchantable timber presently available estimates have been made as low as 200,000,000 and even 100,000,000 acres. The quantity of timber that can be counted on for sawn lumber is also not well-known, though the bulletin referred to gives a tentative estimate of 500,000,000,000 and 600,000,000,000 feet. There are in addition large pulp-wood areas, and these must be conserved, and in this respect, Mr. Mann, the Illinois representative in the U.S. Congress, may be referred to. In his speech on the tariff, just passed across the line, he said: "Canada is as wise and keen as the best leaders of the Republican party. Canadians well know that they hold the whip hand," and he expects a prohibitory law and the enforced manufacture here.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Dr. Edward Spilsbury of New York City, is staying with his uncle, Mr. Thos. Attrill, Water street, for a few days.

The Trade Review seems, like the Globe, to ignore the fact that France under high protection is the richest and happiest country in the world, while Great Britain under F. T. is about the most unhappy.

The popular idea of a man of common-sense is one who never sacrifices himself to a mere "idea," but is willing to sacrifice all ideas, and more than ideas if necessary, to himself and his own prospects. The word "common-sense" has become perverted, and now stands largely for crooked opportunism.

The cross being erected over the graves of the ship-fever epidemic of 1847 will remind many of the oldtimers of that fatal and widely-spread malady brought out from Ireland by the immigrants, and known as the famine-fever. The late Dr. Burnham, of Peterborough, then a young practitioner, volunteered for the work, took the fever, and very nearly succumbed.

The theory is not new, but according to the Boston Post, a New York engineer, Mr. Rees, has discovered the means of transforming "impracticable" coal into good anthracite. The Post is authority for the statement that local coal hitherto regarded as very inferior stuff and practically useless for domestic purposes, will soon be in general use, in consequence of Mr. Rees's process. The Post says that the treatment of Rhode Island coal, which, though very simple, is of special interest on account of being the process which removes all doubt as to kindling readily—the only objection ever made to the coal—consists of the following: Using a chemical solution of sodium nitrate of crude Chili saltpetre, or better still, crude calcium chloride, both of which have the remarkable property of setting free gases which make the coal kindle readily and burn at a very high temperature. All that is necessary is to give the coal a bath in either solution. The result of the experiment may, with advantage, be watched with interest in Canada, where certain deposits at present are of a low order.—Trade Review.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 16.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 14 were 2150 cattle, 775 sheep and lambs, 1750 hogs and 825 calves, while the offerings for local consumption this morning consisted of 1225 cattle, 475 sheep and lambs, 1100 hogs and 500 calves. A feature of the sale was the weaker feeling in the market for cattle owing to the increased supply, and the fact that the bulk of the stock was only of medium quality, consequently prices show a decline of ¼c per lb. as compared with those of a week ago. On account of the unfavorable weather which prevailed thruout the entire morning, the gathering of buyers was not as large as usual; but, notwithstanding this fact, there was a fairly good demand for those present, and, taking everything into consideration, the trade done was satisfactory, and fewer cattle were left over than was anticipated. Owing to the continued discouraging cable advices from Liverpool, which reported trade very slow, and the fact that exporters had ample stock coming forward to fill all ocean freight space, there was no demand from them, and trade in this direction was dull. There were no really choice cattle on the market, and the prices paid for good beeves were 5c to 5¼c, while fair stock sold at 4½c to 5c; medium at 4c to 4½c; common at 3c to 3¾c, and canners at 2½c to 2¾c per lb. A weaker tone developed in the market for hogs, on account of large receipts and prices ruled lower than those paid last Wednesday. At the auction there was a fairly good demand for packers, and supplies were well cleaned up. Sales of selected lots were made at $8.60 to $8.75 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. Cable advices from Liverpool on Saturday on Canadian bacon reported the market quiet and steady, while those from London were strong, and Bristol firm. Supplies of small meats were fair, for which the demand was good, and an active trade was done in all lines. The tone of the market was steady, and prices show no important change from last week. Sheep sold at 4c and lambs at 5c to 6¼c per lb. Calves brought from $3 to $12.00 each, as to size and quality.

The town was in darkness for about an hour on Sunday evening, owing to a small break at the power house. It greatly inconvenienced the churches as they do not carry a very large supply of lamps when they have the electric lights installed. Matters were fixed up, however, about 8.30 p.m.

The following is an account of a wedding of local interest taken from a Toronto paper of August 5th. The bride, Miss Susie Chandler, is well known in Havelock, having for several years taught in the local public school:—

"Yesterday, at High Park avenue Methodist church, Mr. Fred J. Johnston, M.A., of West Toronto Collegiate staff, and Susie, eldest daughter of Mrs. H. Chandler, of Lakeview avenue, West Toronto, were united in marriage, Rev. A. J. Johnston, brother of the groom performing the ceremony.

"Miss Flossie Chandler, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in pale pink satin, made empire style, with valenciennes lace trimmings and large plumed hat to match. Miss Lela Hyslop was bridesmaid, in a pale blue satin empire gown with lace trimmings and large plumed hat. Both carried pink asters and wore the groom's gift—necklaces of gold beads.

"Miss Doris Jackson was flower girl, wearing a white silk empire frock, large poke bonnet with pink trimmings, and carried a basket of rose petals. She wore the groom's favor, a pearl ring.

"The bride, who was given away by her cousin, Mr. R. Seby, wore an ivory directoire satin gown, made princess, with trimmings of [illegible] lace and pearls, tulle veil and orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley, and wore the groom's gift, a diamond and pearl sunburst.

"Mrs. Chandler held a reception afterwards at her residence on Lakeview avenue, wearing a gun-metal satin gown with touches of pale blue.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Johnston left for a trip to Murray Bay and Saguenay River, the bride wearing ashes of roses striped broadcloth, with large black hat with rose plumes.

"They will reside at 30 Lakeview avenue on their return.

OF INTEREST

Behind the Scenes With Tennyson

The kind of man that Tennyson was is less known than that of any other English man of letters. He had a hatred of publicity and succeeded in persuading his friends to abet him in the aloofness he chose to maintain toward the world at large. He shut himself up in the Isle of Wight, a place somewhat remote from the casual tourist, and even burrowed deeper into the country when later the safeguards to his privacy began to be broken down. Throughout his lifetime, says Prof. Harry Thurston Peck, "a bit of genuine Tennysoniana was the very rarest of all literary treasures." Since his death, the memoir published by his son does but little to lift the veil. As that work reveals him, "he appears a noble and somewhat stately personage, grave, and full of proud patrician dignity." Some gleams of humor are there—"a quite artistically introduced relief to a picture that as a whole is one of almost haughty seriousness." Failing thus of what the reading world of to-day so much desires, Professor Peck, from sources unindicated, supplies some of the deficiencies long felt toward making of Tennyson a "human" figure. But it is not done, he pleads, "in the spirit of iconoclasm nor in that other spirit, so prevalent to-day, which worships ugliness in the morbid vein of Baudelaire." Professor Peck, writing in The Bookman, for August, gives us some hint of the poet's racial endowments:

"Lord Tennyson came of a stock in which were traceable three quite distinct and different racial strains. His father's family was originally of Danish blood, descended from the Scandinavian invaders who occupied the territory to the north of the Humber in King Alfred's time. Upon his mother's side is found French ancestry; and these two elements had been blended in every century with a strong infusion of pure Saxon blood. It is no idle fancy that detects in the poet's work the vital qualities, the distinguishing characteristics, that are due to each of these three sources. To the French strain in Tennyson he owes his sense of style, his perfect clarity, his ease and flexibility of diction, and his exquisite appreciation of the unique and fitting word that always rose responsively to mirror in its sound and sense the subtlest shades of thought. From the Danish element his poetry received much of its eerie picturesqueness and the fine imaginative quality which, with a touch of wildness, forever glows and shimmers in the poetry of the Scandinavian North. And to the Saxon blood are due that underlying strength and sturdiness, that homely quaintness, and that deep humanity which give to all the other qualities their full perfection and enduring power. It was this last, indeed, that bound the whole together, and imparted to the whole an honest, manly, human touch.

"The Saxon side, the yeoman side, was very marked in all the personal characteristics of the man. It showed itself in many ways—in ways that are intensely characteristic of the Englishman; and it is essential that these should be at least suggested in any conscientious effort, however slight, to link the poet with the man."

The self-assertiveness, "so typically English," was, we are told, very strong in Tennyson:

"He had but little care for another's feelings. Visitors who came to him on his invitation or on the invitation of his wife were often appalled by his grimness, his sullen silence, his rude indifference to all the duties of a host. Nor was even his sociability at times less typical of a strangely self-centred nature; since it often took the form of egotism, and he would bear down all other conversation in his arrogant monologues upon his own achievements, coupled usually with interminable recitations of his own productions; for he was inordinately fond of declamatory renderings of his latest verse; and, while no doubt, one might esteem it a high privilege to hear Tennyson interpreted by himself, the fact remains that the act was one of gross indifference to others.

"In some still less commendable ways he showed the same aggressiveness. Prof. Max Muller, in his lately published reminiscences, gives us a very curious case in point. While Professor Muller and his wife were still newcomers in the town of Oxford, they had the honor of entertaining Tennyson, until then a stranger to them, in their home. He spent the night there, and in the morning strode into the breakfast room, and, without the usual salutation, stalked up to the table, which was already laid. Whipping the cover off the principal dish, he snorted with disgust.

"'Mutton chops!' he roared. 'The staple of every second-rate inn in England.'"

This fundamental and pervasive trait sometimes appeared as selfishness and perhaps ingratitude, as his treatment of Fitzgerald shows:—

"His biographer records the long and intimate friendship between Tennyson and Edward Fitzgerald, the translator, or, perhaps, one might say the creator, of Omar Khayyam. But naturally no mention is made of one fact which, in his lifetime, Tennyson's nearest intimates deplored and often made the subject of apologetic comment. When he was young and rather straitened in his circumstances, the future Laureate, then quite unknown, first won Fitzgerald's friendship. Fitzgerald recognized his genius and was to him far more than any ordinary friend, opening his purse to him, helping him in all his numerous perplexities, and giving him the aid and comfort of which he often was most [illegible] in need. But when Tennyson had become famous and Fitzgerald was an old and feeble man, then the distinguished poet let the friendship die. He never went to see Fitzgerald; he never asked him to his house, and he seemed entirely forgetful of any debt of gratitude."

An encounter with Carlyle illustrated what the present chronicler calls "an English, Saxon, peasant quality . . . a strong vein of coarseness that belonged to the very nature of the man."

"He had a homely way of uttering coarse things in language that was direct and forcible, but that was strange enough in the mouth of a poet of such exquisite delicacy and grace. A very curious story that has never before, I think, been printed, may be set down here with an apology for telling it. It illustrates so perfectly one phase of Tennyson's mentality that the reader will perhaps forgive its crudeness. It seems that Carlyle once, while visiting the poet, brought up the subject of William the Conqueror, and with his usual tendency to hero-worship set forth in a long and glowing monologue the ability and native power of the Norman king. He lauded his martial qualities, he defended and justified his cruelties to the vanquished Saxons, and he ended with a passionate eulogy of the man.

"All this time Tennyson had uttered not a word, but sat in silence, puffing slowly at the stem of a short, black pipe. At last, after an hour of declamation, Carlyle turned to his listener and cried out, triumphantly:

"'Come, man, what think ye of him, now?'

"Tennyson took another puff or two and then drew the pipe from his mouth. 'If I had been there,' he observed sententiously, 'he'd very soon have felt my knife in his guts!'

"When Longfellow first visited Tennyson, the Englishman entertained him for an hour or more with the narration of obscene stories. Longfellow, a man of extreme and almost feminine refinement, listened silently, suppressing out of courtesy his ineffable disgust. Afterward a friend of both of them ventured as delicately as possible to intimate to Tennyson how he had shocked and disappointed his American guest. There still exists a letter which is half apology and half explanation, written to Longfellow by the other poet, and giving, as an excuse, the reaction that he always felt after devoting himself so intensely to the subtlest niceties of language—a reaction which drove him often into the utterance of things both gross and vile."

ADVANCE NOTE OF U.S. CROP

Yields of the great cereals this year are at a bumper record; the final determination will be required to give it first or second place with 1906, when wheat, corn and oats as recorded by the agricultural department aggregated 4,627,000,000 bushels. The yield of wheat per acre was only exceeded once in recent years, the aggregate of 735,049,000 falls little below the 1906 crop of 735,260,000 bushels, which was the second largest crop ever gathered, the record being made in 1901, when 748,000,000 took the edge off a poor corn yield. The effect of this great corn crop coming after two years of small yields has stimulated business as elsewhere recounted; it comes in time to replenish the depleted stocks on farms, graneries, elevators, mills, warehouses and stores. The returns are the most gratifying because the year opened unpropitiously.

The winter wheat went into a poor seed bed everywhere over the continent; in the Ohio valley it was drilled in the dust; in Texas and Oklahoma under almost similar conditions. It was late in planting in Kansas to avoid the infection of Hessian fly. The condition of the plant at the opening of winter was exceedingly poor. The spring was cold and late; the early outlook was for another short crop, another year of exceedingly high prices. But in the ripening stage conditions changed and with an acreage of 6 per cent. under last year, we have a yield of 444,199,0000, comparing with a Government return last year of 434,0000,000.

Spring wheat, planted under excellent conditions stimulated by high prices, by the shortage of winter acreage, the great northwest increased its seeded acreage 7 per sent equally in sown area the banner year of 1898, and the yield of this class of wheat which we estimate at 290,550,000 bushels, is on a par with the 290,000,000 brahe's crop, which made the record for spring wheat, and in that year it was the richer lands of Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois, then great growers of the spring variety, which made the enormous yield with their higher acreage results.—Chicago National Bank.

SAID TO BE VICTIMS OF THE WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

Sad Story of Two Girls at Hamilton Who Went Astray After Leaving the Barnardo Home for Girls at Peterborough—Should be a Warning to Others.

Hamilton, Aug. 16.—Another step to wipe out the white slave traffic which is said to be carried on in the foreign settlements of Hamilton was taken by the police Saturday night, when acting on information laid by two citizens Constable Cameron headed a raid on a house at 198 Princess street and arrested Ralph Rufus, an Italian, and Rose Bartlett and Annie Merry, two Barnardo girls, about 20 and 19 years old, respectively. Rufus and Rose Bartlett were charged at the Police Court this morning with being the keepers and the Merry girl with being an inmate. The latter was taken to the hospital Saturday night in a serious condition and it will likely be a week before she is able to appear. Rose Bartlett and Rufus pleaded not guilty and their counsel, A. M. Lewis, asked that bail be granted. His worship fixed it at $150 each. The case was laid over for a week, as his Worship announced that a more serious charge would be laid against Rufus, which will no doubt be procuring girls for immoral purposes.

The house, which Rufus rented Wednesday, is situated in an Italian settlement. There were only a few rooms furnished in the house and a stove in the kitchen. Fred Cullen, 47 North Sherman avenue, and John Stevenson, 173 North East avenue, were passing the house Saturday night when their attention was attracted by a girl in a window beckoning to them. They went across to the house and the girl dropped them a note, in which she stated that she was being held against her wishes. Cullen and Stevenson notified Inspector McMahon and Constables Campaign, jr., Hodgins and Holland were detailed under Constable Cameron to make the raid.

The officers did not have any trouble gaining admittance to the house and when they got inside the Merry girl told them a pathetic story about being held in the house. The police claim Rose Bartlett attempted to escape, but was chased by Constable Hodgins and caught on Princess street a few yards from the house.

The girls said they were brought to Canada by Miss Pearce, of the Hazelbrae Home, Peterborough, a few years ago. They had been residing in Toronto for some time and came to this city Wednesday with Rufus from Toronto. Rufus is an Italian interpreter, and it is said that Rose Bartlett has been living with him for the past few months.

When questioned by the police, the Merry girl said that an effort was being made to make her lead a life of shame among the Italians. She stated that she had been lured to Hamilton with promises of a good position but that she had been practically a prisoner since her arrival here.

It is charged that the Bartlett girl is married. The officers of the Salvation Army Rescue will try to secure the girls after the case has been tried and will give them a new start in life.

DARING ATTEMPT AT ESCAPE BY PRISONER LAST NIGHT

Boy Charged With Burglary Almost Succeeded in Picking Lock of Cell at Police Station—Was Caught in Act.

Yesterday afternoon P. C. Meharry landed a young prisoner in the cells who gives his name as Eli Dion. He is accused of having entered the premises of the Collier-Cunningham Co. some time between Saturday night and Monday morning and of having stolen some money and goods from the company's office. He obtained entrance to the building through a rear door, and, besides the money from the till, had also taken four or five gold and silver premium watches. These watches were being given by the Canada Flakes Company as premiums, and the boy, when searched at the police station, was found to have several of them on his person.

At three o'clock yesterday afternoon he came up before Acting Magistrate Frank Adams and was remanded until Friday, when it is expected Magistrate Dumble will be home from his holidays.

The boy was put in the police court cells over night with the intention that he would be taken up to the jail early this morning. The prisoner was not content to stay tamely where he was, and made an almost successful break for freedom. Late last night one of the policemen, hearing a series of sharp clicks in the cell, went in to investigate, and found the boy busily engaged picking the lock. He had already broken the lock into atoms, and would probably have been free in another fifteen minutes had he not been interrupted in his endeavors. As it was, however, the lock was so completely smashed that it was some time before the door could be opened from the outside. When this was done, however, the boy was immediately taken up to the jail in order to prevent any further attempt at escape.

The instrument used in picking the lock was an old razor blade. As to where the blade came from, it is still a mystery. The boy had been thoroughly searched by the chief before being put in the cell, and it is hardly likely that he would have had foresight enough to hide it beforehand so securely that it could not be found. The chief is of the opinion that it was taken in by some former prisoner and that he left it there on his departure.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

A PROMINENT FINANCIER

Former Peterborough Resident Who is a Power in the World of Finance.

Under a two-column cut, in which is included a good likeness of Mr. E. R. Wood, the well-known Toronto financier, formerly of Peterborough, the Saturday Globe prints the following:

The Globe's photographer "caught" four financiers hurrying to the annual meeting of the Rio de Janeiro Tramway Light and Power Company, a fifty-million-dollar corporation, representing one of the several tremendous South American enterprises that are controlled and operated by Canadians. No one, not even the keenest student of credit ratings, could accurately estimate the millions and millions of capital directed by boards upon which these four men sit. They are the guiding spirits in gigantic undertakings from the Argentine to the Yukon, and one of their big accomplishments has been to provide modern traction, lighting and power systems for the great cities of South America. They belong to so many directorates that any one of them would be inadequately described as the president of this or the vice-president of that, so their names must suffice

From left to right they are: Mr. E. R. Wood, Dr. F. S. Pearson, Mr. William Mackenzie and Mr. Z. A. Lash. With the exception of Dr. Pearson they are, of course, all Canadians. He is a New Yorker, with a reputation for magical powers in securing the confidence of investors and in making his enterprises pay hugely. Messrs. Mackenzie and Wood had just returned from Great Britain, where both borrowed millions, the one for the Canadian Northern Railway and the other for the Dominion Steel Co. Mr. Lash, whose appearances in court have been less frequent lately, is credited by the "street" with becoming more and more identified with the Mackenzie & Mann railway projects, and the Latin-American public utilities

MANY INQUIRIES FOR PRIZE LIST

There is a big demand for the prize lists of the Peterborough Fair, and if present indications count for anything, this year's exhibition is going to be the most successful ever held here. Many farmers have called on the secretary and secured prize lists, and have signified their intention of making exhibits. The exhibits from the city will also be more numerous, larger and better than in former years. The officers of the association are most optimistic regarding the outlook and are working hard. The Fair is just a month away.

HUNTER HOTEL HAS BEEN RENTED

Thos. Green & Son, of Whitby, Have Taken Over the Hostelry Where Tragedy Occurred.

Lindsay, August 16.—The Royal or Hunter Hotel, of Bobcaygeon, where the terrible shooting affair took place ago, has at last been leased and will re-open on Tuesday morning under new management.

Mr. Thomas Green, of Whitby, and his son, Mr. Frank Green, of London, formerly clerk in the Benson House, Lindsay, are the gentlemen who have secured the well-known hotel.

The deal was closed on Saturday evening between Mr. Green and Mr. L. V. O'Connor, solicitor for the Hunter estate. The hotel and contents have only been leased for an indefinite time as the building belongs to the Hunter estate.

Mr. Green put up a deposit on Saturday evening and left with Mr. O'Connor at noon to-day to take over the premises and an inventory of the stock. (Mr. John O'Reilly and Mr. O. McCrochan accompanied them for the purpose of assisting in the stock-taking.

The license will be transferred at once and the hotel will be re-opened Tuesday morning.

The Hunter hotel is one of the best in the Province, being beautifully situated. It is a new building and well furnished and is one of the best paying hotels in the province.

LINDSAY HAS THE AUTOMOBILE FEVER

The automobile fever has struck Lindsay. It can now boast of having several fine cars. The latest addition to the number arrived in town to-day and was delivered to Mr. R. M. Beal and is undoubtedly a magnificent machine, made by the McLaughlin-Buick Company of Oshawa. It is a fine passenger touring car, finished in wine color with mahogany trimmings, upholstered in hand buffed leather. Its power is supplied by four gasoline engines, capable of developing from 35 to 40 horse power, and will propel the car at a rate from 3 to 50 miles an hour. It has all the latest improvements. It has many fine points that commend it and are highly appreciated by the experienced automobilist. The agent, Mr. G. L. Stevens, of Peterborough, drove the car from Oshawa on Saturday and spent the day instructing its owner. Mr. Stevens has sold no less than nine McLaughlin-Buick cars this season in this district. —Lindsay Post.

Viamede, Aug. 16.—The guests registered at Viamede during the past week are:—G. A. Stewart, W. H. Jackson, Toronto; Mrs. Wm. Miller, Miss Julia Miller, Beatrice, Neb.; Miss Minnie Burley, Rochester; Mrs. Dr. Kerr, Miss Dorothy Kerr, Miss E. Kerr, Miss C. Kerr, Toronto; J. B. Hall, Waterloo; A. G. Hall, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Schauz, Rochester; Miss Luella Jobbitt, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Aagaard, Brandon; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Pratt, Toronto; Bernard Pratt, Toronto; C. Athoe, Toronto; Mr and Mrs. D. H. Chisholm, Port Hope; Miss Chadwick, Toronto; Miss Hudspeth, Port Hope; B. M. Faragher, R. E. Maragher, Rochester;

A number of the guests at Viamede took in the regatta at Juniper on Monday. A few took in the Chemong regatta on Thursday and reported a good time.

On Friday evening an impromptu regatta was held at Viamede and it was quite successful. The double skiff race, Messrs. Douglas and Sweeny vs. Messrs. Baer and C. Urquhart was very exciting and was very close. It resulted in a victory for the first named gentlemen. Messrs. Gordon, Simpson and Cameron. Urquhart raced each with a lady in his boat. Cameron won by about half a boat length.

The mixed double skiff race was won by Miss Olive Bonner and Mr. Geo. Urquhart.

Card parties are still popular and a good many have been held lately.

The dances in the pavilion continue to be as popular as ever.

A touring party took the trip to Jack's Creek on Saturday and a few took a trip in search of the Blue Mountains. After wandering in a circle through the woods for some time they decided that they were inaccessible and the expedition was postponed till a later day.

Service on Sunday evening was held in the pavilion, Rev. Lord, of Apsley, took charge of the service and Mr. Walden of the music.

SIGNED CHEQUE BEFORE GOING TO THE CELLS

Lindsay, Aug. 16.—The two Hunter children, Grace and Carman, are at present living with Mrs. Bick, their aunt, at Bobcaygeon. They attended the trial on Saturday and sat in an adjoining chamber while the witnesses were being tried. Their father, Jos. Hunter, spoke to them when going out and shook hands with the two. Carman manifested pleasure at seeing his father, but Grace was averse, seemingly to speaking to him. Hunter signed some cheques before being taken to the cells in a business-like way.

There were no unhappy incidents in connection with the marriage of Rose Coulter and Hunter; The worst that could be said is that the Coulter family resented the marriage because some of Hunter's folks were Roman Catholics, while the Coulters were all staunch Protestants.

PROSPECTS FOR RUGBY IN CITY DURING COMING SEASON

There Will Likely be a Junior League as Well as a Senior One—Nothing Definite Known as Yet, However.

Local enthusiasts are already beginning to talk over the rugby prospects for the coming season. While it is rather early in the season for anything definite to be given out, still some close guesses can be made in that direction.

Without a doubt there will be a junior city league with six or seven teams in it. Last year there were only four, but that was because the league was so late in starting. The Rough Riders, P. C. I., the Y. M. C. A. and the T. A. S. are almost sure to be starters in the league, and it should not be hard to organize a couple of other good teams before the opening. Of the four mentioned, the Rough Riders won the league last year, with the P. C. I. bunch a close second. However, the school team will bear a lot more watching this year as Dr. McPherson will again have them in hand, and will not have to spend so much time on the ground work as he did last year.

In the line of senior rugby two of the above-named organizations ought to be able to place senior teams in the field as well as junior teams. The Y. M. C. A. and the T. A. S. together with two or three other city teams, would make a mighty interesting race in senior rugby circles.

As for big league rugby, nothing much can be said. This city may or may not be represented, but there is plenty of good material to be had if someone would only get to work and look after it.

ARE THE T.A.S. TEAM IN OR OUT OF THE LEAGUE?

There has been another turn in the affairs of the City Baseball League. It is now pointed out that the T.A.S. team withdrew from the organization, the league being notified to this effect by the representative of the Abstainers. There has been no meeting of the league to take the T.A.S. back into the fold, and in view of the complications, it is hard to know whether the T.A.S. are "out or in."

If the T.A.S. are not taken back into the league, Park Street A. C. will have the championship cinched. Next!

PASSES OVER A HARD JOLT TO BEGGING ATHLETIC CLUBS; "IMPOSED UPON" WRITES

Sporting Editor, Review,

Dear Sir,—In the last two days I have been approached by begging athletic clubs which want money to assist them in financing their organizations.

Now, I believe in clean, legitimate sport, and think that voluntary contributions on the part of interested persons are all right, but for players or others interested in certain clubs to come and solicit alms for the maintenance of the clubs seems to me to be altogether of an imposition, and I think it should be discouraged. For my part, in the future when I am approached by able-bodied fellows who want money for their sporting bodies, I will flatly refuse, and suggest to them to get to work and earn enough money to support their own clubs or else leave sport to those who have enough money to keep their clubs going without begging from disinterested persons.

I don't want it to be thought that I am knocking sport. As I said before, I believe in it, but think that the parents of boys playing games should supply the paraphernalia for them, and that young men capable of earning money should be ashamed to go begging in the interests of their athletic clubs.

Yours truly,
IMPOSED UPON.

LINES ON SPORT

The Toronto News says:—As the season draws near, rugby talk is heard on all sides. It is a little early yet to even figure out what teams will be playing or in which leagues.

Argos and T.A.A.C. are not likely to meet except in a city championship game, as the Torontos are pretty well wrapped up in the O.R.F.U., the president and secretary of the league being T.A.A.C. men. Then the Britannias, of Montreal, have the intention of going in with the T.A.A.C. to form the nucleus of a senior series. There is also some talk of the P.C.C. having a senior club in either one or the other.

Rumor has it that the canoe clubs will form a section in one of the unions. Lindsay, after their first successful season, will be back without a doubt, and the Caps are on deck already. Nothing has been said of the Eurekas, as Pete Sunagan is not interested, and it may take some time before someone else takes hold of that club.

Rain played havoc in the big leagues yesterday, and there were few changes in the standings of the teams as a result. Detroit is now in second place in the American League. Montreal is at the bottom of the Eastern League.

The presidents of the big leagues have a snap, compared with the head of the Peterborough City League. With one thing and another the now famous organisation has had a career of the most turbulent nature.

---

Lindsay should enter a team in the senior O.R.F.U. this fall. The Sougog boys made a splendid showing last season and should be able to hold their own with the other teams. Lindsay would fit in nicely with Toronto and Peterborough on the circuit, and would add interest all around. It is about time to be up and doing.

---

It looks as if lacrosse was dead in this part of the province. There is not a twelve in the Midland district—quite a change from the days of old.

---

At the beginning of the [illegible] Manager Chance of Chicago [illegible] to [illegible] the pitcher who has [illegible] for the Cubs. He was "wild," and couldn't locate the plate.

---

The Edmonton team is at the bottom of the Western Canada League with a percentage of about two hundred. Edmonton fans have lost interest in the game, and the men behind the team will lose money. But baseball magnates have lost money before, as some people in Peterborough are aware.

EASY FOR THE LITTLE MAN

What Artie Edmunds Did With a Big Miner in the Woodland Country

The Toronto Star Says:

Why do you know about it?

Artie Edmunds, the Pocket Hercules—little rough and ready Artie, the wrestler and boxer and strong man—is a real actor. Yes he is, s'help me.

He has been north with the Imperial Girls, who have been playing up in New Ontario, and in the cast in the burlesque appears as "Mr. Roosevelt, father of Josie." Imagine Art Edmunds, with a set of gleaming teeth, a scrubbing brush, moustache, and a pair of eyeglasses. There is one sure thing, though, the gallery gods who dare shy eggs at Artie would likely be invited out in the alley for a heart to heart talk.

Edmunds backed a lot of fourflushing north country wrestling men into the woods when he got there. The only match he got was one with R. Cockburn, a 185-pound, 6 feet 2 1-2 in. miner. He threw the miner in a minute and made him quit in the second bout in four minutes. Kid Batten and Jack Knight are up there.

JOHNSTON THINKS MATCH MADE

Chicago, Aug. 14.—Jack Johnson, who considers the proposed Jeffries-Johnson match for the heavyweight championship of the world made, and does not doubt that Sam Berger had authority to sign the preliminary arrangements to-day, will leave for the coast, where he is matched to fight Jack O'Brien before Coffrath's Club on September 6th, and Stanley Ketchel in October. After his fight with Ketchel he will come east to sign final articles with Jeffries, who will have returned from Europe by that time.

THE RING

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—Stanley Ketchel will start east to-day on a hurried trip to prepare for his bout with Sam Langford, but messages received here by friends say that he will spring a big surprise in the boxing line on the easterners. Instead of taking a vacation in the wilds Ketchel writes that he has put himself in first-class shape, and that if Langford thinks he is going to find an easy mark he is badly mistaken.

Ketchel has followed some of the training methods pursued by Jeffries when the latter used to train in the mountains. He has been hunting and fishing, and, in addition, has followed his old calling of woodcutting. He was originally a lumberman, and it is to his constant use of the axe that he attributes the powerful muscles of his arms.

He writes that he has found that he can swing the axe as strongly as ever before, but admits that he is getting heavier. He says this does not indicate any lack of training, however, but that he has naturally a tendency to work up to 175 pounds or thereabouts. He says he will make the middleweight limit in the match with Langford, but that he does not intend to reduce so much hereafter.

CRICKET

A meeting of the Cricket Club will be held to-night at the Y.M.C.A. at 8 o'clock. All members are requested to attend.

Last night Campbellford telephoned inviting the local club to go to that town on Friday. All who can on that date, are asked to attend to-night's meeting.

Warkworth plays here on Thursday.

The local club is working hard to keep up an interest in the game, and has purchased considerable new material.

RUNNING

Winnipeg, Aug. 16—Paul Acoose, the Indian [illegible] of Grenfell, Sask., the well-known young western runner, to-night, won a twelve-mile race from Alfred Shrubb and Fitzgerald of Edmonton. Shrubb led for the first five miles, which were covered in 4.57, 9.18, 15.02, 20.21 and 25.53. In the second half in the sixth mile Shrubb began to show signs of fatigue, and quit at the next lap. Acoose at the time had been steadily regaining the quarter of a mile which Shrubb had gained.

McILROY'S RINK WAS DEFEATED

Special to The Review.

Toronto, Aug. 17.—In the Dominion bowling tournament at the Woodbine this morning the Peterborough rink skipped by W. McIlroy was defeated in the first round of the Walker trophy by a Bowmanville rink skipped by B. J. Hazelwood. The score was 17 to 10.

BOBBY KERR GIVES HIS OPINION OF OPPONENTS

Bobby Kerr in writing to the sporting editor of the Toronto Star, says of Cartmell and Walker, his rivals:

Just a few words before sailing for home. I have been receiving the Canadian papers regularly while over here, and I would just like to make a few comments on some of the articles regarding the outstanding sprinters over here this year.

In the first place, regarding Walker's failure to compete in Dublin on July 17th in the International games, Scotland vs. Ireland, it is foolish to refer to this. The qualifications to compete was that each runner had to be born in Scotland or Ireland, and Walker, being born in South Africa, was not eligible. It never entered my head or any person else's over here, that Walker was to be there.

Regarding Walker and Cartmell not wishing to compete where I was running, and especially the former, is entirely wrong. These two great runners are competing at least once a week and sometimes two or three times in the week, in different parts of the country, and it never made any difference in their plans whether I or any other runner was to be at the same place. Regarding the ability of the two men, I think Walker is the greatest sprinter of the present day, or, when one takes into consideration that he has been running practically steady since the last Olympic games, it is but small wonder that he is not defeated more oftener than he is. I believe that if he were to rest up for a while, he would run faster. This constant running may affect him somewhat if he decides to visit the United States and Canada.

I have always been thought by my friends in Canada to be at my best in the 220 yards. In Cartmell, I may say without doubt that I met the best furlong runner I ever saw. Walker is Cartmell's master up to close on 220 yards, but from that on the American has it on him. Cartmell is never defeated until the tape is broken, and is a very powerful finisher. He is one of the best caretakers in athletics, and in this I may say Walker is far from being his equal. With kind regards, yours as ever.

R. KERR.

THE TURF CLUB'S SIDE OF AFFAIR

The Matter of Asking $100 Rent for the Track — The National Trotting Association's Demand—A Live Topic.

This matter of the Peterborough Turf Club asking the West Peterborough Agricultural Society for $100.00 for the use of the track at the Driving Park during the fair, is more complicated than the mere statement of the affair might make it appear to the casual observer.

As stated in the Review containing the report of the last meeting of the society the fair directors refused to make the payment of the money the Turf Club wants for rental of the track. The directors claim that they are not bound to do so, in view of an agreement made between the society and the Turf Club, that the use of the track be given for the days of the fair to the society, on account of the Turf Club being allowed the use of the society's section of the grounds at their race fixtures. Without expressing an opinion on the merits of either side of the argument, it would perhaps be of interest to publish the Turf Club's view of the question.

A prominent official of the latter body stated to the Review this morning that the agreement referred to was made between the society and the old Turf Club, which existed before the new one was formed. The official said that the understanding was a verbal one, at any rate, and was only made to apply to conditions existing at that time. Having every respect for even a verbal contract, he stated that it was not reasonable to expect it to be good for all time under totally different conditions.

Last year there was some friction over paying prize money to Hodgins, of Orillia, the owner of Walter G., the horse that was protested. A law suit resulted and the circumstances and facts in connection with the law suit and the protest were so fully reported, and are so generally known that it is no necessary to explain them again. To avoid any such occurrence again it is imperative this year that the Agricultural Society should join the National Trotting Association and forward the entries for the speeding events to Secretary Gauthier, of the Association. He is naturally by reason of his office conversant with the racing situation, and is in a position to advise the society against blacklisted horses and thus afford the society a protection and save them from imposition by crooked horsemen. And another advantage of membership with the National Trotting Association is that the owners of such horses referred to above will have more hesitancy in taking part in events under the auspices and jurisdiction of the National Trotting Association than if they were simply conducted by the local society.

The Agricultural Society, it is claimed, were notified at a special meeting that it would be necessary for the society to become members of the National Trotting Association before they would be allowed the use of the track. The track is a National Trotting Association track and the Association thinks it is justified in asking for this, and it is common for fair societies holding speeding events on National Trotting Association tracks to be members of the Association.

The Turf Club has been notified by Secretary Gauthier that in case the Agricultural Society refuses to join the membership list to take out an injunction and take action for trespass. The Turf Club states that an amicable adjustment and understanding would be the most preferable thing from its standpoint.

The above information is given in order that both sides of the case might be presented to the public as nearly as can be learned from the information supplied, and not with the idea that any discussion of letter writing campaign should be instituted by either of the bodies interested. Space will be given by the Review, however, for further explanation by either.

EIGHTEEN MORE SKELETONS FOUND IN EARTH AT ARMOURIES

Medical students wishing to study the human skeleton would find Central Park a regular paradise. A large number of men are at present at work, being engaged in ploughing and levelling the land in front of the new armouries. Last Saturday's papers told of the finding of two complete skeletons. During the work this morning and since then eighteen more have been added to the collection. On one skull a tuft of long golden hair was still clinging while on another there was a large raised lump as if the owner had met with an accident at some time or other and had had his head fractured.

The bones were carefully packed in a small dry goods box and were then transferred to the cemetery. A peculiar phase of the matter is that most of the skeletons were found at a depth of only about two feet below the surface. It hardly seems possible that this could have been the depth of the graves used in early days of this city, but it certainly looks as if such were the case.

RECEPTION OF POSTULANTS AT MOUNT ST. JOSEPH

The close of the annual retreat of the sisters of St. Joseph, which has been held at Mount St. Joseph during the past two weeks, was marked this morning by the impressive ceremony of the reception of eight young ladies and the profession of five novices. The beautiful new chapel at the Mount was filled with the relatives and friends of the novices and postulants, who assisted with the holy ceremony and listened with marked attention to the sermon delivered by the Rev. Father Naish, S.J.

The ceremony opened with a procession of the eight young ladies robed in bridal attire, carrying bouquets, and followed by the little maids of honor. These came forward to the altar rail and made the request to be allowed to lay aside the vanities of the world and don the poor habit of the sisters of St. Joseph. They were followed by the five novices who had successfully passed the two years of their novitiate here.

Mass was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Rev Father McColl, of the Cathedral, and Father Scanlon, P.P., of Grafton. In the sanctuary were also Rev. Father Naish, S.J., of Loyola College, Montreal, who preached the retreat; Rev Father Dowdall, of Eganville, and Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Father Kelly and Father McFadden, of the Cathedral.

During the mass and also at the conclusion the sisters' choir rendered several beautiful anthems.

The postulants who received the habit were—

Miss Mary Gertrude Kennedy, from Chapeau, Que.; in religion, Sister Mary Jovita.

Miss Elizabeth McGrath, of Mt. St. Patrick, Ont.; in religion, Sister Mary Adelaide.

Miss Mary Gertrude Flanagan, of Montreal; in religion, Sister Mary Euphrasia.

Miss Mary Garvey, of Douro; in religion, Sister Mary Barbara.

Miss Margaret Fitzmaurice, Bracebridge; in religion, Sister Mary of the Angels.

Miss Julia Ellen Foran, Eganville, Ont., in religion, Sister Mary Isaiah.

Miss Margaret Grier, Eganville, Ont.; in religion, Sister Mary Winnifred.

Miss Martha Stashick, Eganville, Ont.; in religion, Sister Mary Emerentia.

The novices who made the profession were:—Sisters M. Gerard, M. Columba, M. Frances, M. Borgia, M. Florence.

SHOULD BE VERY CAREFUL IN MAKING OIL LEASES

With such possibilities for oil and gas as there apparently are in this county, farmers should be very careful to whom they lease their properties.

Where bona fide development is assured by the purchasers, it is all right to lease the land, but the holders [illegible] certain that this development will take place, and that the land is not simply being bought and cornered for speculative purposes.

In many districts where oil is discovered or thought to exist, certain unscrupulous persons buy up likely properties and hold them for prohibitive prices from active drilling concerns.

ENGLISHMAN DUPES PEOPLE

Asks for Money for Another Party and Keeps it Himself

Residents of the south end of the city are complaining of the actions of a young Englishman in that vicinity. It seems that he has been going the rounds from house to house collecting money in aid of a family by the name of Lemon. This is the family that the local papers have been asking aid for lately, and the aforesaid young Englishman has seized upon the opportunity to get a little coin for himself on the side. He states that he is the agent of Mr. Finch Miller, and says that he has been sent by him to solicit aid for the Lemon family.

Mr. Miller, when seen by The Review to-day, emphatically denied the fact that he had agents out collecting for him, and stated that "no one ever had, or ever would use his name in seeking financial support for the poor. If support were needed he would do the asking himself."

The people are warned to be on the lookout for such sharps and not to be taken in by them.

WEDDING BELLS

McFADDEN—FILION

Toronto, Aug. 16.—The Church of St. Peter in Chains was the scene of a very pretty wedding this morning, when Mr. Frederick James McFadden, of Peterborough, was married to Miss Anna Louise Filion, second daughter of the late Adolphus Filion. The bride was assisted by Miss L. Filion, and was given away by her brother, Mr. Harry Filion. The best man was Mr. Louis Leclaire, Brockville, and formerly of Peterborough. Father Connelly sang Nuptial High Mass; Miss Clare Cumming sang Ave Maria, and Miss Agnes Parent, cousin of the bride, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bride's gown was a handsome cream broadcloth, with rat-tail braiding and rose point bertha, with a large black lace hat. The going-away costume was a suit of taupe grey, touched up with coffee shades, with large tuscan hat. The honeymoon will be spent in Montreal and Quebec. They will reside in Peterborough.

CAUSE OF ODOR IS REMOVED

The cause of the strong odor at the corner of Simcoe and Bethune sts., has at last been removed. Ever since the fire at that point, some two weeks ago, the rotten peas lying in the cellar of that building have been making the neighborhood unbearable. To-day, however, the last of the objectionable matter was removed, and the odor is fast disappearing.

PETERBOROUGH IS FORTUNATE

Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other cities are complaining about the alarming infant mortality during the summer months. The milk supply is blamed largely for the large number of deaths among children, and are being taken to remedy the evil. The rate of infant mortality in Peterborough is very low this summer, the number of babies dying being practically the same as in other seasons of the year.

FRUIT—THE GREAT PHYSICIAN

Wonderful Medicinal Value of Apples, Oranges, Figs and Prunes.

How many people realize what remarkable curative principles are contained in fruit juices. There are two—the bitter and the sweet. There is about ten times as much of the sweet as of the bitter, though the bitter principle is the one which has the curative effect on disease. Apples, oranges, figs and prunes contain the highest percentage of bitter principle and thus are the most healthful.

It was a theory of a physician in Ottawa, that if the amount of bitter principle in fruit juice could be doubled, the curative property would be increased, not twice but many times.

After many tests, this physician succeeded in forcing into the combined fruit juices an additional atom of bitter principle, and in doing so formed an entirely new compound. To the combined juices were added valuable tonics and antiseptics and the whole made into tablets.

These are "Fruit-a-tives"—the only remedy known to science that is made of fruit. The wonderful cures in cases of Stomach Trouble, Biliousness, Constipation, Rheumatism, Chronic Headaches and Neuralgia, Kidney, Liver and Skin Diseases are due solely to the fact that "Fruit-a-tives" contain the medicinal properties of fruit. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. At all dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Ottawa, Aug. 16.—The Mexican gypsies have departed from the temporary resting place near Hurdman's Bridge. According to all accounts, they left on Saturday afternoon, going in a southerly direction. Queen Rosa on Friday said that their destination was the United States, so it is likely that their route will be in the direction of Kingston.

Their chief reason for stopping over at Hurdman's Bridge was to have the wheel of one of their waggons repaired. That job having been completed to their satisfaction by the blacksmith at the bridge, they proceeded on their way.

Complaints had been sent in to the police concerning their doings, but the band was there for so short a time that no action was taken.

CHEESE SITUATION IMPROVED BY THE RECENT RAINS

Farmers Assured of Large Make for the Balance of the Season—District Instructor Says This Year's Cheese is of Fine Quality.

The refreshing rains of Sunday and Monday were of great value. The farmers are now assured of a large make of cheese for the balance of the season, and it should be of the highest quality. The quality of the cheese from the Peterborough section for the last few shipments, it is reported, have never been excelled for summer cheese. In the early part of the season there was some complaining about the cheese from here being sweet and open, but the makers soon discovered the cause and have applied the remedy. The last few shipments there there have been practically no complaints.

The instructor for this district, Mr. Ward, reports that the finest delivery of milk in his experience has gone into the factories this year. The patrons are realizing more than ever the necessity of sending milk to the factory in a clear, cool and sweet condition. There is no doubt that the lectures of Mr. George Barr, of the Dairy Department at Ottawa, last fall, at the annual meetings of the cheese factories has been of great benefit and that they are partly responsible for the good condition of the milk delivered at the factory this year.

The quality of the Peterborough cheese has always been recognized as of the best, and this section is one of the most important and largest producing sections in the province. Of late years largely due to the co-operation of the instructor, Mr. Ward, the makers and the patrons, a great improvement has been achieved. In talking to the exporters who have handled cheese from all sections, they will frankly admit that Peterborough is second to none for quality and uniformity of make in the province of Ontario.

The dairy industry of to-day is of so much importance as a national industry that it behooves all engaged in the business to do their utmost to increase the output as well as improve the quality. In 1908 Canada exported 1,785,696 boxes of cheese at an average price of $9.60 a box, making a total of $17,142,681. In 1903, which was the banner year and when all records were broken, Canada exported 2,395,932 boxes at an average price of $9.00 per box, making a total of $21,563,138.

According to the reports from the cheese export men, it is learned that in 1896, the export of cheese was just about the same as it was in 1908. From 1896 it began to increase until 1904, and since then the export has greatly decreased, although the price is higher. In 1896 the price was $6.75 per box, while last year it was $9.60 a box, the highest mark yet reached.

During the past thirteen years, however, the home consumption of cheese has greatly increased and this accounts for the decrease in exports. The better quality is responsible to to a large extent for the higher price. The farmers have not, however, kept pace with the times. Canada's cheese export should not decrease. In fact, it should increase every year, and instead of the export in 1908 being $1,780,000 it should have been nearly 5,000,000 boxes.

This year will show quite an advance o last year's production. The make up to the present time has been slightly in excess of last year, and now that good pasture is assured, the balance of the season, the factories will be kept busy right through.

During the first three months of the fiscal year ending June, 74,136 sons entered Canada from the U.S. as immigrants.

LOCAL MAN'S HEAVY LOSS

As a Result of the Hail and Rain Storms in the Canadian West.

Mr. McConnell, of Gilmour street, received a very discouraging letter from Mrs. McConnell yesterday from Western Canada in which it was stated that practically his whole wheat crop had been destroyed by the recent heavy rain and hail storms.

Mr. McConnell has a large section of land near Indian Head, which is worked on shares, and Mrs. McConnell and son have been out there for several weeks looking after the business. The crop gave promise of being a bumper one, and to bind his share of the harvest. Mr. McConnell had ordered 3,500 pounds of binder twine. That will give some indication of the extent of the wheat fields he had under cultivation. He estimates his loss at about $9,000.

THIS DEBATE WAS A WARM AFFAIR

Merits of England and Canada Constituted the Subject of Argument

The respective merits of Canada and England, and of Canadians and Englishmen, were debated in front of the Review Office last evening about 8 o'clock. The debaters were two natives of Albion and a Canadian, All were Seagramized to a considerable extent and the argument was of the warmest kind. The language was of a nature to make the vocabulary of a chauffeur with a broken-down auto look common, and it was the means of attracting a considerable crowd. Threats of personal injury were freely made, but they did not materialize. Honors were about even at the end of the debate, the auditors failed to give a decision.

FATHER AND DAUGHTER LYING LIFELESS SIDE BY SIDE IN PARLOR OF HOUSE NEAR NORWOOD

Terrible Tragedy Occurred Yesterday Afternoon, as Result of Which Thomas Willoughby, Aged Thirty-seven, and Daughter Stella May, Aged Eight, are Dead—Theory That Girl Was Killed by Accidental Discharge of Gun and That Father Died From Shock or Poison.

When Mrs. Willoughby Arrived Home She Found Little Daughter Lying Dead on Sofa in Parlor, With Gaping Wounds in Breast, and Her Husband Lying on Floor, Hands Folded on Breast and Life Extinct.

Review Representatives Visit Scene of Tragedy and Secure Particulars of Shocking Affair—Coroner Dr. Gray is Holding an Inquest This Afternoon—Countryside is Appalled.

SCENE OF THE TRAGEDY—Home of Thomas Willoughby, one and a half miles north-west of Norwood village, in Dummer township, and eighteen miles and a half from Peterborough.

THE DEAD—Thomas Willoughby, aged 37 years, and daughter, Stella May, aged eight years.

TIME OF THE TRAGEDY—Between three and three thirty o'clock yesterday afternoon.

THE CAUSE—Theory is that gun was accidentally discharged when Willoughby was cleaning it and the girl was directly in front of the barrel at the time. Father died from the effects of shock or from poison administered by himself as the result of grief.

THE INQUEST.—Coroner Dr. Gray, of Peterborough, visited the scene of the tragedy last night and is holding an inquest at the Willoughby home this afternoon.

By Staff Representatives.

Norwood, Aug. 18.—Stella May Willoughby lay dead on a sofa in the parlor, her body shrouded in a white sheet stained with blood and her breast showing gaping wounds from which the red liquid of life still oozed; her father, Thomas Willoughby, lay dead on the floor beside the sofa, resting on his back with his arms folded across his breast as if he were asleep; sitting on the end of the sofa at his dead sister's feet was little Harry Garfield Willoughby, aged six years, crying as if his heart would break and unable to realize the awful thing that had happened; creeping on the floor of the room where the dead reposed was the nine months old daughter of the dead men. She knew naught of the terrible tragedy.

The foregoing sentences present to the reader the terrible sight which greeted Mrs. Thomas Willoughby when she returned to her home in the seventh concession of Dummer yesterday afternoon. She had been in Norwood with her 22-year-old brother, Clarence Sampson, and on her way home was informed by a neighbor woman that her daughter, Stella May, had been hurt. They drove rapidly home, and when they arrived there several men were gathered about the outside of the house, having just arrived. They had not yet entered the house. Mrs. Willoughby passed into the dwelling, and on looking into the parlor, the door of which was near the front door by which she entered the house, her eyes met a sight that her memory will retain till her dying day. No wonder she cried aloud with anguish and became prostrated with grief. The scene in the parlor was enough to unstring nerves of steel, but who can picture the poignancy of the grief it brought to the woman whose husband and eldest child—those nearest and dearest to her in the world—were lying side by side in death in the pleasant little room that had been the scene of so many happy gatherings!

The awfulness of the affair at the Willoughby home has shocked the village of Norwood and the countryside for miles around. It is the sole topic of discussion, and many theories have already been formed as to how it occurred. Nothing of a definite nature will be known until the coroner's inquest has been held this afternoon. The outcome is awaited with the deepest interest, as the affair is one of the most mysterious in the history of this part of the province. It has so many strange features that one is hardly able to grasp the entire mysteriousness of what took place. Two representatives of the Review visited the scene of the tragedy last night, arriving at the Willoughby home after midnight, and the story will be told to Review readers as it was learned on the spot.

The house where the tragedy occurred is on the north side of the seventh line of Dummer road. It is a half mile north and a mile west of Norwood and is located on five acres of land, which until a few days ago was the property of Mr. Willoughby. He bought it last spring from Mr. Robert Gardiner and a week or two ago sold it back again to the former owner. The Willoughbys were contemplating moving to Norwood village and it was to see about a house there that Mrs. Willoughby went to the village yesterday. She left home shortly after dinner, being driven by her brother, Mr. Clarence Sampson. It was while they were away that death visited the home in such a ghastly manner. Mr. Willoughby remained at home with the three children, Stella May, aged eight years, Harry, aged six years, and a nine months' old baby girl. He had not been in the best of health of late, his heart, it is said, having given him trouble. The only story of how the little girl met her death has been obtained from the six year old son and from what can be gathered from the discharged shot gun and the shot lodged in the wood piled in the east side of the wood shed which adjoins the summer kitchen. There is no partition between the two and it was there that the girl met her death. According to the story of the little boy—and it of course is lacking in some details—Willoughby was sitting on the raised floor of the summer kitchen and was facing the woodshed. He was cleaning or taking the load out of a double barrel shot gun—the little boy does not know which. Stella May was playing in the woodshed or perhaps watching her father as he handled the weapon that was so soon to end her life. The gun went off and the shot which was about two sizes smaller than "buck" shot, penetrated her breast in the region of the heart and must have killed her instantly. Some of the shot went clear through the body and lodged in the end of the stove-wood, piled against the east side of the shed. The blood-stained globes of lead are easily discernible in the ends of the sticks.

DR. GRAY, Coroner.

It must have required nerves of steel to do what the father of the girl did then. He removed her white dress which was soaked with blood and wrapped the body in a sheet. Then he placed the body on the sofa in the parlor.

The story at this point is then taken up by Mrs. Isaac Ruttan, a woman who lives on the second farm from the Willoughbys. She is a widow, and went to the Willoughby home to see if Mr. Willoughby would operate the binder to cut the grain on her farm.

As she came up to the house she met Mr. Willoughby at the door with a cup in his hand, who told her to go on in while he passed out. On going in she was horrified to find the body of the little girl lying on the floor of the wood shed in a pool of blood. She immediately ran out of the house, and, not seeing Mr. Willoughby, gave the alarm to the neighbors, going to Mr. Thomas McMillan's, which is only a short distance away, and to the cheese factory about a quarter of a mile from the scene of the tragedy. Mr. Bass, the cheesemaker, was the first to reach the Willoughby home, and he found that the dead child had been removed from the shed to the sitting-room, and laid upon a lounge, and on the floor beside her lay her father, also dead.

Mrs. Willoughby and her brother arrived home from Norwood almost as soon as the neighbors gathered, and the woman was among the first to enter the parlor.

How Willoughby came to his death is, at the time of writing, a mystery. One supposition is that he died from heart failure, as a result of the shock, and another theory is that, crazed by grief as a result of the shooting of his daughter, he took a dose of poison. The fact that he was lying beside the sofa with his arms folded, as if he slept peacefully to his death and was aware of its coming, adds color to the latter theory. The inquest will, however, likely clear up this question.

An autopsy of the stomach will likely be made.

Doctors Pettigrew and Sutton, of Norwood, arrived at the scene of the tragedy about four o'clock, but could do nothing. Dr. Gray, of Peterborough, coroner for the county, was notified, and came down from Peterborough on the C.P.R. local. He drove to the Willoughby home and, after viewing the bodies, locked the door of the parlor and ordered Constable James Johnston to summons a jury for an inquest at two o'clock this afternoon.

The Review representatives were shown the dress worn by the little girl at the Willoughby house last night. It was of a white material, but it was so saturated with blood that the original color was hardly discernible. It was burned in the front in the vicinity of the breast by the powder from the gun, showing that the girl must have been very close to the weapon when it went off. A mat on the floor of the summer kitchen was red with blood stains. The father had, evidently, laid the girl on the mat after she was shot.

The shot gun was found lying on the ground in the woodshed. One barrel was still loaded.

Many neighbours were gathered at the house last night, and expressions of sympathy were heard on every side. Ex-County Councillor Andrews, who lives in the vicinity, was among those present.

The late Mr. Willoughby was born in Dummer township, and until this spring lived on his farm in the seventh concession of Dummer, a few miles from where the tragedy occurred. This spring he sold the farm to Mr. John Jenkins and purchased the five acres where the tragedy was enacted, from Mr. Robert Gardiner. A few days ago Mr. Gardiner bought back the five acres, and it is stated that the dead man had been making efforts to re-buy the farm he sold to Mr. Jenkins. He is reported to have offered $200 more than he received for the property. He is said to have brooded considerably after leaving the farm, and was not in the best of health. Whether this had anything to do with the tragedy remains to be seen.

Mrs. Willoughby's maiden name was Sampson, her brother being Mr. James Sampson of Dummer.

Mr. Willoughby is survived by his mother, one brother and four sisters, in addition to his wife and two children. His mother resides in Toronto, and the brother, Mr. Chas. Willoughby, and a sister, Mrs. Forward, also reside there. Mrs. Thos. Robertson of 285 Bethune street, Peterborough, is a sister of the deceased, and the other sisters are Mrs. Edward Patterson of Saskatchewan, and Mrs. Falconer of Canandega, New York state. Mrs. Falconer's husband was drowned in the Nile.

Mrs. Robertson of this city was notified by telegram last evening of the sad affair, and she has gone to Norwood. It is not yet known when the funeral will take place.

The late Mr. Willoughby was a Methodist in religion, and was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Mrs. Willoughby is prostrated with grief, and doctors are in attendance. Coroner Gray says it is the saddest case that has come within his jurisdiction during the 34 years he has been coroner.

CANADA'S FLEET WILL BE STARTED ON BOTH COASTS

Official Statement From London Says That Work on Atlantic and Pacific Simultaneously Along the Lines Suggested by Sir John Fisher.

London, Aug. 18.—(C.A.P. Cable.)—A lengthy statement is published giving the "general lines" of the scheme of Canadian naval defence.

According to this, the formation of a nucleus of a Canadian navy will be begun immediately on lines suggested by Sir John Fisher in 1907.

Canadian ambition would not be satisfied by a mere contribution of money. Canada wants her own navy. On this point the supreme consideration is the constitutional freedom of state, and to this, questions of strategy, no matter how important, must be subordinated, says the stateman.

Respecting details, disposition of ships, etc., these are not yet concluded, but it is obvious that Canada would not be fulfilling her own undertaking if she placed all her eggs in one basket. She has two oceans to consider and work will begin practically simultaneously on both coasts.

The scheme also includes an increase of dock facilities. It is unlikely that the naval forces will be limited to Halifax, Esquimalt and Prince Rupert; possibly Quebec and Montreal will also have to be considered.

The very best feeling has been displayed on both sides at the conference, a perfect understanding existing between the Imperial and Dominion authorities."

THE CONFERENCE IS GOING WELL

London, Aug. 18.—Sir Frederick Borden, interviewed by the Canadian Associated Press, described the American despatch announcing that Australia and Canada are combining to "Meet the Japanese Peril," as sheer nonsense.

Respecting The Times' correspondent's idea that some one in an authoritative position should cable the progress of the defence conference negotiations to Canada, Sir Frederick remarked negotiations were confidential.

They were proceeding satisfactorily, and any reports published must necessarily be mere guesswork.

Suicide Ends Family Troubles.

North Bay, Aug. 18.—Zoel Dutrizac of Sturgeon Falls, aged 40, committed suicide on the lake shore at North Bay yesterday morning by taking paris green.

Dutrizac was separated from his wife, who works in a local hotel, and Monday evening sent for her to attempt a reconciliation. She refused to live with him, and he stated that he was not long for this world, which held nothing attractive for him away from his wife and two children.

The body lay unidentified at the morgue until the afternoon, when Mrs. Dutrizac was called.

DEMAND USE OF ROSS RIFLE

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The Ross rifle is again to the fore in a dispute. The Fifth Royal Highlanders decided that they would not go to the D.R.A. matches if they were not issued Ross rifles Mark II-Star by the Government. At the P.Q.R.A. matches last week the Eighth Royal Rifles and the Victorias carried off everything with the Ross rifle. The Eighth of Quebec had them issued by the Government. The Victorias of Montreal bought theirs. The Highlanders decided that they will get them also, or they will not take part in the shooting. The Vics are sending 32 men with Ross rifles.

Brockville's Typhoid Epidemic.

Brockville, Aug. 18.—A second test of Brockville's public water supply shows it be infected with bacteria of intestinal origin. Such is a report received yesterday from Dean Connell, bacteriologist of Queen's College, to whom three samples taken from houses infected with typhoid were submitted. The board of water commissioners will engage the services of a diver to make an examination of the intake pipe. There are upwards of fifty cases of typhoid under treatment.

THEY WORKED MANY GRAFTS

Men in Jail at Montreal Must Face Long List of Charges

Montreal, Aug. 18.—The three men, Alloff, Shykofsky and Katsoff, who have been in jail for several weeks, waiting for the police to gather up evidence against them as bogus claims agents, are liable to have a great deal to answer for before they see liberty again.

They have been committed for trial at the next term of the King's Bench and in the meantime the C.P.R. secret service are unearthing a series of bogus claims which the above-named trio worked off upon the unsuspecting companies, such as the Grand Trunk, the C.P.R. and the Montreal Street Railway.

It transpires that the men always had a raft of creatures who were ready to swear that they had been hurt or had lost articles of value, many of which were paid for by the companies rather than go into the courts.

Gun Club

The regular shoot of the Peterborough Gun Club will be held at the Driving Park to-morrow evening at 6.30 sharp.

YOUNG ACCOUNTANT PUT END TO LIFE

Welland, Ont., Aug. 18.—The body of Edwin R. Weller, accountant for the Pierce Motor Co. of Buffalo, and son of Dr. H. Weller, was found in a corn field close by the roadside, between Ridgeway and Crystal Beach, yesterday afternoon. The body had evidently been lying there for some days, and was badly decomposed.

The last seen of the young man was a week ago Saturday, when he went to Crystal Beach with some friends. Two days previously, he had written a letter to his father, saying he was disheartened and despondent, though he did not give any cause. A revolver was found by his side. He had shot himself through the right temple. Officials of the motor company say he was doing excellent work, and no reason can be assigned for his act.

PROBABILITIES.

Generally fair. Thursday, fine. About the same temperature.

SWEPT OVERBOARD DURING SQUALL

Port Dover, Aug. 18.—While the gasoliner Naiad was returning to this port from Selkirk, having on board Howard Coll, the only son of Richard Coll, Cleveland, Ohio, who had attained his twenty-first birthday on Sunday last, and Roy Dell and Hasen Waddle, she struck a severe squall about midday. The boat in tow filled and Howard uncleated the painter and attempted to pull the tow up to the gasoliner. A furious sea struck the tow, pulling Coll in. The painter, running overboard, caught the tiller and rendered the launch temporarily unmanageable, and the two younger lads were forced to watch their companion drown. They managed to repair the tiller and run under the shelter of Peacock Point.

SENT OPERATORS TO HANDLE "PRESS"

C. P. R. Telegraph Co. Furnished Good Service at Norwood Last Night

The C.P.R. Telegraph Co. showed enterprise in connection with the Willoughby tragedy at Norwood yesterday. When the company learned that there would be considerable press matter sent out regarding the affair, three operators were dispatched to Norwood from the Peterborough office of the company. The men who handled the "press" were Messrs Jamieson, MacGregor and O'Shea, and they did it well. It was pretty nearly an all-night job for the newspapermen and telegraphers, as they were not through with their work until nearly four o'clock this morning.

BOYS ARE SAVED FROM LAKE ERIE

St. Thomas, Aug. 18.—Two lads, aged 12 and 5 years respectively, were carried out on Lake Erie at Port Stanley on Monday in a leaky old punt, having only a broken home-made paddle. A heavy rain and electric storm came up and the boat was half-filled with water. Their plight was observed from the shore by a telescope in the hands of Chester Smith of St. Thomas and Russel Croden of London, both just lads in their teens. They are once got out a rowboat and bravely put out into the lake to the rescue.

EMERY SHELLEY SAYS HE WAS ONLY SHOOTING AT BIRD

Lad Charged With Murder of Michael Hall Near Walsh, in Norfolk County, Declares That He Was Firing at a Thrush.

Simcoe, Aug. 18.—Coincidence seems to connect Emery Shelley, the 15-year-old boy, who is in jail here, pretty closely with the death of old Michael Hall, who was felled by a bullet in the back of the head on the threshold of his cabin, two miles north of Walsh, Sunday afternoon.

The boy has admitted that he was shooting in the bush across the road from the Hall house at about the time —3.30 p.m.—that the tragedy occurred. To County Constable Abel of Port Rowan, he said he fired three or four shots at a thrush from his bush. The last shot killed the bird, he said, and he carried the songster home and fed it to the cat.

Thomas Overholt, whose farm is on the same side of the road as the bush from which the lad says he fired, reported to Provincial Detective Greer yesterday that shortly after 3.30 he had ordered young Shelley to stop shooting on his place. Overholt says a bullet struck his barn and he was afraid one of his children had got hurt.

These bits of evidence fit pretty well with old Mrs. Hall's story. She says she heard a shot and immediately her husband fell forward through the door. As she rushed to raise his head, thinking he had fallen in a fit, a second shot struck the house over her head, a third hit the house high and to one side, and a fourth shattered the window at the side.

On Tuesday last a 32-calibre Stevens single-loading rifle was stolen from the blacksmith shop in Walsh Village. A. B. Neoilson had brought it in to be repaired.

On Saturday night Emery Shelley walked to the village of Walsh and bought a box containing fifty 22 short rim fire, black powder cartridges, and the balance of the box are in Constable Abel's possession, as is the rifle. Saul has not seen it, but says he would be able to identify it if he once did.

Young Shelley, who was at Saul's on the Tuesday before the shooting, claims to have got the rifle from an Englishman at Avon, about 30 miles away, in exchange for a suit of clothes and some money.

A 22-calibre rifle was taken with the boy when he was arrested, and this Detective Greer will take out to the place to-day, to test the carrying powers by shooting from the edge of the bush at the dilapidated old house. A shed from which the shots were at first supposed to have been fired is only about 25 yards from the front of the house and to one side. The bush is about 250 yards in front of the house. Mr. Greer wants to be sure whether or not the bullets could not have reached the spots where they lodged from the bush.

His mother says Emery said: "If I shot that old man I did not know it."

The mother, who was married a second time, was on trial once for shooting her second husband in the leg. The first husband, it is related, before he died, confessed to having burnt down a church, so that he could add the property to his land.

The Shelley family is a large one. Mrs. Shelley married again, after her first husband's death, and the family had a hard struggle to keep the wolf from the door. They live some little distance from the Hall home, but young Shelley and Hall know each other well, and it is said that the old man had warned several boys in the neighborhood not to trespass on his small farm.

Inquest will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at Walsh, with the preliminary police court hearing at Simcoe on Friday.

Michael Hall's funeral yesterday was largely attended.

U.S. WILL BUY CANADIAN COAL

New York, Aug. 18.—The first effect of the reduction of 23 cents a ton in the tariff on bituminous coal will be to increase shipments from the mines in Nova Scotia. In discussing this phase of the situation, Black Diamond, the official organ of the trade, says:

"If ultimately there is any displacement of Pennsylvania and West Virginia coals in New England markets that buy coal from Nova Scotia, it may be expected that producing companies in the former fields will have to market their additional surplus in the rail market of the west."

MODERN PESSIMISM

The head physician of a great asylum has committed suicide, leaving a note: "What's the use!" It is Schopenhauerism in a nutshell. The materialist, so soon as he ceases to be a mere animal and becomes a thinking being, says: "What's all this uproar and striving, and suffering, this charnelhouse, about, anyway!" If he were in touch with the Divine he would leave that to God, but he is not, and, therefore, sees nothing ultimate in it all. The scientific method of investigation or rather picking to pieces and reconstructing, both in a mechanical way, as is involved in chemistry, succeeded the philosophical method. The mastery over principles and their carrying-out acquired by men has made men believers in only what they see carried out in the scientific way. The problem of so-called divine or providential interference they say has been explained. It does not exist. They shrug their shoulders when asked to go still farther back, beyond the protoplastic stage. At this point science necessarily stops and philosophy has not yet reasserted her old position, hence the conflict between science and scripture is left an irreconcileable one, impossible of settlement. Until philosophy leaves the domain of practice and goes back or to the domain where thought and faith can alone exist, modern pessimism will hold sway amongst scientific men and their followers. It seems difficult to suggest any other prospect for the immediate future. At present Religion appears to be marking time. Faith does not hold its former influence over men. Hence the tendency to revolve more and more in our own little circle of the seen universe, in disregard of the unseen, as if, indeed, the creating of the universe was unworthy of consideration.

THE NEW BRITISH LAW

"On Aug. 1st the Prevention of Crime Act, 1908, came into operation, writes C. E. B. Russell in the Manchester Guardian, "and now for the first time in this country will be tried a new system of dealing with youths who are beginning to travel or who are already some fair way on the road to a criminal career.

"The leading provision of the Act is as follows;

"REFORMATION OF YOUNG OFFENDERS.

"1.—1. Where a person is convicted on indictment of an offence for which he is liable to be sentenced to penal servitude or imprisonment, and it appears to the Court—

(a) That the person is not less than sixteen nor more than twenty-one years of age; and

(b) That by reason of his criminal or tendencies, or association with persons of bad character, it is expedient that he should be subject to detention for such term and under such instruction and discipline as appears most conducive to his reformation and the repression of crime.

It shall be lawful for the court, in lieu of passing a sentence of penal servitude or imprisonment, to pass a sentence of detention under penal discipline in a Borstal institution for a term of not less than one year nor more than three years.

THE INDETERMINATE SENTENCE.

"'This, it will be seen, is the application of the youthful criminal in this country of the principle of the indeterminate sentence for which so much success is claimed by the American penologists and prison reformers. At present certain small privileges and remissions of sentence may be gained by a youth who is well-behaved in prison, but in most cases these can be secured by mere passive good conduct on his part, and there need be no prospect of any effective change of character or intention.

"'In the future lads deemed suitable for treatment under the full Borstal system—i.e., those who, generally speaking, are of good physique and good health, who are not ex-inmates of reformatory schools, but who are of criminal habits and tendencies, who associate with persons of evil character, and lack any place which could by any stretch of the imagination be called a decent home—will be treated in a way which offers far greater hope of permanent results. A youth may be sentenced to a term of not less than three years' "detention"—not imprisonment—in a Borstal institution, but with the proviso that instead of serving the full term of his detention he may be released on licence, "on condition that he be placed under the supervision or authority of any society or person named in the license who may be willing to take charge of the case' (cl. 5, sec. 1), after serving a minimum period of six months, should application to his work and his general conduct appear to indicate that he will settle down and become a law-abiding man.

THE BORSTAL ASSOCIATION.

"For the Borstal institutions the main principle will be to inculcate the habit of work and a liking for it, and so far as possible a lad will be trained to follow some useful calling after leaving the institution, whilst the Borstal Association, which has been specially called into existance for the purpose, will make the after-care of these lads its special business and do all that is practicable to secure for them employment.'

NEW ZEALAND'S LOYALTY

Public Opinion, Eng.

New Zealand's Premier, Sir Joseph Ward, who is now in London attending the Imperial Defense Conference, had a unique honor paid to him last week. He was entertained to luncheon by Mr. J. C. Wason, M.P., and the premier, Mr. Balfour, and Sir Edward Grey all spoke in his praise. He was also presented with an album containing the original signatures to the cablegram sent by 400 M.P.'s thanking the New Zealand Government for the offer of a dreadnaught.

Mr. Asquith said the people of Great Britain and Ireland will never forget that voluntary manifestation of loyalty and affection. Mr. Balfour said it was an epoch-making occurrence, which reflected glory upon New Zealand.

Sir Joseph Ward, in reply, said that in offering a Dreadnought New Zealand had no desire for notoriety, and sought no personal or local ends. The offer was due entirely to the fact that they had published from end to end of their country communications indicating that, in the judgment of their country communications indicating that, in the judgment of the leading statesmen at the heart of the Empire, an effort was being made to get up alongside of the British Navy, so far as its strength was concerned. The response made by his colleagues was unanimous.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The farmers in Great Britain have "busted" the daylight saving bill. The cows wouldn't alter their ways to suit the bill.

It will always be a subject of wonderment that after reading the Globe the U.S., Germany, France, Russia, Japan, Italy, etc., retain protective tariffs. But then perhaps they do not read the Globe.

The Globe rejoices that trade returns show that Canadian trade may get back to where it was some years ago. A brilliant prospect for a country that has been for twelve years under a Liberal Government!

The outcome of the Nordau-Nietzsche-Ibsen-Tolstoy philosophical mix-up is a return to Rousseau, to Nature. They say that Nature is God's way of developing man, and any other way is an attempt to supersede nature and therefore impossible. But what can Nature teach us of Virtue? It teaches utility only. It proclaims that true Virtue is Nature's way and that what is not useful is not good. There is no question but that this revival of the "nature" theory is producing a great sensation.

"The organ of St. Paul's is the most powerful church organ anywhere. There is a weight of three tons on its bellows. Some of its great tubes are away up in the vast dome. Some of its smaller pipes are up by the altar, and the rest are either hidden away along the long row of choir-stalls or are seen towering on either side of the choir gates. But all are controlled from that little organ-loft in which there is scarcely room for anyone besides the organist seated at the keyboard."

At the present time foreign journals and critics are analysing genius. It is said to rarely come from the poor or the rich, chiefly from those between. Its chief characteristics is its early maturity, which points to the fact that genius, although it may be "an infinite capacity for taking pains," is yet more nearly described as a capacity for speed. A genius does in an hour or a year what the ordinary man does in ten times the time, if at all. At 24 Newton had discovered the calculus and the law of gravitation. So with them all. All constructive minds are fast-working. It is the critical mind that takes its time. This is due probably to the time consumed in looking for faults. The element of resource is considered by many to be the true sign of genius. It is so in everyday life. There are really only two sorts of mind, the resourceful and the common sense. The latter knows enough to profit by what others discover. It is the parasite which lives upon others greater than itself. The former is the great mentality which makes the world move.

La Patrie contains some present-day recommendations by a Quebecker to those who think of going westward. He says the west is wholly an agricultural country, that those who wish to leave their farms here and abandon their rural conditions may do better out there. But that in any other branch of industry, not to think of it. For small fruits, go to British Columbia or Washington territory, but otherwise "remain where you are."

The doom of agriculture in Ontario Quebec, and the Maritime Provinces is being rapidly brought about. The eastern papers are crying out against the exodus to the west, always encouraged by the railways. Quebec laments the same misfortune. Ontario has lost 114,000 of her rural population. SHE HAS GONE BACK BY THAT AMOUNT, surely an almost ruinous thing for Ontario agriculture. The exploiting of the west by the railways and the Laurier Government is spelling the loss of millions upon millions to eastern farmers. What is made in one place must be lost to another, and it is largely Ontario farmers who have built the G. T. P. to their own destruction. Why is the Whitney Government doing all it can to get suitable immigrants in here if the Laurier policy of the west is the proper one for Canada? As the Midland Argus says, the building of the Georgian Bay canal would ruin Midland. The fact is, the financiers have got hold of Canada and they are bleeding it in the name of progress and development. Has their policy made you rich?

INFANTS DELIGHT
Taylor's Soap

Soap That is Best for the Baby's Bath

Baby's skin is very sensitive to soap; some soaps soothe and nourish, while others inflame and irritate.

It is of the utmost importance that you know what soap to use, and to do this you must know what is in the soap.

So let us explain how we make Infants' Delight. We first go for pure vegetable oil to France. There we pay often double what we might pay. But the oil we get is pure enough to use on your table.

Then we go more than 12,000 miles to the isle of Ceylon for pure cocoanut oil. Both oils are carefully tested by chemists and doubly boiled.

Next they go through our own special milling process and fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins. Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture.

Finally they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Then they are dried eight times and stamped into oval cakes that just fit the hand.

Isn't it worth while to have soap like this for your baby? Why risk using common soaps when this excellent kind costs no more than others?

This lovely soap leaves the baby's delicate skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as silk. Even the baby knows the difference in this delightful soap—so we call it Infants' Delight.

Baby will like the perfume too. It is so dainty and fragrant—only the exquisite scent of the rose. If this soap is pure enough for the baby's skin it surely is best for your own. Try one cake—you owe it to baby and yourself.

How to Bathe the Baby

Rinse the body with clear, warm water and then rub in a rich lather of Infants' Delight. Then rinse off the lather with a cloth dipped in lukewarm water and wrung out over the skin. Pat the baby's skin dry with a cloth but never rub with a towel for it coarsens the texture of the skin.

WITH THE COMMISSIONERS AT NEW DAM; HOW THE CONTRACT IS BEING CARRIED OUT

An Interesting Operation—A Solid Piece of Work Being Built Up—The Contractors Will Have to Have Luck to Make Money Out of the City--Everything Being Well Looked After.

A Review representative caught Water Commissioners Moore and W. H. Hill and Superintendent Henderson on a tour of inspection of the work at the new waterworks dam yesterday. The work is progressing systematically and rapidly, and yet not too rapidly to escape the vigilant eye of the commissioners and Mr Fawkes, C.E., Mr. Kennedy's representative on the city's behalf. The coffer-dam excludes water to the extent of about an acre, except where it leaks in below through the shale, and pumping this out requires the services of two pumps and their attendants. In the middle of the dry acre, which is at the west side of the river, is a big hole blasted in the shale, at the bottom of which a large force of men were dumping concrete and boulders to form the floor of the power house, and from this floor will be run up the walls, so that there will be no leakage, and consequent undermining and eating away. When these walls are high enough the scene of action will be removed to the east half of the river, which will be coffer-dammed in turn to admit of the dam proper and spillways being erected. Mr. Bishop, head of the firm, was there yesterday and seemed well pleased with the progress of the work. A high cable extends across the river, on which coal, cement, etc., are run from the railway siding. On the west side are several frame buildings, comprising offices, tool-houses, sleeping houses, etc. The Brumwell creek, that runs into the river near the present pumping house, is being diverted to fall below the intake basin. A fine quality of coarse sand is found nearby in Brumwell's hill, for which Mr. Brown, who owns it, will receive a handsome sum. The bed of the new creek course will, in some parts, have to be blasted through solid rock, but the work is a necessary one, and will add to the facilities of filtration in the future.

Two boilers furnish 85 h.p. to run the cement mixers and the pumps. The work is of a wet and unpleasant character to the men engaged in it but they go at it uncomplainingly, and it will soon be ready for the superstructure.

A curious feature of the digging was the striking of a sulphur spring at the bottom of the foundation-pit. The smell guided the explorers to the spot, and a cup of the water confirmed the suspicions as to what it really was. It would be worth while to send samples of this water for analysis. It might have excellent curative properties. In the island in the middle of the river a car wheel was found, securely embedded, while the basis of the island itself and its green shrubs and luxuriant turf was a closely-packed row of slabs that had evidently drifted in and found a lodging place there.

News of a very sad shooting fatality the result of which a father and child lies dead, and the mother in a very weak condition is to hand. It occurred on the Willoughby farm, about three miles from this village, at 3.30 Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Thomas Willoughby, with her youngest child, was in the village at the time and knew nothing of it till she reached home. The shock has weakened her very much.

From the report believed to be the correct statement the girl was in the woodshed when shot, and it is thought in some accidental manner the rifle was discharged. The father carried the girl into the next room and bathed her wounds, though it is believed she died instantly as the bullet entered her heart. The father then laid the child on the sofa. By this time a couple of neighbors having heard the shots rushed to the house as he was laying the child on the sofa. Without a word Mr. Willoughby threw himself on the floor beside the sofa and died, it is thought, due to shock.

The three doctors were immediately rushed to the house, but both were dead when they arrived.

As Mr. Willoughby is well known in the village, the news was received with deep regret. Mr. Willoughby has been in a very melancholy state owing to sickness all spring. Mrs. Willoughby and the two children have the sympathy of the entire community.

ACTRESSES AND SHOW GIRLS

The Mistake in Classing Them All as One—Mabel Taliaperro Speaks.

Mabel Taliaferro in Success Magazine calls attention to a popular inaccuracy. She says: "It was not the first time I had been brought face to face with the humiliating fact that to the average person all women who make a livelihood from the other side of the footlights are "actresses." It was not the first time I had been humiliated by the thought that, no matter how hard I tried and studied and worked or how high I climbed, I would still be classed with the girl of the pretty face who knew nothing of toil, study or ambition, and who cared for a "good time" rather than for a good name. It was not the first time I had been hurt by the cruel lack of discrimination and appreciation which bundled us all in one class—great stars, delightful comediennes, charming ingenues, flashy show girls, ballet dancers, members of the chorus—and labelled us "actresses." But I had never before realised the utter hopelessness of a situation which absolutely discounted brains, ability, culture, education, birth, sweet womanhood, years of study, toil, and strife, and forced the hundreds of good women of the stage to suffer through the thoughtlessness or the downright badness of a stratum of theatrical society which is as far removed from that of the real actress as the position of an ignorant coal miner is from that of the learned engineer who opened up the mine.

WAS EXCITING FOR LINDSAY

Lindsay, Aug. 17.—Monday afternoon during the heavy downpour of rain a man was noticed "dead to the world' between the sidewalk and the fence near the Ops swing-bridge. He had been lying there for several hours, when a man who was driving south attempted to rouse him from his stupor. An empty flask was found beside him, and in his pocket was a copy of Friday's Peterborough Review. Whether it was the contents of the bottle or the editorials in the paper that knocked him out it is hard to say. When he was able to talk he stated that he had recently been employed on a farm in Smith township and had left Peterborough Saturday morning.—Post.

Lieut. Morris was given a civic reception and presented with a medal on returning to Bowmanville from Bisley.

The Death of Father Tyrrell

History will judge in its own patient but drastic fashion the value of George Tyrrell's contribution to the cause of truth. These words are printed in the Manchester Guardian in a tribute to the leader of English Modernism, who died at Storrington on July 15th. The importance of his place in that wing of the Roman Catholic Church devoted to the restatement of her ancient creeds may be seen in this writer's assertion that "for many years to come the religious world will discuss his work and will gradually learn to measure its bearings and appreciate its meanings." Since his excommunication on October 22nd, 1907, Father Tyrrell has been living in retirement in Sussex. Death came after a short illness. Certain details of his last days are given in a letter to the London Times by Miss Maude D. Petre, at whose house the end came. His last confessions were taken by a priest of the diocese of Southwark, in the presence and with the assistance as interpreter of Baron Friedrich von Hugel, an old friend "who perfectly knew the line of thought and could interpret the present dispositions of the sick man." The letter proceeds:

"In answer to his questions, the Baron was able to reply that according to his certain knowledge (1) Father Tyrrell would wish to receive all the rites of the Church; (2) he would be deeply contrite for all and any sin and excess of which he had been guilty, as in other matters so in the course of controversy; but that (3) he would not wish to receive the Sacraments at the cost of a retractation of what he had said or written in all sincerity, and still considered to be the truth. The aforesaid priest acknowledged his clear understanding of these points, and proceeded to the interview. Father Tyrrell talked at some length, probably making a confession, after which he received conditional absolution."

The Catholic Standard and Times (Philadelphia) gives this account of a cablegram from London:

"Dated July 21st, it says that 'Father Tyrrell was buried to-day without the Catholic burial service, but the dead priest's friend, Abbe Bremond, said prayers and blessed the grave.' In explanation of this it was added by the cabler that The Tablet had been officially asked to state that none of Father Tyrrell's friends in attendance at his death-bed could give the Bishop assurance that Tyrrell made any retraction, either written or verbal, or by signs, during the whole of his last illness. In this case it had been especially decreed by the Holy See that retraction was necessary for readmission to Catholic communion, and consequently for a claim to burial with the Church's rites."

Father Tyrrell was born a Protestant but became a convert and entered the Jesuit order. "His restlessly active mind," says the London Times, "was ever seeking to probe the total significance of religious truth as represented by the Catholic tradition." His career is further presented in these words:

"It was in the attempt to help those of his own communion who resorted to him with such difficulties that he was led to extend the scope of his apologetic writings, and probably to sound the depths of his own thought. The results of this fundamental handling of religious difficulties appeared in several small treatises privately printed and circulated principally among the friends who had consulted him, in which he sought to draw a clear line of distinction between religion as a life and theology as the provisional and perfectable interpretation of that life. One of these little volumes had been translated without Tyrrell's knowledge or consent into Italian, and during the ferment caused by the publication of Fogazzaro's novel 'Il Santo' extracts from it were published in the Corriere della Sera, a Milanese newspaper, on June 1st, 1906. It was the publication of this document, the full text of which Tyrrell afterward gave to the world under the title of 'A Much-Abused Letter,' that led to his expulsion from the Society of Jesus. 'Lex Orandi,' a volume intended to show that the true interpretation of the creed was determined by its 'prayer value,' had already been published before his expulsion from the Order with the approval of the Jesuit censor and the imprimatur of the present Archbishop of Westminster. 'Lex Credendi' followed in the same year—1907."

The Pope's encyclical of July, 1907, condemning Modernism brought forth two articles published in the London Times and quoted extensively by us on November 2nd. For the authorship of these articles Father Tyrrell was virtually excommunicated. A Roman Catholic view of his work and influence is given in America (New York, July 24th) from which we quote:

"Father Tyrrell's mental habit was more speculative than practical. He was not disposed to make, or to follow, the researches and critical studies of modern scholars in the very questions upon which he loved to speculate. He was not an expert in historical or Biblical criticism, although, strange to say, he had an exalted idea of the experts in these fields and attributed unquestioningly to them an authority which he denied somewhat bitterly to the masters of theological study. With the endeavor of the latter to formulate the doctrines of the Church he had little patience, though he constantly dealt in formulas of his own. He was fond of giving new expressions to old truths. He labored hard to interpret the teachings of the Church in terms which its opponents had used to supplant Catholic belief. It did not occur to him that the few who valued the new terminology would misunderstand him, or rather interpret his words in their own erroneous senses. As he labored without the large success he had expected, he began to attribute his failure to the inherent difficulty of the doctrine, or to previous futile attempts to express it. But for this he believed that intelligent men generally would enter the Church. For want of such expression of their belief as he had attempted to provide, he feared that thousands were on the point of leaving the Church. Like many other minds, ever-exercised in one line of activity, he lacked or lost the sense of proportion. He overestimated the disposition of the non-Catholic, and he underestimated the faith of the Catholic. He attributed undue credit to the pretensions of much modern criticism, but he ignored the common-sense or wisdom which grows out of faith and which enables the Catholic to keep philosophically cool when others are flurried over every wind of doctrine and every specious assumption made under pretext of science or criticism. He failed to see that what attracts people to the Church is its definite, consistent and obligatory doctrine, just as what repels them from other churches is a vague, shifting, and accommodating religious teaching. He appreciated so highly the benefit of membership in the Church that he did not wish to leave it, even when he was secretly disloyal to it and counseling others in accordance with his own attitude."

Several Protestant journals take a different view. From The Christian Work and Evangelist we extract this:—

"The heavy hand of death last week stopped the pen of the greatest of English Modernists. The life of the brave Jesuit, George Tyrrell, is ended. We take that back. The life of George Tyrrell, even in this world, is but just begun. So long as the ideas for which he stood have their echoes in the minds and hearts of men his life keeps on. Modernism, we are constrained to believe, is to-day the most important movement in the theological, if not in the entire religious world. Wherever Roman Catholicism and intelligence have existed together, Modernism has been the fruit. It is a crop of a world-wide sowing, whose upspringing has been as inevitable as the shooting of the grass in spring. It appeared almost simultaneously in Italy, in Germany, in France, in Great Britain, led by such men as Loisy, and Murri, and Tyrrell. When Paul Sabatier lectured on Modernism last year in London, he described Tyrrell as the only English Modernist known at Rome, and then added, 'he, it is true, is worth many others.' In the Modernist camp, Tyrrell was a host in himself."—Literary Digest.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL PLANS APPROVED BY LOCAL DOCTORS

The City Medical Association have approved of the plans of the architect for the isolation hospital, and have instructed their secretary, Dr. Amys to write the Council to that effect. A largely attended meeting of the association was held in the Bank of Montreal chambers on Monday night, when the plans were examined at the request of the Property Committee of the Council. The committee made this request of the medical men so that the new hospital will be made as complete and modern as possible, and also to get the personal views of all the doctors.

Needless to say every doctor present was in favor of an isolation hospital and were glad that the Council had advanced the business this far, as the lack of such a hospital has been greatly felt this summer.

Architect Blackwell was present at the meeting also and he went over the plans with the physicians. A few slight changes the physicians recommended, and these the architect took note of and will make in the plans. On the whole, however, the plans were approved.

It was moved that the general plans for the isolation hospital, as submitted by the architect to the City Medical Association be approved. —Carried.

The following committee was then appointed to confer with the Council in the carrying out of the plans: Dr. A. W. McPherson, Medical Health Officer; Dr. J. Malcolm McCulloch, and Dr. McNulty.

TERRIFIC STORM CAUSED DAMAGE AROUND RICE LAKE

Fine Barn of Matthew Linton Destroyed—Cow and Pigs Burned in Adjoining Pen.

Monday evening between six and seven o'clock a terrific storm of rain and wind accompanied by lightning passed over the section of the county bordering on Rice Lake. The storm came from the west. Trees were levelled and serious damage done to the standing crops. The farm of Mr. Matthew Linton in Hamilton township was in the path of the storm and his fine barn was struck by a bolt and fired. The building was entirely consumed. Fortunately many head of stock were out in the yard and fields, but one cow and several hogs, the latter in a pen adjoining the barn, were burned. The men of the farm were out in the fields at the time, and for some time the fire had its way, and in any event little could be done to stay the blaze. The house and outbuildings, while in a line with the barn, were untouched. There is some insurance on the barn but none on the contents.

RESIDENTS COMPLAINING OF YOUNG POKER PLAYERS

Complaints have been received at this office concerning a gang of juvenile poker players who make their headquarters on the sward near the G.T.R. tracks at the corner of Hunter and Bethune streets.

These undergraduates of the game play, it is said, for small stakes, and are very prolific swearers. In the heat of the game they sometimes fail to moderate their language as gentlemanly gamblers should, and their presence is the cause of considerable annoyance and discomfort to the residents in the vicinity.

It is suggested that the police get busy in this section of the city and give the young fellows warning to get out. The complainants don't desire that they should be arrested, but are decidedly of the opinion that the neighborhood should not be inflicted with their disorderly presence.

MILK DEALERS ON TRIAL TO-DAY FOR ALLEGED SALE OF ADULTERATED MILK

Two Local Dealers are Charged With Putting Preservatives in Milk—Remanded Until Next Wednesday Afternoon at Two O'clock—Dr. Amyot's Report Points to Borates in Milk.

Two local milk vendors were up in Police Court this morning charged with selling adulterated milk on Aug. 10th. It is customary during the months of July and August of each year to take a sample of milk from each vendor in the city and to forward it to Toronto for analysis. A week ago Mr. Geo. Ball received the monthly report from the chemical laboratories at Toronto and as a result the two local dealers had to face a charge this morning.

Messrs. R. F. McWilliams and G. N. Gordon appeared for the two men and both pleaded not guilty.

In the first case, Mr. Geo. Ball, milk inspector for the city of Peterborough, was the first witness for the crown. He said that on Tuesday, Aug. 10th, he received a sample of milk from the defendant. It was taken from one of the several cans in the defendant's waggon.

He put the sample in a tightly sealed bottle, and made an entry in his pocketbook, giving the ownership of the sample. Mr. Ball claimed that the milk delivered by the defendant that day, was adulterated. Mr. Ball shipped the sample of milk to Dr. Amyot at Toronto to be analyzed, and a report was returned to him from the doctor, which stated his examination of the milk, had proved them to be some boracic acid, or some other foreign matter present.

DR. A. W. McPHERSON.

Dr. McPherson said that he was the Medical Health Officer for this city. He received the report of Dr. Amyot which said that the sample of milk forwarded to him contained a quality of boracic acid. This kind of acid, the doctor said, was sometimes put into milk to preserve it, and keep it from going stale. However, he said that if the acid were present in only very minute quantities, no very great harm would ensue, the chief trouble arising from the use of preservatives being that older milk might be used than would otherwise be the case.

MR. NEWHALL.

The next witness for the Crown was Policeman Newhall. Mr. Newhall said that the defendant came to the Police Court yesterday morning and said that he did not see why he should be up for adulteration, as he often had thirty or forty quarts of milk more than he could use. As for the borates, he often washed out his cans with ammonium, and the only way that he could see that there should be any acid in the milk, was that some of the ammonium or boratis had remained in the can.

The Magistrate remanded the case until a week from to-day, in order that Dr. Amyot might be brought down from Toronto to give testimony.

In the second case the evidence was practically the same as that in the first one and it too, was remanded until Friday.

LARGE EXCURSION FROM KINMOUNT

One of the largest excursions that has visited the city this year was that under the auspices of the Canadian Order of Foresters of Kinmount to-day. Over five hundred were on the train and they reached here at about ten o'clock. The excursionists spent the day seeing the city, and a large number went over the lift lock on the Otonabee, which made four trips during the day. The Kinmount excursion leaves at half-past six, but as the tickets are good until to-morrow a number are remaining over with friends.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

WEDDING BELLS

GREGORY—SYLVESTER.

A very pretty but quiet wedding was solemnized at ten o'clock this morning at the home of Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Robert Sylvester, Keil street, west, where their second daughter, Addie, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony, to Arthur Keele Gregory, fourth son of Mrs. Gregory, Cambridge street.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Walter Creighton, of St. Mary's Church, West Toronto, formerly of Bobcaygeon, in the presence of a few intimate friends and relatives. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Maud Sylvester, while the bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Frank Gregory. At the conclusion of the wedding ceremony the happy crowd sat down to a very dainty dinner, after which they left on the 11.25 train for Bobcaygeon, Big Island and other places of interest. On their return they will reside in East Toronto.—Lindsay Post.

The bride and groom are well known in this city, both having visited here on several occasions. Their many friends here will extend good wishes.

GO WITH THE BOWLERS TO COBOURG THURSDAY

There promises to be a large crowd with the bowlers on their excursion to Cobourg to-morrow afternoon. The train leaves the G.T.R. station at 1.10 p.m., and the return fare is only 85 cents. The horse show is proving a great success, and there has been a very large attendance all week. Over 500 horses have been entered in the hunting and jumping events, and these alone will be a great attraction. The 48th Highlanders band is in attendance in the afternoon and evening each day, and the Royal Canadian Dragoons give their musical ride. Each afternoon there is a hunt race and many other interesting events. Admission to the grounds 25 cents, to the grand stand 25 cents.

Don't fail to take advantage of the low rates to see the pretty town of Cobourg at its best, and see the horse show.

WHERE DO JOCKEYS GO WHEN THEIR RIDING DAYS ARE OVER?

The Man Who was Betting stood looking at the jockeys as they filed out of their quarters just before the last race yesterday.

They trotted past him one by one. Each deigned to look to the right or left. Each wore his brilliant colors with a studied air of indifference.

"See that boy Burns?" he asked.

"Yes, he's going to be a great rider," replied the man at his elbow.

"Yes, he's going to be a great rider, but what does that mean? Guy Burns won't be back here next summer if he keeps on improving at his present rate. He'll be down east, riding better horses for better wages. He'll make a lot of money—for a boy. He'll live in luxury. Nothing will worry him—for a while."

The paddock judge began calling off the horses by number.

"Then some day he'll fall or begin to grow fat. Then, what will he do."

"Why he'll —um-um—what the dence will he do?"

"That's it; what will he do?"

"Every year some boy leaves this circuit and gets into the bigger racing game. A long time ago it was Tod Sloan, who came up from the ranks and set a record for riding winners. Then it was Walter Miller. Sloan is barred from riding now, and Miller is too heavy. Last year young Powers rode on this track. He won a great percentage of his races. Now he's dow east, and he going dwon now.

"I don't know why it is—that a jockey never can do much after his riding days are over. Of course you'll find a man now and then who used to ride and who saved his money and bought a stable. "Billy" Shields, whose string is here to-day, is one of those boys. But he's one in a few. The most of 'em don't get along very well after they leave the game. Maybe their early success turns their heads and they never stop to think of to-morrow.

"Reasons make little differeone anyhow. To-morrow comes all of a sudden to most boys who ride. And when it comes the great number are unprepared.

"I spoke about 'Billy' Shields a moment ago. He has been successful. But did you ever notice the little bronzed, quiet-mouthed fellow who drove the waggon that hauled the barrier from place to place last summer? He never wore a coat. Most of the time he was dirty. They said that he slept in the stables and ate whenever he had the chance. It wasn't many years ago that that same fellow was riding on the classic tracks of Kentucky. He was winning Kentucky derbies and big stake events all through the south. People bet on his mount no matter what sort of an old skate it was One day a field o fhorses went down to the barrier. This boy was on one. The break was quick—just likw the one in to-day's fourth race. Two horses went down, and another rolled over them. After they got 'em up a stable hand lifted the boy from the track. There wasn't any sickening blood. There were no ugly bruises. There was only a big, hard lump on the back of the boy's head, and it was the head that had leaned over the necks of so many winners down there in the south. When the boy came out of the hospital he didn't have the nerve to ride again. Something was the matter beside that, too. He began working as a stable hand, and——

Could not Get Accomadation at Utah

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 17.—Jack Johnson, the heavyweight champion of the world, who arrived in this city yesterday afternoon, applied at the local police station at an early hour this morning for assistance in obtaining a place to sleep. After a night of fetes in which the colored population of Salt Lake acted as host, Johnson repaired to a local hotel, where, it is said, rooms had been engaged for himself and wife. He was informed that the hostelry did not cater fo colored trade, and after vainly seeking accommodation elsewher he made an appeal at police headquarters, but was told that department could not interest itself in the matter.

TWO TROPHIES FOR Y.M.C.A. MEET

There will be two trophies presented in connection with the Y.M.C.A. Harriers' meet on September 11th. Mr. J. J. Howden has presented one for competition among the seniors, and Mr. Vincent Eastwood has presented one for competition among the juniors. Mr. Jack Crowe won the senior championship last year, while Bob Munro won the junior championship.

A large number of local boys have signified their intention of entering the sports, and some close races are expected.

GETTING TO BE POPULAR SPORT

Chambers street, at the back of the Review office, is getting to be quite a battle ground for juvenile scrappers. Every day or so there is a fistic encounter between aspiring champions.

Yesterday a go attracted quite a crowd of spectators, and entertained them while the bout lasted. It was stopped by the police in the seventh round, although the interference was resented, neither principal being by any means nearly out when P.C. McGinty arrived on the scene.

NOTES OF THE DAY

C. M. O'Brien, Socialist member for Rocky Mountain, in the Alberta Legislature, was sentenced to serve seven days in jail [illegible] for refusing to pay costs after [illegible] for blocking the street.

WRESTLING

Buffalo, Aug. 17—Another European wrestler is to invade the United States this year with the idea of wresting the world's catch-as-catch-can title from Frank Gotch. He is Stanislaus Cyganiewicz, known to the wrestling world as "Zbyszko," and he will sail from London to arrive in New York about the 10th of next month. Zbyszko will come to America with the honor-bound promise of Frank Gotch that he will give him a chance at the world's title if he succeeds in defeating the best of the American heavyweights outside of himself. Zbyszko wrung this promise from Gotch during the occasion of the latter's visit over there when he went to try to force Hackenschmidt into a match, after having beaten him here.

At that time Zbyszko, who is immensely more popular in London than Hackenschmidt, posted $5000 with the London Sportsmen to bind a match with Gotch. Zbyszko kept after Gotch, not bragging, but in a sportsmanlike way, offering to wager his own money and wrestle anywhere, as long as he had a chance at the title. As everyone knows, Gotch refused to wrestle anyone on the other side but Hackenschmidt, and when the latter crawled, the American came home.

Zbyszko doesn't come without a record, as did Youssiff Mahmout, who campaigned the States last year only to prove a mark for Gotch when the pair finally met in Chicago. Zbyszko has beaten all the best wrestlers of Europe with the exception of Hackenschmidt, and it is through his showing up of the latter that he won from the Russian all his prestige with the London people. Hackenschmidt was more afraid of Zbyszko than he was of Gotch. He was finally persuaded to get on to a mat with the American. He has steadfastly refused, in the face of the most flattering and munificent offers, to even get close enough to sign the articles with Zbyszko. The latter beat Padoubney, who gave Hackenschmidt his greatest struggle, easily in two straight falls, each less than ten minutes.

Zbyszko is 26 years old, weighs 270 pounds in wrestling togs and is 5 feet 11 inches in height. His neck is 22 inches round, chest 55 inches, waist 42 inches, upper arm 22 inches, forearm 18 inches, wrist 13 inches, biceps 31 inches, calf 19 1-2 inches. Compare these measurements with some of the noted American wrestlers and heavyweight boxers and some idea of the mammoth size of the new wrestling invader may be had.

Zbyszko will be under contract to Jack Herman of Buffalo.

BASEBALL

Hurrah! The Church League Baseball is over and the Methodists are the winners. It was all settled on Friday night, when the Methodists defeated the Catholic-Baptist game by the overwhelming score of 14 to 6.

When these two teams met last Monday the game was called on account of darkness, the score being 12 to 12. The game on Friday was practically the first game over again. The Catholic bunch, by their whirlwind finish o fast Monday's game, scoring 7 runs in the last innings with only one down, stopping then on account of darkness, and with A. Kempt, their regular catcher, back in the game, were naturally the favorites. The Methodists, as firm as ever, were determined t owin, and this they did. The Methodits took first bat and showed their batting ability, every man batting. Vic Puffer, first man, reached first base on a single and stole second. Scriver, fell on a fly to short. Pickard reached second on a single and an error, Puffer tallying first run. R. Pearce and Will Puffer, next men, both made 3 base hits and cleared on Mills' clean single over 2nd, Hondren and Tucker dieing on second and 3rd by Johnston fanning and Puffer's out to first, the score being 5 in first innings.

When the Catholics were up it looked as though they might easily overcome the lead. The first man up hit, and Pickard, who made a fast pick up, catching his man at first. Two runs were added before McKenty was struck out, then two more followed, when Fry made the last out. Scor now 5—4.

The second half for the Methodists brought in three runs. Puffer then going out at first, Mills on 2nd and Headren at first by fast work by McNichol at short.

It was in the Catholic half of the 2nd that the Methodists le tloose, First man up going out at first, Pickard striking out the next two. In the Methodists' half 5 more were added, the score now standing 13—4 in their favor, the Catholics again retiring the same as the previous innings.

The fourth counted one each, both scoring three runs with 2 down. In the fifth neither counted, Pickard striking out the three Catholic batters.

Headren caught a peach of a game off Pickard, who struck out nine and gave but one base on balls, while Doherty, who twirled for the Catholic team, gave four bases on balls, hit 4 men and struck out 4.

The Catholics and Presbyterians will likely play off Friday night for second place.

THE COBOURG HORSE SHOW

Cobourg, Aug. 17.—Cobourg's fifth Summer Horse Show opened to-day at 2 p.m. with an entry list half as large again as last year, and with many new exhibitors, in which Toronto showed up largely. Fine weather again greeted the show, and the attendance was good. The 48th Highlanders' Band and the Royal Canadian Dragoons led the procession to Dunegan Park, where the Dragoons gave a musical ride during the afternoon, and the Highlanders furnished a fine programme of music. This year's exhibition brought together as large a showing of fine horses as ever was seen in America. Judging in many classes was difficult. The exhibits in hunters and jumpers are much larger than ever before. Over 125 entries are made in the high jumping. Redcoat and saddle classes Toronto and Ottawa Hunt Clubs are represented. # The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed conterfoits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegeli Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdau, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unceasing sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the fad or experimental stage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

WHICH DAY IS REALLY SABBATH

Chief of Dundas Police Force Stumped in Argument With a Seventh Day Adventist

The following item, which appears in the Hamilton Herald, makes interesting reading:

"There was quite an audience at the Dundas police court yesterday morning to hear the case against Charles Gibbon, Lynden, charged with violating the Lord's Day Act by hoeing on Sunday. Most of those present were from the famous Beverly village, which has produced much grist for the local mill of justice. The Seventh Day Adventists are fairly strong at Lynden, and Gibbons is a member of the sect. He has the reputation of being a good citizen, but his statements at court yesterday morning made the bench gasp and rather disconcerted the prosecutor, Chief of Police Twiss. The chief spoke of Sunday as being the Lord's day, and the defendant asked him to prove it, but the chief wasn't up in theology. Gibbons said he could not work on Saturday, it being the day of rest, and he said the Bible commanded men to labor six days of the week. It was not a question of getting your work done in five, but you must labor six days of the week. During the trial the court asked Gibbons if he had any witnesses, and he replied in the affirmative, and said the witness was in his pocket. He then produced a Bible and proceeded to show the justices that they were all wrong on the question of the Lord's day.

"Mayor Lawrason was unconvinced, and inflicted a fine of $5."

REV. W. AND MRS. KENNER CELEBRATED GOLDEN WEDDING

A very interesting event occurred at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Forde, Pipestone, Man., on the afternoon of the 12th inst., when Rev. W. Kenner of Peterborough celebrated the jubilee of his wedded life. The event was unique, not only in the fact that God had spared the life of himself and wife, but that he was one of three brothers, all ministers in the Methodist Church, whose years of active service equalled forty-two each; that he was married by his youngest brother, and that all three brothers still live, and were permitted with their wives to be present on the auspicious occasion, and if permitted to complete the year of life upon which they have respectively entered their united ages will represent 250. A family of nine blessed the union, seven of whom survive, and five of whom were permitted to be present. Rev. A. C. Day, the pastor of the Methodist church at Pipestone, and his amiable wife enhanced the pleasure of the occasion by their presence. Mrs. Forde, who is very much respected and esteemed by the people here, and who is a daughter of the above parents, is entitled to great credit for the preparing and serving of a sumptuous banquet. A purse of gold from the children, gold presents and an important bank cheque testified to the esteem in which the aged couple are held by their children, relatives and friends. An ode, suitable to the gathering, composed by the groom, was sung. A young member of the Kenner family was dedicated to God by baptism, in which service four ministers took part. Reminiscent speeches were made and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Lo! fifty years have passed away
Since we the marriage vow did take;
And here we are in health to-day,
To praise the God Who did us make.

Draped in His mercy, goodness, love,
We stand before Him here to-day,
With anxious thoughts to dwell above,
When this short life is passed away.

How much to grace to-day we owe,
For freedom from the power of sin;
And yet how little do we know
Of peace and joy and Christ within.

May we have greater faith to grasp
A deeper joy than now we know;
In all that's wise and good stand fast,
And to the world the Christ life show.

And when the light of Heaven's bright day
Shall break upon our peaceful souls,
May we in triumph pass away
To dwell with Christ, our "All in All."

MAN MAKES FOUR DOLLARS IN ONE AFTERNOON BY BEGGING

Four dollars a day is pretty good wages for a man without the use of his hands. This morning at Police Court William Turner was up on a charge of begging in a public place. William is a cripple, having had fingers on both of his hands cut off in his younger days. Since the accident he has been living on the public's generosity, and came to this city yesterday morning to try his luck. He took up his stand at Central Park and by three o'clock in the afternoon had collected the nice little sum of four dollars. At this juncture P. C. Newhall arrived on the scene and William was marched to the police station. Magistrate Dumble gave him eight hours to leave the city, and William, jumping at the chance, took the 4.50 train for Toronto.

PETERBORO'S POPULATION IS INCREASED BY 2000 TO-DAY

The Three Excursions in City Bring Large Number of People—1000 Come From Belleville—Many From Fenelon Falls Marmora and Kinmount.

If the census of Peterborough were to be taken to-day, it would be found that the population had increased by about 2,000. This is due to the fact that there are three excursions in the city to-day, from outside points. At about 8.30 this morning a train from Fenelon Falls and Kinmount brought in about 600 excursionists, and shortly after a double-header from Belleville rolled in depositing about 1,000 people at the G.T.R. station. The crowd in the latter case was so great, that it required twelve large passenger coaches to accommodate them.

Marmora was represented by a crowd of about three hundred, the excursion getting into the city at about en o'clock.

Most of the excursionists are spending the day in sightseeing and driving about the city, the liveries doing a record business along this line.

ARE SURVEYING THE SCUGOG AND MAY STRAIGHTEN RIVER

Mr. R. A. Stewart, Government surveyor, and a number of men who have been sounding and surveying the Scugog river for some months, have at last reached Goose Lake.

The object of the survey is for the purpose of obtaining a perfect chart of the winding Scugog. This is the first time that the Scugog has ever been properly surveyed and the Government has never had a chart of the river.

In conversation with Mr. Stewart this morning he stated that he was under the impression that the Government would at some future date straighten out the winding Scugog.

When the survey is completed, which will be in about a year, the Government will be able to ascertain exactly what the cost would be, and how much earth would be required to be removed in the event of making the Scugog a straight course. The cost would be enormous, but should the Government decide to do the work the proposition will be received with open arms by the citizens of Lindsay and vicinity.

During the coming winter Mr. Stewart and his men will make a survey of Sturgeon Lake for the purpose of obtaining a chart and the exact depth of the lake.—Lindsay Warder.

FIVE NEW BOOKS TO BE USED IN HIGH SCHOOLS NEXT TERM

Five new or revised editions of High School text books will be used in Canadian High Schools during the coming term. Not satisfied with providing five new readers for the public schools, the Department of Education has arranged for five new books to be used in the Collegiate Institutes. The prices, too, will be lower than ever before, and will be, on the whole, quite reasonable.

From advance notices it appears as if the new books will be just what is needed, and especially along chemistry lines, as the text books in use in the past in that subject were very weak.

There is one thing about the new edition, however, which has been overlooked, and that is that the books will not be ready for use by the time school opens. This means that the students entering the High School will have to struggle along as best they can until the new books are published, and it will be the cause of a great deal of inconvenience not only to them, but also to the teachers in charge. It is expected, however, that the text books will reach this city by Sept. 15, and if that is the case, the students will be able to use them in their work by the 20th at the latest.

Hog prices are a little weaker, $7.85 being the best figure for select stock.

LAD'S STORY IS VERIFIED MIGHT HAVE BEEN ACCIDENT

Young Shelley Might Have Been Shooting Birds—Detective Greer Makes Test of Rifle in Hall Tragedy Near Simcoe and Finds That Bullet Will Carry to Hall Home.

Simcoe, Oct. Aug. 19.—That Emery Shelley, the boy charged with the murder of old Michael Hall on Sunday last, was most probable innocent of any intention to do harm, seems quite likely after Detective Greer's experiments yesterday.

A careful survey of the bush opposite and 250 yards from the Hall stable strengthened the theory that the bullets might easily have done their work from this thicket, and that shots from in the woods at a bird in the border would be within range of the marks they made.

A test was made with a 22-calibre Stephens rifle with 22 short ammunition, which showed that death could result at 300 yards. It was also seen that the bullets penetrated medium hard wood when fired from over 100 yards, as far as they did when at a distance of only five yards.

One thing that strongly upholds the "accidental" theory is that the old man was killed by the first shot, yet others continued to rattle on the building, also that shots were scattered wide apart, as though fired at random.

Another thing, if the accused really did the shooting, it doesn't look like a wilful act, also be wouldn't likely have continued shooting on his way home.

The neighbor, Thos. Overholt, told the detective that when he stopped the boy shooting on his farm on Sunday lest some of his children be injured, it was after Hall had been killed. The boy was then coming from the direction of the Hall house and was on his way home, but so far as Overholt could see had no dead thrush with him.

In the event of lack of evidence or proof sufficient to connect young Shelley with the firing of the fatal shot, the crown may still prosecute on a charge of criminal negligence, on the ground that the lad had no right to roam about a populated country, Sundays or week days, discharging a firearm at will.

KING OF SPAIN WANTS TO FIGHT

Madrid, Aug. 19.—King Alfonso is taking the keenest interest in the war in Morocco and all of Premier Maure's influence is required to prevent him from going to the front.

His Majesty writes daily to officers at Melilla whom he knows personally

Neither King Alfonso nor any member of the royal household has participated in any entertainments or rejoicings since the war has been in progress and the social life of Madrid is almost at a standstill.

WAS PLEASED WITH CANADIAN CITIES

New York, Aug. 19.—James Shaw Maxwell, senior magistrate of the city of Glasgow, who is making an extensive tour of the United States and Canada, has arrived in New York.

He is taking advantage of the opportunity to study American public institutions and declares he has been greatly impressed with those he has already visited, Chicago, Boston, Toronto, and Ottawa.

Coming, as he does, from the birthplace of municipal ownership, Mr. Maxwell professes surprise that the citizens of the large municipalities are not more interested in that problem.

"From what I have already observed," he said, "the Canadian cities are far ahead of those in the United States in many respects. They appear to be better regulated and are kept cleaner."

LITTLE GIRL CAST ADRIFT

Montreal, Aug. 19.—Sent to a false address in Montreal from Burlington, Vermont, Germaune Huot, 12 years old, walked the streets without money or home or friends until she fell exhausted. She was taken in by Councillor Martel, of Montreal West.

Her story is that her father died when she was young and left her mother well off. He was a doctor at St. Johns, P.Q. Her mother died three years ago, and her money was put in the Banque St. Johns, of which Hon. P. H. Roy was president. The bank failed and she lost all. When the woman with whom she lived in Burlington found that she could get no money out of her she sent her to Montreal without money and to a false address.

Will Force an Interview.

London, Aug. 19.—The militant suffragettes who have been picketing the House of Commons for the past six weeks with the object of securing an interview with Premier Asquith, have extended their operations to the Premier's residence on Downing street.

Mrs. Despard and Mrs. Saunderson yesterday afternoon took up their stand outside Mr. Asquith's house and declared that sentries would be maintained uninterruptedly until the Premier granted an audience.

The Premier, however, is able to slip through a garden in the rear of his house to which the public does not enjoy access.

TWO YEAR BOY WANDERS AWAY FROM HIS HOME AND IS LOST

Halifax, Aug. 19.—Great excitement prevails in Stellarton over the fate of a two-year-old child of Rudolph Mueller, who was lost on Tuesday afternoon at Mount William, about two miles from Stellarton. Mayor Campbell of Stellarton had a large force of men on the search within one hour after he was notified of the case. This force was increased in the evening by the fire department, who continued the search all night, and yesterday the coal miners, assisted by a large number of I.C.R. employes, are diligently searching the woods which surround the house where the child was last seen. Mr. Mueller's mother left the child sleeping in the house while she and another woman went picking blueberries. When she returned she found the door open and the child gone. A child's chair was pulled up to the door, as if he had it there to open the latch.

Mrs. Mueller says she was only 400 yards from the house and could see the house door. She was on the alert to hear the child cry if he woke up. His right heel was sore and he was barefooted. His parents are Bulgarians, and the child cannot speak English. In spite of the heavy rain yesterday large crowds searched the woods, but as yet have found no trace of the lost boy. Heavy brushwood extends in nearly all directions from the house where the child was last seen.

SHOT BROUGHT DOWN THE FLAG

Canea, Island of Crete, Aug. 19.—A well-directed shot fired by one of the parties of bluejackets landed early yesterday morning from the international squadron anchored in Canea harbor brought down the flag staff of the Canea fort and with it the Greek flag that has threatened to bring about war between Turkey and Greece.

A combined landing party composed of detachments from the ships of the four protecting powers was sent ashore before sunrise yesterday and the task of removing the Hellenic cross flag was carried out in a few minutes without any attempt at interference on the part of the islanders.

Most of the bluejackets then returned to their ships, but small detachments representing each of the four powers were left behind in occupation of the bastion of the fortress to prevent any attempt on the part of the Cretans to raise another flag. Cretan gendarmes have been posted throughout Canea to maintain order.

WALL FELL AND KILLED A MAN

Toronto, Aug. 17.—Percy Jones, aged 16, died in the General Hospital at 5 o'clock last night from injuries sustained at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when a wall fell in on him.

Jones, who is a driver in the employ of William J. Street, plumber 117 Pembroke street, was engaged in salvaging on the ground on University avenue which is being cleared of buildings for the new hospital. He asked if the wall was in a safe condition. The men were preparing to pull it down but as their preparations had not been completed, they thought it was safe and told him so. He went under it and it collapsed.

Flour Down Again.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—Flour has tumbled in price about 40 cents a barrel. The outlook for a great wheat yield is responsible for the reduction.

Yet the bakers are holding out no prospect that the price of bread will follow suit or the loaf will be increased in size.

NELSON MARKSMAN WINS IN THE O.R.A. BANKERS' MATCH

Pte. F. E. Weir Carries off Money in Yesterday's Big Event at Long Branch—Four Ontarians and a Saskatchewan Man Divide Prize in Mackenzie Match all Making Possibles.

Long Branch, Aug. 19.—In the second day's matches at the Ontario Rifle Association meet, Pte. F. E. Weir of Nelson, B.C., won the honors and high money in the Bankers' match, four Ontario men and a Saskatchewan man divided the prize in the Mackenzie match, all making possibles, and Pte. Bibby of the 71st Regiment, Fredericton, N.B., and Pte. Patterson of the Oxford Rifles, made possibles in the Macdonald match and bunched the prize money.

Weather conditions yesterday were as good as could be hoped for, and some excellent scores were chalked up. Several times during the day, however, what is known as a fish tail wind sprang up and threw some ordinarily good shots off their bearing. During the shooting of the Mackenzie match some marksmen started off with the wind gauge three degrees to the left and before they had finished the wind was five degrees to the right.

The shooting all through was not so good as last year. Sixty-one points or better was required last year to get in the money list of the Bankers' match, while this year, with 23 more competitors, 59 scores got money. Also in the Mackenzie match a number of thirties got prizes, while last year 32 was required to get a money prize.

During the early afternoon the light was very bright and threw a glitter on the targets, which was not the best for good marksmanship. The Dundas cadets are now the permanent owners of the Pellatt challenge trophy, valued at $120, having won it on two previous occasions. The Harbord cadets won it the first year and the Guelph cadets won it one year.

WAS ARRESTED CLOSE TO BORDER

Niagara Falls, Aug. 19.—Arrested yesterday morning just as he was beginning to cross the steel arch bridge to the United States, the capture of a man, said to be Samuel Gordon, wanted in Brantford, charged with uttering forged checks, is regarded as a smart piece of work by Detective Kelly of the Ontario frontier police.

The man gives his name as Samuel Ipzcovitz, a Jew, of Brantford, salesman of optical goods. He answers in every particular to the Samuel Gordon of the same town, wanted on a charge of uttering two forged checks and getting them cashed in a bank at Brantford

Glace Bay, N.S., Aug. 19.—The first tragedy of the strike was nearly enacted at the Reserve Colliery early yesterday morning. Special Constable John McDonald, while making his rounds at Norway Crossing, was accosted by three strikers and asked what he was doing. The officer made a reply, and as he started to leave one of the men struck him with his fist. The officer grabbed his man and knocked him down. The other two assailants then started kicking the officer, and landed some nasty blows on his head, chest and stomach. The man whom the officer knocked down then made his escape. McDonald grappled with one of the assailants, and pulling his gun, he pressed the cold steel against the other's throat and pulled the trigger. The gun missed fire, and once again the trigger was pulled, with the same result. One man was arrested.

AUSTRALASIAN LOYALTY

London, Aug. 16. — The scheme of naval defence agreed to by the Australian representatives and the Admiralty is described as completely satisfactory to Australian national sentiment. The Australian fleet does not pass automatically under the control of the Admiralty during war, but will be placed at its disposal, if, when the necessity arises, it is recognized in war time that the navy must be under a central control. Ample provision will be made for the interchange of officers, though for some time the Imperial navy must supply officers and men. No Dreadnoughts will be given, the money being spent on cruisers.

This declaration of Australian policy coming so soon upon the heels of the great demonstration in England, when Sir Joseph Ward of New Zealand bore the offer of a Dreadnought to the home-country, is significant. In Canada the Laurier Government proposes that we shall have our own navy and maintain at all times and under all conditions our own sweet Canadian control of it. Thus do we alone, of all the family, set at naught the possibility of a united empire.

THE FARMER'S FUTURE

"There are at present many cases, as the Sun has more than once pointed out, in which Ontario farm lands can be bought at a price not more than equal to the cost of improvements on the property. The principal cause of this state of affairs is found in the removal to the west of thousands who would otherwise have purchased homes in this Province. From perfectly natural causes, the breaking up of families and so on, a number of farms come on the market every year when the supply of buyers is reduced by unusual causes, such as this Western movement, prices are bound to go below actual values.

The Springfield Republican, which is published in Massachusetts, in commenting on the situation at present existing here, says New England has been through a similar experience. While the Western States were in the condition that the Canadian West is in now a constant stream of population poured from New England out upon the American prairies and eastern farm values declined almost to the vanishing point as a consequence.

But, in the case of New England, the turn of the tide has already set in. The American West is now full; land prices there have, as a consequence, risen up to or above real value, and population is turning back from western to eastern States, where prices are away below actual value. Already this return movement has reached sufficient dimensions to bring about an increase in prices even in Central Maine, one of the poorest districts in the eastern seaboard of the United States.

The Republican is of the opinion that it will be long before a similar change is noted here because, it says, the Canadian west is still in its infancy. Our American contemporary errs in its view of this part of the case. The Canadian west will fill up at a vastly more rapid rate than the American west filled. Information regarding new fields spreads more rapidly to-day than it did in the sixties; there are more railways to carry the people now than there were then; and the Canadian west is drawing upon the overflow not only of Europe but of the American west as well. Because this is so the probabilities are that the virgin lands of Canada's Prairie Provinces will be gone in ten years. Even to-day land prices there are relatively higher than they are here and before the next decade passes we shall in this province begin to see the same return towards normal values in farm lands that has already begun in New England.

Wood's Phosphodine, The Great English Remedy. Tones and invigorates the whole nervous system, makes new Blood in old Veins. The Sun [illegible] statement, contained in a special article in its issue of July 31st:

"The young man who buys at present prices, and keeps on improving his holding, will leave for his heirs a property with a selling value double that ruling at the present time." — The Weekly Sun.

But what right has any government to drag the farming industry at the tail of the cart of progress? If the west had been allowed to develop naturally, Ontario's farms and Quebec's and Nova Scotia's would have risen in value instead of declining as at present. By what process of valid reasoning can the present slump, the present sacrifice of Ontario farmers be justified?

It's all very well to point to the future when thanks to no man and no government the filling up of the world will have brought about the fulfilment of the Sun's prophecy. In the meantime it is the god of the financiers' market, the billikens of good luck for the man-with-the-cash that is predominant. The man-with-the-hoe in Ontario, is invited to look to the remote future. It is hardly satisfactory, just or statesmanlike.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It has ranged of late from 102 to 112 in the neighborhood of Kansas City. What place is better than this? Do you want to go there? If not, then mend your ways.

How is it if the Globe is right in the tariff question that immigrants do not flock to Great Britain and Canada? The answer, of course, is that industrial conditions are not so good there. And yet——

There is room for trouble between the Dominion and Provincial Governments over the granting of the charter to the Metropolitan Racing Association of Toronto, and its attempt to compel the Ontario Government to do the same.

The increase in the new American tariff bill in the duty on varnish are 40 per cent. on horseshoes, 50 per cent, on corn 33 1-3 per cent, on rye 1000 per cent, on barley 52 per cent. Now the Globe will say "Oh! How foolish to tax foods!" So it would be if it did not really mean increased production in the U.S. [illegible] necessary to look beyond one's nose.

The Globe is getting to be a "vera redeekius" journal, as the following comment of the Star shows;

"The most cruel thrust which has been delivered at our our militia for many a day is made by the Toronto Globe, which declared that "its purposes are peace, not war." Why, then, arm it with guns? Guns go off at times and disturb the peace. Golf clubs would be more "sporty" and quite as picturesque. If the militia is to be employed for peace only, it ought to leave those ugly looking bayonets at home. It could appear quite as pretty on parade with something less suggestive of the thing which is declared not to be its "purpose." A militia whose purpose is not to defend the country in time of war, must be intended for show purposes on holidays and—possibly—to overawe strikers when the police fail. But we do not imagine that the Canadian people are willing to pay all these millions which Sir Frederick Borden gets simply to give us nice uniformed processions on occasion and to provide guards of honor for great personages." — The Montreal Star.

A GERMAN ON ENGLAND

The more I study London the more I am struck by the contrast in everything about me. I walk down the Strand. On all sides bustle and animation: everybody I meet intent on business. Surely this is prosperity, I say. Then all of a sudden there appear figures of men and women, the like of which I defy you to find anywhere in Germany. Filthy and in rags. And every once in a while, sometimes at very short intervals, they come along until they have impressed themselves disagreeably upon the mind. They are even present in the finest parts of the city, in Hyde Park, in Regent street, in Westminster. And if you ask the meaning of it, the reply is a shrug of the shoulder, and the words, "Our unemployed."

I know—the whole world knows—that London has its "unemployed" question. Why? Is it because these people do not want to work or because they cannot find work? If the latter be the case, then it appears to me proof positive that London is not a prosperous city, not prosperous enough for its size. If the former, then they ought to be made to work. I cannot recollect ever having seen a man, woman or child in rags in Berlin. We have no unemployed question there, and we have no poor-houses. I do believe this latter fact is one of the reasons why we have no unemployed to deal with. I do not see why the lower German class should consist of so much better material than the English. Contrarily, I believe that human nature is pretty much alike all over the world, and that there as well as here thousands upon thousands would rather not work if they only knew how to manage it.

The difference lies in that educational system that has taught us in Germany that the man who does not want to work must starve, and has taught you here that the man who does not want to work can go to the workhouse. And to enable him to go there you have built palaces like that in Lambeth. I do not think of trying to solve a question that your greatest men are wrestling with, nor do I mean to say that all your unemployed are lazy loafers. But what I do think is that a very great percentage would look for work much more seriously if they had not the poorhouse to depend upon. This poorhouse, it seems to me, kills off the natural instinct of self-preservation, and puts a premium on happy-go-lucky laziness. The fact that the man have to do a certain amount of work, such as breaking stones, for their food and lodging does not change my opinion in the least. They need not look for this work — it is brought to them. Nor need they do it very thoroughly, I suppose. And, worst of all, the assurance of always being able to go to the poorhouse will, as I said before, be a great temptation to many a man not to provide against the worst.

To come back to the ragged man and women I noticed in the streets. They do not give me the impression of being unemployed through lack of work. The genuine "unemployed" may be ever so shabbily dressed, but he will be clean; the rents in his clothes sewn up. For that increases his chances of finding work. Besides he will be too busy looking for a job to stand at street corners and obstruct passengers. It is my impression that most of these people do not want to work. As likely as not we have such people in Berlin also. Probably a little cleaner, a little less "on their uppers," in very, very much smaller numbers, but still there. To be truthful, I do not know. Because—in Berlin one never sees them. That is the difference. Every loafer in Germany knows that there is in existence a police regulation dealing with vagabonds, and acts accordingly.

By the way, why are the poor of London so extremely dirty? We in Germany believe the English to be the cleanest nation on earth. We believe this because we have actually learned from England that cleanliness is next to godliness; because all the hygenic laws, so far as they relate to cleanliness—and are there any that do not?—come from this country. We have learned from our English cousins that a good deal of our happiness depends upon the "tub" in the morning, and have made up our minds not to miss a chance of being as happy as possible. Living apartments—yes, and working men's apartments of two rooms and a kitchen—without a bathroom are at a tremendous discount in Berlin to-day. Why, then, have your own people succeeded less in learning from you than we strangers? That sight in Hoxton market and neighborhood is haunting me. Women in front of their houses, children in front of that soup kitchen, so filthy I should have been afraid to touch them. Why have we got nothing of the sort in Berlin? It is because of a greater sense for cleanliness in our nation? I hardly believe it.

It is very likely rather a question of education. What happens to an untidy child in an English school I do not know; in a German school it is made as unhappy as possible. It is ridiculed before the whole class, until, in order to escape all those persecutions, it becomes tidy at last. But that alone does not account for the greater cleanliness in the lower classes of Germany. There is another factor. God help the man with unclean habits who enters the German army. It will be a case of bend or break—and he will bend within twenty-four hours. Then follows three years of enforced cleanliness—and at the end of that term cleanliness has become natural.

And then there seems to me another possible reason. To my greatest surprise I have noticed a class distinction in this country that we do not dream of in Germany. Classes within classes. England has always been to my mind the land of democracy. I now see that I have mixed up political for social democracy; that if the Englishman does not vote in classes as we do he keeps in classes as we do not.

I should not wonder if this assertion came as a surprise, even to English readers. But whereas with us the lines of distinction are clearly defined—the officer and nobleman, the financier and merchant, the small men, and working men—the distinction in English life are so fine, complicated, and manifold, and have so gone into the very flesh and blood of the people that they are hardly noticed. Just a few instances, small in their way, but illustrating my meaning. The public bar—this institution that plays such a large role in English public life—is divided into no fewer than six compartments. The people that patronize such a bar consequently divide themselves into six distinct and different classes, and the user in one compartment would think twice before consenting to rub shoulders with the man on the other side of the partition. This is typically English, exists in England only. I had never in my life seen such an arrangement before I came to London. And now I learn that a great many people never enter a bar at all; they go home, to friends, to the hotel, or the club. From that it seems that only one certain class patronizes the public bar—and this one class subdivides itself into six other classes!

We in Germany have about three different grades of public houses, but that does not signify that anyone would hesitate to enter any of them. If the man about town wants to ring up some one on the telephone, and no other place is handy, he will pop into a public house patronized, probably, by cab drivers, order his glass of beer—price no more or less than in any other house—and attend to his business at the telephone. Free of charge, by the way. And if the plain working man should happen to have a provincial visiting him he will probably put on his Sunday-go-to-meeting clothes and take his friend to a few tiptop places. Ordinarily he would not do so, of course. It is too expensive, and he feels happier in his own particular "pub." But he can do so—and he does.

Another instance. Something new appears suddenly in the world of fashion. Let us say a new sort of hat—a large one—for ladies. Only the rich can wear them—the others wear any old hat, small, round, low, high. That is—in London. But not in Berlin. Cheap, very cheap, "editions" of that hat will be just as promptly on the market as the expensive article, and every woman and every girl will wear that new-fangled hat, and feel ashamed if she does not.

Or: The medical authorities decree that cushions, hangings, draperies in living or sleeping rooms are bad for the health. The well-to-do act accordingly—at once the poorer follow suit, one after the other, until even the poorest have done away with hangings and draperies. And so the very things that tend in the first place to make for class distinction are wiped out. And consequently all are in a certain touch with each other. I do not dare to say which is the better way. I am only trying to find another reason why our poor man is so much cleanlier than the English one. I wonder how this closer contact of classes anything to do with it? Dr. Schwermer in the London Daily Mail.

THE BIDDING.

Mr. Wm. Switzer, vice-president, was appointed chairman in the absence of the Board President, Mr. J. Coughlin, of Hastings.

Mr. Watkins opened the bidding at 11 1-2 cents. Mr. Fitzgerald raised it to 5-8 and Mr. Gillespie made it 11 3-4. No one offered to raise it and he made the following selections:—Keene, Shearer, Central Smith, Selwyn, Villiers, Westwood, Beaufort, Warminster, Warsaw, Trewern East Emily, Myrtle, King Edward, Maple Leaf, Cedardale.

Mr. Gillespie offered 3-4 for further selections, but Mr. Cook raised the price to 11 13-16 cents and called Indian River, Norwood, Killarney, Oakdale, Daisy D.

Mr. Kerr offered 11 3-4 cents for the balance of the board and took Cavanville, Fraserville, Fleetwood, Ormonde, Shamrock, Lang, Pine Grove, Lakefield, Young's Point, North Dummer, Stoney Lake.

The Board adjourned for two weeks.

IT DESTROYS OUR ROADS

That Modern Chariot, the Auto An Enemy to Highways.

America, woefully in the rear of progress in rock surfacing her highways, had built less than 30,000 miles of macadam roads out of a total mileage of 2,150,000 when from the hazy realms of invention came a combined menace and blessing in the shape of the motor car.

This modern chariot of gasoline, with fat, wind stuffed tires, was quickly derided by such near-sighted folk as are unable to identify a blessing if it comes at all disguised, but highway engineers, while appreciating its civilizing influences, soon discovered that the new machine was an enemy to all hard surfaced highways and that those responsible for them were confronted by the greatest problem they had ever been called upon to face.

The reason is plain when understood. Under the passing of wagons equipped with iron tires the surface rock is constantly being fractured; the tiny dust particles so formed sifting their way into the interstices and being packed firmer and firmer in place by rains and traffic, finally forming a cemented, bonded, impervious, water-shedding sheet. When in its highest state of perfection the rock from which such road is formed must be so suited to the character and volume of traffic which passes over it that the amount of dust formed will be only sufficient to replace that which is taken away by wind and rain.

Automobiles came, and the troubles of the engineers began. The motor car did none of the helpful things that an iron-tired wagon does. Proceeding as they usually do at a high rate of speed, they lift the dust-binding surface, and sent it swarming away, while the soft rubber tires crush no rock to supply that which they strip from the highways.

Much stress has been laid upon the effect, of the car body and its shape in lifting dust from the road surface. Some experiments seem to furnish convincing proof that but little dust is taken from the roads by this means, though the dust sifted by the wheels is greatly accelerated by the action of the car body and the air currents set up in its rear. This must be considered an important factor, as much of the dust sifted by the wheels would not be carried from the road but for the air currents developed by its shape.—From "To Save Our Roads from Our Motors," in September Technical World Magazine.

GREAT PLAGUE OF MOSQUITOES

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 16.—A mosquito pest of a destructive nature is causing untold suffering and a great lot of damage to cattle and horses and crops, the latter by reason of enforced neglect by growers in the coast country of Texas. A mosquito of unusual size and long bill, and said to be a new species in this section, is making life miserable for man and beast, and it is feared the loss of cattle directly and indirectly due to the pest will be great if the scourge continues many days. Cattle seeking relief from the swarms of mosquitoes which rise from the swamps and marshes in clouds go miles to water and stand up to their shoulders in the water, occasionally dipping their heads to drown the stinging pests. Into the gulf and many other bodies of salt water along the coast cattle and horses and other animals seek relief and refuse to come out for food. Many of them will die of hunger if not soon relieved. In the rice fields, which are located near the coast, in nine counties work has been abandoned because the workmen were driven from the fields. Wearing thick gloves and with heads and necks encased in cloths saturated with strong lotions, their bodies were easy prey for the mosquitoes. The farm hands cannot wear heavy clothes in the field owing to the intense heat.

Railroads along the coast are suffering for patronage simply because the vast army of bloodthirsty insects drive the passengers to distraction. The Gulf and Interstate railroad, which extend along the coast shore for nearly fifty miles, is operating empty trains. Passengers are compelled to almost smother to death to get away from the pests while riding on these and other lines.

GALLOWS WAIT FOR VILLAIN

He Ordered Windows to be Shut Down—A Mellow Drama

The Detroit News says:

"If there be any pity in your heart confess that it was you and not my sweetheart, Jack, who took my poor aunt's life. Think, in a moment they will be leading you to the gallows, where you must give up your life in part payment for the awful crimes you have committed. If you do not confess, my Jack will also hang."

The villain took a puff at the cigar the hangman had handed him a few minutes before. Blowing clouds of smoke in the air, he sneered. Possibly the facial expression was caused by the cigar, but he turned to gaze down at the girl on her knees at his feet. He then looked at the cigar and replied:

"There is no use for you to plead with me, gal. I did not take your aunt's life. It was your sweetheart, cur-r-se him. He killed her with an artist's compass. He did it, yes, 'twas him, and he will have to follow me to the gallows yonder. Ha! ha! ha!" (Villain's laugh.)

"Oh, have pity," pleaded the girl. "Don't you see my heart is breaking! Can't you see that you are sending an innocent man to his doom! I call on heaven to make you speak."

Hardly had she ceased, when a mighty clap of thunder shook the Lafeyette theatre during yesterday afternoon's performance of "The King of Bigamists."

"There is no use to plead with muh," began the villain, and then as he started to speak the next line a downpour of rain swept in at the windows at the rear of the balcony and caused excitement in the audience.

"Hey, you guys up there," shouted the villain, "pull down those windows."

All through the three preceding acts those in the balcony had hissed the villain, but they hustled to carry out this orders despite the fact that they hated him because of his base actions. When the windows were down he continued:

"Is the rain still coming in anywhere?"

"No," was the chorus from the balcony.

"Then lead muh to the gallows."

POOR PEOPLE ASK QUEEN

The road-nuisance is becoming intolerable in Great Britain as the following pathetic appeal shows:

London, Eng., Aug. 19.—A pathetic petition is now being signed by the women of England—or such of them as feel strongly about motor-cars. Its terms are calculated to move a far harder heart than that of the Queen, to whom it is addressed: "We women of England," it runs, "humbly beseech your Majesty to help us to get some relief from the motor-cars. We are sure your Majesty cannot know how much we suffer from them. They have made our lives a misery. Our children are always in danger, our things are ruined by the dust, we cannot open our windows, our rest is spoiled by the noise all night. If they could be made to go slow through the villages it would be a great thing, but we are only poor people, and the great majority of those who use motor-cars take no account of us. We do not know what to do, so we appeal to your Majesty to use your great influence on our behalf." This petition is being engineered by the Road Union, of Victoria street, S.W.

MONKEY SMOKES AND MAKES NOTES

New York, Aug. 13.—When the American Line steamship Philadelphia reached her dock at 3.30 yesterday afternoon Peter, the trained monkey who is to appear at Hammerstein's Roof Garden and Victoria Theatre of Varieties to-morrow, was one passenger of particular note.

Peter is a Brazilian chimpanzee three and a half years old, three feet tall and weighs 45 pounds. He was dressed yesterday in a yachting suit bearing a label from a London tailor. With the monkey came James McCardie and his wife and daughter, his trainers and owners. On leaving the boat Peter was smoking a large cigar. At the end of the gangplank an officer of the dock informed the monkey that smoking was not allowed, and without any word or sign from his trainer the cigar was thrown to the floor and extinguished under his foot.

While waiting for the custom house inspectors to examine his baggage, which, by the way, he declared himself, Peter upset generally the routine of the pier.

When some reporters gathered about him he took pencil and paper away from one and attempted to make his own notes. From the steamship's cooper he succeeded in getting a chisel and hammer and immediately began prying open one of the cases on the pier. After the baggage had been declared the monkey was placed in an automobile and taken directly to the Hammerstein Roof Garden.

Peter has been performing for the past year at the Folies Bergere in Paris, and at the Palace Music Hall, London. In both places he is said to have created a sensation. His owners claim that he does a little more than everything but talk.

HE PLAYS SHUFFLEBOARD.

On the voyage over he occupied stateroom No. 2 on the Philadelphia, and several times was the guest at the table of Captain Mills. During the seven days at sea the monkey amused himself by playing shuffleboard with the cabin passengers, and was a frequent visitor to the smoking room.

Arthur Hamerstein, who went to Europe solely to secure the contract for the monkey's American appearance, will send Peter on a tour of the principal American cities at the close of his engagement at Hamerstein's Roof Garden. He is booked there, however, for the remainder of the coming season.

TWO CEMENT CARS JUMP TRACK AT ANTRIM STREET CROSSING

Cement Cars Coming From Lakefield Get off Track—Ties for Fifty Feet Badly Damaged — Short Blockade Followed.

Two large cement cars went off the track at Antrim street last evening. The cars were part of a train which was coming to this city from the cement works at Lakefield. In some accountable manner the cars jumped the track at the street mentioned and bumped along the ties for fifty or sixty feet before the train could be brought to a stop.

For some time efforts were made to get the cars back on the track, but without success, and the passenger train, which was behind them, was kept stalled for some time.

Finally, however, the cars were put safely back on the track and the blockade lifted.

While no damage was done to the cars themselves, still the railway suffered from the fact that the ties were torn and splintered for some distance. In fact, some eighty new ties were necessary to put the track into running order again.

VICTIMS OF TRAGEDY LAID AT REST THIS AFTERNOON

Thos. Willoughby and Daughter Stella May Placed in Graves Side by Side in Family Burying Plot in Norwood Cemetery.

Norwood, Aug. 19.—This afternoon two hearses wound their way slowly from the Willoughby home to the cemetery at Norwood. They contained the remains of the victims of the Tuesday afternoon tragedy, that has appalled the countryside and excited interest throughout the province. The funeral service for Thomas Willoughby and his daughter, Stella May, was conducted at the house at 2.30 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Rowlands, pastor of the Norwood Baptist church, of which the Willoughbys were adherents.

The funeral procession was one of the largest ever seen in this locality. The Willoughby family has always been held in the highest esteem and the terrible tragedy has cast a gloom over the neighborhood.

The funeral was in charge of O. J. Searight, undertaker, Norwood. One of the hearses was secured at Hastings, Mr Searight only having one. The cortage left the residence for the burying ground shortly after three o'clock.

In the cemetery the remains of father and daughter were laid at rest side by side in the family plot.

The tragic element in connection with their deaths made the funeral service more than usually impressive.

WILL HOLD STOMACH IF POISONING IS SUSPECTED

will hold

Coroner Dr. Gray informed the Review to-day that "instructions had been given Drs. Sutton and Pattigrew, who are performing the post-mortem examination on the body of Thomas Willoughby, to hold the stomach for further instructions from him in case they had any suspicion of poison being in the stomach.

If such a conclusion were arrived at, the stomach would in all probability be sent to Provincial Analyst Ellis for examination.

LOCAL COLLEGIATE HAS HIGH PERCENTAGE IN LATE EXAMS.

Percentage of Successful Students in Normal Entrance Exams. is 15 Above That of the Province—A Most Satisfactory Condition.

In another column there appears an article which shows the percentage of the successful students of the local Collegiate Institute in connection with the junior matriculation examinations, is considerably higher than the average throughout the province. When the figures for the Norman entrance examinations are considered, the percentage is even more marked. The average percentage of the successful students in the Normal entrance examinations for this province was about 36. Against this the local High school has a percentage of 51, which leaves a margin in its favor of 15 per cent.

This, when all the facts of the case are considered, is most satisfactory, and certainly goes to show that not only is the new building an excellent one, but also that the teaching staff is most careful and painstaking.

A Corn "Feed"

A corn "feed" was held down the river by a number of young men. Lack of enough to eat marred the outing, for some members of the party, but to mention names would injure the matrimonial chances of those who were not filled.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

ITALIAN TRIP COSTS MORE

And Fewer Italians Will go Back to Italy for the Winter

On account of the increased cost of steamer passage to Italy, it is likely that the annual exodus of Italians from the city and country this year will be smaller than ordinarily. Every year about September many natives of that sunny clime leave Canada to visit their mother land and return in the spring. This year, on account of the fact that the passage across the sea is much more expensive than formerly it is thought a great difference will be made in the number who leave the country.

BUSY ON CANAL AT HASTINGS

Deepening and Widening the Channel at Oakes' Rock—Other Work

Hastings, Aug. 19.—The contract work on the canal has been going on steadily during the past three weeks both at the water front near the locks and the dredging up the river.

The dredge is deepening and widening the channel at Oakes' rock and soon that historic boulder will be a thing of the past as it will likely be blasted and drawn away with the rest of the bar.

The drill scow is about ready to be put in commission and the tug at the shipyards is well under way.

A derrick has been put up near the locks for hoisting out the rock, as it will be soon too steep to draw out with horses, and a large rotary pump has been installed to keep the water down in the cut when the end at the coffer dam has been broken.

The diver who has been at work patching up the coffer dam for the last week has drawn quite a crowd particularly the small boys, who take a great interest in watching him walk around on the bottom at his work.

FISHING LAWS ARE RESPECTED

This year for almost the first time fishing laws have been respected by almost everyone in this vicinity, particularly regarding spearing and gaffing around the dam here. That this has borne good results seems to be shown by the continued good 'lunge fishing we have had this year. The fish were not slaughtered as in previous years, and were left to return to their haunts in the river below for the sportsman who was man enough to get out and trawl for the fish. The result has been better sport than we have had for the past three years, and every lover of fishing, both local and visiting, has benefitted by it.—Hastings Star.

AUGUST WILHELMJ DIED IN BAVARIA

Formerly Member of Staff of Local Conservatory of Music

Toronto, August 18.—The will of the late August Wilhelmj, who died at Vokers, Bavaria on July 14th, has been filed for probate. The estate is declared at $15,130, and is left altogether to the widow.

The deceased was a musician, and had lived for years in Toronto. He went abroad in search of health a few months ago.

The late August Wilhelmj was at one time a member of the staff of the Peterborough Conservatory of Music.

TRYING TO HAVE HIM DEPORTED

At Police Court this morning Wm. Norcotte, charged with stealing a bicycle, was remanded for eight days. This is the Englishman who created such a great deal of amusement some days ago by parading down George street with a woman's seven dollar hat on his head. The police have some doubts as to his sanecness, and are trying to get him deported from this country.

The eight days' remand will, it is expected, give the officials time to learn something definite as to the possibility of his being deported.

T.A.S. WON FROM CAMPBELLFORD IN THE BALL GAME YESTERDAY

Score Was 7-6—Mike O'Brien Got Three Hits Out of Four Times at Bat—Umpire Made Lame Decision in the Fifth Innings.

The T. A. S. won from the Campbellford nine yesterday afternoon by a big league finish in the ninth inning. With one out and Mike O'Brien on third, Giroux singled to short and brought in the winning run. The Campbellford nine came to this city on an excursion yesterday morning, and in the afternoon played against the T.A.S. boys at Riverside Park. For a while the game promised to be one of the best of the season, the two teams seemingly being about equal in strength both in the field and at the bat. In the first four innings the article of ball dished up was excellent, but in the latter stage of the game the teams faded away somewhat. However, that did not prevent the game from being on the whole a good one.

Considering the fact that there were about two thousand visitors in town yesterday, the crowd on hand for the game was discouragingly small. There were only about two hundred present, when there should have been at least five hundred or six hundred on the grounds. However, those present witnessed a fairly good exhibition of ball.

Umpire Robinson got badly twisted in the fourth innings. Bill O'Brien was hiking it to the plate during that stage of the game, when the umpire thought he saw the Campbellford catcher nail him, and so called Bill out. He was as safe as a toy pistol, however, as the catcher had dropped the ball. In the fifth inning the same play occurred again, and Robinson reversed his decision, ruling the local man safe

For the locals, Mike O'Brien was the star. Out of four times at bat Mike captured a three-bagger, a two-bagger and a single, giving him a percentage of .750 for the game. Callighan also worked well, getting a nice double-play in the fifth when he caught M. West's low fly to short and threw to third, catching Naylor off the base.

The visitors played a pretty fair game all round, W. West and Naylor being the best hitters of the team. M. West in the box was in good form and had most of the locals guessing on a big cut drop which he used most effectively. The final score for the game was 7 to 6.

GAME ON SATURDAY WILL ALMOST DECIDE CHAMPIONSHIP

Result of Match Between T.A.S. and Park St. Teams Will Practically Decide League — Large Crowd Should be on Hand.

The game between the T.A.S. and Park street teams on Saturday, will almost decide the championship of the league. If Park street wins the game they will have the league cinched, but if, on the other hand, the T.A.S. team wins, two and perhaps three more games will have to be played. These, however, would not amount to very much, as the T.A.S. and Park street nines are the strongest teams in the league.

If the T.A.S. team win they will have to play the Straths, and West Ends, but as they have already beaten these two teams before, they feel confident that should they win on Saturday, they will have the league in their grasp.

However, as the bard says;—"You never can tell." The T.A.S. might win on Saturday, and again in the following week against the West Ends, but when it comes to playing the Straths, they may get badly beaten. In that case they would be tied for first place with the Park street nine, and the two teams would have to meet again for the championship.

Whatever may be the result the game on Saturday is sure to be a hummer. Both teams are practicing hard in the meantime, and will have on their strongest line-ups for the occasion.

PETERBOROUGH BOWLERS PLAY WELL IN THE TOURNAMENT

In the Walker trophy game in the Dominion Lawn Bowling tournament the semi-finals were played yesterday. The finals will be played this afternoon between the Rennie (Granites) and J. S. Williams (Canadas) rinks. There are seven left in the Goldwin Smith trophy (Ontario Cup). In the Toronto trophy twelve remain. The afternoon was devoted entirely to Scotch doubles and singles, two rounds being played. The unfinished trophy game between Argh a and Rennie resulted in a victory for the Rennies, Argles failing to count. The semi-final game between the Rennies and Coke, Mitchell resulted in a lucky victory for the Rennies.

In the fourth round of the Ontario Cup, Kerr of Peterborough got a bye.

Scores in games in which rinks from this city figured were:

OTTAWA TEAM WILL MISS HIM

Jack Corkery Will Not be With Ottawa College This Fall

Ottawa, Aug. 18.—When the Ottawa College football team lines up this fall for its first game in the Intercollegiate Football Union, it will be minus many of the gridiron stars who for the past three years have nobly upheld the garnet and grey. Many changes will be made on the team and in order to build up a fourteen which will be the equal of that of last year or the season previous, the College athletic authorities, must complete a gigantic undertaking.

Of last year's team, Nick Bawlf, Jimmie Dean, Frank Higgerty, Jack Corkery, Ed. McCarthy, Pud Whelan, Filiatreault and Mike Smith will probably be missing. Bawlf is at Quebec, but will return and play with the Ottawas in the Interprovincial. Jack Corkery, the half-back find of last season, has gone to Toronto and may turn out with Varsity while Jimmie Dean, Pud Whelan and Ed. McCarthy will play the game in their United States homes. Others have graduated and scattered until only a skeleton of last year's team remains.

SPORTING NOTES

Toronto gave Montreal an awful walloping yesterday in a double-header. The Leafs took the first 16—1, and the second 6—4. The Montreal pitchers were found hard.

Boston is right on the heels of Philadelphia in the American League race. Bean City rooters have visions of a championship.

The City League tangle has been cleared up at last. The fight is between T.A.S. and Park street, and Saturday's struggle at Riverside Park should be anything but a pink tea affair. Quinlan and Dusty will be the opposing twirlers.

The rugby "bugs" are pleased to note that a meeting of the local club is to be held in a few days. The Toronto clubs are already up and doing, one team having started practice. It is too warmy et, however, for the great ball game.

The following is the standing of the teams in the Western Canada League:

| Club | Won. | Lost. | Pct. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Medicine Hat | 49 | 25 | .662 |
| Winnipeg | 53 | 31 | .631 |

"While rooting at a baseball game between Atlanta and Birmingham today, a Ponce de Leon and laughing at a friend of his who was having trouble in fighting off a sparrow which had flown into the grand stand, Billy Wells the biggest rooter in Atlanta, threw back his head and opened his mouth, and the sparrow evidently seeing a good opening flew into his mouth.

Mr. Wells closed his jaws on the sparrow, but opened them quickly and when the bird was released it flew away twittering, leaving Mr. Wells coughing.

MATRICULATION PLUCKED MANY

Slaughter of Candidates Throughout the Province — Pass Percentage High in Peterboro'

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The raising of the average that must be obtained on the junior matriculation examination from 33 1-3 per cent. to 40 per cent., has proved disastrous, so far as the numbers who were successful are concerned.

Complaints of the "plucking" of large numbers of pupils are contained in local papers all over the Province, and in some cases barely 25 per cent. passed.

Inquiry at the Education Department showed that the number of failures was larger than in previous years, but not more than was expected, owing to the higher standard required. Next year it goes up to 50 per cent, and in two years to 60 per cent. average.

In Toronto, so far as can be learned in the absence from the city on their holidays of the principals and most of the teachers, at least 33 per cent. failed.

A paper here received special despatches from a number of cities and towns in the Province this morning giving in detail the number who wrote and passed on this examination.

The results showed that, out of 380 who wrote, not one-half passed, or only 186 out of 380.

The details are as follows;

London—70 wrote; 52 passed.
Strathroy—25 wrote; 11 passed.
Kingston—319 wrote; about one-fourth passed.
Stratford—32 wrote; 17 passed, of whom 14 had written before.
St. Thomas—16 wrote, 10 passed.
Lindsay—26 wrote; 22 passed.
Barrie—35 wrote; 16 passed.
Collingwood—20 wrote; 6 passed.
Woodstock—27 wrote; 16 passed.
St. Catharines—20 wrote; 5 passed.

Peterborough students, it may be stated, did better on this examination than those at many other centres in the province. Out of twenty who tried fourteen or fifteen passed, the exact number not being obtainable owing to the absence from the city of the principal of the Collegiate Institute.

Boat Ran up on the Rocks

Mr. Rocque Gordon's steam launch ran up on the rocks at the Yankee Bonnet last Tuesday. The boat was coming up the stream at the time and the helmsman took the wrong side of the buoy, running the boat up on the rocks. It was some time before the boat could be freed from its position, but the feat was finally accomplished.

Except for a little of the paint being knocked off its sides, no harm was done.

THE NEWS IS KEPT FROM WILLOUGHBYS'S MOTHER

For Fear Shock Might Kill Her if She Knew—Mrs. Hollott, the Dead Man's Sister, Thinks He Was Insane and Shot the Little Girl—He Acted Strangely.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Aug. 19.—News of the terrible tragedy at Norwood in which Thomas Willoughby shot his little daughter, Stella, and later was found dead himself, is being kept from Willoughby's aged mother, who resides at 342 Lippincott street this city, with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Hollett. The old lady is in exceedingly poor health and it is feared hearing of her son's death would have a serious effect on her. A son Chas. Willoughby, and another daughter, Mrs. Forward, also live in Toronto. Mr. Willoughby and his brother-in-law, Mr. Hollett, are in Norwood attending to the affairs of the unfortunate man. Mrs. Hollott expresses herself as almost inclined to believe her brother was insane, rather than accept the theory of accidental shooting. Her brother, she says, had been very ill for some months past and his actions had seemed to show his mind was effected.

MACHINE TELEPHONES ARE IN OPERATION AT BRANTFORD

Brantford, Aug. 18.—Between eight and nine hundred people visited the Canadian Automatic Machine Telephone Company plant, on Queen st., last evening, to witness a practical demonstration of the new system of telephone, which is being introduced into this city. To say that the visitors were surprised at the extensiveness of the plant, its capacity and the wonderful intricacy of the machinery installed would be putting it mildly. The building itself is generally known to [illegible] most moderaly constructed in Brantford. The expensive machinery goes much farther, as an invention of wonderful scope. Provision is made for almost any emergency, the elements being at times the worst enemies of the telephone, but, in this, the Lormier invention has almost absolute protection against being knocked out by lightning. The practical demonstration was made last evening by Mr. H. A. Lillie and Mr. Rock, and it is the intention of the officials to open the doors again in the near future to the public.

WHAT CAUSES THE BLUES

London, Eng.—Doctors have discovered that the "blues" or "mental depression and irritability" is really a disease caused by defective circulation in the cells of the brain.

The "British Health Review" says "by improving the circulation, there is an immediate improvement in the mental outlook".

If this is the case, we Canadians do not have to wait for the foreign scientists to pursue their investigations any farther. We have the cure for the "blues" in those wonderful fruit liver tablets called "Fruit-a-tives".

It is doubtful if the greatest physicians abroad will ever discover anything to equal "Fruit-a-tives" to purify and enrich the blood and improve the circulation.

They go straight to the root of the trouble, stimulating the torpid liver and kidneys and regulating the bowels. Thus they cleanse the whole system and renew vitality, mental as well as physical.

ALL WILL AGREE WITH THE GLOBE FOR ONCE

"The Federal Government cannot any longer evade responsibility for race-track gambling in Canada. Parliament must face the question squarely. The statute, as it now stands, according to the interpretation of the courts, is a mockery of justice. Race-track book-making is a crime in one place, but not in another. It is a crime if the book-maker stands on a box, but not if he moves about the race-grounds. The Department of Justice has failed, so far, to frame a statute that will do what Parliament manifestly intended should be done. For this reason Canada to-day stands disgraced as being the resort of race-track gamblers who have been driven out of every State in the American Republic. What is absolutely illegal in New York State, in Texas, and now even in Kentucky and California, is, by the interpretations of Canadian courts, legal in Canada. Even Japan has passed a law prohibiting race-track gambling such as Canada allows. That Canada should allow it is to the shame of Canadians.—Globe Editorial.

The Ross Rifle

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—If the editor of your contemporary continues to use his Ross Rifle much longer, I am afraid it will become a smooth bore. It would be well for him to find out just how many Ross rifles were used by the Bisley team, and also if they are the same in all respects as those Ross rifles which were last year condemned.

If the editor of the Examiner was to devote a little of his time, and also the proprietor a little of his powder in obtaining for the local volunteers a proper rifle range on which they could use a rifle of any kind, it would be energy better spent.

For ten years the local riflemen have been in need of a rifle range, yet our Government is shooting off hot air about building Dreadnoughts; better spend a little more money fitting our soldiers to protect their own homes before they wander too far from them.

Our local militia spend more time and energy in one year on the annual trip from home to any place than they do to defend themselves in any manner in ten years.

Yours, &c.,
MUSKET.

Cables Steady—Hogs 5c to 10c Higher at Buffalo.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—London cables for cattle are firm, at 11¾c to 13¾c per lb. for Canadian steers, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 9¾c to 10c per lb.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 18.—(Special.)—A fair volume of business has been done in ocean freight space of late, there being a good demand from Canadian exporters for space for ranchers, and all the August freight to all ports has been booked up, and some of the Liverpool for the first half of September, at 35s, while agents are asking for London 30s, Glasgow 35s, and Manchester 32s 6d.

At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the offerings this morning consisted of 1050 cattle, 400 sheep, 700 lambs, 600 hogs and 400 calves.

In spite of the unfavorable weather which prevailed, there was a large gathering of buyers, and, as they all wanted some cattle, the demand in consequence for the best grades was good, and an active trade was done.

The supply was the largest offered at this market this season, but this fact did not seem to have any depression upon the situation, on account of the large requirements of the trade, consequently prices were well maintained.

A feature of the trade was the demand from exporters for a few choice steers to complete shipments with, notwithstanding the discouraging cable advices of late from all the leading foreign centres.

Choice steers sold at 5¾c; good at 5c to 5¼c; fair at 4½c to 4¾c; medium at 4c to 4¼c, and common at 3c to 3¾c per lb. Cows brought from 2½c to 4¼c, and bulls 2¼c to 4c per lb.

Supplies of small meats were large, for which the demand was active, and a brisk trade was done. The market for lambs was weaker, and prices declined ¼c per lb., with sales at 5½c, but sheep ruled steady at 3¾c per lb.

Receipts of calves are falling off considerably, and in consequence the undertone to the market for them is stronger, and prices have advanced. The demand was good, and sales were made at $3 to $15 each, as to size and quality.

There was no change in the live hog situation, prices being firm under a good demand, and sales of selected lots were made at $8.75; and mixed lots at $8 to $8.25 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the offerings of live stock were 450 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 550 hogs and 400 calves. The trade in all lines was good, and the prices realized were much the same as those at the above market.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1400 head; active; sheep steady; lambs 25c higher; lambs, $5 to $7.25; yearlings, $5.25 to $5.50; wethers, $5 to $5.10; ewes, $4.50 to $4.75; sheep, mixed, $2 to $4.75.

SWING BRIDGE OUT OF REPAIR

Wellington St. Structure at Lindsay Closed to Steamboat Traffic

The superstructure of the Wellington street bridge, Lindsay, has reached a point at which it is beyond repairs, and it is absolutely unsafe to swing. An examination of the bridge has disclosed the fact that the lower cords of the short arm of the bridge are rotten through and through. The bridge, therefore, has been closed for steamboat traffic, but the contractors are supporting it by means of bents for the time being, in order to allow it to be used for light traffic. Passenger and other steamboats will have to use the lower wharf until the new swing bridge is built.

WILLOUGHBY SICK AND MELANCHOLY

Brother in Toronto Speaks of Unfortunate Man's Condition

The Toronto News says:—Thomas Willoughby's brother lives at [illegible] Grace street. The News reporter called there this morning, and found Mrs. Willoughby grief stricken over the sad affair. The telegram announcing the double tragedy reached them at an early hour this morning, and Mr. Willoughby left at once for Norwood to take charge of the dead man's affairs.

"I have known that my brother-in-law has been sick for some years" she said. "He has had stomach trouble and it developed into acute indigestion which made him very blue. We haven't seen him in the city for two years, but have had letters from him all the time. He seemed to be very melancholy, if you could judge by the letters. We expected to see him in at the exhibition.

"He was married twelve years ago and had three children. I have never heard of any trouble in the family. They all seemed to love one another. It is a peculiar thing, but about the time of the tragedy, we were talking about Mr. Willoughby."

Besides his brother Charles, the deceased has other relatives in Toronto, Mrs. William Forward, of 261 Clinton street, and Mrs. Charles Hallett, also of Clinton street. Both have left for the scene of the tragedy to take care of the wife and two children who remain.

Two Unclaimed Horses at the Munro House

A gray and a bay have got astray. This is not poetry, but truth. Two horses of the above colors, which were running loose on the streets, wandered into the yard of the Munro House last night, and they are still there. As Mr. Munro isn't in the horse business he would be glad if the owner of the animals would take them away.

Boy Heard Gun Shot and Ran into House—Saw Father Take Off Girl's Clothes and Wipe the Blood Off Her Body—Post Mortem Ordered—Inquest Adjourned Till August 26th.

Special Staff Correspondent.

Norwood, August 19. — A pathetic feature of the inquest into the death of little Stella Willoughby and that of her father, Thomas Willoughby, which was opened yesterday at the Willoughby home in Dummer was the evidence of Mrs. Annie Willoughby, the wife of the dead man. The shock of the terrible tragedy has been almost more than the poor woman could bear without utter collapse, and ever since the discovery of the awful double fatality on Tuesday afternoon she has been in a pitiable state of grief and anguish. Numerous kind friends who have displayed the truest sympathy in her great sorrow, and who have looked after the affairs of the wrecked household since the shocking happening, have done all in their power to lend all the possible material comfort to the suffering woman, but naturally they can give no words of consolation that will alleviate her sorrow.

At Tuesday night Mrs. Willoughby refused to rest, and could not, even temporarily, partially forget her deep trouble long enough to take a little repose. She groaned, and walked up and down during the entire night, moaning and sobbing. By order of the coroner, the bodies were locked in the front of the house, where they were when Mrs. Willoughby first saw them, and the half-distracted woman remained there with them.

Yesterday afternoon the inquest was commenced on the lawn in front of the house, and Mrs. Willoughby was the last witness to testify. While it was to be regretted that she should be forced to undergo any ordeal that would be the means of more vividly recalling the details of the calamity than had caused her so much suffering, it was essential that her evidence be heard, and she stated that she would prefer to give her testimony at the sitting of the inquest in session than at the next session in Norwood, where it will be held on Aug. 26.

Mrs. Willoughby was assisted to the lawn by two friends, and considering the trial she had undergone, she displayed good control and cited the facts in an intelligible and lucid manner. She presented a pitiable figure, however, sobbing and uttering expressions of lamentation all the time she was being examined by County Crown Attorney Wood, who was most considerate in his questioning. All the jurors and other spectators were visibly affected by the unfortunate woman's condition. She answered every question asked her between her sobs, but in the interval when her replies were being taken down by the stenographer she cried continually. Her face bore an expression of hopeless grief and her eyes were dimmed and expressionless from ceaseless weeping.

The announcement that the little six-year-old son of the Willoughbys would give evidence caused considerable interest. It was persistently rumored that the little fellow had seen the shot fired that killed his sister, and that he would be able to give evidence of the most valuable character. His testimony was as helpful to the jury as any given during the afternoon, but it developed that he was not in the kitchen when the shot was fired, but out on the lawn in front of the house looking for a whip, he said.

He heard the explosion and immediately ran into the kitchen and found his father there. The little girl was lying on the clay floor of the woodshed. A little later the boy's father remarked, "I've shot Stella," according to the boy's evidence, which was remarkably intelligent and well given. The lad's lip quivered a little at first, but he soon was fully composed and answered the questions promptly and without trying to evade any of them. His repeating of his father's statement of "I've shot Stella," was the only remark concerning the shooting that Willoughby made to anybody. From the remark nothing definite can be gleaned about the manner of the shooting. The three words were all the father said to the boy and in deference to the dead man's memory and to his sorrowing wife, it is more charitable to assume that the shooting was accidental than to imagine that the father would do so cruel a thing as to deliberately shoot his own little girl, for whom, from all reports, he had a true and natural fatherly affection. If the deed was deliberate, the only inference to be drawn is that he was seized with an insane impulse. He had been worrying lately over financial affairs, and was in very poor health from stomach and heart trouble. This may have had such an effect upon him that he temporarily lost his reason, as is thought by some, but the more charitable and fairer view to take under the circumstances, and until all the facts are known as fully as they can be learned, and the jury has brought in its verdict, is to accept the accidental shooting theory.

How did the father meet his death? It is feared that from the position in which he was found, he may have committed suicide. Heart failure was announced as the cause of death, but the suicide theory seems probable on account of the fact that he was found in an attitude on the floor beside the body of the little girl, which was on the couch, as though he had deliberately laid down there and waited for death to come. He was lying on his back with his hands folded across his breast.

There is a possibility, however, that he lay down and was overcome with heart weakness and expired. From the evidence of Mrs. Willoughby, no poison that she knew of was kept in the house.

The double tragedy is most mysterious, and any opinions concerning it are mere conjectures. The whole countryside in the vicinity of the tragedy was appalled when it became known, and it was most inconsistent with Willoughby's character. From what is known, the family relations were harmonious, and when Willoughby's wife left him to go to Norwood on the afternoon of the tragedy he appeared to be as well as usual.

At the inquest yesterday afternoon Coroner Gray presided, and County Crown Attorney Wood was present in the interests of the Crown.

The jury was composed as follows: William D. Robson, foreman; William Andrews, Robert Galloher, Joseph Metcalfe, William R. Parker, Wilbert H. Bell, James Gallaher, Ed. Hubbell, Geo. F. Ross, William H. McMillan, Hugh McDonald, Andrew McMillan, Gordon Bass, and James Long.

After the jury had been sworn in the bodies were viewed by the jurymen.

DR. SUTTON'S EVIDENCE.

Dr. Sutton, of Norwood, was the first witness. His evidence was as follows—

"I am a physician practising in Norwood. Tuesday afternoon I was called to visit the house of the deceased George Willoughby at 3.45. I was accompanied by Dr. Pettigrew. I found the girl lying on a sofa, wrapped in a flannelette sheet, and the man lying stretched out on the floor beside the couch, both dead in the front of the house. I examined the girl's body first. Her clothes had been taken off. She appeared to be a well-nourished child.

THE FATAL WOUND.

"I found a wound in the left breast, about 2 inches in length by 1 inch in breadth. The wound was in the region of the heart. It was a ragged wound, and had apparently been made by shot—all in one wound. It extended through the body out the left shoulder. The heart was touched. I found no other bruises or injuries.

"We examined the woodshed and found marks of blood on the floor, and the shot in the wood. The shot was large-sized duck shot. It was scattered in the woodshed for about two feet in diameter. The blood on the floor was about 12 feet from the woodpile. We found a doublebarreled breech-loading shot gun in the woodshed. The right barrel had been discharged, and there was a loaded shell in the left barrel.

"From what I saw and learned I did not come to positive conclusions regarding the child's death.

"I identified the gun produced as the one I saw in the woodshed."

The gun was passed among the jurymen, who examined it.

"From where the shot was found it must have been fired from a lower point in regard to the child's position.

"The father was fully dressed. The tongue had been bruised, as if bitten, and there was blood under the mucous lining of the lip. This was the extent of apparent injuries.

"The father appeared to be about 36 years of age, and the body was not in a healthy condition. I believe deceased was a man of good habits. I found nothing to indicate the cause of his death.

POST-MORTEM WOULD ASSIST.

"A post-mortem examination would help to ascertain the cause, I believe. The condition of the arteries would indicate if heart disease were the cause of death.

"When the child was shot she was apparently near the woodpile—not on the floor where the body was found. Some clothes had been found on the floor that had apparently been used in washing the body.

OTHER DOCTOR TESTIFIES.

"I accompanied Dr. Sutton yesterday," said Dr. Pettigrew. "Thomas George Willoughby had not been well for some time. I treated him for stomach trouble three or four weeks ago. I did not examine his heart. He claimed to have heart trouble. His stomach trouble might have affected his heart.

"The examination of the body indicated nothing to disclose the cause of death.

"I agree with Dr. Sutton that a post-mortem would help to indicate the cause. I gave the deceased medicine twice about three or four weeks ago."

BOY TELLS OF TRAGEDY

The evidence of the next witness was listened to with the closest attention. Harry Garfield, the six-year-old son of Willoughby, was called to tell what he knew of the shocking death of his father and little sister. His testimony was clean-cut and he spoke in a firm, clear voice.

The little fellow was not sworn, as he is only six years of age, but he told the jury his story in response to the interrogation of the Crown Attorney.

"I was at home," said Harry, "all afternoon yesterday. I heard a gun go off. I was out in the front yard hunting for a whip at the time. I went into the house, and pa and Stella were the only ones there. The baby was asleep. I don't know what time it was."

"I'VE SHOT STELLA!"

"I saw papa just when I was going into the house. He was going out to the barn with a cup in his hand. I didn't see anything in the cup. He put the cup in the stable.

"When I first went in he said to me, 'I've shot Stella.' He didn't say anything more. Mrs. Ruttan came and saw father when he was going from the house to the stable.

"There was nothing said about there being too big a charge in the gun. Father went into the stable and left the cup there. I stayed in the kitchen. He had carried Stella up from the woodshed floor to the kitchen floor and had wrapped a sheet around her when Mrs. Ruttan came.

"I went right into the house when I heard the shot. When I first went in, Stella was lying with her clothes on where she had been shot. She was about three or four feet from the woodpile. Her head was pointed toward where father had been sitting on the kitchen floor cleaning the gun when I went out to look for the whip. When I went out, for the whip he was rubbing the gun with his thumbs. When Mrs. Ruttan came he was going out to the stable with the cup. I was in the kitchen then.

Mrs. Ruttan wet her hand with water and rubbed it over Stella's face. I think Stella had the sheet wrapped around her when Mrs. Ruttan came.

SAW FATHER WIPE OFF BLOOD.

"I SAW FATHER TAKE THE CLOTHES OFF STELLA AND HE WIPED THE BLOOD OFF HER WITH THE CLOTHES.

"HE GOT THE SHEET HIMSELF THAT HE WRAPPED HER BODY IN. HE CARRIED HER IN TO THE FRONT OF THE HOUSE WHERE SHE IS NOW, AND LAY DOWN BESIDE HER AND TOLD ME TO MIND THE BABY, WHICH WOKE UP WITH THE NOISE OF THE GUN."

"DIRTY STUFF" IN CUP.

Harry then told of looking after the baby. He stated during his evidence that he went to the barn and got the cup his father had left there. He took it into the house and showed it to the doctors. He didn't remember who he showed it to first.

In reply to questions by Mr. Wood Harry said that his father was lying beside Stella when he told him (Harry) to mind the baby. The father never got up after that. The father told Mrs. Ruttan when she came in from the stable to send for a doctor.

"I DID NOT SEE FATHER PUT ANYTHING INTO THE CUP. IT WAS DIRTY WITH SOME KIND OF STUFF."

The boy didn't know if the liquid in the cup was the same color as the medicine his father got from the doctor.

"Stella had her eyes open when I went in. I did not know she was dead."

BEREAVED WIFE TESTIFIES.

There was the greatest silence when Mrs. Willoughby came out of the house to testify.

She said:—"I was in Norwood looking for a house yesterday afternoon. When I was coming home I met Mrs. Bass on the road. She said, 'There's company at the house.' I said is there anything the matter. I thought perhaps the little girl had fallen down and broken her arm or leg. Mrs. Bass asked me what doctor she would send and I told her to send them all if necessary.

I begged her to tell me what the trouble was, but she wouldn't. I then came on home. A lot of people were here. Mr. Bass was here. I asked him to take the horse. He would not tell me what was wrong."

Mrs. Willoughby was spared the pain of telling of finding her husband and child dead in the front room of the house when she arrived home and no questions along these lines were asked her.

"My husband gave me the lines when I left home to go to Norwood. He seemed as well as usual. He had complained of stomach and heart trouble and had gone to the doctor about it.

"You could scarcely hear his heart beat. He saw the doctor about it. I left him and the three children at home. Stella was the oldest, eight years old last February. My husband had a gun but had not been using it lately. I don't think he kept it loaded on account of the children. He told me that there was a cat came here that got at everything, and that some day he would kill that cat.

At times he was despondent and down-hearted. It was proposed that we leave this place and go to the village. My husband had been taking medicine some three or four weeks ago from Dr. Pettigrew. It was brown in color. I don't know how he took it. I think he put it in water in a cup. He had just finished some medicine from Dr. Ford before his death."

In connection with the evidence of little Harry, who stated that there was some dirty colored stuff in the cup when he took it in and showed it to the doctor, Dr. Sutton said it might have evaporated before he saw it.

This concluded all the evidence at the sitting. The testimony of an important witness, Mrs. Ruttan, will be heard when the inquest is resumed in Norwood council chamber Thursday, Aug. 26, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

POST-MORTEM EXAMINATION.

Dr Sutton was appointed to conduct the post-mortem examination on the bodies, with Dr. Pettigrew as his assistant. They went into the house to perform their examination, and will have their report concerning it prepared for the next session of the inquest.

The jury accompanied the boy to the scene of the shooting and made an examination of the place, and took careful note of the surroundings.

The little girl's blood-soaked garments, which the father had used to wipe off the blood from his daughter's body, were also seen by the jury, and from the large burn and rent where the shot entered, an idea of the closeness of the gun when the shot was fired was obtained.

The doctors were of the opinion that it could not have been held farther away than two feet or a little more. The clothes were then disposed of by being buried.

Albert Walmor, watchman on the Andrew Carnegie, a coal boat, was was shot and killed by Hugh Harmon, second engineer, at Fort William.

HALL INQUEST OPENS AT SIMCOE AND IS ADJOURNED

Gruesome Bit of Dead Man's Skull is Laid on Table as an Exhibit in the Case—Crown Attorney Slaght Thinks Suspicion May be Placed Elsewhere.

Simcoe, Aug. 20.—The rather unusual proceeding of exhibiting a piece of a dead man's body as evidence in an inquest was resorted to by Dr. Meek yesterday at Coroner W. A. McIntosh's enquiry into the death of Michael Hall, who was shot from behind as he was entering his home, in Charlotteville Township, Sunday afternoon.

Deceased was buried last Tuesday, but Dr. Meek in his post-mortem sawed out a triangular section of the skull containing the bullet hole, and produced it as exhibit "B" this afternoon. It lay on the table in front of the aged Mrs. Hall during her one and a half-hours' examination. The skull of some other party unknown was also displayed for the purpose of showing precisely the location of the fatal wound.

While conclusive evidence was adduced identifying the boy, Emery Shelley, and his 22-calibre rifle, with the Hall vicinity at the time of the fatality, and also showing the boy to be of rather wild habits, the theory that the shooting was accidental seemed to strengthen.

Crown Attorney Slaght asked for an adjournment at 6.30 p.m., because he believed that more evidence might be gathered that might put suspicion for the killing of Hall on some party other than the accused.

W. E. Kelly, K.C., was granted the privilege of cross-examining the witnesses in the interest of young Shelley and succeeded pretty well in making light of the allegations as to the desperado tendencies of the prisoner, until a letter from his mother to one of the lad's former employers was produced.

ELEVEN MEN DROWNED WHEN THE SCHOONER ORONOCO SANK

Gloucester Fishing Vessel Oronoco Sinks in Fair Weather and Only the Five Men on Deck at the Time Manage to Escape.

Halifax, Aug. 20.—Eleven men were carried down in the wreck of the Gloucester schooner Oronoco, which capsized twenty-five miles off Sambri, near Halifax, yesterday morning.

The names of the lost are: William Meuse, Tusket; William Vanemburg, Argyle; Stephen Delong, Tusket; Howard Whitehouse, Argyle; Willoughby Vanemburg, Argyle; William Hatfield, Argyle; Charles Shaw, Argyle; John Meuse, Eel Brook; Peter Walsh, and John Walsh, Placentia, Newfoundland.

The Oronoco was six years old, and was built at Essex, Mass. She was a fast sailer and a good sea-boat. She left Gloucester, Mass., on Aug. 3rd, and called at Argyle, N.S., where two men were shipped. On Wednesday morning at 5 o'clock the wind was southeast, blowing a fair breeze. When the 6 o'clock watch was called, and when Stillman Hubbard, James Shaw, James Vanemburg and Ernest Stanley went on deck, Captain Larkin was at the wheel. The first watch was still on deck, and had not gone below. The jib-sheet was off too far, and the captain brought the vessel up into the wind, and she was hauled to windward and caught in the anchor stock. She paid off and commenced going down, turning on her beam ends. When half full of water the Oronoco went down very rapidly, and in three minutes no part of her was to be seen.

Five dories went down with her, and all the survivors, five in number, got into two dories. Both dories rowed to windward to try and pick up some of the other men who were below at the time of the disaster, but saw nobody. They picked up three pairs of oars for each dory, and seats and buckets, and everything was made ready to head for land, which they reached late last night.

They landed this morning, one at Chester Iron Bound, and the other at Little Tancook, reaching Lunenburg at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The captain is overwhelmed by the loss of the ship and so many of his crew, who went down without a chance for their lives. The accident is one of the most peculiar in the history of marine disasters.

MAY USE THE B.S.A. SIGHT MAJOR HELMER'S STATEMENT

He Declares at Semi-Annual Meeting of O.R.A. That New Peep-Sight is Greatest Thing of its Sort Yet Invented—Will Improve Poor Marksmen.

Long Branch, Aug. 20.—It is only a matter of time till the B.S.A. peep sight, which experts agree is the best rifle sight ever invented, will be issued by the Government to the Canadian militia, in the opinion of Major Helmer, D.A.G.M.

Many prominent officers of the militia discussed the new sight at the semi-annual meeting of the members of the O.R.A. here yesterday on a motion by W. H. Moore of the 77th regiment, Dundas, that the association council be urged to adopt the sight as has already been done by the Bisley association.

Major Alex. Elliott, who is a skilled optician explained that not more than 10 per cent. of marksmen have good eyes, and that the new sight was such an aid to the eye that all competitors would be practically placed on the same footing. It had been shown at the Bisley matches, another officer stated, that an ordinary rifleman using the B.S.A. sight could shoot all round an expert using any of the sights now generally in use. Major Helmer explained as the reason for the new sight not having been adopted this year, that the lack of facilities for distributing them, made it inadvisible. Only a few riflemen had the B.S.A. sight, he said, and by permitting their use the great bulk of marksmen would have been at a disadvantage. The matter of adopting the new sight will be considered at the next meeting of the O.R.A. council.

The meeting was held at the noon hour in the officers' tent at the ranges, E. B. Osler, president, in the chair. Besides a hundred or more members the following prominent officers were present: Col. Macdonald, Lt.-Col. John Bruce, Major W. C. King, Major DeBury, Major Dillon, Major Mercer, Major Elliott, Major Helmer and Captain Miller, secretary.

The following were elected to represent the O. R. A. on the council of the D. R. A.: Major Mercer, Major King, Captain Pain, Captain A. A. Smith, Major Hutheson, Major McCrimmon and Captain A. T. Phillips. A committee consisting of Majors Helmer, Dillon and Mercer, Captains J. Crowe and Pain, was appointed to choose a team to represent Ontario in the shoot at Ottawa for the London Merchants' Cup in the D. R. A. meet.

A veteran among Canadian sharpshooters, Captain C. R. Crowe, of Guelph, pulled ahead in the final stage of the City of Toronto match, which was shot off yesterday afternoon, winning a gold medal and $25.

Pte. A. Wilson of the 43rd, D.O.C. R., Ottawa, made the high score in the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York match, winning a silver medallion and $25. Sgt. Morris, of the 46th Bowmanville, a Bisley man, won second prise, consisting of a bronze medallion and $20, while P. M. S. Craig, of the 10th Grenadiers, Toronto, secured third prise, $15.

The wind was the trickiest that the marksmen have had to deal with during the meet, and the scoring was low. Such shooting as a miss following a bullseye was very common, even among the crack shots.

THE RELIGION OF TO-MORROW

Pope Pius Says Ex-president Eliot of Harvard is Wrong — Expresses His Surprise

New York, Aug. 20.—A Rome despatch to The Times says that the address delivered by Charles W. Eliot, president Emeritus of Harvard, on July 2, at the Harvard summer school of theology, on "The Religion of the Future," has been translated by the Pope's order into Italian that he may more thoroughly comprehend it.

The translation was read with great care by his holiness, who expressed profound regret that a man of such authority and culture as Dr. Eliot should spread theories which, he said weer not, in fact, a basis for the new religion of the future, but a negation of faith and of the principles which were the foundation of Christianity and of modern civilization.

Dr. Eliot outlined his idea of the new religion in substance, in part as follows:

"The new religion will not be based upon authority, either spiritual or temporal; the present generation is ready to be led, but not driven. As a rule the older Christian churches have relied on authority. But there is now a tendency toward liberty and progress, and among educated men this feeling is irresistible. In the new religion there will be no personification of natural objects; there will be no defication of remarkable human beings, and the faith will not be racial or tribal."

DRAGGED FROM TRAIN STEPS

St. Thomas, Aug. 20.—Austin Taylor, aged 21, of Inwood, died in the hospital yesterday morning as a result of injuries received by being dragged from an excursion train near Courtwright last night. He was on his way home from Detroit and was seated on the steps of the rear coach swinging his legs. His foot caught in the cattle-guard fence and he was thrown violently to the ground. He was missed at Brigdon, and on backing up the train he was found unconscious beside the track. Taylor was a clerk in a store at Inwood.

MYSTERIOUS AEROPLANE IN COMPETITION

Rheims, Aug. 20.—It is said that one of the surprises of aviation week will be the appearance of a mysterious aeroplane, built along the lines of the Wright machine, which has been used successfully in a number of secret flights held recently near Paris.

The pilot of this machine abandoned a project to fly from Paris down to Rheims only because of the possibility of damaging his flyer. This aeroplane takes to the air immediately without running over the ground or making use of outside force. It rises aloft by varying the angle of the planes, and the strength of its propellers.

NEW REGIMENT IN THE NORTH

Port Arthur, Aug. 20.—A new company will be formed in connection with the 96th Regiment here, making a complete regiment in this city. The Fort William companies will withdraw and form a new regiment to be known as the 103rd Fusiliers.

This makes three regiments in place of one in the past four years, the other being Kenora and Rainy River.

The 96th Regiment received much praise in a letter from Col. Steele for action during the strike trouble at Fort William.

ENROUTE TO CANADIAN WHEAT FIELDS, [illegible]

The Canadian Northwest is becoming one of the greatest wheat growing territories in the world.

In addition to the ordinary population of these great and vast prairies the railroads take in from thirty thousand to thirty-five thousand extra farm hands to harvest the great crops.

The railroads penetrating this vast territory always run a number of farm laborers' excursions at very low rates, in order that the farmers may avail themselves of the assistance of outsiders. These harvesters come from all sections of the Dominion, as well as from the United States, thousands of them following the period of ripening from the central part of the United States until the last grain is ripened in the Saskatchewan. The annual pilgrimage of the laborers north has just begun, and the photograph above shows one of these excursions en route to the Canadian Northwest.

STATEMENT NOT QUITE CORRECT

London, Aug. 19.—C.A.P.)—Hon. L. P. Brodeur, interviewed by the Canadian Press re statements contained in the "Lengthy Statement" cables yesterday, said that to take this statement as being a result of the conferences would be incorrect, but to a brief extent the statement was correct.

"I have been asked," said Brodeur, "several times to give information re the proceedings of the conference, but I have always declined, as the members of the conference are bound to secrecy, but I can say an official statement will shortly be issued."

FOREIGN COASTERS ARE NOT BARRED

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—A paragraph is going the rounds of the Old Country papers to the effect that all foreign vessels have been prohibited from engaging in the Canadian coasting trade and that the effect had been to withdraw the Norwegian vessels from the coal trade of the St. Lawrence. While it is true that an order-in-council has been passed rescinding the privilege enjoyed by foreign vessels in the coasting trade of Canada, it does not apply to the St. Lawrence, there being a special exception for that trade.

He went down in about 14 feet of water and being unable to swim, was drowned before his brother's eyes.

The body was recovered.

The brothers left home early in the morning, intending to spend the day fishing. They caught a number of small fish and were exulting in their luck, when Harold, in a spirit of childish glee, shouted, "Oh, Jack, I've got a big one." Harold tugged hard on the line, but there was more power at the other end, and he went headforemost into the water.

HOW TO REMOVE SOURCES OF EVIL

Dr. Phelan of Kingston, Addresses Prison Experts—Officers are Elected

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 20.—The Congress of American Prisons elected officers, including:

President, Amos W. Butler, Indianapolis, and Vice-President Lieut.-Col. A. G. Irwin, Stony Mountain, Man.

The National Prison Physicians Association elected officers as follows: President, Theodore Cook, jr., Baltimore; Vice-Presidents, John Gerin, Auburn, N.Y.; Walter M. Thayer, Clinton, N.Y.; Secretary, Daniel Phelan, Kingston, Ont.

The Indiana plan of operating upon imbeciles and confirmed criminals was heartily indorsed by Dr. Daniel Phelan of Kingston, Ont., in his annual address as President of the Prison Physicians Association before the American Prison Association here today. Dr. Phelan said:

"Not only do I suggest the adoption of energetic means to lessen the number of the already existing criminals and degenerates, but also the removal as much as possible of the more remote sources of the evil. Immoral literature, places, exhibitions and pictures inevitably have an evil effect upon the young mind, and especially upon naturally weak ones."

NO CEMETERY AT WHIRLPOOL

Niagara Falls, Ont., Aug. 20.—There will be no lonely cemetery under the tall dark pines beside the Whirlpool. Coroner F. W. E. Wilson, whose jurisdiction extends over the territory round the Whirlpool does not approve of the proposition of the Queen Victoria Park Commissioners to inter all bodies recovered from the Whirlpool, which are not identified and claimed by relatives in a necropolis beside the pool.

The coroner thinks that a board which has so much money to expend on the up-keep of the park should be able to spare the forty dollars necessary to give Christian burial to each unfortunate victim of Niagara.

THE RACE-TRACK SCANDAL

The Globe in its issue of Thursday, August 19th, has at last been goaded into a fury by the shameless shortcomings of the Ottawa Department of Justice at whose head stands that ancient mariner, the hero of the Newmarket canal, otherwise known as the Hon. A. B. Aylesworth. The Globe is justified. It is justified as it would have been justified long ago in frankly condemning the Newmarket ditch or the exactions of capital at Glace Bay. But no. It had a reason for protecting the stockholders of the Dominion Steel and Coal Companies and it had a reason for ignoring the scandal of the Newmarket ditch. It was time therefore to fly into a passion over at least one iniquity and it has chosen the Race-track Charter. The gamblers driven from New York and other resorts have descended on Canada and are rejoicing in the indulgence of a Minister of Justice, who cares less for the moral health of the people than for the expansion and development of racing evils and all their attendant dishonesty. Life is too short to go into all the why's and wherefore's. If the best the Laurier Government can do is to give gamblers full scope and a free hand as the Liberal Government of Ontario did then surely all but the gamblers and their friends will agree that their usefulness is gone.

It will be remembered that the godly G. W. Ross declared that it was impossible to "close the race-track gambling—hell at West Toronto. At that very hour Mr. Whitney was declaring his ability to close it if elected. He was elected and the race-room was closed. It is just as wonderful what men cannot do when they do not wish to as it is what they can do when they want to. Meanwhile few will fail to agree with the Globe that this "latest race-track scandal shows what a venal administration is capable of and to what depths its department of justice—of justice—can sink.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The French have started a campaign against the use of the name of the Deity in court oaths.

Liberal newspapers are hard at discussing titles and settling orders of precedence. "Coming events cast their shadows before."

The Laurier Administration has coerced the Home Government into favoring an independent colonial naval policy. God help us!

The frightful mortality amongst infants at Montreal would point to a certain form of race-suicide which evades all laws. La Patrie says the little things "died like flies."

We regret to find that the "religious weeklies," as a class, are not above using very violent language in their likes and dislikes. When religion, like politics, becomes theoretical it is apt to degenerate.

When Germany raised and re-created her tariff, she did so by means of thirty experts (non-political). They did the work as scientifically that international, as well as German, trade became happily adjusted.

The taxing of vacant land, as in the Lloyd-George Budget, is only a matter of time everywhere. Some legitimate means must be adopted of opening it to the [illegible] to utilise it.

Dabe Dudley, of Wakefield, Mass., has had his "pan angle" telescope accepted by the War Department. By its use, objects above and below and on all sides of the place of concealment may be viewed without exposing the user.—Ex.

The Globe is a great stickler for an undisturbed tariff. It keeps on calling for stable trade relations. Germany, France, the United States and such little countries obtain reports and make constant changes in their tariff. That is why Canada is so far behind. The early education of the Globe was poor, and its fruition is worse.

The editorial staff has been presented with a beautiful bouquet of, as we should like to name them, home-flowers, the lovely "golden glow" predominating. Thus are the sweetnesses of life happily illustrated by the sweetness of the flower-gardens, and of that other flower-garden, a woman's heart.

There is a whole lot in the papers these days about race-track gambling, and the charter given to the gamblers by the Laurier Government, but what about the crew that live by speculating in Dominion Coal and Steel stocks, Cobalt stocks, wheat, etc., and roll up fortunes while the poor strikers are shot when they ask for a better pay for honest toil?

"Protestants who do not understand the ceremony of the Mass often wonder what there is in it to attract such close attention. To them preaching and hymn singing are accepted forms of public worship, says the Inter-Mountain Catholic.

"'It would, therefore, be well to tell our non-Catholic friends that all the ceremonies have a meaning and relate to the Passion of Christ. When, for instance, the priest begins the function, he kneels at the foot of the altar, and there he represents Christ in the bloody sweat in the Garden of Gethsemane. Then he goes up the steps and kisses the altar, and we are reminded of the kiss with which Judas betrayed the Master. Then he goes to one side of the altar and then to the other and back to the centre of it, and we recall how our Saviour was led before Annas and Caiphas and Pilate and Herod and back to Pilate and finally to the hill of Calvary.

"'The priest washes his hands, and we think of Pilate doing the same and declaring that he is guiltless of this innocent blood. When the consecration takes place and the Host is raised above the priest's head to be seen by the congregation, we behold Jesus nailed to the cross and lifted up to die.

"'And so the sacred drama goes on—He dies, He is buried, He rises again, He ascends into Heaven and the Holy Ghost comes down to bless the Church and abide with it forever. With that blessing, given by the priest, the words are heard, 'Go, for Mass is over,' and the people, having taken part in offering the holy Sacrifice, depart in peace, thanking God for the grace of their presence at such celestial mysteries.'" —The Catholic Register and Extension.

Makes the Glassware Fairly Sparkle

Mirrors and glassware are hard to clean with ordinary soap. The oily matter often leaves streaks and spots that are hard to remove.

But with Taylor's Borax Soap the result is wonderful. The surface is left without a single streak—it glitters and sparkles as though it were diamond.

And your work is only half as hard. For this soap reduces rubbing to a minimum—it works almost like magic.

Taylor's Soap

Borax is the most powerful cleanser in the world. It does wonders that are almost unbelievable until you once see the results for yourself. When you spend an hour cleaning the bath room, the tub, the wash bowl and the mirrors, you have wasted just half an hour. You would have done less than half the rubbing and finished in half the time with Taylor's Borax Soap.

For this soap does more than any other soap you have ever known. It loosens every bit of dirt instantly, it destroys every possible germ and leaves everything both clean and sweet. Hard water often hardens the hands—it leaves them red and rough. But this delightful borax soap softens the water and so softens the hands—it leaves them whiter and daintier than ever before.

We use only the finest of cocoanut oil in this soap. We go more than 12,000 miles to the isle of Ceylon just to be sure this oil is pure and fresh. Then we boil it doubly long and run thousands of gallons of pure water through it to remove every impurity. It is the cleanest and purest of soaps.

It requires twenty-one days to make a single cake. The labor of more than 200 persons is needed.

Yet this soap costs no more than the ordinary. We make millions and millions of cakes every year and are thus able to buy at the lowest of prices.

SAMUEL GOMPERS TELLS ABOUT GROWTH OF TRADE UNIONISM IN GERMANY

The rising of trade unionism in Germany during the last fifteen years to its present commanding position among social reform forces, has been a fact of the very first importance to the wage-workers of the entire civilized world. This movement of the German industrial workingmen, almost in a mass, from comparative economic incohesion and dependance to a state of excellent organization, with some of the best features of both English and American trade unionism, is its own evidence that the trade union was the one needed immediate agency to carry out objects essential to a positive advance in the well being of the people.

The statistics indicating the growth of the unions are eloquent. In form, the organized workers are in three distinct bodies—The "Centralverbande, corresponding to our American Federation of Labor, the "Christian Unions," and the "Hirsch-Dunker" Unions. The Centralverbande's growth has been;—

| Year. | No. of Members. | increase in Year. | P.C |

| 1907 | 1,865,506 | 175,797 | 10.4 |

At present the number of members in the Centralverbande, notwithstanding a loss of 75,0000 in the crisis year of 1906 is more than 2,000,000.

The "Christian unions," those promoted in Germany by the Roman Catholic Church, have undergone a considerable development in the last decade;

| Year. | No. of Members. | increase in Year. | P.C. |

| 1901 | 160,772 | 1,002 | 0.6 |

| 1906 | 320,248 | 55,216 | 20.8 |
| 1907 | 354,760 | 34,512 | 10.8 |

The Hirsch-Dunker unions have also had some augmentation in their numerical strength. In 1902 they had 102,851 members; in 1907, 108,889

The existence of these three organizations is to be explained partly by regional growth, which, however, itself arose originally from religious and political differences. The Hirsch Dunker unions, founded by the two Liberal leaders whose names they bear, exist mainly in Silesia and the east of Germany. The Catholic unions were instituted by the leaders in the church where the wage-workers among its communicants displayed an unmistakable tendency to enter the Centralbande. Three-fourths of their members are in the Rhenish districts and the West. In their earlier years these unions declared that all their rights could be secured by loyalty to employers. Experience has shown that power to defend rights is an additional necessity.

In recent years the need of trade union co-operation have frequently brought together the three bodies so that to-day for certain practical purposes, Germany may be said to have their entire 2,000,000 members united. The three organizations are represented in some towns, or even districts, in a joint committee. In cases of strike or lock-out they have stood by one another. All three were interested in establishing the "home work" exposition in Berlin several years ago. By this method, misery was shown of home work and improved. Gradually, also, modifications have taken place in the spirit and doctrines of each. The Hirsch-Dunker unions formerly derived by the stronger unions as mere benefit societies, are now prone to go on strike. The Catholic unions as such are much less inclined than formerly to yield to the dominance of church opinion in so far as the immediate material interests of the workers are concerned. The Centralverbande unions at present concede that every member may vote as he will; they do not saddle the political party idea of the first of May general strike; the individual members are yearly learning to expect less help from party and more from unions; the union leaders act quite independently of the party leaders in purely union matters. The day when the party leaders could declare that forming trade unions is useless, that the progress of the masses must depend solely on political action, that the trade union effort to secure the absolute legal right of coalition was wrong and was an invasion of party jurisdiction, has passed entirely away.

The trade unions of Germany are not—like most of those in Belgium, for example—mere lists of names inscribed at one time or another in a register, according to occupations, by men who do not expect to pay regular dues. They are to-day uniformly made up of members entered in their union regularly, usually paying high dues and assessments in proportion to their wages, through self-imposed discipline, ready to strike or take a lock-out, and, wherever entitled, receiving the cash benefits common to an English or American labor organization. As a rule, the union of a trade is capable of meeting the needs of its members for strike payments as well as for sick, death, and out-of-work benefits or other provident features.

These comprehensive facts relative to the rapid increase in numbers of the German unions, the changes in their methods in order to adapt themselves to direct instead of theoretical purposes, and the solid character of their organization, imply the further fact—of paramount importance—that they have been the chief factor in bringing about the undeniable improvement in recent years of the average German worker's condition in life.

Great industrial progress came to Germany only after it had been achieved in England and America. The German workingmen, observing the enormous increase in production in their country, at first gave the proletariat political movement a fair and full trial. On its failure to yield the immediate results at which they aimed, they turned to the process of selling their labor collectively instead of in competition. They have consequently taken an increased and ever-increasing share in Germany's prosperity. The rapid rise in wages to be noted in a few occupations prior to 1894—mainly, for the most part, the effect of trade unionism—became with the spread of effective organization, a fact general to all unionized callings. The reproach common among English and American unorganized wage-workers so late as 15 years ago, that their German brothers were dreamers, working at slavish wages while wasting their time and strength in vain politics, is no longer tenable. The real militant front presented to the employing and privileged class interests in Germany in 1909 is that offered by the trade union.

The facts as to the rise of wages in the German trades, as well as the shortening of the workday, consequent on organization, are indisputable. Few men of any party or profession in the country now attempt to put the case otherwise. No opponent of trade unionism could challenge the facts after visiting the National centre of trade unions at No. 15 Engel Ufer, Berlin, and weighing the testimony to be offered there in their offices by the secretaries of the scores of national unions on the subject. There is uniformly but one story to be told, that of organization, subsequent effective demands on employers, the continued development of union strength, loyalty of the members, some financial provision for every idle member during the trials of unemployment or other suspension of earnings, always attained step by step higher wages, shorter hours, and better shop conditions. I take the space here to give examples of the rise in wages of but two trades, my statements in this letter necessarily being of a general character rather than of the detailed particulars to be expected in a statistical report. The union Berlin brewery workers who in 1895, received 24 to 26 marks a week, now have a minimum of 35. In 1890 the saddlers were paid 18 marks a week for from ten to eleven hours a day; in 1909 they have 27 and 28 marks for nine hours, with all the workmen at the trade in the union. I recall the fact that a few weeks before I left for this side of the Atlantic, and while our recent tariff bill was under discussion in the Senate, quite a hubbub of excitement was created on account of the letter which a branch of the German Government had sent to our United States Government on the wages and conditions of German workmen in certain industries. I am told, from reliable sources, that the figures given in that communication are correct, but, as one of the active men significantly remarked, "The document does not state the improvements were fought by the government and won by the workers through their struggles and sacrifices."

BEARD—CUNNINGHAM

A beautiful wedding was solemnized in the rectory of St. Mary's church this afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Marion Francis Cunningham was united in marriage to Mr. Clarence Ira Beard, Archdeacon Casey officiating.

The bride, who was attired in cream duchess satin, beautifully trimmed in Irish point lace, wearing a veil, caught with a pearl brooch, a gift of the groom, and carrying a pearl rosary, was attended by her two sisters, Misses Helena and Nora and Miss Estelle Beard, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. They looked charming in dainty embroidered lingerie and carried a gold en rod. Then followed Miss Irene Cunningham, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor. She was gowned in white mousseline and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father and was met at the altar by the groom and groomsman, Mr. Charles Cunningham.

The ushers were Messrs. Leo and Clement Cunningham. After the ceremony the bridal party retired to the home of the bride, where a sumptuous "collation" was served.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and golden rods. The music was furnished throughout the evening by Miss Beatrice Burns. The out-of-town guests present were; Mr. and Mrs. Fred McGrath and Miss Margaret McGrath, of Peterborough; Mr. Charles McCarthy, Port Arthur; Mr. Joseph P. Cunningham of Rochester, N.Y.; Miss Beatrice Burns, of Birmingham, Ala.; Miss Fleda Rucker, Linchburg, Va.; Misses Emma and Estella Beard, Amherst, Va.

The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Cunningham, of Lindsay. Although having been in the south for several years, she still retains a host of friends in her native town.

The groom is a prominent business man, of Amherst, Va., and a son of the late John P. Beard.

Mr. and Mrs. Beard left on the 9.20 train for Quebec and other points of interest. Their hosts of friends extend to them many hearty congratulations and much happiness.—Lindsay Warder.

Five men were killed in the blowing up of a dynamite house at Tunstall Bay, B.C.

James Lattimer, an old recluse, died while berrypicking in the bush near Crystal Beach.

A serious outbreak of diphtheria has caused the closing of churches and schools at Byron, Ont.

THE BRITISH UNEMPLOYED

"The situation," said Mr. Pam, "to my mind is exceedingly grave. There are to-day in the poor-houses of England over 800,000 people, many of whom are able to work, if work could only be provided. I heard it asserted when in London, that the number of unemployed and those dependent upon them reached the startling total of 5,000,000 people. The nation is at its wits' ends to solve this problem of the unemployed.

"There is a general movement for a Land Purchase Bill, similar to that passed for Ireland. Under the present tenant system the lands are not worked to their full capacity. They are growing more and more unproductive each year. The revenues, as a consequence, are insufficient for the needs of the present owners. The present system of land-tenure lessens the opportunities for the children of even the better classes. The resources of the entire country, both from the standpoint of human effort and human employment are thus greatly impaired.

"The country is also losing ground in trade conditions, owing to the competition of both the United States and Germany. The latter country is bending all its energy to the commercial situation, and as a result it is rapidly forging to the front.

"Land conditions, however, are the most perplexing, and the New Budget is a burning question in every stratum of British society.

"The general opinion seems to be that the Asquith Government is trying to save itself by taxing wealth all that it can stand. This, however, is a political, rather than an economic move. The general expectation, too, is that the House of Lords will reject the measure and thus necessitate an appeal to the country. This would, in all likelihood, result in an overthrow for the Liberal party, and this, for the simple reason that it has failed to bring about that great desideratum known as 'Prosperity.'

"The government may ultimately be forced to take the large estates by right of eminent domain and parcel them out amongst small holders. The owners should be fully compensated and the purchase price should be arranged for a long term of years as it is in Ireland at the present time. With this kind of ownership, England will thus establish a very desirable class of property-holders, whose advantage it will be to develop their lands to the fullest capacity. These small landowners will, in the future, be the country's strongest bulwark against the advance of Socialism; and will aid in furnishing new opportunities for the unemployed. Every country, to be happy, has need of this class of citizen, namely, the common people, whether farmer, merchant, artisan or otherwise, from whom spring high aspirations and through whom flow great achievements. It is the farmer—the landowner—whether in the field or in the factory, that makes for the prosperity of any country.

"England will probably be forced in the very near future, to adopt on some working basis the protective tariff system to give it the necessary revenues to meet its burdens and create new opportunities for its laborers and artisans in industrial fields. The colonies, instead of offering warships and perhaps making it possible that these patriotic testimonials may some day be turned against the Mother Country, should enact such preferential economic legislation as will prove of advantage to the country's manufacturing interests without coming into conflict with their own. England is passing through one of the most serious crises in its whole history, and the danger is not foreign aggression, but unhappy economic conditions which must be remedied if the country is to endure. Any one who knows or studies the English character can not help feeling confident that, with the application of proper remedies, England will master adverse conditions and maintain its present high position in the family of nations."—The Catholic Register.

Pigs' Feet in the Pit.

Salaries at the early New York theatres were extremely small. But if the salaries were small, so were the prices of admission. One shilling, 12 1-2 cents, let you into the gallery or the pit, and if you didn't have the shilling the mercenary management forced you to pay 13 cents. So the boys got the habit of changing their money at a fishwoman's on the corner, who for 15 cents obligingly gave them a shilling and a pig's foot. They handed in the shilling at the door and during the course of the evening presented the well-picked bone to the management by way of some unfortunate in the pit or on the stage.

BOOK REVIEWS.

The September Wide World Magazine contains a splendid number of stories, tales of travel and adventure, anecdotes, etc., all of which are of exceptional interest and entertainment. "The Exploits of the Duke of the Abruzzi," continued from the August number, takes the reader from the vicinity of the North Pole to the regions of the Equator, where the Duke went to explore the "Mountains of the Moon."

Other interesting articles in the September Wide World include "With Pen and Picture in Nigeria," a description of wonderful pioneer work in one of Great Britain's West African possessions; "Sport in India," so exciting and strenuous as to warrant Colonel Roosevelt's investigation; the third instalment of "An Englishman's Pilgrimage to Mecca and Medina."

The September number of the Strand Magazine is rich in articles of the unusual and unexpected kind for which this magazine is famed. In "The King's Orders" are illustrated and described the numerous badges and decorations worn by King Edward on various occasions of ceremony. "How the World Looks to the Short-Sighted" names some strange forms in which not only the inanimate but animate world presents itself to the myopic. "A Museum of Bad Taste" presents a collection of useless and senseless things, articles of sham and shoddy, etc., a collection of what is termed "horrible examples." In "My Reminiscences," Harry Furniss, the great English cartoonist, describes some very interesting incidents, serious and humorous, in his busy career.

Forest fires are raging near Laggan, B.C.

James Weir, a Middlesex farmer, was attacked by a bull and his rib broken.

TRIBUTE TO PHOTOGRAPHER

One of Mr. Mendel's Pictures will be Reproduced in "American Photography"

Mr. Louis Mendel has received a letter from T. R. Fragle, editor of "American Photography," published in Boston, asking for a print of a photograph by Mr. Mendel, which was on exhibition in the gallery during the national convention of photographers at Rochester a few weeks ago. Mr. Fragle ask for a print of the picture of "the girl with the big hat" and states that he was much impressed by this photograph. The picture will be reproduced in "American photography."

When it is considered that there were thousands of pictures in the gallery at Rochester it will be seen that Mr. Fraple's request is a high tribute to the work of Mr. Mendel.

SIX MONTHS IN CENTRAL

Six months in Central prison was the sentence that was handed out to E. Lowes, at the Police Court this morning. Lowes has been hanging about the town for the last few weeks and has been a source of continual anxiety to his father, who can do nothing with him. He has been warned time and again to mend his ways, but without avail, and so he will find it necessary to cool his heels in Central Prison for the next few months.

REV. E. A. PEARSON WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF HIS TRIP TO THE OLD LAND

The Review has received the following letter from Rev. E. A. Pearson, pastor of George street church, who is on a trip to Europe:

Lyons, Aug. 6, 1909.

I am writing you from Lyons, in the south of France. It is 11.30 p.m. and I have just arrived, after a hot rail trip from Paris, over 300 miles. All goes well and we are having a pleasant and profitable trip. I can scarcely conceive that so much has been packed into a few weeks. To begin with, our passage over was a calm one, and, while rather squeamish as we were off the banks of Newfoundland, I yet never missed a meal, so I can fairly claim to have crossed without distress. We have done Ireland, England and Scotland, and are now in France. We go on to-morrow to Nice and the Riviera, where we spend Sunday. Then to Monte Carlo for Monday; then Genoa, Venice, Milan, Rome, Naples, and Pompeii, then into Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium, and home via London, Glasgow, and Allan Line steamer.

Nothing could be, I imagine, more enjoyable than the trip so far has been. If I were asked what things have appealed to me most, I should say: 1, The first sight of dear old Ireland and our trip down the Lough Foyle to Londonderry; 2, A day in the Trossachs in Scotland; 3, Edinburgh; 4, A day in a perfect paradise of a place called Matlock, in Derbyshire; 5, The drive to Versailles from Paris.

I must tell you that I attended the House of Commons and heard addresses on the Irish Landlord and Tenants' Bill, by Birrell, Healy, etc., etc. Also I had the unexpected pleasure of sailing through the British fleet off the Isle of Wight, where you will have read it was reviewed, and just as we were coming across the channel from Southampton to Havre.

This brief note will tell you how and where I am, and you may use it in the Review if you deem it proper. I am getting the Review regularly, and have already read July 27.

Happy as I am, and profited as I have been, the best joy of all will be that of my return to Peterborough.

Kind regards to all.

E. A. PEARSON.

HACK MET PERELLI AT OWN GAME AND WON EASILY

Enclosed in the communication from the Columbia Theatre, Boston, regarding the American appearance of Zybsco was a clipping from the Boston Transcript giving an account of a match on Monday evening between Young Hackenschmidt and Perelli, the fighting dago.

The account is as follows:

The sensation of the season was sprung at Columbia Theatre last night when Young Hackenschmidt, the crack performer, who has so often shown his class here, defeated John Perelli, the aggressive Italian, who has become famous for his pugnacious tactics. From the call of time, the men went at each other at a cyclonic clip. The Italian proceeded to get rough and the bout proved fast and strenuous enough to satisfy the most enthusiastic follower.

Hack came back for all the rough-house advances of the dark skinned one and repaid him in a larger measure than he perhaps expected. After throwing Perelli around in the most unsympathetic fashion he secured a fall on his opponent with a peculiar combination of the scissors and toe hold that made the Italian wince. Time of the fall was 15 1-2 minutes.

In the second engagement Hackenschmidt treated his adversary with as little consideration as a freight-handler would a crate of eggs and took the fall in nine minutes on a hammer-lock and neck hold.

Charlie Gilmour referred.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

WANTED—A RIFLE RANGE

The Review kept hammering away at the failure to establish free rural mail and parcel delivery until it secured an apology for a service in a route established on one line. Then this journal set itself to get the four-foot high weed-bed cut at the armouries, and now it proposes to back up the local militia in its loud and long-continued demand for a rifle range. What possible excuse can there be for keeping our soldiers without a place to try their rifles in? It is quite plain that it is not intended by the government to breed King's prizemen here. A more shocking disregard of the fundamental requirements of the force it would be difficult to find. Possibly time will grant it, or a sense of shame. But it is hardly safe to bank on the latter.

THE POWER QUESTION

The letter of Mr. McLaughlin, K. C., to the City Council in another column lays down definitely and clearly the Burleigh Company's intentions. It raps the council sharply over the knuckles for its supposed delay. It advises the council as to what is in the best interests of the city. It states what the Company will do if the offer is turned down.

If the offer be turned down the Company proposes to develop the power itself, in which event it must be supposed that the price per h.p. will be reasonable, or else how can the power find a market. If, however, development by a private company means the building-up of a monopoly with Peterborough as the objective point, it might be different.

The question for the people is, it would seem, "Can we get power as cheaply and profitably from others as from ourselves?"

Is municipally-owned power the city's opportunity for inducing industries to locate here and for securing cheaper light, etc.?

It is to be taken for granted that Mr. Rogers, C.E., is making ready for his report, and until it comes in we cannot very well see what answer the council can give.

In the meantime it is just as well to study carefully in what direction the city's interests lie, and what steps are being taken to protect them.

PRICE OF BREAD REMAINS FIXED

Recent Drop In Price of Flour will Not Have Effect on Cost of Bread

As stated in last night's papers, there has been a drop in the price of flour of 40 cents a barrel. Although considerable satisfaction has been expressed by bread consumers at this drop in price, still it is hardly likely that it will have any effect on the cost of bread. One thing it will do, however, and that is that it will serve to check any talk of a further increase in the cost of the products of the bakeries.

The drop in price is mainly on new flour, which is not used by the better class of bakers, as they cannot make good bread with it, and there is not much indication of any drop in the price of old flour, which is very scarce. The flour from the new crop will not be ripe for baking until about November, so, as the bakers will until then have to keep on using the old flour, the alteration in price will not make much difference to them.

TURNER HOUSE CAUGHT FIRE

About two o'clock this afternoon an alarm was given when the frame kitchen at the rear of the Turner House, Mill street, was found to be on fire. The blaze was quenched in a few minutes by the firemen. The fire appears to have caught from a sheet iron stove pipe which passed through a wooden ceiling and shingled roof from the kitchen stove. The damage to the kitchen would not be great and the main brick building was not at all hurt. The premises are occupied by Mr. W. Brown and owned by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons, of Peterborough.—Port Hope Guide.

PROGRAMME FOR FAIR PREPARED

The programme for the Peterborough Fair has been completed. It is a well-arranged one, and judging from it, the exhibition this year will be very attractive for the public and the exhibitors.

GEORGE ST. CHOIR HAD EXCURSION

The George St. choir held their annual outing down the river yesterday on the steamer Monarch. About seventy young people took in the trip, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

At Gore's Landing a stop was made, and a baseball match between the young ladies and the young men participated in. Needless to say, the former won the game by a large score.

The excursionists reached home about ten o'clock, after holding an impromptu concert on the way up.

JACK ROSEVEAR WILL UMPIRE TO-MORROW'S GAME AT RIVERSIDE

All is harmony in the City Baseball League again The T.A.S. and Park Street teams hook up at Riverside Park to-morrow afternoon. and as both teams must have the game to stay in the running, the fur may be expected to fly The contest will start at 2.30 o'clock, and should be a sizzler right from the start. Quinlan will be on the firing line for the Abstainers, and Dusty will put them over for the team from the south end.

President McWilliams has secured Jack Rosevear, of Port Hope, to umpire the game, and as he is a first-class official a square deal to both nines is assured. If Park Street team pull out a victory they will have the championship of the league. so the T.A.S. aggregation can be depended on to play as if their lives hung in the balance.

The general admission will be fifteen cents, with ten cents extra for the grand stand. Ladies will be admitted free to both the field and grand stand. Both the T. A. S. and Park Street teams have been playing great ball all season, and the article served up to-morrow should be of the best yet.

THE AMATEUR QUESTION AS A Y.M.C.A. AUTHORITY SEES IT

The following is taken from the Hamilton Spectator. Mr. T. F. Best, whose opinion is given towards the latter end end of the article, is well known here having visited this city on several occasions. He is an uncle of Mr. Ray Best, of the Best Stove Co.

It is not generally known that at a recent meeting of the physical directors of the Canadian Y.M.C.A.'s held at Orillia, the amateur question was dealt with at great length, and a resolution drawn up to the effect that physical directors were much against the present method of issuing amateur cards to the various athletes, and that it was deemed advisable to have all the Y.M.C.A. membership cards cover the same ground as a registration card from any of the athletic unions. It was felt that with the physical directors of the various associations in such a position as to look after their men, and satisfy themselves as to their amateur status, the need for a method such as exists at present would be obsolete. At present, an athlete who desires to compete in all registered athletic meetings is forced to take out an amateur card from one of the various associations governing athletics. This card is renewed each year and the men are charged 25 cents for each registration, entailing a lot of bother and useless worry at times. The Y.M.C.A. authorities feel that arrangements can be made whereby the Y.M.C.A. membership card can be arranged in such a way as to stand for a man's amateur status, just as well as a registration card, and with the resolution before them some definite action is expected shortly by the association.

It sounds like rank treason to hear a Y.M.C.A. leader speaks his mind on the amateur bugaboo, and naturally the opinion of T. F. Best, the genial secretary of the local Y.M.C.A., are interesting, as Mr. Best takes no pains to hide his belief that a lot of the present red tape about amateurism is all rot. "Can you tell me why a professional athlete should be looked down upon, to a certain extent, or why the action of a good prominent amateur in turning professional should be denounced by everybody, right and left?" Mr. Best asks. "I think a man with God-given ability as a runner should exercise that ability in just the same manner as a man endowed with extraordinary powers as a singer. Amateurism is all right for people who have means and are able to spend all the time that they desire on sport, but can you see any reason why a man who is working ten hours a day, at a small salary, endowed with a wonderful pair of legs, should be prevented from receiving value from those legs simply because a few people denounce professionalism, and the majority follow that few, not because they believe as they do, but rather because it is habit? What value will all the medals and trophies and testimonials that Bobby Kerr has received be to him in after years, when he has gone back and the fickle public is cheering some other chap? Wouldn't it seem more to the point for Kerr to put his ability to some use and secure something tangible in the form of a house and lot, or interest in some business of his own, from the money that he could earn as a professional? In after years he would have something that would make up for the loss of the praise from the crowd, for that is practically what amateur sport consists of, running for the pleasure of the fickle public, although it is amusing to see the athletes scanning over the programmes of various meets scheduled for one day and finally deciding to compete at the games where the most valuable prizes are given. Amateur sport costs money and what compensation do most of the young amateurs of the day get for their time and trouble spent in training, their expenses of travelling, etc? The very against professional sport seems rather far reached, when all things are considered.

CELEBRATED GALACIAN WANTS TO WRESTLE FRANK GOTCH

The Review has received a syndicate letter from the Columbia Theatre, Boston, announcing the engagement for this country of Zbysco, the celebrated Galacian heavyweight wrestler. It will be his initial appearance in America and he will wrestle matches in both United States and Canada.

Zbysco is regarded as one of the most dangerous men in the business and has been winning many matches in Germany, France and England. He weighs around 240 but is strong, scientific and quick as a cat.

One of the main objects in bringing him to America is to match him against Frank Gotch.

PITTSBURG STILL HAS A CHANCE

Mr Walter Phelan, of Pittsburg, is in the city on his vacation, accompanied by Mr. Thos. E. O'Connor, assistant superintendent of the Edgar Thompson Works, a branch of the Carnegie Steel Works, Braddok, Penn. They are registered at the Oriental.

Mr Phelan will be remembered as one of the original imports to boost Pittsburg's chances in the hockey arena, and is here laden with hockey talkfest and Pittsburg stogies. Despite the fact that he is out of the game for keeps, Mr. Phelan thinks the Pirates have a good chance for the silverware this season.

A local option campaign may be started in London.

FRANK GREER AND DURNAN

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 19—Frank Greer, the Boston oarsman, who has been coaching here, leaves Saturday for Boston to meet James Ten Eyck in reference to the proposed sculling race between Greer and Eddie Durnan at Toronto for $2,500 a side for the American championship. If a race is arranged it will take place either in Toronto or Worcester, Mass.

The Maritime Amateur Oarsmen's championships will be rowed on the Northwest Arm on Sept. 1.

PETERBOROUGH PAIR BEATEN IN THIRD ROUND

Of the Scotch Doubles at Dominion Bowling Tournament — Laster is Winning.

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—In the third round of the Scottish doubles in the Dominion bowling tournament this morning, Laster and Talbot, of Peterborough, were defeated by Wigmore and Brown, of the Canadas.

In the second round of the singles B. Laster beat A. N. Sinclair, Balmy Beach, Toronto, 12—8.

Kerr's rink was successful in the Toronto Cup competition up to the seventh round, when they were beaten by Farrow, of Ottawa, 19—9.

PUGILISTS AND THEIR HOTELS

Johnson Suing Hotelman for $2500—Troubles Others Have Had

The life of a world's champion is not a bed of roses altogether—especially if the champion is a black man. Jack Johnson was refused accommodation at a Salt Lake City hotel the other night because Johnson claims be is a negro.

He is suing the proprietor of the hotel at which he attempted to get a room, for $25,000, on the grounds that he was discriminated against because he is a negro.

Johnson is not the only pugilist who has had troubles of his own. Battling Nelson has had quite a time finding an hospitable hostelry in New York, as he always wants the exclusive places, and there prize fighters are always given the "filled up" answer.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien always went as far up the ladder of class as he could when he was registering, and the diamond-front Philadelphian was turned down with great regularity. Every time he was accorded such hostile treatment he raised such an argument with the proprietors or clerks that quite a crowd gathered around him, and he left the hotels more or less a martyr in his own estimation.

Other artists of the roped arena have had some discouraging experiences in endeavoring to get a place to stay at, but the majority of the more level-headed ones always picked on an hotel where a cordial reception was assured.

SPORTING NOTES

Toronto has secured two new infielders, Deal and Fitzpatrick, both of the Lancaster Tri-State team. They are .275 hitters and .990 fielders.

Shrubb attributes his defeat by Acoose Monday to a strained tendon in his leg. He says he will run Acoose in Toronto for $1,000 a side.

A Frenchman the other day succeeded in swimming a certain distance up the Thames with his hands manacled and towing a boat containing eight persons. The feat was for a $500 side bet.

The Toronto team made thirty hits in the double-header with Montreal Wednesday.

Walker and Kerr may be brought together for a series of races at Winnipeg on September 6th.

Tim Hurst, the famous baseball umpire, has been dropped from the American League, following an altercation in which he is said to have spat in a player's face.

Fred Mitchell, the Toronto Ball Club's star pitcher, has been sold to the New York Americans in exchange for $4,000 and three players.

Toronto won from Montreal again yesterday by the score of 12 to 4.

Abe Attell in Draw

Saratoga, N.Y., Aug. 19—Abe Attell, the featherweight champion, and Harry Stone of New York fought 10 rounds to a draw last night before the Saratoga Athletic Club. Until the last two rounds, when Stone carried the fight to the champion from bell to bell, it was a tame and featureless exhibition. Two thousand racing men, owners and trainers, witnessed the bout.

Joe Weber's Tenacity.

Whatever profit accrues to the production of "The Climax"—and everybody concedes that its sponsor has a vast fortune in sight—Joe Weber deserves every last penny of it. But for the absolute courage of his convictions and his unwavering tenacity of purpose in the face of adverse opinion, the delightful little play might by this time be accumulating dust in the desk of a saddened playwright.

Weber liked the piece from the very outset. Although essentially a dealer in musical entertainment, he was quick to foresee the danger of presenting a three-act drama that employed but a single "set" and four players. And being also essentially a sound business man, he just as quickly appreciated the economic advantages of such an enterprise if by rare chance it happened to succeed.

From Edward W. Locke, the "glass-blower dramatist," he purchased the producing rights, and then set out to place the piece on trial. One Sunday night at his theatre before an audience consisting of managers, players, dramatists and Broadway friends supposed to be in touch with the needs of the theatregoing public, "The Climax" was presented at a special performance.

The stage-setting was crude, the piece had not been rehearsed properly, two of the players were grossly miscast, and the general conditions of the performance suggested gloom. After the final curtain, one after another of that specially engaged audience sought out Weber and begged him to "forget it."

They shook their heads sadly as the little manager met every objection smilingly.

"I think it's there," he replied in the vernacular of his kind, "and now I'm going to try it out before a regular audience."

Accordingly, he booked a route of three weeks in Canada and Central New York. It was my privilege to attend one of these preliminary performances in Utica, after the production had been on tour a fortnight.

Weber and his own big musical company had only a few weeks previously visited Utica with tumultuous results. In advertising "The Climax" he announced it as "Joe Weber's Production of a Melody-Drama," and from the remarks made by patrons entering the theatre that night, it was evident that they expected to attend another big musical entertainment, replete with giddy chorus-girls and flippant comedians.

"The audience is going to meet a frightful disappointment," said the local manager to Weber ruefully. "They think you are in the cast and that it's another of your musical shows."

The manager was not altogether wrong. When the curtain arose on the first act, with its plain setting of a combination kitchen, dining-room, and living room, they clearly made known their surprise. Along toward the end of the act they began to study their programmes more closely. It was with an air of resignation that they remained in their seats.

The reception accorded the play that night was not exactly boisterous. The audience paid strict attention and applauded politely. At the conclusion they left the theatre without any outward sign of approval.

But do you think that Weber was discouraged?

Not a bit of it.

For, when Weber, the author, and I met at a restaurant a few moments later to discuss the performance the managers' first remark was:

"You could have heard a pin drop in that second act, and I saw one woman wiping her eyes. Those are the signs that count."

Even the author, that most optimistic of mortals, was not unduly elated. His criticism, of course, was directed chiefly to the acting itself, but he showed a rare willingness to make proposed changes in the text, and joined in the common demand for an improved cast.

What followed is now theatrical history.

Presented before a regular audience—the actual receipts were $65—at Weber's Theatre one afternoon about two months ago, every dramatic critic in the city declared that the play was one of the gems of the season. Two of them likened it to "The Music Master." Another wrote that "The Climax" will prove to be another "Old Homestead." The critic of the Evening Sun attended three performances during the first week, and the following Monday organized a box party of prominent stars to enjoy the play with him.

Charles Frohman cabled from London for the English rights. J. C. Williamson, through his New York representative, offered a bid for the Australian rights. The firm of M. Whitmark & Sons obtained an option on the rights in German. David Belasco witnessed a performance, and congratulated Weber during each intermission and again after the last curtain.

Five companies will present the play on tour next season, and Weber has purchased a new office suite—three times the size of the one he used in the old Weber & Fields days.

Ambassador Bryce is the guest of Premier Hazen, of New Brunswick.

ALARM CLOCK HIS UNDOING

Quebec Man Then Lost Stickpins to Customs Officers.

New York, Aug. 18. — An alarm clock ringing vociferously in an overcoat pocket of Henri Robitaille, a cabin passenger on the steamer Bretagne of the French line, just as he was about to step through the gate on leaving the pier yesterday, caused him to be held up and searched. Robitaille, who is president of the Eureka Distilling Company of Quebec, was much disturbed when six boxes containing twenty-five gold stickpins were taken from the pockets of his overcoat.

Overcoats have been especially scrutinized recently by customs men, but that of Robitaille would have gone unsearched had the alarm clock kept quiet. If there were one pair of eyes turned towards Robitaille, who was with a friend, Eugene Alaire, also a passenger, there were two dozen that at once spotted the man with a noisy overcoat.

Mr. B. B. Mills, customs officer, held up the two men and other customs men went through the pockets of both. The clock was deemed unworthy of seizure, but the stickpins were confiscated. Robitaille said he intended them as presents for friends in Quebec and that he would call on the collector of the port and see what could be done.

BLACKLISTER UP IN COURT

"Drink, pretty creature, drink," said a tempter to John Coulter yesterday, and John drank. John, being on the black list, should have known better than to heed the tempter's pleadings, but he did not, and in the police court this morning he was charged with being drunk.

"Ten dollars and costs," thundered his Worship, and John departed, dazed with the speed at which things were being conducted.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

An unfortunate accident happened to Mrs. R. J. Menzies while visiting with Mrs. R. Hicks, Mrs. Menzies' niece, at Peterborough, Sunday evening. About dusk, Mrs. Menzies, while making her way along the upper hall, struck the casing of a doorway, which turned her partially around and caused her to fall sideways down the back stairway. Mrs. Hicks ran to her assistance and found her unconscious. She summoned Dr. Frederick, who arrived immediately, and on examination found her suffering with a severely strained neck, many bruises, and a badly dislocated right thumb, with some small bones broken. The doctor says it will be six months before the thumb will be perfectly well. Mr. Menzies knew nothing of the occurrence until he went to meet his wife last night at the station.—Lindsay Post.

COLORED WOMEN BLAMED FOR HOLD-UPS IN BUFFALO

Buffalo, Aug. 19.—While at work trying to rid the city of alleged "strong arm" colored women, women who actually hold up and rob men, as is charged by a number of men who have complained to the police at the Pearl street station during the last few days, Bicycle Patrolmen Burns, Morgenstern and Fallony yesterday raided a three story brick rooming house at Nos. 131 and 133 East Eagle street, and arrested three colored women and a half dozen colored men on a technical charge of disorderly conduct.

They do not accuse any of those arrested with the holding up of men on the street, but the arrests were made in connection with their investigation and a complaint received the night before that a man was robbed of $30 in the place raided.

For some time, it was stated at police headquarters, a gang of "strong arm" women have been working in the down town section of the city. They would take up a stand in an alleyway off a well-lighted and busy street and then attract unsuspecting men into the alley.

One case in particular was where a woman uttered a cry and fell backward. A man was just approaching the alley. He stepped in and found the woman, colored, apparently ill. He picked her up and she suddenly revived and then held up and robbed him.

Some of these women have confederates close at hand, it is alleged by the police, who are ready nearby to help them rob their victims. The victim has no chance, and by the time the police investigate the hold-up party has fled.

Some of the stories that have been poured into the ears of Captain Gilligan of the Pearl street station during the last few days have been of such a daring nature that they hardly seemed true. Nevertheless, several patrolmen in plain clothes have been working in the districts from which the complaints came and one patrolman of the Pearl street station fell into the trap laid by one woman a few days ago. She was nabbed, however, and if there was a confederate in that case he failed to appear.

In the raid of yesterday the police got Mattie Somers, 28 years old, of 133 East Eagle street, who, the police claim, was fined $10 in court only a few days ago.

Lottie Smith, 21 years old, is from Elmira. The police claim that William Richardson, 24 years old, who also was caught in the raid, is on parole from Rochester at the present time. Others caught in the raid gave their names as Peter Holt, 28 years old; Samuel Holt, 36 years old; George Washington, 24 years old; Allan Jones, 32 years old, and Thos. Scott, 27 years old, who claims to reside at No. 475 Michigan street.

The raiders also informed the health department in writing that the places at Nos. 131-133 East Eagle street, is in an unsanitary condition.

HAVELOCK

Special to The Review.

Havelock, Aug. 19.—The Hastings baseball team journeyed to town on Wednesday afternoon and played a very interesting and closely-contested game with the local nine, resulting in a victory for the visitors, the score being 7-5. It looked as if the locals had things pretty well in hand at first, but luck will change. A few errors and wild throws put the Hastings team on top in regard to score, and it remained so. The Havelock team did some extra fine work, considering that they have had no practice at all. The following was the line-up of the Havelock team: W. J. Rose c, D. Forde p, Wm. Rose 1b, R. Gemmoney 2b, A. Armstrong ss, Chas. Robinson 3b, R. Frost, lf, F. Coghill rf.

Grain Traffic Decreases.

Kingston, Aug. 20.—The grain elevators here this year experienced the smallest grain delivery since 1884, the smallest on record.

In 1908, there was the greatest amount of grain ever shipped to Kingston, about 15,000,000 bushels, being reported to the local Government Canal Agent. In 1907, over 13,000,000 bushels were received here.

This year only about one-quarter of last year's figures has so far been received. There will be cargoes throughout the fall, but it is doubtful if more than one-third of last year's elevator business will be done.

MEXICANS' STAFF OF LIFE.

The Tortilla Is Their Bread—Frijoles Are Boiled Beans.

The tortilla is the ancient Indian bread of Mexico. Its only constituent is Indian corn (maize), which the women soak in limewater until the kernels are at the point of bursting, then wash thoroughly until it is free from lime, when they grind it by rubbing it on a large block of stone, especially cut for the purpose, with a smaller stone which they hold in their hands.

The operation looks very much like rubbing clothes on a washboard and is a laborious and tedious one. The lime renders the corn dough adhesive, like wheat flour dough, and it is easily patted between the hands into cakes the size and shape of an ordinary griddlecake and is baked upon a thin stone griddle. Though no salt or leaven is added, fresh tortillas are exceedingly palatable.

The one other food mainstay is frijoles—ordinary beans. They are boiled to a mush and with a liberal quantity of lard are warmed as required in a flat earthen dish that answers for a frying pan. The very poor people do not always have the luxury of frijoles and when they do have them cannot always afford the lard.

Odd Death Certificates.

Certificates of death are not documents where one usually seeks for humor, but there is frequently to be found in them much of the unconscious variety. Here, for instance, is how the cause of death is stated in the case of a laborer:

"Died from injuries received through a bull accidentally kneeling on his chest."

The consideration shown for the feelings of the bull is a fine touch and suggests grave questions on the moral responsibility of the lower animals.

Again, a man is stated to have "died from the effects of injuries received after being run over by a railway train in motion owing to a misunderstanding between deceased and an engine driver." This description of a rather ordinary railway casualty is excellent.—London Express.

THE ALDERMEN HAVE BEEN WRITTEN TO REGARDING BURLEIGH POWER QUESTION

The Central Ontario Power Company have sent the following letter to each Peterborough Alderman, a copy of which has been sent to the Review:—

Toronto, Aug. 19, 1909.

Dear Sir,—The option given at the request of the council of the City of Peterborough is about expired, and I presume that you have obtained the engineer's report, which you assured me that you would obtain, and if so I have no doubt that it verifies, and more than verifies, any statements that I have made, and your council are now in a position to say once for all, whether you want a municipally owned and developed power for the City of Peterborough, and the cheapest power, and consequently, the greatest inducements of any city in the Province for manufacturing industries, or whether on the other hand, you have made up your mind to leave the power, and the future of the city in the hands of private companies with the naturally resulting monopoly.

The opportunity of acquiring Burleigh is the last opportunity your city will have of acquiring a power worth having and developing by a municipal plant, and it is also the logical and only power for the city of Peterborough to develop. It is situated in the right direction. By building a power line from Burleigh you can have a main trunk line on to which you can hitch Buckhorn, Lakefield and any and all the river powers that you may at any time hereafter acquire.

Also by acquiring Burleigh you will shut the door to any further development by private companies of any of the powers of the north of you as none of the others are big enough to enter into competition with you, and when for sale you can consequently get them at reasonable cost.

If, on the other hand, you inform me next week that you turn the option down, we will proceed at once to make arrangements for the development of this and other powers by a private company. A private company, which will market the power at competitive rates, and where the best market can be obtained, and a considerable portion of it will be marketed elsewhere than in Peterborough. So far as your city is concerned this will of course be an advantage, but you can never be in the same position to compete for incoming industries against the various other cities and towns in the Province as you would be if you did own the power yourselves and were enabled to offer power to industries at the exceedingly low rate that you can offer it with all the advantages of a cheap capital, cheap development and operation which as a municipality you might have.

Is it too big for you to undertake when Guelph, a smaller city, is undertaking an annual expenditure of $60,000, and for only 2,500 horse power. The price you are being asked is a mere bagatelle, considering (1st) That you get the power without rental; (2nd) that you get a dam built and maintained forever without cost to you, which is alone worth more than the whole price asked; (3rd) your development is easy and transmission short; (4th) it is the natural nucleus for the addition of smaller powers which cannot be profitably handled alone.

The total annual charge on the power users for original cost of this power will only be about $1.12 per horse power per annum, while the leases granted by the Dominion Government for other powers on the river is $2 per horse power.

It is, however, for your Council to say and to say definitely and finally, to say also whether you will turn down the option on your own responsibility or whether you will leave it for the people to say.

STOMACH OF WILLOUGHBY HAS BEEN SENT TO TORONTO

Where it Will be Analyzed—Doctors Are Silent on Result of Post Mortem—Two Hearses Side by Side at Funeral.

Norwood, Aug. 19.—Drs. Sutton, Pettigrew and Buck last night completed the post-mortem examination of the two victims of Tuesday afternoon's tragedy at the Willoughby home on the Asphodel and Dummer boundary, and, while the doctors maintain strict silence as to the result of their investigations, they are believed to corroborate the opinion expressed in the former despatches that the shooting was entirely accidental, and that the father died from heart failure resulting from the shock. Dr. Sutton, who has charge of the post-mortem, has forwarded the stomach and liver of the father to Toronto for examination. In the case of the little girl, death must have been instantaneous, as it has been ascertained that the charge pierced the heart.

The statement in some of the Toronto papers that Willoughby purchased strychnine at a drug store in Norwood recently is denied positively. Your correspondent made inquiries at both drug stores last night, and was assured that the statement is altogether wrong.

The funeral of the father and the daughter took place this afternoon from their late residence to Norwood cemetery. The funeral was a very large one, the two hearses side by side, bearing the remains, being followed by two long double lines of vehicles. The whole countryside turned out, showing the very general feeling of respect for the deceased and sympathy for the sorrowing widow and mother and the two fatherless children. The late Mr. Willoughby was a member of the Orange order and of the Canadian Order of Foresters, and his remains were borne to their last resting place by three members of each of these societies, while six little boys belonging to the neighborhood carried to the grave the remains of the little girl. The Rev. George Rowland, Baptist clergyman, officiated. Willoughby carried life insurance in the Foresters and in the Equity Life Insurance Co.

Mrs. John Willoughby, deceased's mother, also two sisters and one brother, Mrs. William Forward, Mrs. Charles Hollett, and Charles Willoughby, reside in Toronto. There are also three other sisters — Mrs. E. Falkner, Rochester, N.Y.; Mrs. Robt. McCur, Canandaigua, N.Y.; and Mrs. Edward Patterson, Glen Ewen, Sask. The Toronto relatives were all present at the funeral except the mother.

THE BOY WAS GIVEN TWO YEAR SENTENCE IN CENTRAL PRISON

Eli Dion Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Stealing Articles From Collier-Cunningham Co.—A Bad Record for 16 Year Old Boy.

At Police Court this morning Eli Dion was charged with unlawfully entering the offices of the Collier-Cunningham Company and stealing various moneys and articles from within. Eli gives his age as 16, but his face, which is rather intelligent-looking, would seem to point to the fact that he was about two years older. About a week ago he entered the Collier-Cunningham Co.'s office through a rear door and rifled the place, securing about four dollars in money, a set of printing stamps, and three or four gold and silver watches. The stamps he immediately proceeded to make good use of. He went to the office of the Peterborough Canoe Co.'s premises and stole a Bank of Montreal cheque-book, using the printing outfit to make out several worthless cheques. He was caught, however, before any of them could be cashed.

The boy is not a new hand at the game by any means. In fact, he has already passed two years in a reformatory school, having been sent there at the early age of 11. Even now he is wanted by the police at Midland on a charge of forgery. He was arrested in that town some time ago on that charge, but before a conviction could be made he had made good his escape from the jail, where he was confined.

From Midland he came to this city and proceeded to work the local police. The night he was arrested he made a determined effort to escape, and was almost successful. Somehow, in a manner unknown, he had obtained an old razor blade, and with this as a lever, had almost succeeded in opening the lock on the cell door, when he was discovered, and the instrument confiscated.

This morning before Magistrate Dumble he pleaded guilty to the charge laid, and was given two years less one day in the Central Prison.

ROSENEATH INDIAN BANDSMEN WEAR PAINT AND FEATHERS

Peterborough people who were at Cobourg yesterday are talking about the Indian band from Roseneath, which was in attendance at the horse show. braves from the reserve near Rice Lake have discarded the spear and arrow for the cornet and trombone, and the brand of music turned out is much better than might be expected. Yesterday the members of the band were attired in their war paint and feathers and were drawn by a pair of oxen yoked to a waggon. The Roseneath musicians had a bandstand of their own and played several selections during the afternoon.

The Indian bandsmen with their paint and feathers, and the picturesque oxen and waggon, made a big hit with the thousands of spectators, especially with the American visitors, few of whom had ever seen anything of the kind before.

HAS RETURNED FROM THE FIRE CHIEFS' CONVENTION

Ald. Buller, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, returned home yesterday after attending the International Fire Chief's convention at Grand Rapids, Mich.

The convention was very educational, Ald. Buller states, and the information he gained will be of much benefit to him in helping him with the work of the committee.

In speaking of the new Canadian Fire Chiefs' Association, which was organized in Grand Rapids, the alderman referred to it in the most optimistic terms, and can see no reason why it should not be of the greatest benefit to the chiefs of the Dominion. It is the intention to hold a meeting during the Toronto Exhibition, when all the chiefs in the Province will be notified and invited to attend. It is the intention to get the organization in good running order immediately. They have selected excellent officers, and Chief Howard will play a very important part in the association.

LARGE CROWD ON EXCURSION

About 400 Went to Cobourg With the Bowlers Yesterday

A large number took advantage of Peterborough "Bowlers' excursion, to visit Cobourg yesterday. Being the Thursday half-holiday the attraction of the Horse Show was one that appealed very strongly to the local people, and as a result, about four hundred went on the excursion. It had been the intention of the local bowlers to play a match with the Cobourg club, but as most of the players were absent at the Horse Show, the game was called off.

This is the second excursion that the Bowlers have run to Cobourg and it proved to be such a great success that it has been decided to make it an annual affair.

COUNTERED WITH A NEAT REPLY

A Peterborough man wandered into the show ring at the Cobourg Horse Show yesterday, but he was not allowed to remain there long. One of the constables showed him the way out, and while he was "beating it" a man came up to him and asked if there was anything he could do as he was the acting mayor.

"I see another one over in the ring there," remarked the Peterborough man, as he continued on his way.

At about 3.30 he returned with a young fellow in tow, but as he did not answer the description given, he was allowed to go.

SUFFRAGETTES BAULKED ON DARING PLAN IN GLASGOW

Militant Suffragists Cause Several Disturbances Throughout Britain—Several on Top of Adjacent Building Hurl Bricks Through Window.

London, Aug. 21.—There were suffragette disturbances at several political meetings in the British Isles last night.

The women made determined efforts to invade St. Andrew's Hall, Glasgow, and a crowd of their sympathizers came into violent conflict with the police, which resulted in riotious scenes.

Secretary for War Haldane, while addressing a meeting at Liverpool this evening was greatly disturbed by a number of suffragettes, who took up a postion on the roof of an adjacent building and showered bricks through windows of the hall in which the meeting was being held. Seven of the women were arrested.

At Glasgow, three rain-soaked and benumbed but still valiant suffragettes were this afternoon dislodged from the roof of St. Andrew's Hall, where the Earl of Crewe, secretary of state for the colonies, is booked to speak to-night.

Strict orders had been issued to exclude all women from the meeting, so the suffragettes decided to break into the building through the trap door on the roof.

In the middle of the night the three women secured a ladder and climbed to the roof, where they hid behind a chimney waiting to put their plan into operation.

When they were discovered they were nearly perishing from wet and cold, but they declined to come down. Much difficulty was experienced in removing them from their perilous position.

SAYS SECRECY IS THE BEST

Hon. G. P. Graham Says the Intercolonial Cannot Buy to Advantage.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—"There is no better state-owned railroad on the continent than the Intercolonial," was the remark of the Hon. G .P. Graham, Minister of Railways and Canals, who has just returned from a study of the railway and canal systems of Great Britain and the Continent. He is to make a report to the Government on the comparison between state-owned and corporation-owned roads. Long hauls and sparse population were adverse factors in Canada. Passenger rates were the same as here, but freight rates higher.

"The chief drawback to the Intercolonial," he said, "is that the details of all expenditures are made public. Every little tender is made public and contractors get a chance to force up the price. In Germany these details are not given out and the management is able to get an advantage in buying. The roads are discussed in the Landstag, but these details are not asked for. Give us less publicity and we can make the Intercolonial pay and pay well."

While in England he had an intimation from one of the largest firms there that they would be ready to build the Quebec Bridge.

The canal system he found hardly up to ours. There were no free canals, as in Canada.

CURTAIN SAVED THE THEATRE

Brantford, Aug. 21.—The Grand Opera House erected one year ago, and formally opened for the second season last evening, had a narrow escape from destruction by fire shortly after 6 a.m. yesterday. The fire is supposed to have broken out from a match or cigar dropped on the stage. The large stage was completely gutted of scenery and fittings. The fireproof curtain between the stage and the auditorium saved the latter.

Mother Kills Children.

East Grand Forks, Minn., Aug. 21.—Mrs. Anton Strause, mother of six children, residing at Tabor, 10 miles northeast of this city, killed her one-year-old daughter and three-year-old son, chopping off their heads with an axe. She then ran to the nearest neighbor to borrow a gun to shoot her other four children who were working with their father in a field. The woman was released from the state asylum three months ago.

INJUNCTIONS ARE REFUSED

Welland, Ont., Aug. 21.—M. German, K.C., M.P., to-day made application to restrain the F. H. McGuigan Construction Co. and De Muralt & Co., sub-contractors, from entering upon the property of Louise Felker and erecting their towers and poles or doing other work thereon in connection with the hydro-power transmission line.

On behalf of the township council of Gainsboro, application was also made for an injunction to restrain the contractors from erecting the hydro-electric transmission line on the highways of the township.

Both applications were refused, his honor taking the ground that the case had no features of emergency.

CONSUMPTION IN MAIL MATTER

London, Aug. 21.—C.A.P.)—Giving evidence before the postal commission at Sydney, New South Wales, Vice-President Phillips of the Letter Sorters' Association, stated that during the last twenty years eighty per cent. of the deaths among letter sorters had been due to tuberculosis. The men had contracted the disease after they entered the service. Mail matter coming from every part of the world necessarily included a vast amount of infected material. Consumptives licked the stamps on the envelopes, and a letter might come into the sorting room with enough germs to poison the whole staff.

S. A. Constitution Bill.

PRIVATE PERSONS LAY OUT CITY SEVEN MILES FROM TOWN OF COCHRANE

Piece of Property at Place Where Transcontinental Crosses the Frederick House River is Cleared and Streets Run Through.

Cochrane, Aug. 20.—At the point where the transcontinental railway crosses the Frederick River, about seven miles from here, a new townsite has been surveyed and will be placed upon the market immediatly.

The location of the townsite is chiefly due to the enterprise and energy of private individuals, as the Government had not intended to have a town at this point. The Government retained one-third of the future townsite, and in addition certain blocks of the surveyed townsite for special purposes. There is a series of streets running north and south, numbered First to Eleventh, and the two on the river front are named River street East and West. Across the town run North street, George street, Frederick street, Centre avenue, King street, Queen street and South street.

The Government has reserved two out of every six of the 1,800 lots. The Government also reserves a block of 36 lots in the choicest part of the town, near the station, for public buildings, schools, churches, hospitals, etc. At the only available place along the river frontage where it is possible to land logs for milling purposes, or that might be suitable for a mill-site, 48 lots have been reserved. For the purpose of developing a small water-power on the river, 27 lots have been reserved. There is also a reservation of 66 feet along either bank of the river. The Government also reserves the bed of the river, the islands in the river and all the water-power privileges.

The Transcontinental right of way is doubled to 200 feet where it passes through the centre of the townsite, the total area of which is 261 acres. The lots as a rule measure 33 x 120 feet, but some ranges are 125 feet deep.

The Government lots are scattered over the townsite, eight or ten in a block, and a great many of the best corners are taken. One of the Government officials said that the Government had certainly got the choicest lots.

"While the site is a nice one for a town," remarked one of the Government officials, "there is no chance of it becoming a lumber centre. The railway bridge and tracks are 75 feet above the bed of the stream, with high banks on either side.

"There is good farming country all around, but no mines or minerals in that vicinity. A town may build up from the argicultural interests around. It is all level ground and high above the river, the banks of which are steep."

On the Metagami River, 25 miles west of the Frederick House Crossing, there is another good point for lumbering interests.

LOOKING FOR GOOD SETTLERS

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, has returned from England, with good news concerning immigration prospects. There is little immigration so far to Canada from the southern part of Ireland, as the movement from there continues to be in the direction of the United States. This is largely due to the fact that the passages are usually paid by friends and relatives who have established themselves in the United States. Canada stands to get most of her continental immigration in the future from Holland, Belgium and Scandinavia, countries whish supply the finest class of settlers.

RAILWAYS IN A STRENUOUS WAR

Bangor, Maine, Aug. 21.—A strenuous war for the control of the railroad business in Northern Maine is being waged by the Bangor and Aroostook and the Canadian Pacific systems.

Potatoes and lumber are the chief commodities in the traffic which these companies are reaching out for, and last year the Canadian Pacific handled at least 42 per cent. of the entire export crop of potatoes.

That the potato business in Aroostook County is worth striving for by the transportation companies is evidenced by the fact that this county produced more potatoes than any other territory of its size in the United States, and probably in the world. Last year the shipments amounted to 15,000,000 bushels. This year the acreage has been doubled.

OPEN VERDICT IN THE SIMCOE CASE

Simcoe, Aug. 21.—Emery Shelley was not even implicated by Coroner W. A. McIntosh's inquiry into the cause of old Michael Hall's death, the jury finding that deceased met death from a bullet fired by some person unknown.

The decision was, however, in accord with Crown Attorney Slaght's presentment of facts, and which inclined rather to charging young Shelley with criminal negligence.

George Neilson identified the rifle as the one stolen from Blacksmith Paul's shop, where it had been sent for repairs. He had once killed a hawk with it at 1?2 yards.

Constable Ables said the boy had expressed a wish to see Mr. Hall's body before going to jail, and he took him over. The boy showed no emotion.

Magistrate Murphy remanded Shelley to jail for eight days.

ATTEMPTED TO BREAK JAIL

Montreal, Aug. 21.—Ten prisoners made an attempt for liberty at the Bedford Jail, at Sweetsburg, Thursday night.

The men were about to be locked up for the night by Acting Turnkey Scott, who is 78 years of age. The prisoners beat the old man over the head and so injured him that he later had to go to the hospital. His cries for help brought High Constable Boisvert, who, with his revolver, cowed the prisoners into submission. The plot was evidently all arranged, as a rope was found hanging outside a window.

GAVE ALDERMAN NICE WAD ELEVATOR AGENT TESTIFIES

Julius Barrit Says He Left $200 and Later $300 on Desk in Office of Ald. Lesperance, of Montreal, for Help Rendered in Getting Contract.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—At the sitting of the royal commission yesterday afternoon, a witness swore that he had left $500 in the office of an alderman as a return for the support he had received in selling the city the new large passenger elevator that was installed in the city hall last year.

When the last witness of the afternoon, Julius Barrit, of Cote Brothers and Barrit, was called, only a few had any idea of the evidence to come.

At first he was reluctant, but it was drawn from him that he had laid, first $200, and later $300, on Ald. Lesperance's desk in return for services Alderman Lesperance had rendered for him.

"I considered it my duty to give that man money," explained the witness. "Later on, I thought he deserved more, and I gave it to him."

Not a word, however, bad passed between the two about the money, the witness said. Ald. Lesperance had not returned the money, Mr. Barrit added, in reply to Commissioner Cannon's question.

At the session in forenoon, Ernest Belanger of the Modern Paving Company, admitted that his company generally made sixty cents a yard gross out of all their paving for the city. Belanger only got 10 cents a yard of this, and Brunet was given the other 50 cents a yard.

YOUNG ACTOR IS IN JAIL

Windsor, Aug. 21.—The matrimonial plans of Walter Pilson, aged 23, a nickelodeon actor from Toronto, were rudely interrupted by the Detroit police when Walter was arrested on a charge of having money belonging to Peter D. Campbell in his possession.

Campbell, who runs a saw mill back of Chatham, Ont., went to Detroit yesterday, and fell in with Pilson, who was to marry a waitress, who played Campbell for some honeymoon money. When searched Pilson had $34 in his possession. He is still locked up, though Campbell refuses to prosecute.

BIG CONTRACT IS AWARDED

Prince Rupert, Aug. 21.—The Grand Trunk Pacific has awarded to Foley, Welch & Stewart a new contract for the second section east of Prince Rupert. It will be 140 miles from Copper River east to Aldermere. This leaves a gap of less than 500 miles and contracts for this may be let before the end of the year.

The new contract is for approximately $10,000,000. There are several long tunnels, one-half mile in length. The line will cross Skeena by a cantilever bridge, 16 miles below Hazelton.

Held Up For Tax.

Sarnia, Aug. 21.—Several of the harvesters bound for the Canadian Northwest, who took the route via Chicago, had an unpleasant experience at Port Huron, where the United States demanded the four dollar head tax apiece. Some of the men were refused passage through the United States altogether, and were turned back by the immigration inspectors. A few returned home, but others went on west through Canadian territory.

New Steamer Under U. S. Register.

Montreal, Aug. 21.—The Richelieu and Ontario Navigation Co. will have its new boat now being built at Detroit registered under the United States flag.

Such is the decision which has been come to in regard to the reorganization of the company's service, and this is done to extend the service and to escape the vexatious delays over the coasting laws.

DISTURBANCE IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Aug. 21.—Special news despatches from various parts of Northern Mexico agree that the situation throughout that region is one of much political unrest. The Government has the situation well in hand. The trouble centres about the personality of Gen. Bernardo Reyes, Governor of Neuvo Leon, and formerly Minister of War.

One of the most dangerous elements is the alleged called meeting of all the clandestine lodges of Masons throughout the Monterey Region, who have pledged themselves to support Reyes.

President Diaz is a 33rd degree Mason.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

THE GLOBE JUSTIFIED

"The Federal Government cannot any longer evade responsibility for race-track gambling in Canada. Parliament must face the question squarely. The statute, as it now stands, according to the interpretation of the courts, is a mockery of justice. Race-track book-making is a crime in one place, but not in another. It is a crime if the book-maker stands on a box, but not if he moves about the race-grounds. The Department of Justice has failed so far, to frame a statute that will do what Parliament manifestly intended should be done. For this reason Canada to-day stands disgraced as being the resort of race-track gamblers who have been driven out of every State in the American Republic. What is absolutely illegal in New York State, in Texas, and now even in Kentucky and California, is, by the interpretations of Canadian courts, legal in Canada. Even Japan has passed a law prohibiting race-track gambling such as Canada allows. That Canada should allow it is to the shame of Canadians.—Globe Editorial.

The Globe is right and it is a pleasing thing to see a great journal "man enough" to pitch into its own side when the well-being of the country is at stake. The Ontario Government has made race-track gambling more than uncomfortable. Race-rooms are a thing of the past so far as Sir James Whitney is concerned. When lo! at the very moment of victory the Laurier Government lifts up the corpse and re-animates it, setting it upon its feet again by granting the great Metropolitan Co. of Toronto, a charter for unrestrained gambling, for that is what it means. It is no wonder the patience of the Globe is outraged. But then "morals" are not the strong point of the administration at Ottawa.

CRIME IN ONTARIO

(London Advertiser (Liberal.)

An increase of nearly thirteen hundred in the number of persons committed to the jails and lock-ups of Ontario last year, as compared with the preceding twelve months, is certainly not very encouraging to the law-abiding people of the province; yet that is the story told in the report of the inspector of prisons and charities. In commitments for murder there was an increase of nearly 50 per cent., the number charged with that crime having grown from 23 in 1907, to 35 last year. There was however, a falling off in the number of commitments for manslaughter from 19 in 1907 to 10 last year. There was an increase of six in the committals for crime against the person, the total number being 874. For this increase in crime the changing character of the population of the province is held partly responsible, while a lessening of the moral restraints of home life has doubtless also had much to do with it. To overcome this latter, improved truancy laws, better enforcement of them, and a return of proper parental control over children, are suggested. It is also thought that the instruction of foreigners in the law of the land in night schools established for the purpose might have a preventive effect. The introduction of the indeterminate sentence and parole systems, which have proved effective in the United States and elsewhere would, it is believed, have beneficial results.

O, Immigration! What crimes are committed in thy name.

THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR

If Canada builds a fleet, shall it be under the control, in time of peace, of Canadian admirals, or British admirals? That is the great question and the one which has been disturbing the Imperial Defence Conference. There are arguments for and against.

It may eventuate that this question will work its way into politics and that the political parties may take opposite sides. The Liberals will certainly maintain that the Canadian navy shall be directed always from Ottawa, except that in time of war the vessels may pass if the people so decide, under the control of a central defence committee. The Conservatives may maintain that the fleet shall be an integral portion of the Imperial fleet and shall at times be subject to Imperial direction; in other words, it shall be our direct contribution to the defence of an Empire which is one and indivisible. If the British Admirality take the latter view, the Conservative party may feel inclined to agree.

Aside from this speculation as to the attitude the parties may take, the question is one which Canadians should seriously consider. A Canadian-built, Canadian-manned, and Canadian-controlled fleet would be a national pride. If it were officered by British, rather than Imperial officers, and were to be at the beck and call of the British Admirality, would such circumstances be consistent with our national pride? Those who feel the thrill of nationality most keenly, will probably answer, no. On the other hand, there are many who will reply in the affirmative. They have every confidence that the British authorities know what is best in the interests of the Empire and of Canada, and and they also believe that a Canadian fleet under British control would be more efficient fighting instrument than if it were in the experienced hands of Canadian statesmen.—The Canadian Courier.

The fight for a United Empire has opened at last and most unexpectedly upon the sea. For many years the forces in favor of and those hostile to the project have been quietly getting ready. We are now at the parting of the ways. Shall our declaration of naval independence be allowed to proceed or shall we finally declare for one flag, one fleet? The burlesque suggested by the Laurier Government is only a matter of a moment. The great majority of the men of the overseas dominions, of which His Majesty has but lately been made the direct head, still cherish the ancient ideal of their fathers, a united empire made up of kingdoms and dominions that shall legislate for themselves in matters that concern themselves and unite for the preservation of the empire when necessity demands it. A Canadian navy as part of the imperial navy is one thing, but a Canadian navy under wholly Canadian control in time of war is another. If it is a case of learning to go alone it may pass—but who wants to abandon the old flag in war time? Why this attempt to break up a forming empire. Like many great questions this question has risen suddenly above the horizon. At the present moment it occupies the whole political sky. As for the Conservative party, it is for a fleet that will surely rally to the defence of the Empire and not for a fleet that may or may not as its destiny may hang on the word of command of a Minister of Marine at Ottawa.

WHAT DOES IT PORTEND?

Canada and Australia are rejoicing in the triumph of their independence policy with regard to naval defence. It is uncommonly hard to reconcile the principles involved in the theory of a fleet controlled by the Dominion, but at the service of the Empire. There is in such a proposition a flat contradiction in terms, but all great statesmanship is made up of the reconciling of opposites, and here is where Mr. Deakin and Mr. Brodeur have triumphed by insisting that the "colonial" fleets—we must apparently still stick to the adjective "colonial"—shall be under the control of the Dominions, which shall have the entire say as to whether they will on any particular occasion grant their services or not.—Montreal Witness.

Most people will agree with the Witness that the Canadian naval policy forced by the Laurier Administration upon the Home Government, is portentous of a coming change. It is very like the shadow of the cloud of total independence. It cannot by any possibility be construed as making for a strengthening of the bonds of empire.

A LESSON IN ECONOMICS

"The time has come," said the rural orator, unconsciously plagiarizing the Walrus, "to investigate the whole schedule." He was right. It has come. Westward in Alberta a clip approaching half a million pounds of wool has been taken from the sheep's back, and the magnificent sum of 12 cents a pound has been offered for the best of it. Over the boundary line the price is nearly double that which is in offer in Alberta, and already there are rumors that it will pay the holders better to ship the product at an expense of 17 cents a pound to Boston than to accept local offers. Under the present schedule of duties on wool our sheepmen must go out of business. Why not take a hand at Uncle Sam's own game? Time was when Ontario had a great market for pure-bred sheep in the United States. We can grow better sheep here than they can south of the line, but an unfortunate occurrance intervened and Uncle Sam put up the bars by way of a lengthy quarantine at the line. Now we sell only a corporal's guard of the live woollycoats in a year to the Yankees. Our sheep industry has been played both ends against the middle, with the inevitable result. Think of it: A sheep strays over the boundary line in Southern Alberta, and the wool on his back is worth from 20 to 24 cents. Cater him, bale back to Canada, and, presto, his fleece is worth but 10 to 13 cents. Surely there is something very peculiar here. And, at that, clothing is just as cheap in the United States as it is in Canada—some say it is cheaper—and better. What is the Government going to do about this?—J. H. S. J, in the Canadian Courier.

And yet the Globe still insists that the consumer pays the duty! The Globe is better at giving advice to Germany, France, the United States, etc., than in taking it.

Meanwhile, what will raise the price of wool in Alberta? Plainly the answer is that we shall adopt the American tariff respecting it.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Montrealers who got into trouble over the grafting scandal, were surprised to find how easy it was to corner them when the trial opened.

Father Tyrrell has the misfortune on his death-bed to be surrounded by cranks, who, while calling themselves Catholics, manifested a bitter hatred and opposition to the Catholic authority, which had corrected his religious extravagancies.—The Catholic Register.

One of the most pathetic incidents in the history of Canada was fittingly commemorated on Sunday when the monument to the Irish ship fever times of 1847-8 was dedicated at Grosse Isle. The story of the tragedy, even at this date, is deeply affecting and must always remain particularly so in the memory and history of the race so terribly concerned. It is characteristic of the gratitude of the Irish that on Sunday last the noble work of the Protestant clergy, in conjunction with those of the Catholic church, on the occasion referred to, was eulogised in many of the addresses delivered. Great disasters bring out the best that is in us all. It is unfortunate that prosperity has not always a like effect. — Ottawa Citizen.

The Post Office Department is preparing a statement respecting the free delivery of mails and the extra cost incidental thereto. It is understood that upwards of a hundred routes have been established and they are being inaugurated wherever demanded by a sufficient number and when favorably reported on by the divisional inspector.

The modus operandi in securing the service is for the people along the route—a dozen or more—to petition for it. The cost of the boxes has to be borne by the applicants while the department pays the courier. The service has been established principally in Western Ontario and in some parts of Manitoba. There has been little demand from Quebec or the Maritime provinces.—Ottawa Citizen.

Japan has a complete system of FREE rural mail and parcel delivery—not a hybrid compromise like this system.

At first, I took five tablets a day, but now I take only one tablet every two days. I am now entirely well, and thanks to "Fruit-a-tives," I give you permission to publish this testimonial.

A SHINING MARK

What Parisian Sage did for Chas S Baker, it will do for you. Read the following—

"I was so bald and such a shining mark to my friends, that I, as a last resort, tried your Parisian Sage (after trying several bottles of the highly advertising and high priced so-called hair restorers) and I am glad to say I now have a heavy growth of new hair. I am now 44 years old and I have a heavy growth of new hair after carrying my shining mark for over seven years. I gladly recommend Parisian Sage to all afflicted with baldness." Chas S. Baker, 191 Main St. East, Rochester, N.Y.

Parisian Sage, the only natural hair restorer, is guaranteed by Wm Madill to cure dandruff, stop falling hair, and cure itching of the scalp, or money back. It is the ladies' favorite hair dressing, because it adds charm and luxuriance to the hair. 50 cents a bottle. Ask Wm. Madill, druggist, about it.

James Hughes and John Beswick were crushed to death in a gravel pit at Huntsville.

Manitoba will change the management of the telephones, adopting the functional system.

THE HOOK

A poet has broken loose somewhere near Millbrook, and as a result of his cutting up, the following jagged verse appears in the Millbrook Mirror:—

There is a fat little farmer in Cavan
Who said, "There are dollars in wheat,
And I'll have them."
So he sowed a little plot
And got such an awful lot
That he can't sleep at nights
In his cavern.

HOT WEATHER MONTHS KILL LITTLE CHILDREN

If you want to keep your children rosy, healthy and full of life during the hot weather months give them an occasional dose of Baby's Own Tablets. This medicine prevents deadly summer complaints by cleaning the stomach and bowels; or it cures the trouble promptly if it comes on unexpectedly.

The mother who keeps this medicine on hand may feel as safe as if she had a doctor in the home. Mrs. C. C. Roe, Georgetown, Ont., says;—"I can heartily recommend Baby's Own Tablets as a great help to baby during the hot summer months. I have used them for summer troubles and am much pleased with the result." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box, from the Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on a double varicocele. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never lose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment. HENRY C. LOCUST.

Mars and Saturn are Now in Favorable Positions for Observation

As the planets Mars and Saturn are in favorable position for observation at the present time, Mr. H. B. Collier, 555 Weller street, will be home this evening between ten and eleven o'clock to any persons interested who would like to have a look at these planets through a telescope. ## ENGLISHMEN WERE FINED

At Police Court this morning three Englishmen were charged with being drunk and disorderly last evening near the Y. W. C. A. corner. They had been drinking rather freely during the afternoon, and as a result were feeling quite gay and giddy. The police, however, soon arrived on the scene and put an end to the proceedings.

The magistrate fined the men each two dollars and costs, or in default of payment a sojourn in jail.

HUNTER IN GOOD SPIRITS IN THE LINDSAY JAIL; NEVER REFERS TO CRIME

Lindsay, Aug 20.—"I never saw the like of Hunter during my years as governor of this jail," remarked Mr. Jackson this morning.

"He does not seem to realise his position at all. Sits around and laughs and talks and acts as though he was under no such serious a charge."

Hunter has spent nearly two weeks in jail now, and the man is in good health and bright spirits. Not for a moment does he seem to think that his wife is dead, shot by his own hand.

The homicide was sitting quietly in the corridor of the cell this morning chatting to his fellow prisoners. A few days' growth of hair on his face softened the hard lines of his mouth and jaw.

Readers of the Review who saw the photograph of the man in this paper would imagine the prisoner was a young-looking man. Instead, he is older in appearance than the portrait would indicate and the expression of his face is different. The thin-lipped mouth and expressionless eyes give an appearance of secretiveness to his face, and a phrenologist might state he was of stubborn disposition.

The charge of murder hanging over an ordinary man's head would undoubtedly have its effect on him through worry or fear or some other cause, but Hunter is not so affected. He eats and sleeps as usual, and spends the day in the corridor, attached to his cell or in the jail yard, conversation with the other prisoners is his chief diversion. He never speaks of the crime he committed.

So far Hunter has not been permitted to read a paper in which anything about the crime is printed. His eyes are weak and reading is hard on them, but he reads a little every day.

The jail is not such a horrible place to live in—like many imagine. The corridors are airy and fairly roomy and the food is good. Meals are regular and a prisoner gets lots of sleep.

Mr. Justice McMahon will preside at the fall assizes, when Hunter will be tried. Mr. Devlin, Crown Attorney, will be assisted by another lawyer.

BELMONT LAKE BECOMING POPULAR SUMMER RESORT

Special to the Review.

Havelock, Aug. 20.—Belmont Lake has been patronized more than ever this year by those wishing for sport and enjoyment, and its pretty surroundings, and its abundance of fish will continue year by year to attract a good number.

A drive of five miles from Havelock over a good road brings you to Belmont Lake, called after the township in which it is situated.

Accommodation can be had at several boarding houses situated on its shore, or a fine place can be had for pitching a tent on its high rocky shores. The lake is prettily dotted with a number of islands which present a beautiful appearance with their bountiful load of foliage, jutting up in the cool dark waters of the lake, but they are of such a kind that they are rarely used for carrying purposes as plenty of spots with the most picturesque and delightful scenery can be found on the shores of the lake.

Boats can be easily secured on the lake and fishing is good at all times during the open season.

Trawling for 'lunge will give good results, while heavy black bass will help along the catch.

The large fat dew worms and live minnow are the most effectual bait for Belmont Lake, although excellent results are got from the common fish worms.

From Belmont Lake excursions in quest of fish may be made up North River, down Crow River and up Deer River to Deer Lake, where the fishing is excellent.

The water is middling cool even in the middle of summer, and thus the fish are of a fine, firm quality.

The following are recent guests at "Lakeview House," Belmont Lake:—

W. White, H. Winnet, H. D. Armstrong, H. N. Devit, Dr. N. J. Tait, F. G. McBean, Toronto; J. Park, of J. Park, of Bradford; F. Fry, R. Seales and Mr. Adams, of Norwood; Bruce McBean, of Winnipeg, Man.; John Dawson, of Millbrook; Mr. and Mrs. George Irish, Mr. Wm. Irish and Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers, of Rochester, N.Y.; Mr. Dunbar, of Washington; Dr. and Mr. C. M. Norton, of Lansing, Mich.

THE GLOBE PRAISES SLAVERY; THE JOURNAL'S STRANGE TALK

Men Would be Better if Treated as Animals—Weird Theories Rule the Liberal Editor's Brain—Human Beings and Hogs Compared.

(The Globe, Aug. 16, 1909.)

"It may seem late in the world's history to speak a word in praise of slavery, but even that hideous institution had one good feature that has been lost sight of in the march of liberty and progress. Under slavery human beings were property, and if slavery had continued it is undoubted that many of the problems that still await solution would have been solved long ago. Because hogs, sheep, horses and cows are property, the care of their health has become the subject of much excellent legislation. Destructive diseases are stamped out promptly, sanitary conditions of living are made compulsory, and the condition of animals is rapidly becoming all it should be. If human beings were still enslaved they would have profited equally with animals in the advance of science. Meetings of slave-owners would now be considering papers on such questions as 'The Prevention of Croup in Children,' and 'The Best Treatment for Stone Bruises,' because such scourges as tuberculosis would have been stamped out on account of their destructiveness to property."

SHOULD NOT TRUSTEES REVISE THE SCALE OF PUPILS' FEES

The following statement, which has been furnished the Review by a ratepayer, may be taken as fairly descriptive of the conditions hitherto and at present required of scholars in the way of payment of fees in the Public schools of the city. It is being generally asked: "Why, in view of the great reduction in the price of school books, are not the fees of the pupils reduced?" In fact it has been stated to the Review that it would now be cheaper for the Public school pupils to buy their own books than to pay the old fees. The list of fees and privileges is as follows:

First book scholar pays 5c. per month for 10 months.

First book, senior class, scholar pays 10c. per month for 10 months.

Part Second book scholar pays 10c. per month for 10 months.

Second book scholar pays 15c. per month for 10 months.

Third book scholar pays 20c. per month for 10 months.

Fourth book scholar pays 20c. per month for 10 months.

Entrance Class scholar pays 20c. per month for 10 months.

First book scholar receives reader, slate, and slate pencils.

Second class scholar retains same reader and slate, and receives lead pencil, small scribblers, ruler and poor class of erasers.

Part second book scholar retains same slate and ruler, and receives reader, lead pencils, erasers, scribbler, two note books and pen.

Second book scholar receives reader, scribbler, eraser, pen, five note books, Practical Speller, and copy book, with common quality drawing paper.

Third book scholar retains Practical Speller, and receives dictionary, physiology, history, grammar, arithmetic, geography, pen, pencils, erasers, scribbler, copy book, drawing book, note book. (Note book and scribbler one each a month.)

Fourth book scholar retains all books of previous class, and receives new reader with pencils, erasers, scribbler and note book.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Please insert the following. It will answer an often asked query:—

"Yesterday morning a resident of Mallorytown was taken to Brockville, and there committed to gaol to await a hearing on a charge of being guilty of contempt of court in failing to obey a subpoena, issued from the County Judges' Criminal Court last October, at that time served on him."—The Kingston Standard.

WEATHER COLD FOR CONCERT

The band concert last night in Victoria Park did not attract as large a crowd as usual, owing to the weather being a little cold. The concert was much enjoyed, however, the band playing a good programme.

Lord Strathcona will be asked to be hon. president of the Canadian International and Selkirk Continental of 1912.

WAS LOST FOR EIGHT DAYS

Terrible Experience of Young Woman Near Beaver Creek—Almost Famished and Mentally Deranged

Special to the Review.

Kingston, August 21.—Eliza Woodcock, of Beaver Creek, lost for eight days, was found yesterday by her brother, almost naked, famished and mentally deranged. She will recover. Foul play was suspected when lumps of her hair and parts of clothes were found and the whole country-side searched. No explanation of her wanderings has been given.

THE KNIFE FOR THE CRIMINALS

Bad Literature, Plays and Pictures are Denounced

Seattle, Wash., August 19. —The Indiana plan of operating upon imbeciles and confirmed criminals was heartily endorsed by Dr. Daniel Phelan, of Kingston, Ont., in his annual address as president of the Prison Physician's Association before the American Prison Assocaition here today. Dr. Phelan said:—

"Not only do I suggest the adoption of energetic means to lessen the number of the already existing criminals and degenerates, but also the removal as much as possible of the more remote sources of evil. Immoral literature, plays, exhibitions, and pictures inevitably have an evil affect upon the young mind and especially upon naturally weak ones."

The delegates spent the afternoon at the world's fair.

SPECIAL PRIZES FOR ART GROUPS

The directors of the Peterborough Exhibition are offering a special prize for the art department this year. Five dollars will be given to the owner of the best group of original drawings shown at the Fair in September. There will be three drawings in each group, and they will be submitted after the following plan:—

(a) Heads from life, in charcoal.
(b) Sketch of local church and grounds.
(c) Border design in water colors.

Prizes are also being offered for children's drawings. This is being done in order to encourage the art instincts of the younger boys and girls, and should meet with great success. The group competition as mentioned first should be a great success. In fact, a large number have already signified their intention of entering, and the entry list should be well filled.

SMALL MARKET THIS MORNING

There was a rather small market this morning, most of the farmers being engaged in harvesting their crops. If the quantity of apples offered for sale this morning is any indication of the crop for this year, appearances would go to show that it was a decided failure. For this time of the year, there were very few apples offered for sale. However, those that were on hand went rapidly at 15 cents per peck. Eggs and butter sold at the same prices as last Saturday, while there was plenty of new corn at 5 cents per dozen. Baskets of small cucumbers could be had at from 60 to 65 cents per basket.

LIGHTNING STRUCK HOUSE IN KEENE

Keene, August 21. — Lightning struck the house of James McFarlane in the village yesterday and did considerable damage. The electric fluid entered a chimney and passed down into the cellar, shattering the windows and doing damage which will total about one hundred dollars.

Port Arthur is to have a militia regiment.

PETERBORO' CRICKETERS WON EASILY IN CAMPBELLFORD

Peterborough cricketers went to Campbellford yesterday and defeated them by an innings and 33 runs. Peterborough won the toss and elected to send the Campbellford team to bat. They were retired for 27 runs, George Coleman taking six wickets for eight runs. Hill did the bowling at the other end. The latter took the honors in the batting line, making 43; Gordon Campbell came next with 21, and Elliott and Coleman, with 16 and 12 respectively. The fielding of the Peterborough players was really a surprise to themselves, there being no extras to the Campbellford team in the first innings. Mr. Hill, A. Campbell and Mr. Elliott made sensational catches, while Duggan made the most brilliant attempt of the day, and although he was unfortunate enough to miss the ball it was a brilliant "stunt."

Warkworth play with the locals on Thursday next, and Campbellford on Labor Day at the Oval.

THE RACE-TRACK CHARTER CASE

Toronto, Aug. 19.—The Ontario Government will submit in conjunction with the Dominion Government a stated case to the courts to decide first, whether the province can refuse a license to parties or corporations who have secured a Dominion charter; second, has the province power to make conditions in such license, even if it is compelled to issue it. This will probably mean that the Metropolitan Racing Association cannot operate for two years or so while the case goes through the various stages to the Privy Council.

F. LUKEMAN THINKS HE CAN BEAT WALKER

Montreal, Aug. 20.—Frank Lukeman thinks that in his present condition he can beat the South African, Walker. Efforts are now being made to bring on Reginald Walker, the South African sprinter, and Bobby Kerr of Hamilton, here, at the Canadian championship track meet in "Back to Montreal" week, and there is also a chance that Cartmell, the United States crack, may also be a competitor. Kerr and Walker are expected to compete in Winnipeg on Labor Day. If they do, it is more than likely that they will be persuaded to take in the Canadian championships here on September 15th. There is the C.A.A.U. bar to Kerr competing, but it is hoped that after the conference between the Federation and the C.A.A.U. in Ottawa on September 6th an announcement will be made that will remove that. In any event, it is doubtful whether Kerr would forego a chance to meet Walker and Cartmell again because of the small difference of opinion now existing between the two governing bodies.

TWO CITIZENS WALKED WELL

Messrs. R. G. Kingan and Douglas Lundy walked a considerable part of the distance from the head of Rice Lake home on account of the breaking of a motor tire.

P. Ledue, a Sudbury [illegible], was struck by a train and may die.

SPORTING NOTES

Lukeman, the crack Montreal sprinter, is making fast time just at present. The other night he did 100 yards in 10 seconds flat.

Joseph Mertz has broken the world's record for throwing the baseball, his best throw being 136 yards 2 feet and 2 inches. The former record was held by Larry Twitchell, made in 1888, his mark being 135 yards and 2 feet.

Nap Rucker, of Brooklyn, has a record of 134 strike-outs in twenty-four games.

Christy Mathewson is now leading the National League pitchers. He has won eighteen games and lost four.

Shrubb, Longboat and Acoose would make a great three-cornered race at 15 miles. Shrubb says he will run Acoose in Toronto for $1,000 a side.

Yale Athletic Association has purchased a new field and will build a $500,000 stadium to seat 60,000 people.

Baseball critics seem to favor Philadelphia for the American League League championship because of the strength of their pitching staff.

Hamilton Tigers will miss Ballard greatly. He was one of the brainiest players in the Interprovincial Football Union.

A win for Cornwall over Montreal to-day would put the winged wheel team out of the running for the championship.

It is said that Wolverton, of Newark, will succeed Joe Cantillon next season as manager of the Washington Americans.

Hamilton sports seem to regard Ottawas as their most dangerous opponents for the Interprovincial championship.

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 20. — Jesse Cayuga, an Indian, 21 years of age, was fatally injured at a game of baseball, which [illegible] on the reserve, three miles [illegible] two In- [illegible] Thursday night. He was struck on the back of the head by a ball, sustaining injuries from which he died on the field shortly afterwards.

AN AUTOMOBILE EXPERIENCE

The returns are coming in from the car owners, who made the trip to the Cobourg Horse Show on Thursday. The experiences of one party was particularly interesting and shows that those who go down to the woods in autos have an uncertain time.

A party of three ladies and four gentlemen set out in one auto and reached Cobourg in good shape. A second party of four men followed in another car. Beyond tire troubles, in the incipient stage, all was well. On the return trip the party of seven were stalled just above Bewdley by a blow out that wrecked the starboard tire lantern. The car was hauled to the roadside to await the arrival of the one following. When it came the men, doing the right and proper thing, got out and gave place to the ladies. The smaller car was to run to Peterborough and send back assistance. It had its own time and troubles reaching home. The party by the roadside waited in vain. About two o'clock they footed it, nine miles to Fraserville, stayed the balance of the night and reached the city by train in the morning, wiser and with suspicions that the uncertainties of an auto trip are more unexpected than pleasant.

Coroner Wilson has refused permission for the setting apart of a Whirlpool cemetery at Niagara.

Master plumbers in Winnipeg have obtained an order to collect union dies to satisfy a judgment against the men.

GOOD AT PINOCLE AND FISHIN'

Messrs Fulreader and C. Mertz of Rochester have returned home after spending a couple of weeks at "Islinda," Buckhorn Lake. They took the limit of fish with them.

Mr. Mertz is the champion pinocle player of New York State, having won the championship at the last convention.

THEATRICAL

KATHRYN OSTERMAN RESIGNS.

Notwithstanding the fact that it is the ambition of every actress to be under the management of David Belasco, Kathryn Osterman withdrew from the organization after the second reading of the farce, "Is Matrimony a Failure?" The part allotted to Miss Osterman was not to her liking and not desiring to appear in anything in New York that is unsuited to her she preferred to cancel her two years' contract rather than enact a part that should be in the hands of a character actress. Miss Osterman is a comedienne as well as an emotional actress, and has built up a strong following in the west and south and during the season of 1910-11 will resume her starring tour in a new play that has been especially written for her by Arthur W. Stace and Roy Moulton, two able journalists of Grand Rapids. For the present season she will remain in New York, and appear in a new production.

A SUMMER'S NIGHT

The Sun gone down behind yon fading hill,
The dying day-breeze, all but passed away,
With deep'ning shades, now closing in so still,
Proclaim night's mast'ry of departed day;
And ghostly seem the woods, the silent trees,
That voiceless stand, and wait the morning breeze.

No longer whisp'ring beech or sighing pine,
In trem'lous tones and low, their love-tales tell;
Nor leafy arms, outstretched in fond entwine,
Do ought to break the solemn breathless spell;
And, save the hooting owl's faint call and far,
No sound is heard the silenced night to mar.

Hushed now the longing song-bird's happy lay,
Nor longer heard the drowsy insect's hum,
the throe of life awaits the morrow's day,
And Nature stern is all but overcome:
Like spell-bound marshalled host with banners furled,
The God of dreams holds fast a charmed world.

All faintly comes the lap-lap from the beach,
And stilled the wanton wavelets' merry play,
The 'fulgent moon, low-laid 'long shim'ring reach.
The slumb'ring river streaks with silv'ery light,
And, all unvexed, soft lies the Summer 's Night.

SAMUEL GOMPERS TELLS ABOUT GROWTH OF TRADE UNIONISM IN GERMANY

On the question of the rise in the prices of food, the union leaders interviewed by me are of one mind, that, while in some of the staples of the market there has been an advance, this is not the case in general. Moreover, higher prices, where they have occurred, are far from overtaking the increase in wages. Rye bread is nearly as cheap in these times as at any period in 50 years. Potatoes have in the last several years been cheaper than on the long average. Beef is about ten percent. dearer than twenty-five years ago. Hog products fluctuate year by year; at present they are comparatively cheap. Fruit is cheaper than in Great Britain. The rent money that formerly secured a habitation in the slums, which are fast disappearing in the larger cities, now commands a neat small apartment in an improved workingman's quarter. It is a matter of common comment among themselves that the attire of working people is much better than formerly. "Twenty years ago," said one of the leaders to me, "very few of our class appeared in a frock coat on the occasion of our festivals. Now, large numbers do. Their wives and daughters dress much better, and they know how to dress. Our workingmen in general take daily newspapers, and with their families patronize places of amusement. In many little ways they show proof that they are living on a higher plane than formerly.

Another feature of the new life for the workers in Germany is travel. The skilled wage-earners, especially the young men, are fond of going about in their own country from town to town to "see the world." In itself this is an education. The travelled journeyman returns to his native place, to visit or remain, with new ideas upon the questions interesting to his class—to the people. The newest methods of trade unionism are in this manner spread to the membership everywhere in the empire. So, also, as to the projects of municipal betterment and similar modern social ideas.

The newer features of factory legislation in Prussia, the union leaders hold, have almost entirely been due to the increased strength of the unions. As a matter of fact, they say if the unions do not see to it, factory laws in many cases are not enforced. The statutes, as required by the government, may be posted in an establishment, but that does not cause them to enforce themselves. Unionists inform their own officials of infractions, whereupon government inspectors are stirred up and the grievances are remedied without having an employe obliged to put his situation in jeopardy by a protest either to employer or representatives of the law. Not until the unions took on their great power, beginning about fifteen years ago, was it common in the factories to have the regulations relative to meal times, payment of wages, hours of labor, fines and penalties, etc., printed and put up on a bulletin board. It was the unions which were foremost in carrying on the long fight—especially against employers in the textile trades—which resulted in the laws now preventing the employment of children under 13 years of age at all, and of children between 13 and 14, more than six hours a day. The laws, recently passed, protecting women from night work and certain forms of overwork, were long discussed in the labor organizations and demanded of the Reichstag before their adoption.

The government now recognizes the right of organization for all wage-workers, except servants and agricultural laborers. The disabilities of these classes the unions are striving to remove. The laws in regard to sailors have been amended in the last few years, giving the men a larger liberty in carrying out union purposes.

This progress of trade unionism in Germany, and its consequent beneficial effects to large masses of the working people, are in total violation of Socialist party, gospel and dogma, as interpreted by the old school and its leaders. Things have not worked out according to the cataclysmic scheme of its prophet. "The proletariat" were to sink deeper and deeper into misery. Conditions, by the very viciousness of competition, were perforce to be worse before they could ever be better. But impious interferers have clogged the wheels that were to grind the workers down, reversed the capitalistic machinery, and actually caused it to turn out better wages, better conditions — in a word, a better life than ever. A general strike was to be the form of the social explosions. It was to be followed by a reconstruction of the society thus shattered. But, on the contrary well-planned strikes, in trades organized to treat with employers intelligently, have rendered the bulk of the German working classes indifferent to the politicians' theory of the general strike. In many another way, through municipal or other social improvements, to which I shall refer in a future letter, has the German wage-worker seen life made easier for him. All this means that he is gradually taking a place along with the other classes in the higher civilization of our day. He lives in an age which witnesses the greatest production, the most wealth, the highest general intelligence, and the best reasons for hope for his class that the history of the world has recorded. Large numbers of the German workingmen are actually, in appearance, mode of living and individual development generally, becoming among the best looking of Germany's people. They are losing the distinctive type of the drudge. These achievements have come in spite of government and "capitalistic" antagonism as well as social pessimism.

NOISY WEDDINGS.

Boisterous Prelude to Marriages in Old Rothenburg.

They love music in Rothenburg, and it is an incident of most functions, public and private. In front of the rathhaus, when wedding formalities are going on inside, hired musicians loudly drum and trumpet, whereat the people come running from all directions, for a wedding is not carried on with the quietness which would please the shy and retiring. Marriage is a sacrament neither lightly nor secretly entered into.

On the night before the wedding it is considered de regueur to hurl old pots and pans against the house of the bride with boisterous good wishes, and without these delicate attentions a bride would really feel slighted. Her two best friends wait upon her during the din and give her a wreath and a veil and some verses composed in her honor, and that the verses are curiously like those offered to brides in the past, except for necessary change of name, is not at all a drawback. Weddings are usually on Tuesdays, and they take from 7 o'clock in the morning till 4 or 5 o'clock in the afternoon, including the time at the town hall. At the home there will likely be a play given in which are set forth the supposed foibles of the bride and groom, and some friend, masquerading as a gypsy, will come in and give whatever kind of prophecy best accords with his wits.—Robert Shackleton in Harper's Magazine.

HOW THE NATIVES OF THE PHILLIPINES SET FIRE TO BUILDINGS TO MAKE WORK

Ald. Buller, who has returned home from attending the convention of fire chiefs at Grand Rapids, Mich., tells an interesting story of the way the natives in the Philippine Islands set fire to the houses there. Arson is a common offence there, but the crime is committed with an object in view somewhat different from the usual purpose. When work is slack among them they set fire to buildings and secure employment in the rebuilding of them. The coming of the Americans to the Islands brought American methods of fire-fighting, and the city of Manilla now has a well-equipped fire department. The chief of the department was in attendance at the Grand Rapids convention and had something of interest to show those assembled. He explained that the fire department in Manilla had a hard time finding out the reason why there were so many fires in the city. Fires broke out repeatedly, and how they started was a mystery. But the mystery was cleared up at last. One day the firemen were called to a fire, and when they arrived they found it was smouldering in the roof. On investigation they found a wooden arrow stuck in the dry palm leaves, which formed the roof of the building. Then the secret came out. The natives had been setting fire to the buildings, and here's the method they employed. Near the tip of an arrow they tied a cigarette, and back of it they tied two or three matches, the ends bearing the sulphur touching the cigarette. Then they wrapped a piece of cotton soaked in oil around the cigarette and matches. The cigarette is then lighted and the arrow is shot into the roof of a house or some other place around a building, where it will not be observed. It will be fifteen or twenty minutes before the fire reaches the matches and starts the conflagration.

The Manilla fire chief had one of the arrows used by the natives to start fires at the convention, and it attracted a great deal of attention.

SECOND CHARGE LAID AGAINST THE PRISONER AT COURT TO-DAY

Wm. Fallon Was Charged With Having Stolen Watch From John Lee—Case Was Remanded Until a Week From To-day.

A second charge has been laid against Wm. Fallon, the youth who was implicated in the hold-up in Central Park Civic Holiday. On the first charge Fallon was to have been sentenced to-day, but when court opened this morning Chief Rozel had another charge laid against him. This was with regard to the stealing of a silver watch from John Lee, a farmer, who lives near Millbrook. It alleged that Fallon took Lee's watch from him, and after scratching off the maker's name, wore it as his own.

Fallon pleaded not guilty to the charge, and the magistrate remanded him until next Friday, in order that the owner of the watch may be brought from Millbrook to identify it.

Y.M.C.A. BOYS FROM LAKE SIMCOE TAKE ONE HUNDRED MILE TRIP

Party of Young Men Visited This City To-day After Taking a Long Trip in a War Canoe From Orillia to This City.

A party of young men from the Toronto Young Men's Christian Association camp at Lake Simcoe were in the city to-day. They came down through the chain of lakes in a large war canoe and reached Lakefield yesterday. The journey of a little over one hundred miles was completed in about six days, which, when the number of portages is considered, is very good time.

The canoe is a type of the typical summer resort war canoe. It is large enough not only to take the entire party, but also to carry all the baggage and cooking utensils. The party starts on its homeward journey this afternoon.

THREE PRISONERS WERE TAKEN TO CENTRAL PRISON YESTERDAY

They Will Serve Periods of From Two Months to Two Years—Dion Will Serve the Longer Sentence.

Three prisoners were sent from the local gaol to the Central Prison at Toronto yesterday. The three prisoners were taken to the station in a cab, and were then handed over to a Government man, who took them on to Toronto. He had already five or six other prisoners with him when he received the local trio, and it is altogether likely that by the time he had reached the Queen City that he would have collected five or six more at the intervening stations.

Of the three prisoners from this city, Eli Dion, a boy of ten years, is to serve the longest sentence. Some days ago he broke into the office of the Collier-Cunningham Company and stole several dollars' worth of goods, besides four dollars in cash. As this was not his first offence by any means, the Magistrate gave him a sentence of two years.

The other two prisoners were sent up for a somewhat similar offence. They entered a house belonging to Mr. Lamirey and stole a quantity of goods from the house while the inmates were absent. They will have to serve periods of between two and six months in the same place.

LOCAL FIRE STATION COMPARES FAVORABLY WITH ONES ALD. BULLER SAW

Ald. Buller, who is home from the fire chiefs' convention, at Grand Rapids, Mich., saw many fire stations in Grand Rapids and Detroit, and says that the Peterborough department is better than nearly all of them, as far as general cleanliness and condition of the equipment are concerned. At the convention the importance of a fire department having a chemical engine was emphasized time and again.

Ald. Buller is of the opinion that Peterborough should have one.

There was a great exhibiting of fire fighting apparatus at the convention, which was attended by over 600 fire chiefs.

The convention closes to-night.

ANOTHER PICTURE SHOW WILL BE OPENED IN PETERBOROUGH

With three picture shows in Peterborough there should be plenty of variety for the numerous patrons of this popular form of entertainment. Mr Stanley Coon, who has been giving excellent satisfaction as operator to the Crystal audiences, announces the fact that he will open a picture show at the stand where Tisdale's confectionery store was formerly carried on, and will have one of the best services for interesting and up-to-date pictures that it is possible to secure.

The place will be attractively fitted up and will have seating accomodation for 300. Mr. Coon will buy an excellent machine, and will make a specialty of featuring the most widely sung illustrated songs. He should be favored with a splendid patronage.

DISTRESSING DROWNING FATALITY NEAR SMITH'S FALLS

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, Aug. 21.—A double drowning occurred near Smith's Falls yesterday afternoon, the victims being Mrs Harry Stephens and her sister, Miss Jessie Jones, both of Syracuse, N.Y., who were visiting at the home of Mr James O'Neil.

About three o'clock the ladies went out in a boat to fish, and that was the last seen of them alive. About half-past five a boy names Cross went on the creek also to fish. His trawl caught and when he looked into the water to find the cause of the trouble he was horrified to see the two bodies on the bottom of the stream. His trawl was caught in them. The bodies were recovered and will to-day be sent to Syracuse.

LARGE PURCHASE FOR THE FIRM OF R. HALL AND SON

Mr. Dickson Hall Has Returned From Important Buying Trip to Big Old Country Wholesale Houses — Big Shipment Expected at Early Date.

The patrons of the firm of R. Hall & Son are assured of an unusually wide range of the finest goods from the leading manufacturers of England, Scotland, France and Germany. Mr. Dickson Hall, of the above firm has returned to the city after a very extensive purchasing trip to the countries named, visiting the principal manufacturers at London, Liverpool, Nottingham, Bradford, Manchester, Glasgow, Berlin, Paris and several other cities and towns.

Mr. Hall left large orders with the various firms with which he did business for millinery and mantles, dress goods and trimmings, carpets, house furnishings, household linens, hosiery, gloves, etc.

The stock of dress goods at Hall's this year will be exceptionally large. Misses Gardiner and Reid, of the firm, are now abroad on a special trip in connection with the dress goods department, and the ladies of Peterborough will be very pleased to know that they will be able to have the most exclusive patterns as well as the latest Parisian styles.

MORE CONFIDENCE IN CANADA.

"I found the British and continental manufacturers a great deal busier than they were twelve months ago," said Mr. Hall to the Review, "and they are looking forward to a season of much greater prosperity."

"In talking to them concerning Canada I found they were gaining a much better impression fo this country and realize it has a big commercial future. The sales to Canadian buyers are increasing yearly and European goods of the very highest standard are demanded by Canadian dry goods and millinery firms to meet the demands of their patrons."

Mr. Hall said that large shipments of the goods he bought on his trip are expected to arrive here in a short time.

PRESENTATION TO MRS. D. CAMERON

A few of the friends of Mrs. Dunbar Cameron presented her with a gold-headed umbrella and a pair of cut glass salt cellars last evening. Mr and Mrs. Cameron leave for the Southern States in September, and her friends took this manner of expressing their regret at her departure. The presentation took place at the home of Mrs. Andrew MacFarlane, and was accompanied by a beautiful illuminated address. The address was read by Mrs. J. Reutland and the presentation made by Mrs. G. Hale. After the presentation, a most pleasant evening was spent in music and games.

A Seventh Day Adventist farmer at Lynden, Ont., was fined $5 for hoeing on Sunday.

AMERICAN PUBLICITY

Good Example of it Shown in London Exhibition

As advertisers the Americans are noted for being progressive. In fact they are said to be the most enterprising of all people in the matter of publicity. Mr. Dickson Hall, of R. Hall & Son, who has just returned from a trip to the Old Country, says a good instance of this was given in Selfridge's store, London, where he had Bleriot's airship and the navigator of the air himself exhibited in the window where enormous crowds gathered to witness the aeroplane and the first man who had made a successful flight across the English channel.

Bleriot reached England from France at 7 o'clock on Sunday morning and the interesting exhibit was in the window at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Selfridge is an American and opened his store in London a year ago.

GOOD YIELD IS EXPECTED

TWO LADS [illegible] DEATH ON SUNDAY IN LAKE OF BAYS

John and James Hamilton Perish and Their Brother Henry Only Escapes After a Hard Swim—Former C.P.R. Conductor Loses His Life at Schreiber.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—John and James Hamilton, sons of Rev. R. M. Hamilton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Weston, were drowned near the Wawa, Lake of Bays, Muskoka, on Sunday.

Henry Hamilton, twin brother of John, saved himself by swimming ashore.

The three boys were in a canoe when it upset. James and John were expert swimmers, but they locked themselves in a deadly embrace and sank, while Henry struck out for the shore, which he reached safely.

The double drowning occurred two or three miles from the Wawa, near which the Hamilton family have been camping for a couple of months. Mrs. Hamilton went up with the boys when the season opened, and Rev. Mr. Hamilton joined them about three weeks ago.

James was 15 years of age, John and Henry, the twins, 17. Another brother, Gordon, aged 19, is purser of one of the boats of the Niagara Navigation Co., and did not go with the other members of the family to Muskoka.

Drowning at Schreiber.

Fort William, Aug 23.—Geo. Ross, for some sixteen years C. P. R. conductor on the east end, but latterly a butcher of Schreiber, was drowned yesterday a few miles east of Schreiber. He was out with Crown Timber Agent Oliver of Port Arthur in a canoe and upset. He leaves a widow and six children.

Two Women Drowned.

Smith's Falls, Aug. 23.—A double drowning occurred at Jasper, six miles from here, Friday afternoon, the victims being Mrs. Harry Stephens, aged 28, and her sister, Miss Jessie Jones, aged 21, of Syracuse, N.Y., both of whom were visiting in the village at the house of Mrs. James O'Neil.

About 3 o'clock the ladies went out in a boat to fish in the small creek, and three hours later were found dead by a boy.

Found Body at Lewiston.

Lewiston, Aug. 23.—The swollen body of a man was taken from the river here last evening. It is supposed to be that of Augustus Spohr, 18 years of age, who while swimming in the river near the Maid of the Mist Landing on Monday last, was swept into the rapids. He was last seen alive near the spot where Capt. Webb lost his life, and afterwards his body was seen floating in the Whirlpool.

A Narrow Escape.

Newport, L.I., Aug. 23.—Four men had a narrow escape from death late yesterday afternoon when the 51-foot cabin launch Allegro caught fire and burned at a point about three miles east of Brenton's Reef lightship. Thrown into the water by the capsizing of the tender in which they had taken refuge from the burning launch, the four kept themselves afloat for nearly an hour until rescuers arrived.

FOUR SLAIN IN A RIOT

Deputy-Sheriff and Three Troopers Killed at Pittsburg—Steel Company Strike

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 23.—After almost a day of quiet, rioting broke out last night at the plant of the Pressed Steel Car Company, Schoenville, a suburb, in which one deputy-sheriff and three state troopers were killed.

Shortly before 9.30, a mob of strikers gathered in front of the swinging gates of the stockade, and began a concerted attack. The state troopers resisted and in the melee Harry Exeter, a deputy-sheriff, 50 years old, was shot and killed by a supposed strike sympathizer.

In an effort to arrest a man picked out of the crowd as the one who did the shooting, State Trooper Smith was killed by a revolver bullet.

Two other troopers on foot were also shot and killed, falling into the arms of their comrades.

The state troopers then opened fire on the mob in a volley for the first time since the inception of the strike.

Six strikers fell to the ground at the first round, three of them reported fatally wounded.

The members of the mob then opened fire with rifles in return. Several troopers are reported to have been wounded.

An ambulance which was carrying the wounded troopers to a hospital was later attacked and the driver was forced to flee. The frightened horses plunged through the crowd, knocking down several persons. A detachment of troopers drove the ambulance to the hospital.

Among the seven casualties reported was that of Harry Eckley, an ex-policeman serving as a deputy-sheriff, whose only relative, a sister, is said to live in Toronto. The information comes from Jack Laroque, one of the escaping Canadians, who fraternised with him at the plant.

KING EDWARD NEARLY MOBBED

London, Aug. 23.—King Edward was assured by the authorities that he would not be molested at Marienbad this season, but he was so badly mobbed the first day that he had serious thoughts of leaving immediately. The nuisance has been mitigated somewhat since, but it is still pretty bad, and the officials are constantly kept on the qui vive by visits of the King's suite.

Edward is walking much more than usual and is playing croquet daily to the satisfaction of his physicians. This year among the ladies most acceptable in the King's entourage is Maxine Elliott, the actress.

The King is leading the simple life at Marienbad, rising at 8 a.m. to drink the waters, while walking to the golf course, after breakfast giving three hours to correspondence and state matters, then after a simple lunch more walking, a little croquet, more waters, an early dinner and to bed at 11 or thereabouts.

Operated on Booth's Eye.

London, Aug. 23.—Gen. William Booth, who returned to London from the automobile tour because of the effect on his eyes, underwent an operation Saturday afternoon. The surgeons found one eye badly poisoned.

The general bore the operation well, and is now as comfortably as could be expected.

35 Million Barrels of Apples This Year.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 23.—Thirty-five million barrels, or 12,000,000 barrels more than in 1908, is the estimated apple crop of the United States and Canada this season, according to Ren H. Rice, secretary-manager of the second National Apple Show in Spokane, Nov. 15 to 20.

LATE TICKS FROM WIRES

The steamer Senator was sunk in collision with a freighter near Detour, Mich.

Ten men attempted to rob a large jewellery store in Cheapside, London, yesterday.

Theodore Pletsch, of Niagara Falls, N.Y., attempted suicide by slashing both wrists.

Port Arthur will expend $10,000 in the extension of the local telephone system and improvements.

Fire did small damage to the chemical laboratory of Queen's College, Kingston, on Saturday.

Several villages in the State of Victoria, Australia, have been submerged by floods, and great damage has been done.

Lord Strathcona in Montreal spoke most hopefully of the prospects of rapid progress for the Dominion on Saturday.

New York chemists, working at Muskegon, Mich., are said to have perfected a process to utilize the waste liquor from paper mills, thereby much reducing the cost of making paper.

Friends of "Fritzie" Diehn, who is wanted at Tilbury, Ont., for robbing a bank messenger, planned to rescue him from the officers bringing him from California, but the plot was discovered.

A movement is on foot to get what is known as a city regiment of militia established in Sault Ste. Marie. It is proposed now to form by enlistment a full regiment of garrison artillery at this point.

Hon. Geo. P. Graham arrived at Brockville and was interviewed regarding the Long Sault power dam scheme. He said the question would have to be considered with the interests of the whole people in view, and the importance of St. Lawrence navigation was paramount.

BOY SNATCHED A WOMEN'S PURSE

Kingston, Aug. 23.—While walking near Cataraqui Bridge Saturday night, Mrs. James Esford had a purse containing $4 snatched from her by a boy. She gave chase, but he escaped. From description given, Constable Davies placed a lad, aged 13, under arrest a couple of hours later and he admitted the theft, but had spent all the money and thrown the purse away. He also admitted stealing $12 from a young man who went in bathing at Lake Ontario Park. He has served a term in the Industrial School at Mimico, for theft.

MUST GET $1,200 OR STAY SINGLE

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Everybody knows that bank clerks have to rise to a certain fixed salary before they are allowed to marry.

As the result of an order issued by the general manager, those clerks who happen to be employed by the Molsons Bank have had the barrier raised considerably.

It is just $200 harder to get married now. The young man who aspires to enter the bonds of matrimony must now be receiving $1,200, not $1,000, as has been the case.

Looking Over Canadian Field.

Montreal, Aug. 23.—Richard Burbidge, manager of Harrod's, the London, England, departmental store, is in the city, and his presence may mean that the big London house may start up in Canada. He refuses to discuss the question, but admits that he is here on business, and will visit Toronto, and the west.

ORILLIA IS VISITED BY CONFLAGRATION

Destruction by Blaze Will Reach Half a Million—Tudhope Carriage Works Burned Out, Thompson's Bakery, Walker's Foundry, and Ten Residences Are Destroyed.

Orillia, Aug. 23.—Half a million dollars went up in smoke Saturday afternoon in a fire which started at 2.15 o'clock in the paint shop of the Tudhope Carriage Co., and destroyed the entire plant, as well as about a dozen other buildings. The insurance is roughly placed at about $250,000.

The blaze inaugurated in the paint shop of the big Tudhope works. Although the plant closes at noon Saturdays, three or four men were still at work in this section of the plant when a sudden cloud of dense smoke enveloped them, and they had to hurry for the stairs. By the time the alarm was given, this building was thoroughly on fire, and despite the efforts of the fire brigade of 16 men, with scores of volunteer workers, it ate its way through the works and spread to surrounding property.

D. C. Thompson & Co.'s bakery, Walker Bros.'s foundry and ten residences were also burned. Most of the contents of the latter were removed in time. J. R. Eaton & Son's planing mill was saved, after heroic efforts on the part of the employes.

Luckily there was little or no wind or the whole town might have been devastated. Barrie sent a fire engine and men by special train, and Midland was in readiness to send a detachment. The local water pressure, which is from the waterworks, was excellent. Firemen were on duty all night, and even to-day the ruins were smouldering. The cause of the fire is still a mystery.

The Tudhope Co. estimate their loss at from $400,000 to $450,000, with insurance about one-half, distributed among thirty insurance companies, in amounts ranging from $3,000 to $15,000. It is fully expected that they will rebuild. The company employed over 300 hands, and has been the town's greatest industry. It was established in 1865 by Wm. Tudhope, having its beginnings as a blacksmith shop. In 1876 J. B. Tudhope assumed control.

Bad Fire at Glencoe.

Glencoe, Aug. 22.—Glencoe had a disastrous fire early this morning, when four of the leading business houses were wiped out, together with their contents. The buildings destroyed were the John Roy McRae Block, occupied by W. E. Currie, grocer, loss $6,000, insurance $3,700, and James Wright & Sons, hardware merchants, loss $10,000, insurance $5,000; one-storey building occupied by J. E. Boome, grocer and shoe merchant, loss $4,800, insurance $1,500 and the Bell Telephone Office, loss $500, insurance $300, and the McCreary Building, occupied by F. Mayhem & Co., as a general store. The loss on this building was $7,000 and the insurance $3,000, while the loss to Mayhem & Co. is $18,000, and the insurance $13,000. Other losses are: Miss Parish, $400; C. J. Mills, $700; Traders' Bank, $250; Mrs. Mary McAlpine, $500; D. J. Thompson, $400; J. Y. Foster, $150.

Million Loss, at Decatur.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 23.—A score of business buildings were burned and a dozen others were damaged yesterday by a fire that swept along the business portion of East Main, Merchant and Water streets. The total damage is placed at $1,000,000, with insurance of about 80 per cent.

The fire burned from 1 o'clock this morning until sunset to-night, and was the worst in the history of the city.

Elk Lake Church Burns.

Elk Lake, Aug. 23.—The Anglican Church, The Toronto World Building and an inhabited tent were completely burned in less than thirty minutes during the time of morning service yesterday. The church was insured for $1,100 on Friday last.

Train Goes Through Bridge.

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 23.—There is no truth in the story that Grand Forks, B.C., is in danger of being burned by bush fires. There was a small bush fire east of that town last week, which burned a few haystacks and fences, but that's all.

Owing to a bridge burning out on the Great Northern, a couple of miles south of Darts Saturday, a passenger train from Marcus to Spokane, with engine, mail car and combination baggage and passenger coach, went through the bridge, the engineer being unable to stop his train. Two coaches are a total wreck, having caught fire after the accident.

No one was killed or even seriously injured. The passengers were tossed about pretty badly.

$1,500,000 Loss at Monterey.

Mexico City, Aug. 23.—Fire Saturday night destroyed property in the business centre of the City of Monterey to the value of about $1,500,000.

The whole business section of the city was threatened, but escaped destruction largely because there was no wind.

The fire started in the establishment owned by the son-in-law of Gen. Trevino, commander of the Monterey military zone, and the opponent of Gen Reyes, and it was first thought that it was the work of political malcontents, but investigation showed that it was due to defective wires used for lighting purposes.

THREE KILLED IN AUTO RACES

Indianapolis, Aug. 22.—Three more lives were sacrificed Saturday in the mad speed carnival which has inaugurated the great Indianapolis motor speedway.

One mechanician and two spectators paid the penalty of their lives to satisfy the extreme desire for speed.

The fatal accident came when a National Car, driven by Charles Merz, in the three hundred mile race lost a tire and crashed through a fence into a group of spectators, spreading death and destruction in the wake of its wild plunge.

The dead are: Claude Kellum of Indianapolis, mechanician in the National Car; Ora Joliffe, Trafalgar, Ind.; James West.

Foreigner Killed by Train.

New Liskeard, Aug. 23.—W. Goyer, a foreigner, was struck by the first section of freight No. 14, going south, and died two hours later. The accident occurred about two miles south of this place. Papers found upon him show that he was a former employe of the Grand Trunk, and was insured against accident by the Grand Trunk Railway Insurance of Canada. He had been living at Uno Park and, being without friends or money, started to walk south.

TO CHART THE SEVEN SEAS

New York, Aug. 23.—Starting out to chart the seven seas, the non-magnetic yacht Carnegie glided from Theboe Basin, at the foot of Twenty Third street, Brooklyn, in tow of a tug, shortly before noon Saturday.

The Carnegie, the first ship of her kind, was constructed at a cost of $125,000 for the use of the department of terrestrial magnetism of the Carnegie Institute, of Washington, D.C. She was built for the purpose of surveying oceanic areas and determining distribution of magnetism in those areas, in connection with similar work undertaken on land by the institute and the Government.

It is stated that Josh Vickers, the woman's husband, has been arrested on suspicion of being connected with the crime.

WELLMAN'S SECOND DASH TO POLE ENDS IN FAILURE

Chicago Newspaperman Finds Favorable Opportunity and Starts Big Dirigible From Spitzbergen, But Provisions Get Adrift.

Camp Wellman, Spitzbergen, Aug. 15, via Hammerfest, Aug. 23.—Walter Wellman's second attempt to sail over the North Pole in a balloon has resulted in failure. The giant dirigible balloon, America, in which Mr. Wellman and his party of three set out upon their perilous flight to-day met with a mishap after it had proceeded about 32 miles from the starting point.

Mr. Wellman and his party succeeded in making a landing without injury to any member of the party and returned to this point on board the steamer Fram, which also towed in the disabled balloon.

After a long preparation and waiting for favorable weather, the opportunity came to-day, and Mr. Wellman decided early in the morning to make the start. It was 10 o'clock in the morning when the great airship was brought out of its shed and the daring explorers took their places in the car. When the anchors were cast loose, the airship ascended beautifully, the engines were set in motion and everything seemed to work to perfection. The big air craft was manoeuvred for some time and answered the helm perfectly. Then its head was turned to the northward and it set out at a speed of 25 miles an hour.

Suddenly, after having covered some 32 miles, the leather guide rope to which was attached a thousand pounds of provisions and stores, broke away. The accident occurred just as the airship was nearing the pack ice off North Spitsbergen.

Released from this great weight, the airship shot upwards at a terrific pace until it was at a great height above the clouds. The pilots succeeded, however, in bringing her down near the ice and commenced their flight southward against a strong wind. The airship proceeded slowly southward to the edge of the pack ice, where the steamer Fram was anchored.

After much difficulty a tow rope was gotten aboard the Fram, which started immediately to tow the airship to Spitzbergen. The strain was so great, however, that it threatened to tear the car to which the rope was attached to pieces, and Mr. Wellman finally decided to bring the airship down to the surface of the water.

But the ill-luck of the expedition was not yet at an end. Just as the airship had reached the landing stage and everything looked favorable for its rescue without serious damage, a sudden gust of wind caught the big inflated bag broadside on and snatched it away from its tow lines. It was carried careening over rough ice hummocks for some distance, and then it exploded.

Mr. Wellman will return to Norway next week. He says the airship was not seriously damaged and can be repaired, but that any further attempt this year is impossible. He is enlaring the balloon house to accommodate a longer and more powerful ship for future use.

COMMISSIONER REID IS DEAD

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—Robert Reid, transcontinental railway commissioner, died suddenly on Saturday at Ogunquit, Maine, whether he had gone ten days ago to visit his family, who have been summering there.

Mr. Reid, who was 53 years of age, had been a member of the commission since its organization in 1904. Prior to that he was a manufacturer at London, Ont. He was 53 years of age and leaves a son, who is a student at McGill, and two daughters.

Mr. Colin McIsaac, one of his colleagues on the commission has gone to Ogunquit with the commissioners' private car to bring his remains to Ottawa.

A despatch from Yorke, Me., says that Mr. Reid was attacked with illness late last evening while he was playing cards in the hotel with his wife and friends. Suddenly he exclaimed: "I cannot see the cards," and Dr. Barlow of Montreal, a friend, who was nearby, seeing that Mr. Reid's condition was serious, ordered him removed immediately to his apartments. The physicians pronounced his illness due to cerebral hemorrhage.

SIX HUNDRED AT ROCKLIFFE

Ottawa, Aug 23.—When the Dominion Rifle Association opened to-day it is probable that more than six hundred marksmen will be at Rockcliffe ranges. This is by far the largest entry in the history of the meeting, the previous record being 437. Sixty cadets are taking part, and every Province in the Dominion will be represented.

An interesting couple from Chatham are Pte. J. W. Smith and Lieut. Neil Smith, father and son. The former has been to Bisley twice and the latter three times.

Major W. C. King, of Bowmanville, is here for the twenty-sixth year in succession.

HILL'S SON SLEEPS OUT

Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 23.—Louis W. Hill, president of the Great Northern Railway, and a son of James J. Hill, was compelled to spend a night this past week in a haystack. He started from Helena to Great Falls in his automobile. Near Fort Shaw the machine stuck in a mud-hole.

Mr. Hill applied to a settler for a bed and supper, but was told that he could find a bed in a nearby haystack and that he could help himself to refreshments at the pump.

When he did not appear here on time a searching party started toward Helena. They found the automobile in the mud-hole, and a short inspection of the nearby neighborhood revealed Mr. Hill and his chauffeur asleep in the haystack.

RUSSIAN CITY IS BANKRUPT

St. Petersburg, Aug. 22.—Baku, the rich oil magnates' capital, is municipally bankrupt.

For three years the oil companies, a majority of which are Swedish, English and Belgian, have been pressing the Russian Government to compensate them for the destruction of their property, amounting to $15,000,000, during the recent revolutionary uprisings. Their charters entitle them to be protected, but the Government now pleads force majeure.

The companies who own all the property on Baku, have therefore stopped paying local taxation. The schools are closed and the teachers are begging charity. The city employes are unpaid and have gone to look for work as harvest hands.

The finding of bits of dress and hair near Beaver Creek lead to the belief that Miss E. Woodcock was killed by a bear.

LATE NEWS FROM MANY LOCALITIES

U. S. to Get Preference.

London, Aug. 23.—Rear Admiral Bucknam Pasha, naval adviser to the deposed Sultan Abdul Hamid, and formerly a steamship commander in the Pacific mail service and later in the employ of the Cramp Shipbuilding Company of Philadelphia, was in London Saturday.

England and Germany, he said, were rivalling each other in trying to obtain concession, but the Government, fearing the latter's political influence, will give America preference.

Playwright Is Arrested.

New York, Aug. 23.—Theodora Gerard, the "cigarette girl" in a comic opera, who caused the arrest of George F. Brownson-Howard, the young playwright and magazine writer, at the stage door of a theatre last night on complaint that he had threatened her life and forced her to give him a ring, regretted her action when the case came up in police court Saturday and sought to call the whole thing off.

Alpine Death Roll.

London, Aug. 23.—The Alpine season is now in full swing and is bringing the usual toll of death and disaster. Six cases of death or disappearance were reported Saturday.

There have been sixteen other deaths since the beginning of the month, while fourteen were reported in July.

Big Barn Burned.

Woodstock, Aug. 23.—Fire, which started from a mysterious origin early Saturday, destroyed the fine bank barn of Ex-County Councillor T. E. West, on the eastern outskirts of the city, with all of the season's crops, four horses and other stock. Insurance $2,000. It is thought that a tramp set fire to the barn.

Former Toronto Man Killed.

Windsor, Aug. 23.—James Wilcox, aged 35, unmarried, employed as a yard conductor in the yards of the Michigan Central at West Detroit, was crushed to death between two cars Saturday night.

Wilcox came to Detroit two years ago from Toronto, where he has a sister, Miss Nellie Wilcox.

Change in Telegraph Rates.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The Postal and the Western Union Telegraph Companies announced Saturday that they have postponed until Dec. 1, the application of the new rule making cipher messages payable at the rate of five letters to the word, instead of ten, as at present.

Fatal Fight Over Dog.

Charlotte, N. C., Aug. 23.—Reese Huck, a prominent farmer, was shot to death and four others were probably fatally wounded in a feud fight growing out of a controversy over a dog, at Huntersville, 12 miles from here, last night.

A DISAPPOINTMENT

(The Montreal Star.)

The veil of secrecy still hangs over the proceedings of the Imperial Defence Conference; but through its ashes, it is not hard to detect the outlines of a disappointed British Government and a Colonial policy of procrastination and "patronage." It is practically certain that Britain must face any immediate peril alone. The German "scare," which brought about the Conference, and which impresses the Home statesmen as vividly as ever, has probably not had any effect whatever upon the Colonial programmes. We are to go ahead and and create a Canadian navy as leisurely as if there were no German menace in existence, and if the Germans do not wait until we are good and ready to send our home-grown Dreadnoughts across the Atlantic and join in the fray, that will not be our fault. It will only be another evidence of the rudeness of the Germans.

A SIGNIFICANT UTTERANCE

Mr. Bryce predicts a great future for Canada. The future is all right, if it did not recede so.—The Toronto Star (Liberal.)

It would be a strange thing if this downhearted remark of a responsible Liberal newspaper were quite true. If Canada, which got its great start from, and owes its beginning to, the N.P., cannot prosper with her natural resources and opportunities, she does not deserve to prosper. It is true that too much has been taken in the way of revenue taxation out of the pockets of the people when the bulk of it is for the benefit of the railway-builder and the money-king. What Ontario has got out of the enormous expenditure of recent years is less than nothing. She has been injured by the "spending" policy of the Laurier Government. Yet the bright prospects under our own sensible Whitney administration, do not quite justify the Star's doleful reflection. Perhaps, however, the Star refers to our future day of reckoning with the money-lenders. If so, the prediction is more than justified.

THE ISSUE OF THE DAY

The relation of Canada to the Mother Country is the issue of the day. It has arisen suddenly because of the result of the Imperial Conference for Defence, recently held in London. That this result has proved a surprise and a shock to the Home Government the following article from La Patrie frankly admits. What, we ask, must be the result of that check, but a weakening of confidence on the part of Great Britain in her overseas dominions as close friends and certain allies? In ten years there will be no Empire. We have hitherto been living on the hope of the fruition of a great imperial idea. That idea has not been realized. In fact, it has been negatived by the colonies, to the astonishment of Great Britain. What effect will this have in ten years? Are we to suppose that Great Britain will in any sense depend upon such a support as we propose to give her?

The article from La Patrie is so clear, and sums up the situation so fairly that we give that journal's opinion:

"The Imperial Defence Conference has finished its labors. After a long deliberation, it has finally reached the following conclusion: Each colony will maintain under its control and direction a fleet proportional to its importance and its needs. It is the confirmation of the decision of the Canadian Parliament adopted on March 29th last. Australia, having at the last moment come over to the Canadian view, no other result could be expected. WE DO NOT NEED TO SAY THAT IT IS NOT WHAT THE IMPERIAL ADMIRALTY HAD DREAMED OF (our capitals). Even in Canada, a certain number of ardent Imperialists do not disguise their disappointment. They think that Canada should have done more, and they even accuse our Government of ingratitude towards the Mother Country.'

Wood's Phosphodine, The Great English Remedy. Tones and invigorates the whole nervous system, makes new Blood in old Veins. Cures Nervous Debility, Mental and Brain Worry, Despondency, Sexual Weakness, Emissions, Spermatorrhoea, and Effects of Abuse or Excesses. Price $1 per box, six for $5. One will please, six will cure. Sold by all druggists or mailed in plain pkg. on receipt of price. New pamphlet mailed free. The Wood Medicine Co. (formerly Windsor) Toronto, Ont.

Then La Patrie adds that the Montreal Gazette appears to regret the result, that the Winnipeg Tribune openly blames Quebec, that the Montreal Witness regrets what has taken place. Then the journal adds that the Globe, the Toronto Star and the World agree with the Government's view.

The Conference apparently has decided, thanks to the "colonies' and M. Brodeur, against a united empire. We cannot believe, however, that the people of Canada willl not yet assure the Imperial Admiralty that its dream has not been in vain.

LAURIER AND THE SCHOOLS

(The Toronto News.)

We have to thank La Presse for the definite statement that in 1905 Sir Wilfrid Laurier went out of his way to impose separate schools upon Saskatchewan and Alberta. Not long ago the News asked why Sir Wilfrid Laurier did not leave the new Provinces under the operations of clause 93 of the British North America Act; La Presse replied that "Clause 93 concerns only the old Provinces, and has nothing to do with the new ones.' To this the reply is, that if such were the case it would have been easy to have enacted that it should apply to the new Provinces as well as the old, and as a matter of fact, the amendment which the Conservative party moved to the Autonomy Acts was to this effect.

LAURIER HAD A FREE HAND.

But La Presse goes further and argues that by the supplementary British North America Act of 1871 the Parliament of Canada was given a free hand in the matter. It was open to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, it says in effect, to grant a general constitution to Saskatchewan and Alberta, a constitution which would contain no restriction with regard to Roman Catholic schools so that "no power on earth except the vote of the local authorities would be able to-day to introduce there the element of separate schools.'

THE "CONSTITUTIONAL OBLIGATION.'

Ontario Liberals will do well to ponder this assertion. When Sir Wilfrid Laurier included a charter of separate schools in the Autonomy Acts, the electors of Ontario were assured that a legal obligation to do so rested upon Parliament. During the London and North Oxford bye-elections, for example, Liberal speakers insisted that the action taken by the Laurier Government was due to the constitutional necessities of the case. In Parliament itself legal arguments to this effect filled the air. Now that it is all over, La Presse blandly assures its French-Canadian readers that there was no legal or constitutional obligation, that the Laurier Government had a blank cheque, that it was perfectly open to it to leave the decision for or against separate schools to the people concerned, and that it deliberately espoused the cause of separation. That the people of the Western Provinces should have the right to say what sort of schools they should maintain, La Presse regards as horrifying. Vote for Laurier, it says to the French-Canadian, because he removed the danger that the West might be free to choose for itself, because he imposed separate schools upon the West.

THE TWO-FACED CAMPAIGN.

All this is admirably in keeping with the two-faced campaign which has been waged so long and so successfully. In Ontario the old-time Liberal is told that the Government acted in accordance with an imperious constitutional obligation. In Quebec, the French-Canadian is told that no obligation existed, that the Laurier Government was free to choose its course, and that its policy is to champion separate schools, to deprive the West of freedom of choice.

WHICH SHALL WE ACCEPT?

Which exposition are the old-time Liberals of Ontario to accept? The one which is meant for them to see, or the one which it is meant that they shall not see? The Government has two policies, and two faces. The News is prepared to argue on the merits of the Laurier school policy of 1905. It maintains that the question of education should be left to the Western Provinces; that they and they alone should decide whether to maintain separate schools or to establish a system of public schools. But apart from and beyond this, the News must denounce this deceitful and mischievous duplicity, this preaching of one doctrine in one Province and the opposite in another, of defending Laurier here because he obeyed a legal injunction, of glorifying him there on the ground that, having a free hand, he stood by the principle of separation in education.

THE ISSUE.

As for the argument now put forward by La Presse, the News accepts the issue without hesitation. The amendment moved by Mr. Borden to the Autonomy Acts was that "The Legislature of such Province, subject to and in accordance with the provisions of the British North America Acts, 1867 to 1886, is entitled to and should enjoy full powers of provincial self-government, including power to exclusively make laws in relation to education.' La Presse proclaims the Liberal position to be that Parliament could have granted the Provinces full powers with regard to education, and that, thanks to the Laurier Government's aversion to "godless schools,' it refused those powers. Let that be the issue. Let us hear no more of the contention that the Government was constrained by legal necessity. On the one hand, the champions of the separate schools resolved to fasten them upon the West; on the other, those who believe in leaving the West to choose for itself. It now is admitted that the Laurier Government acted from policy, not from necessity.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The Maritime Provinces are still loudly complaining of the west's robbing the east of its young men. Except for the railway kings, who can't wait, and the speculators, the development of the west is at the expense of the east.

Lord Strathcona is reported as saying that Canada will yet lead all the colonies in the matter of imperial defence. Canada will never submit to the Laurier programme.'

La Patrie has cuts of four nonogenarians in its issue of Aug. 20, all in the village of La Prairie. One is 95, one 92 and two are 90 years of age. The French-Canadians rank with the Bulgarians for longevity. The record of La Prairie is not an uncommon one in Quebec.

Mr. Jefferson had not been altogether an exemplary husband and father, but he possessed certain engaging qualities which secured him many friends and made his death the cause of sincere mourning to his widow. "Mis' Jeff'son, she's done broke up over Eb'nezer's bein' took off fr'm de pneumony," said one of the neighbors.

"She sutt'nly is," said another—"mournin' around de house all de time, she goes. Why, day befo' yistday, I was thar helpin' her, an' she only stop cryin' once, an' dat was to spank little Eben for takin' m'lasses out'n de jug right into his mouf when her back was turned.

"When she's spanked him good an' set him down she says to me, 'He makes me t'ink ob his pa so much I cyant bear it!' an' bus' right out cryin' ag'in."

STRUCK BY AN ENGLISH VIPER

London, Aug. 21.—An extraordinary occurrence is reported from the moorland district near Chatsworth House, which the Duke of Devonshire visited after attending a fair at the hilly village at Daddington, near Buxton. The medical officer of health for Chesterfield, Dr. Herbert Peck left to carry out certain investigations. He had two of his children with him, and was explaining to them certain botanical specimens which he had secured. Seeing what he thought was a common grass snake moving through the bilberry bushes, he attempted to pick it up to show to the children, but being an ardent naturalist as well as a botanist he immediately noticed that the reptile was an English viper. Before he could get away it fastened itself to his wrist and struck him three times, the virulent poison being injected into both his hands.

Dr. Peck at once endeavored to suck the wounds, and applied a ligature. His trap was some distance away, and a good deal of time elapsed before he reached Ramsley Lodge, Lower Baslow. Dr. Edleston, who was hastily summoned, found the medical officer in an alarming and collapsed condition. He applied all the usual remedies, and sucked the wounds himself, but ordered the immediate summoning of friends from Chesterfield, where the greatest consternation prevailed, as the victim is a popular and able officer for nearly the whole of the surrounding local authorities joining up to the city of Sheffield.

Later in the afternoon Dr. Edleston reported there is now a chance fo the doctor's life being saved. It will be some time, however, before he will be able to be removed from Ramsley Lodge to his home at Chesterfield.

LINES ON SPORT

Derocher played his usual good game on the coaching lines on Saturday. He was alive all the time.

The Strathconas say they will give the T.A.S. a warm run next Saturday. Manager Metheral will have a strong team, as all his players who have been holdaying are in good shape.

W. O'Brien and Crowe made nice catches in centre field and got a free hand from the fans.

When one of the pitchers was in a bad hole a fan asked him how the game looked from where he was up in the air.

Toronto has 42 games yet to play.

The T.A.S. is going to hold a big athletic meet at Riverside Park on Labor Day.

Toronto has still a dim chance for first place, but it needs no prophet to predict that they won't get it.

Pitcher Lee leads the Toronto club in the batting line. He has a percentage of 429 for eight games. Mitchell is second with 309 for 90 games, and Grimshaw third, with 296 for 95 games.

Weidy uses colored glasses when playing in the sunfield at Diamond Park. Thoney used them when he played that position—left field—for Toronto.

Herman Schaefer made his first appearance in Detroit in a Washington uniform yesterday, and was given an ovation each time at bat. He was presented with $100 in gold by Detroit fans. He scored Washington's only run on his triple and Unglaub's single. His fielding also featured Washington's play.

Bobby Kerr has returned from England. He gives no excuse for his defeats in the games there, saying that he was fairly beaten.

If the T.A.S. beat the West Ends and the Straths in their next two games they will have the championship cinched. If, however, they only win one of the games they will have to play off with Park Street again for first place.

Henri St. Yves denies the fact that he was a waiter in France before he took to the running game. He states that he was a chauffeur for the Renault Company.

Langford has been matched to fight Tommy Burns at catch weights, and Hugh D. McIntosh will pull off the mill either in England or Australia next winter.

John Burke, catcher for the Canadian Locomotive Works baseball team in Hamilton, had his nose broken in peculiar fashion while practising. Two balls were being used in knocking out. Burke was catching a ball from centre field when the first baseman threw the second ball at him, catching him in the face, breaking his nose and damaging his eyes. The first baseman had failed to notice that Burke was trying to catch the ball sent up.

Jas. McGuire will succeed Lajoie as manager of the Cleveland American Baseball team.

Rube Kissenger shot out Rochester Saturday without a hit, thereby establishing a record for the Eastern League.

The Strathconas will practice at the oval to-night. A full turnout of players is expected.

Physical Instructor Roper is commencing to make things move around the Y.M.C.A. Three or four athletic meets will be held this fall, and Mr. Roper has a team ready to go to Toronto to enter a tournament.—Brantford Expositor.

KERR BACK TO HAMILTON FROM THE OLD COUNTRY

The Hamilton Herald says:—

Bobby Kerr showed his usual modesty yesterday when he slipped into the city without even his closest friends knowing that he was here. It was thought that he would be home last night or this morning, but no person expected him home at noon yesterday.

Kerr is looking as fit as he ever did in his life, and had a much better voyage coming back than he did going over. It will be remembered that he was sick for three days on the way over, and as a result was far from being in shape when he landed in England. He encountered rough weather all the way, but the return trip was much better as the sailing was smooth.

Bobby has nothing but words of praise for the treatment he received in England, and thinks that the sports over there are conducted on a splendid basis. Every place he competed at he was given a great reception, and his victories were as popular as if he had been an English athlete.

Kerr offers no excuse for his defeat in the English championships, and says that he considers Cartmell and Walker two of the best sprinters that ever wore a shoe. He was beaten fairly, but the fact that he defeated Cartmell a week later in much better time than was made in the championships shows that he was not at his best in the big races. Cartmell defeated Walker after Kerr defeated him, so dope it out as to which is the best man.

Kerr won ten prizes during his stay in England, and the trophies that he brought home are certainly worth going after. For winning the 100 yards race at the London A. C. games on June 13th, Kerr got a silver rose bowl, and for winning the 100 and 200 yard races at Birmingham he received a beautiful gold watch and a rose bowl. At Stourbridge he won the 100 yards and received a gold watch and chain, and for winning both sprints at the Ireland vs. Scotland games at Dublin he received gold medals. For running second in the 220 at the English championships he received a silver medal, and for running second in the 220 race at Wolverhampton he was given a silver cup. His third prizes are a gold ring and a gold cup and were both won in handicap events, the former at Edinburgh and the cup at Belfast.

Kerr has not yet decided just where and where not he will run in Canada. He has received dozens of invitations to compete at various meets, but as he will go back to work next week he will not accept very many of them.

He does not know as yet whether Walker will come to Canada or not. The last time he saw the South African the latter was not in a position to state just what he would do, but he promised to cable Kerr as soon as he made up his mind. He promised that if he came to Canada he would come to Hamilton and race Kerr here or in Toronto. Walker's expenses were paid to England, but if he comes to Canada he will do so at his own expense, until some of the athletic clubs here wish to bring him out.

T.AS. BALL TEAM HAVE ARRANGED TO PLAY LINDSAY

Local sport lovers who intend to spend Labor Day in the city will find ample amusement at the T.A.S. field day of sports at Riverside Park. The feature event will be a ball game between the T.A.S. and Lindsay. Big Bill Cinnamon, the most famous promoter in the Midland Counties, is bringing down a capable bunch of huskies to do battle with the Abstainers. Negotiations were closed today, and a game with the Scugog exponents of the game is assured. The sprints and other events will likely bring out a crowd of good ones, and with any kind of weather a bumper crowd will attend. Announcement of the events will be made in a few days.

RECORD GATE AT LACROSSE MATCH

Special to the Review.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—The gate receipts at Rosedale grounds Saturday Toronto-Tecumsehs, made a new record for a lacrosse match. The amount taken in was $4,782.

RUGBY

It is learned in Ottawa rugby circles that Walter Smaile and Ernie Hamilton fully intend playing football this season with Montreal. Smaile played on the defence of the Wanderer hockey team last winter, and with the Montreal lacrosse team in 1908. Both however classed themselves as genuine amateurs. What the interprovincial governors will have to say should Montreal endeavor to play the pair is hard to say. Should they be declared illegible Ottawa will promptly seek for the re-instatement of Hal Kennedy and Jack Ryan. Both Smaile and Hamilton are backs and it is in that department Montreal needs improvement. Smaile is one of the best rugby players in Montreal.

The Galt Rugby Club are the first organisation in the field this season, having held their annual meeting already.

The following officers were elected:—

Hon. Pres.—Andrew Newlands.

Hon. Vice-Pres. — Ald. A. M. Edwards.

President—Dr. Daikn.

Vice-Pres.—W. Gourlay, jr.

Sec.-Treas.—R. E. Capniff.

Management Committee—R. Green, J. Fraser and W. Ducker.

It was decided to enter a team in the Inter-Provincial junior series.

LOOKS FOR A SETTLEMENT

To the Sporting Editor of the Review.

Sir.—Your article in the Review about the Turf Club-Agricultural Society matter, re the rental of the grounds, and other matters, seemed to me to be a fair statement of the case, and I was much pleased with the article. I am sure that the matter will be adjusted without any serious ruction.

Yours truly,
TURFMAN.

The G. W. Green Manufacturing Co. Shipped Carload of Machinery for the Toronto Exhibition

The G. W. Greene Company shipped a car load of saw-mill and lathe-mill machinery to-day to Toronto to be shown at the Exhibition, which opens on the last of the month.

The machinery manufactured by the local company is forging its way ahead and is gaining a splendid reputation. The exhibit will no doubt make a good impression at the Exhibition.

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIES IN WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Auf. 20.—George A. Mitchell, of the firm of Lyall, Mitchell Company, well known building contractors, died suddenly this morning at his residence. Mr. Mitchell had been ill for six weeks, being troubled with weakness of the heart, and for that period had been unable to attend to his business duties. Few men in the business and social world of Winnipeg for the last third of a century have been better known or enjoyed a wider circle of friends. He was born in 1857 at Peterborough.

As stated in the despatch above, Mr. Mitchell was a native of this city, being born here in 1857. For some years he was employed as a dry goods clerk in one of the local stores, and then took a position with the Wm. Toole Co., who had a sash and door factory, where R. Hicks now is. Mr. Mitchell left for the west some thirty years ago, and soon became a highly influential citizen in the city of Winnipeg, where he located.

HELD MEETING IN THE TENT

The Salvation Army started holding its meetings in the tent yesterday, which will be temporarily employed during the improvements that are being made to the barracks.

There were good attendances at the meetings.

His Unlucky Day.

"I tell you what it is," said an old cynic—"I am firmly convinced that every man has his particular days for good and bad luck. Monday is my unlucky day. I have been watching it for twenty years, and nothing can shake me in this belief. I never begin any enterprise, no matter how trivial, or start on any journey on that day. Therefore I make Monday an off day and do nothing but potter round the house. Even in these little affairs everything goes wrong.

"Take the record of last Monday, a fair average, and be convinced: Smashed finger while nailing board on fence. Fell down cellar stairs with coal scuttle. Fell over wheelbarrow while carrying stepladder. Sat down on chair where children had been sucking toffee. Got swindled by peddler. Got thumb pinched in gate. Dropped smoothing iron on foot. Baby got out in yard and was butted by strange goat. Tax man called. While eating supper square yard of ceiling fell on dining table. Went to bed to escape further disaster. Had nightmare. Thought I was falling from top of Eiffel tower. Fell out of bed and broke arm. Looked at clock and saw it lacked fifteen minutes of midnight. Lay still till clock struck 12. Was afraid if I moved before Tuesday was ushered in would have broken neck. Yes, indeed," concluded the man, "Monday is my unlucky day, and I approach it with feelings akin to terror."—London Tit-Bits.

IN THE SLEEPING CAR.

He Meant Well, but He Tickled the Wrong Toes.

"It's strange how I always manage to get in wrong—not in the wrong berth, just simply in wrong—whenever I travel on a sleeper," remarked Frank B. Duncan of Pittsburg.

"It seldom fails," he went on. "When I get into a Pullman section it's just a question of what's going to happen. I always know it'll be something. Now, take, for instance, the other night when I started here. Right across from me were a nice looking little woman and her small son, a lad perhaps ten years old. I was afraid the kid would turn out to be one of the noisy kind and keep me awake that night, being so close to me. But he was a well behaved little chap, and I slept that night like a top.

"While I was dressing the next morning I could see a little foot sticking out between the curtains across the way. I felt so grateful to the kid for not keeping me awake that I wanted to make friends with him, and I reached over and grabbed one of his toes. 'Wee, wee, wee,' I says, chuckling to myself.

"'Sir-r-r,' I heard a woman's voice reverberate just then, 'will you leave my foot alone?'

"Just then the porter came running up, and before I could explain I heard her telling him that that fellow across the aisle had attempted to get familiar.

"How was I to know she had such a dainty little foot? Oh, well, if it had not been that, something else would have happened. I never knew it to fail on a sleeper."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

A Delicate Hint.

Sandy and his lass had been sitting together about half an hour in silence.

"Maggie," he said at length, "waana I here on the Sawbath nicht?"

"Aye, Sandy, I daur say you were."

"An' wasna I here on Monday nicht?"

"Aye, so ye were."

"An' I was here on Tuesday nicht, an' Wednesday nicht, an' Thursday nicht, an' Friday nicht?"

"Aye, I'm thinkin' that's so."

"An' this is Saturday nicht, an' I'm here again?"

"Well, what for no? I'm sure ye're very welcome."

Sandy (desperately)—Maggie, woman, dae no begin to smell a rat?—Success Magazine.

The Black Spruce.

Time brings revenges, even in the timber trade, and a humble conifer long treated with contempt seems literally to be on the point of getting a rise in the world. "Hitherto the black spruce," says the Dundee Advertiser, "has been despised by our few British foresters as of meager commercial value, the yellowish timber being soft and easily indented, though very light and long of grain. It has lately been discovered that by virtue of the last named two qualities this tree furnishes by far the best wood for aeroplanes. As yet the black spruce has rarely been planted by our sylviculturists save for ornament or shelter."

The Bow Melodeon.

One of the curious concerts of the season in Berlin was that by Richard Grunwald of Budapest. He played the zither and the bow melodeon. The latter instrument is about like a large violin fastened firmly to a table, and the artist played the Mendelssohn concerto and the Sarasate "Faust" fantaisie on it. The chief value was that of novelty.—Exchange.

Lost Island.

On the northwest coast of Australia the maps show an island some thirteen miles long by one mile wide. This has just disappeared, and there is now an average depth of forty-eight feet of water over the area where the island once stood.—London Mail.

A washing compound known as "snap" is now being manufactured in Montreal. "Bill" Metheral has ordered a can of it for the Strathcona base ball nine.

We desire to write you in reference to quality, so that in case of any person questioning same, you may know exactly where we stand in the matter. It has always been our aim to supply the very best value possible to our customers, and of late, as there has been a great many inferior lenses placed on the market, we wish to assure our customers that we are supplying them, as in the past, with the very finest quality of uncut lenses, that can possibily be procured for Optical Purposes. We are not even content with our own test as to quality, but have it verified by experts, and to avoid any chance of error, we are keeping our stock clean of any of these inferior lenses.

The Toric uncut lenses we supply you with, are also the First Quality, in these we carry only Bausch & Lomb grade, which is considered, we believe, the best on the continent.

HOW PETERBORO' COMPARES IN PRICES PER HORSE POWER WITH ADJACENT TOWNS

The Lindsay Warder says:

For some time past the Lindsay Light, Heat and Power Co. although it is not generally known, have been in the habit of making a considerable reduction in the cost of motor power to new industries desiring to locate in Lindsay.

This is a great benefit to the town, providing new industries can be secured or induced to locate in Lindsay. The reduction made by the company is 12 1-2 per cent. to any concern using twenty horse power and over, making a net rate of $17.50 per horse power delivered at the motor.

The company, it is understood, wish to work in conjunction with the Board of Trade and do everything possible to secure new industries for Lindsay.

The new rate $17.50 per horse power compares favorably with any town in Canada. There is only one manufacturing concern in Lindsay that enjoys the reduction in motor power, viz., the Madison Williams Co., but all other concerns wishing to locate in Lindsay and using 20 h.p. will be granted the reduction in price. As was stated in the Warder a few weeks ago the company reduced the rate on all motors from one to ten horse power, which means a saving of a large amount of money to the citizens of Lindsay each year.

The company has twenty-six motors under ten horse power in service in Lindsay. The following will show the motor rates in Lindsay previous to the reduction which went into effect on July 1st.

One and two horse power $45 per year.

Three horse power $40 per year.

Five horse power $30 per year.

These prices have all been reduced to $30 per year. The present rate per year for motors over 10 horse power is $20.

The following table will show the rates in Peterborough from one horse power up.

From one to five horse power $40 per year.

From five to ten horse power, $30 per year.

From ten to fifteen horse power, $25 per year.

From twenty horse power and up $20 per year.

Orillia is the only town in Ontario where exceedingly cheap motor power is being offered and that is due to the fact that they have a municipal plant with no taxes of any kind to pay which would reduce the price easily to $5 per horse power. The rate per motor charged in Orillia is $16 all around.

It will be clearly seen by the above prices that the rates in Lindsay compare favorably with other towns.

FISHERMEN WORRIED ABOUT "WORMY" BASS IN OTONABEE

Fishermen are complaining about "wormy" bass in the Otonabee river. They say that there are more of them this year than ever before, in fact it is said that very few bass have been pulled out this season that were not "wormy." Both above and below the city the trouble exists and the anglers hardly know what to make of the situation, as the bass at Stony Lake, Rice Lake and at Chemong lake are all right. A gentleman said to the Review to-day that it was hardly worth while for the Government to be spending money for the protection of the kind of bass there is in the Otonabee.

The fishermen are wondering if something cannot be done to improve conditions. It is not a pleasant thing to catch a nice bass and then find that it is "wormy." But this is just what has happened scores of times this season, and in other seasons too for that matter.

A COUPLE OF INCIDENTS IN CONNECTION WITH APPEAL FOR AID

Englishman Collects Money on Behalf of Lemon Family and Then Pockets Proceeds—Another Contributes Bad Half Dollar to Fund.

The appeal for aid in behalf of the Lemon family, as published in the local papers some time ago, seems to have given rise to a number of interesting incidents. First of all, a young Englishman, imbued with a certain amount of twentieth century enterprise, receives an inspiration from the appeal, and proceeds to put it into realistic form. He arms himself with a nice subscription list and proceeds to thoroughly canvass the town for help for the Lemon family. From door to door he goes and, armed with his subscription list, he makes great headway.

Presently a list of the givers is published by Mr. Finch Miller, and of the many people who had given, only a few names appeared. Complaints came rolling in, and shortly afterwards there arrived a communication from Mr. Miller stating that no one had any authority whatsoever to collect money for the Lemon family. The Englishman was a fake; he was getting money under false pretences.

And now for the second incident. This morning another gentleman from across the water became inspired. He went lightly into Mr. Miller's shoe store and inquired as to whether the Lemon fund was still open. On Mr. Miller replying that it was, he asked him if he would accept fifty cents for it. Mr. Miller replied that he would accept "anything and everything," and at the words the Englishman plunked down a half dollar and hastily departed.

Wondering somewhat at the evident haste of the man, Mr. Miller examined the half dollar with great care, and was not long in deciding that it was a bad one. Nevertheless, wishing to make certain, he took it to a local bank and had it examined, where he was told that without doubt it was worthless.

As to what motive the Englishman could have had in offering a worthless piece of silver, it is hard to say. Evidently he knew what he was about, as he refused to give his name, and insisted on being designated only as a friend. Whatever the reason, it was a small trick, and is only exceeded in its meanness by that of the false collector.

THE CANADIAN WEST AND ITS RATE OF PROGRESS

Mr. F. R. Hunter, travelling representative for the Gould-Amsbury Sales Agency of London, England, is in the city to-day on business. Mr. Hunter has been through the principal cities of Eastern and Western Canada during the past three months. He states that he has travelled through Australia, India, South Africa and New Zealand, but that the Canadian West offers an unparalleled example of general prosperity. He also thinks the East presents business opportunities in many lines, but says it cannot be compared with the West in any way except as a convenient residential section.

NAME PLATES DISCOVERED ON COFFINS AT CENTRAL PARK

While Digging at New Armouries Workmen Found Two Name Plates, the Writing on One of Which, However, Was Unintelligible—Coffins in Bad State of Decay.

The man was right who said, "you'll be a long time dead." Sixty two years is quite a length of time to lie buried to the world, but when one has reached that record of time and is just turning over for another snooze, it seems a little cruel, that he should be poked in the ribs with a teamster's shovel, and gathered up in a basket to be transferred to another resting place. Such, however, seems to have been the fate of one, Denis Daly.

Saturday afternoon when the men were busily engaged in levelling the ground at the side of the new armouries, one of the workmen heard his pick strike something metallic. Digging with great care, he soon discovered the outline of a coffin and shortly afterwards had unearthed a medium sized black one. The wood of the case was so rotten and worm eaten, however, that it could not be raised, but a tin name plate was found, on which were painted the following words in large black letters:

DENIS DALY.
Died, Aug. 14th, 1847.

This was followed by some more lettering, which was unintelligible, owing to the bad state of decay of the plate. Only a few parts of the skeleton were brought to light, the rest evidently long since given away to the ravages of time.

Another name plate was also discovered, but it was so badly rusted and broken that none of the printing on it, could be made out.

NEW FIRM FOR CITY

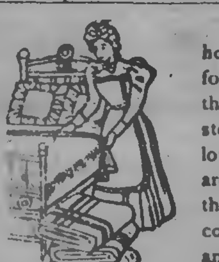
"Special Tailors, Limited,' capitalized at $40,000, have been granted a charter by the Ontario Government, according to Toronto despatches, and will start a business in Peterborough. Local tailors are interested in the company. Details as to the location and who will be the directors are not yet forthcoming, but will be announced later.



Undoubtedly there are seasons of the year when the housewife's mind turns to things pertaining to the comfort of her family and herself. Naturally the home is the first place she starts to inspect—she looks over her stock of bedding, such as blankets, comforts, quilts, pillows, pillow cases; and beds, too, that need replacing are shoved out and replaced with bright, new ones. All these things add to the comfort of a family during the cold winter weather and help to make home homelike and cheerful.

The thrifty housewife will be on the look-out now for bedding sales, window displays of all kinds, and the moment her eyes greet this class of goods her whole attention is centred there. In Cressman's just now, the centre of attraction is this self-same home-making sale of bedding. The Maish laminated cotton-down Comfort is in evidence on both the main and third floors, in all the different grades, colorings, styles and sizes, from the baby's bassinette size to the large double bed Comfort.

Then you greet the blankets in the various grades from the white and grey flannelette, to the heavy wool blankets for zero weather. The pillows and cases, too, are shown there in abundance along with sheets, white spreads, etc., also lace and net spreads at very low prices.

A trip to the third floor on the safety elevator will be interesting as well as educational to any woman or man who are interested in what is doing in the bed world. A very fine range of low, medium and high grade iron and brass beds are on display, showing the very latest styles of the season; also an immense stock of dainty bedroom papers, in all the new 1909-10 effects and wall treatment. Special prices on many lines of bedding are attached throughout the store. It's time now to look, whether you buy or not. Try Cressman's again this year—satisfaction is assured.

MISSIONARY GAVE A TALK

Mr. Bennet a Returned Missionary From India Spoke Yesterday

At George street Sunday school yesterday afternoon Mr. Bennett, a returned missionary from India, gave an interesting talk. Mr. Bennett has for the past seven years been stationed at the city of Behart, and has returned to this country for the purpose of raising money to continue his work. He will lecture this evening in the Sunday school room under the auspices of the Epworth League, and his subject will be "The Political Condition of India To-day.'

Of this subject, Mr. Bennett said yesterday that there is such a great unrest among the natives of the country that in the near future there will be a mighty uprising, and if that is the case, the 75,000 British troops now in the country will be swept out of existence. If England wants to keep her colony, the standing army will have to be doubled at least.

During his talk Mr. Bennett was enrobed after the manner of a high Indian noble, and using a number of small brass idols, went through the morning prayer service of an Indian family. Mr. Bennett will show a number of curiosities at his talk this evening.

PROGRAMME OF SPECIAL INTEREST

Friday of this week, being the last Friday in August, the concert to be given by the 57th Regimental Band in Victoria Park that evening will likely be the last of the season. In view of this fact, Bandmaster Gliddon is making arrangements to have an unusually attractive programme, and the public is assured of a treat. The band will hold a special practice this evening, and it is important that all the members should be in attendance.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

SANDY—BARNECOTT

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 17th, at 2.30 p.m., in Trinity church, Aylmer, when Emma L., eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barnecott, John street north, was united in marriage to Mr. Frank Sandy, of Peterborough, Rev. Chas. Miles officiating. The bride looked very pretty in a white costume, with white chip hat covered with daisies, and carried a shower bouquet. She was given away by her father. Miss Annie Barnecott, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of pale blue cobweb silk, trimmed with baby Irish lace and insertion, with blue and white hat, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. Mr. T. L. Barnecott, brother of the bride, very ably assisted the groom. After the service, the wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, after which the happy couple left on their honeymoon trip up the lakes. The bride's travelling suit was of plum colored broadcloth, with hat to match. ## THE HYMN-BOOK THIEF UNKNOWN

Nothing has been heard of the person or persons who committed the outrage at the evangelistic tent some time ago. It will be remembered that on a Sunday afternoon, between the hours of five and seven, somebody entered the evangelistic tent on George street, and played havoc with the interior fittings. Benches were thrown about and chairs overturned and lastly a large number of hymn books stolen. Of what use the hymn books could be to the thief it is hard to state, but at any rate, they are still missing, and nothing has been learned as to their fate.

LAD IN KILTS BROUGHT TEARS TO OLD EYES

Lindsay, Aug. 21.—A little child dressed in Highland costume, kilts, plaid and all the rest of the regalia, was walking along Victoria avenue the other day. An old Scotchman many years out from the Heatherland met the youngster and the sight of the beloved and once common costume of his native land caused the tears to come to his eyes. He was crying like a child when a passerby saw him.

The little child was the son of Dr. McCullough who has been in Scotland recently and who secured the complete costume for the boy. The little fellow looked jaunty in the full regalia and strutted along exceedingly happy in his picturesque garments. A flood of old memories must have come over the old Scotchman at the sight of the national garb and with the memories came the tears.

Allan Shaver, aged 12, was drowned in three feet of water at Iroquois.

St. Louis, Aug. 20.—After an operation, in which a diseased nerve was exposed for its entire length from the base of the spinal cord to the wrist, William M. Porteous, local agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway, is recovering in a hospital in Rochester, Minn., from an affliction of thirty years.

In early years the nerve became affected, he suffered continually and underwent many operations for relief. Dr. W. A. McCandless, of St. Louis, was the surgeon who performed the remarkable surgical feat. The nerve was repaired, treated and tested along its whole length before the incision was closed.

STRANGE DISEASE IN BELLEVILLE

An epidemic of what acts like acute indigestion is making many people in this city feel pretty seedy these days. The complaint hits you in the stomach and then gradually spreads to the head and the limbs, causing excruciating pains. By the time it is working at high pressure the victim begins to wish he were asleep with his fathers. The complaint feels a good deal like sea-sickness, but it is about a thousand times worse. It yields speedily to medical treatment, however. What it is caused by no one knows, and the victim doesn't care. He knows he's got it—that's enough.—Belleville Intelligencer.

500 FANS SAW T.A.S. TEAM DOWN PARK STREET NINE

Abstainers Pulled Out 11-2 Victory at Riverside Park Saturday—The Rooters Made a Big Noise—Losers Had Many Errors.

"That's what I call a ball game," remarked a fan as he wandered home from Riverside Park on Saturday after watching the T.A.S. and Park street teams go nine innings with the fur flying all the time. The Abstainers pulled out an eleven-to-two victory, and are now right in the swim for the championship. They will meet the Strathconas next Saturday, and another red-hot struggle is assured.

It may be remarked that the article of ball served up was hardly Class A brand, but the game was a sizzler for all that. The crowd the largest seen at a ball game at Riverside Park in a long time, about five hundred being in attendance. And the noise the fans did make! The rooting could have been heard at Auburn without the aid of a telephone. The support was pretty well divided, and to the credit of the fans it must be said that they generously applauded good plays no matter which team made them. The moment umpire Rosevear called "play ball," the noise started, and there was no let-up during the whole mix-up. It was a real ball game all right. Jack Rosevear, of Port Hope, did the "umping," and was all to the good. His decisions were unquestioned and he made a big hit with players and spectators alike.

Quinlan and Norman Dusty were the opposing twirlers and both served up a choice assortment of benders. The Park street mound artist had poor support, fifteen errors by the south enders, many of them at critical times, letting in a bunch of runs for the Irish. T.A.S. only had five errors and won the game on their merits. Each twirler had six-strike outs. Quinlan allowed four hits, while the T.A.S. had ten bingles off Dusty. Neither allowed a base on balls, which is pretty nearly a record.

The weather was perfect and the grounds were in good shape. Over a hundred ladies were in attendance and they followed the game with keen interest. Keep up the good work.

The following tells the story of what happened;—

T.A.S. went to bat first, and failed to do anything. Park Street started off strong. E. Pilling singled and went to third when the ball was thrown past O'Brien at first base. Jack Pilling was out, Quinlan to M. O'Brien, and H. O'Brien flew out to Callaghan. Ben Dusty was there with the timely single, and E. Pilling came home. Bell went out, Callaghan to O'Brien.

T.A.S. scored two in the second. Quinlan was out, N. Dusty to first. Doherty was safe when Crowe dropped his fly, and stole second and third, and crossed the plate on an error by Bell. N. Dusty ran down McFadden between third and the plate, "Doc" having gone to first when Bell let the third strike get away from him. W. O'Brien and Derocher both got to first on a fielder's choice, and the former scored on a bad throw by Pentland to catch Callaghan at first. Cahill struck out. The Park Street sluggers went out in order in this innings.

The Abstainers pulled out two more in the third. Flaherty singled and M. O'Brien and Quinlan struck out. Flaherty scored on an error by Jack Pilling, Doherty being safe. He came in on McFadden's single. W. O'Brien was safe on Pentland's error. Derocher went out, B. Dusty to Pilling. The Southenders also went out one, two, three in this session, and did likewise in the fourth. Ditto the T.A.S. In the fourth Bell drove out a two-bagger after two were gone. He was caught trying to steal third.

The fifth saw Park Street again succumb to Quinlan's benders in order, but their opponents did better. M. O'Brien singled and scored on Quinlan's drive for two bases. Doherty went out, pitcher to first. McFadden flew out to Jim Pilling, and W. O'Brien went out, Jim Pilling to Jack Pilling.

It was one, two, three for Park Street again in the sixth. The Abstainers added two more counters. Derocher was safe on a bad throw by B. Dusty, and got third on a misplay by Jack Pilling. Callaghan was out, Pentland to first, and Derocher was caught at third, Crowe to Pentland, after Quinlan had singled.

In the seventh H. O'Brien singled and got around to third, scoring on Bell's sacrifice. For the T. A. S. Doherty was safe when Jimmy Pilling was slow fielding his grounder. He stole second and scored on McFadden's single. W. O'Brien hit safely. McFadden was caught at third and Derocher was safe on Bell's error. W. O'Brien was caught at the plate. Callaghan was out, Pentland to first,

Park Street were blanked in the eighth and ninth. T.A.S. took three more in the eighth. Cahill was safe on Pentland's error, Flaherty singled Cahill scored on an error on B. Dusty, and M. O'Brien was perched on first. Quinlan struck out. Doherty singled and scored Flaherty. McFadden was safe on Bell's error. Doherty was caught at third base. W. O'Brien went out. B. Dusty to Jack Pilling.

The winners went out in order in the ninth. Simmons batted for E. Pilling in the ninth. He was out on a fly to Quinlan.

LONG DISTANCE RUNNING PRONOUNCED DETRIMENTAL

In view of the general interest in Marathon events, the following from the Toronto News will be of interest ;—

That long distance running is detrimental to the upbuilding of a perfect physical manhood and is vitally harmful to the majority of athletes who participate in this branch of sport is being brought to light more forcibly day by day. So much indeed that physical directors of athletic clubs all over America are discouraging it among their athletes. The local physical directors and athletes who are authorities on the game are not entirely idle in the matter as will be noted in the following interview ;—

Thomas W. Stafford, physical director West End Y.M.C.A. ;—

"We do not want to develop any Marathoners in our association at all. Such races are too harmful. A five or ten mile race is far enough for any man, and not too many of them, either."

J. J. McLeod, physical director Central Y.M.C.A. ;—

"Long distance running is too hard on any athlete and we do not encourage it around our association. We have our Harrier Club, of course, but they do not have any races over five miles. We do not want any of our men to run any race that is over 15 miles, or still better, ten miles, and no more than two in the year at that distance."

Claude Pearce, captain I.C.A.C. ;—

"I would be just as well pleased if there were no more Marathon races. I don't think a fellow who is running all season should run in a race over 15 miles, one Marathon should not hurt a fellow a whole lot through if he trains properly, but the trouble is they are not usually in condition for such a race. The medical examination before a Marathon race is a farce."

Charles Bauckham, secretary W. E. Harriers ;—

"Though ours is a distinctly long distance running club we do not encourage Marathon racing. Five or six miles is the longest we have. We have seen too much of the ill-effects of Marathon races to encourage our men to enter them. A 15 mile Marathon is long enough for any man to run."

NOT LIKELY TO RUN.

It would not be a surprise to a large number of people this fall if with one or two exceptions there would be no Y.M.C.A. entries in races over 15 miles. There has been considerable talk amongst the athletes to that effect, and when any sane person stops to consider the matter they will readily come to the conclusion that a 15 miles race is both a test of speed and endurance which really cannot be said of a longer race. Take for instance a 20 or 25 mile race, the fastest runner does not always win, in fact his chances are in most cases very slim, the strong steady runner, not necessarily fast, is in most cases returned winner. The speedy runner falls by the wayside. He can negotiate 10 or 15 miles at a good fast pace, but after that his strength gives out and he is beaten by the slow, steady runner.

Therefore a race of over 15 miles is not a test of speed, it being only an endurance test and therefore should be eliminated from athletic programmes if for that reason alone, as running races were inaugurated for trials of speed.

THE PHYSICAL STRAIN.

Then there is the other side of a long distance race. Most athletes say they do not feel any evil after effects of a long distance race. They have trained for it and were prepared for the test, but if any of them wants to find out just what it has cost him physically let him run five miles about two days after his race. He may consider himself pretty good if he does it in 30 minutes, which is rather slow time for five miles. The physical energy expended is greater than the athlete thinks. If this runner were examined by a doctor he would no doubt be very much surprised at his condition.

Melvin Sheppard, one of the greatest runners in America, remarked after his return to America from the Olympic games where he won the 800 metres and 1,500 metre races that those races took two years off his life. What then must a Marathon race do?

A big American newspaper once asked in a headline:—

"Who is fit to run a Marathon?"

The answer was "Nobody."

No human heart can be trained to a condition that will permit its owner to run 26 miles at top speed without exposing him to the danger of collapse, or bring about conditions that favor the development of disease in later life.

A POOR EXHIBITION.

Besides all this a race of over 15 miles, at the very outside, is usually a mighty poor exhibition from the standpoint of the spectator. It is a peculiar kind of interest and a peculiarly constructed person, who seeking entertainment, can sit out and enjoy a killing struggle for hours at a time between human being, wild-eyed, exhausted and gasping for their very breath.

MALACHY HOGAN ON THE JEFFRIES-JOHNSON FIGHT

Prominent Writer Gives Some Interesting Dope About the Championship Battle—Good Bids for the Contest.

By Malachy Hogan

Chicago, August 21.—Jeffries and Johnson have signed at last. That is, while Jeff's signature is still lacking on the articles of agreement, his representative, Sam Berger, signed up for him, and it is now thought that a meeting between the heavy-weights is assured.

It has been a long time since we have had a heavy-weight bout worthy of the name. In fact, the last bout that was really accepted as a championship affair between the big men was that between Jim Jeffries and Jim Corbett, at San Francisco, in 1903. The various contests in which Tommy Burns has figured had to be considered seriously, for lack of something better. But his title was never regarded as unclouded by the vast majority of followers of the ring.

Sam Berger made a flying trip to this city last week to act for Jeffries in the arrangements with Johnson.

There was little delay in the meeting. Johnson has become somewhat angry over criticism about his long delay in signing up with Jeffries, and has insisted that he was always ready to sign.

He showed this by immediately putting his signature to the articles when Berger drew them up. The only points not yet decided are the length of the bout and the division of the purse. Berger's proposition to leave the split of the money to Jeffries was accepted by Johnson. As for the length of the go, it will depend on where the men meet.

Coffroth of San Francisco, and McCarey, of Los Angeles, have both made bids for the contest, and each has suggested a forty-five-round clash. Hugh McIntosh, of Australia, and representatives of both the National Sporting Club of London and of the Cirque de Hippodrome in Paris have made bids for the match, mentioning the same number of rounds. The club in Ely, Nev., which has made a bid for the affair, suggests a finish match. If the contest is held in any other location it may be cut down to twenty-five rounds.

• • • • •

While Berger was making arrangements for the battle at a meeting attended by representatives of the daily press, Sam seemed entirely indifferent as to what the length of the bout would be. He was equally willing to sign up for a twenty-round go or for a bout of a hundred rounds. In fact, these two figures are mentioned in the articles. It probably deemed policy not to mention the bout as a "finish" affair, but to specify some definite length of contest.

Forty-five-round bouts are practically finish affairs. In fact, I cannot recall any of them going the limit. The nearest approach to it was when Battling Nelson went forty-two rounds with Joe Gans in 1906 at Goldfield, only to be disqualified on a claim of foul. So if Jeffries and Johnson sign up for a match of that length, it will be practically be equivalent to having a finish match.

It is somewhat interesting in this connection to note some of the remarks made by those interested on either side. Berger is supremely confident that Jeffries can whip Johnson and while Sam may be pre[illegible] connection with Jeffries as sparring partner, it must be admitted that his judgment will have to be regarded, as he is a boxer of considerable ability himself.

I remember when Jeffries was here last, on his most recent theatrical appearance, that some one asked Berger how long he thought a bout ought to be between the men. Sam simply smiled in confident fashion.

"Jeff isn't worrying," he said. "Give him ten rounds. That will do."

Berger unquestionably meant what he said, and undoubtedly believed that Jeffries can rush in and beat down Johnson's guard, setting at naught all the cleverness of the colored boxer. So, when a few days later I heard a remark made to Johnson in much the same vein, I awaited his answer with interest. Johnson responded very seriously and evidently sincerely—

"There's been a lot of talk about my standing flat-footed in the ring," he said, "maybe I do—but I do it on purpose. Don't you know that if you set yourself and let the other fellow rush, you lend about twice the force to your own punch? I hope Jeffries will try and rush me. I ask nothing better."

• • • • • •

His remark recalled to me the pictures of his bout with Burns at Rushcutter's Bay, in Australia, when they were exhibited here last winter. I had a talk with Promoter McIntosh on that occasion, and his remarks showed that Johnson clearly had mapped out a careful policy before entering the ring with Burns. Only in one round did Johnson charge in rapidly. This was in the thirteenth, when he beat Tommy around the ring, finally sending him sprawling in one corner.

"Johnson simply propped himself and waited," said McIntosh on that occasion. "You can see in the films how he kept his left out ready for Burns. When Tommy rushed, Johnson could either hold him off by sticking out his left and giving him a slight shove, or he would jolt him in the face. Tommy's chief blow was a right hook for the jaw. All Johnson had to do was to shove him back and let him miss or else move his head slightly, then he would uppercut with his right. He banged Tommy's jaws together so hard on several occasions that I wondered he didn't go out. Johnson just took his time."

Now, boxing a man at such a disadvantage in height as Burns and meeting a man of his own stature, like Jeffries, are two different matters. I don't think Johnson has the strength to prop off Jeffries as he did Burns. At the same time it is an open question whether Jeffries, after his long period of inactivity on the coast, as proprietor of a cafe, can stand the stomach punches which Johnson will undoubtedly send in. I do not expect to see Johnson play for the jaw in this bout as he did with Burns. I think he will go after Jeff's middle—and I believe it is right there that he will find the most vulnerable spot in the big fellow.

Berger made one remark last week which is undoubtedly true. He said that this contest will draw the biggest gate ever known in pugilism. Unless the prices are placed so high as to keep away the average patron, I think all marks will be broken in the matter of receipts.

CRICKET

The London Morning Post says that Armstrong is the finest batsman in the world. His average tops the Australians, although Bardsley, the great left-hander, who is the first to make two centuries in one test match, probably does that now. As to the bowlers, that journal makes the following interesting observation:—

"But there should have been no opportunity to grasp. The great strength of this year's Australian side seems to be their power of mesmerising their opponents into inefficiency. Their bowlers do not get wickets, as Mr. Spofforth and Mr. Turner used to by a series of tours de force, but by plugging away and waiting. Apparently our batsmen are lulled into thinking that there is no need to force the pace, and so the attack is allowed the time necessary for its success."

TRAINED TREES.

They May Be Made to Fit Any Space or to Take Any Form.

An expert can make a vine of an apple or a pear tree, a tree of a gooseberry or currant bush or a snake of either. He will twist, pinch and fondle the descendant of some mighty apple tree, with its gnarled branches and its forty foot spread, measuring, planning and nursing until instead of assuming the shape of its parent it will grow to fit some space on the side of his house, hugging the wall like a vine, or possibly will form a screen to hide his kitchen porch.

In a rich man's garden abroad we see all sorts of curious forms to which fruit trees have been trained. Some are beautiful, some are freakish, but all are wonderful. In vases, lyres, shields, crests, monograms, soldiers, beautiful maidens, the apple or pear tree and the currant bush lose their identity.

Those that are trained like vines certainly possess a distinctive decorative value. In the old days every estate in England worth while had a specimen box tree, a superior example of topiary work, which was pruned to resemble Queen Elizabeth.

In the poor man's garden abroad a trained fruit tree finds its greatest usefulness. No garden is too small for a few trees. The peasant, with a scant six inches or a foot between his walk and his neighbor's fence, still has room to plant a tree and train it against a lattice. While the necessity for maximum returns from minimum acres is not a part of our national point of view, the possibility of the training of trees as a hobby has been very much overlooked.

In Germany you can buy a tree to measure to fill in any space on your garden wall or house, just as we buy a ready made suit of clothes. While the training of fruit trees has become popular only within ten years, the formobstbaumschulen, or schools where trees are trained, are now to be found everywhere in Germany. There are commercial nurseries where experts in espalir work are constantly making new forms and creating new marvels. Certain shapes have become standard, such as pyramids, cordons, palmettos, and so on.

There are practically no nurseries in America that have taken up the propagation and sale of trained fruit trees in a serious way, and there is almost no American literature on the subject, consequently one who wished to take this work up as a hobby will be forced to look to Germany, France or England for his inspiration and for his stock.—Country Life in America.

The Antiquity of Man.

In his recent lecture in Washington, Professor Penck said that it has been known for quite a long time that in western Europe man existed during the glacial epoch. We now know that the great ice age consisted of different glacial times separated by interglacial times. In glacial times the snow line dropped 3,000 or 4,000 feet below its present level in the Alps, whereas in interglacial times it lay about a thousand feet higher than at present. Thus the temperature seems to have been higher in the interglacial periods than it is now. There is abundant evidence, says Professor Penck, that man existed during the beginning of the last glacial epoch. There is some reason for thinking that at least 20,000 years have elapsed since the last glaciation and that the man whose jawbone was recently found near Heidelberg lived 200,000 years ago.—Youth's Companion.

Hertzian Waves.

Dr. Gustave le Bon, the French physicist, calls attention to Hertzian waves as the future agent of universal peace. Hertzian waves are the electrical pulsations in the ether which are at present mainly used in wireless telegraphy, and once propagated they move in all directions. If they could be controlled and concentrated they could be made enormously destructive to material objects. Having such possible developments in mind, Dr. le Bon prophesied, according to the Paris Matin, "that the discovery of an apparatus for transmitting parallel Hertzian waves would render war impossible. For this purpose it would be necessary to use parabolic mirrors 10,000 yards or more than five miles high.

AFTER THE STORM ON THE OCEAN.

A Confession of Perfidy and a Test of Manhood.

By WILLIAM HAVEN ROSS.

The hurricane had died out, and the only trace of the storm upon the waters was the heavy swell which tossed the ship's longboat.

The sun shone with tropical fervor upon the three occupants of the little craft. Not a sail was within the perspective, and no long wreath upon the horizon gave sign of the presence of a steamship.

At the bottom of the boat, his head resting upon the lap of a young woman, a man lay. His face was white and drawn, and the glitter of his eyes told of extreme physical weakness. The other man sat upon the stern thwart and watched sea and sky with anxious gaze. The woman's face had the apathy of prolonged suffering.

"Water! Water!" murmured the man at the bottom of the boat.

"Have patience, Tom," said the woman in a mechanical voice. "We are in the track of ships and must be rescued soon."

"No," said Tom faintly. "You will be saved—you and Dick—but not I."

Dick glanced at him in pity, but remained silent. The woman pushed back the matted hair from Tom's eyes with feeble fingers, but made no reply. The look of death was on the face pillowed upon her knee.

Three days had passed since Tom and Kate, passengers, and Dick, master mariner, had abandoned the sinking bark West Wind, bound from Rio to New York. Of the fate of their shipmates they had no knowledge. They had gone without food and without drink, and the weight of sheer exhaustion had begun to deaden their senses.

Finally Tom spoke again. He looked Dick in the face searchingly and said:

"Will you forgive me, Richard? I could die happier if you would. Kate will never forgive me, but you might."

"Forgive you!" exclaimed Dick wonderingly. "Why, what have you done?"

"You always loved Kate," said Tom.

"Yes," replied Dick very slowly and after a pause, "I always loved her."

"And she always loved you," said Tom.

Dick half started from the thwart, but checked himself.

The woman turned her face away.

"I came between you," said Tom. "I did you both a wrong. But, oh, how I have suffered! You can't realize, Dick—you will never realize—the agony of mock possession, the anguish of having a wife who in her heart loathes your slightest caress. She never loved me, Dick, and I have been kind and good to her always. But what are kindness and goodness to a woman when she does not love you? Nothing, Dick, worse than nothing!"

"I don't understand you at all," said Dick. "I know that you're out of your head. Speak to him, Kate. It may quiet him."

But Kate neither spoke nor turned her head.

"No; you will understand," said Tom, with more emphasis. "I'm going to tell you something. If I were not dying perhaps you would kill me for it, but I would not care. I do not want to live unless I can have Kate."

"Have Kate!" repeated Dick. "Why, man, she's your wife!"

"No, no!" cried Tom weakly. "She never was my wife! It was only an empty ceremony that shackled her to me. She was always yours, Dick, and yours only. Soon she will be yours forever."

"Speak to him, Kate. He's raving," said Dick hoarsely. But she sat as if stone, watching the sky line.

"You see," said Tom, "she will not lie even to soothe, and she is right, for lies are useless. I knew she loved you, and I lied to keep you apart. You thought it was friendship and kindness that made you master of my West Wind, but that was the first syllable of my life. I wanted to put half the world between you two, so I made you captain of my best bark and chartered her for China. Then the lie grew and grew. It was I who had published in New York and copied in the home newspapers the lying notice that you married a woman in New York the day before you sailed. After Kate had read the lie she thought the world was at an end for her, so she married me. Now you know it all except what I have suffered. You can never realize that."

There now was a deep flush upon Kate's cheek, and Dick was bending forward, speechless and glowering.

"You won't forgive me, then?" asked Tom pleadingly. "She will soon be yours, and—and—and I've left her everything."

"Blast you and your money!" cried Dick, now upon his unsteady feet, with a threatening gesture.

But Kate, who still sat with averted gaze, put her arm across Tom's face as if to protect him, and Dick sank back sullenly upon the thwart and turned his head away too. Thus they remained for many minutes. But when Dick again turned his eyes to the horizon he could scarcely restrain an exclamation.

Far away upon the edge of the waters was a sail.

It then was but a tiny blur, but the prescient eye of the sailor saw at a glance that the vessel was southbound and sailing toward them. If the wind held in the same direction the ship would be apt to make a long reach before going about and must surely pass so near that they would be sighted.

Dick looked at Tom and then at Kate, while a battle raged in his soul. The excitement which had sustained the sick man during the morning had passed, and Dick could see plainly enough that the reaction was tugging hard upon the frail strand of life. Yet he understood that he had at command as potent a stimulant as was ever compounded by a pharmacist.

It was hope!

In an hour or two the approaching vessel would be within hailing distance. Another hour or two meant life or death to Tom. If he knew that rescue, food, drink and comfortable quarters were but a few dwindling miles away existence would grow sweeter to the wealthy shipowner and importer, and the innate love of life might buoy him through the crisis.

"Shall I speak?" he asked of himself.

If Tom died! But he tried to put that out of his mind. How he loved and had longed for the woman he faced! A flickering spark was all that kept them apart. Should he fan it into a blaze or let it go out forever?

At last Tom again opened his eyes, and, looking him in the face with a pitiful, pleading expression, he feebly put forth his hand.

"Forgive me," he whispered in a voice of utter weakness. Kate bent over and kissed him—kissed him as a mother might her child.

Dick drew a long breath, and a tremor shook him like an ague spasm.

"A sail!" he cried hoarsely and rose unsteadily. For a moment he swayed with the rocking of the boat, pointing straight ahead, and then he sank upon his knees and took Tom's hand in his own.

"Tom," he said, "rouse up, man, and listen to me. There's a ship coming. She's not five miles away. Think of it, man—something to drink and plenty to eat. Don't weaken now after all you've been through. Let the past be bygones. Live it out and be happy."

"A ship in sight!" gasped Tom. "Oh, let me see her!"

It taxed Dick's failing strength to the utmost, but he lifted him to his knees and held him thus while he looked longingly at the distant sail. For a brief space the luster of hope rekindled the fire of failing vision, but it was only for a moment. A film beclouded his eye again, and he sank back to the bottom of the boat with a gasp.

"Too late," he murmured—"too late for me!"

When Dick looked up he met Kate's gaze. It was a calm, steady look she gave him and the first since Tom began his story. Dick felt meaner and guiltier than he had ever felt before. He had to do something to distract her eyes.

"The sail!" he said, pointing over the waters. "Why don't you look?"

"I saw it," said she, "two hours ago."

"And you were waiting for me to tell Tom of it?"

"Yes," replied Kate, "and how I should have despised you if you had not."

The ship's crew answered Dick's faint hail with shouts of encouragement, and the vessel luffed up into the wind with flapping sails. A boat skippered by the mate was lowered and towed the castaways alongside the ship's quarter.

"How are they?" asked the captain as he leaned over the rail and looked down upon the recumbent figures in the boat, for Dick had collapsed.

"One man is gone, I think, sir," said the mate after holding his hand over Tom's heart.

"Yes," said Kate, "my husband is dead."

Old Stagecoach Days.

Adventures of varied nature belonged to the old English mail coach days. One of the most thrilling episodes of the road occurred one night on the way from Salisbury to London in 1816.

As the coach went bowling along the horses suddenly became extremely nervous, and what was thought to be a large calf was seen trotting along beside the left leader in the darkness. As they neared the inn the horses became uncontrollable, and then the supposed calf seized one of the animals. By this time the horses were frantic, plunging and kicking, and it was remarkable that the coach was not overturned.

The guard laid hold of his gun and was about to shoot the assailant when several men, accompanied by a large mastiff, appeared. The foremost, seeing that the guard was about to fire, pointed a pistol at his head, declaring that he would shoot if the beast was killed.

The "calf" was a lioness, escaped from a traveling show. The dog was set upon the brute, who left the horse, seized the mastiff, tore him to pieces and retreated under a granary. The spot was barricaded to prevent her escape, and she was noosed and returned to captivity.

The horse which had been seized was seriously injured by the lioness, but finally recovered.

Apricot Cake.

One-fourth cake of chocolate grated, one-half cupful of milk, yolk of one egg. Cook together until thick. Allow this to cool, then add one large tablespoonful of melted better, one cupful of sugar, one-half cupful of milk, one teaspoonful of vanilla, one and one-half cupfuls of flour and one scant teaspoonful of baking soda (put the soda in the flour). Bake in layer cake pans. Spread each layer thickly with well seasoned, sifted, stewed apricots and then over the top spread a meringue made of the well beaten white of an egg to which two tablespoonfuls of sugar have been added.—Chicago Record-Herald.

AGRICULTURE AS TAUGHT AT NORWOOD

From enquiries that have been made of the Peterborough County representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Mr. H. C. Duff, at Norwood, it would seem that many are contemplating giving up the fight against the more obnoxious weeds, such as perennial sow thistle, wild mustard and bladder campion. These weeds are not beyond successful control. All can be readily eradicated if attacked at their weakest points. Information as to the best methods of dealing with those weed pests can be had by calling on or writing to the office of the Department of Agriculture at Norwood.

Underdrainage is one of the five problems of many farms in Peterborough county. Inferior crops, drowned out crops and weeds are inseparable from land in need of draining. Part of the work of the Peterborough County representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, located at Norwood, is to render assistance in planning drainage systems, taking levels, estimating cost, size of tile, and giving any general information concerning drainage to those who ask for it. Those in need of drainage work should get in touch with Mr. H. C. Duff, the agricultural specialist at Norwood, whose duty and privilege it is to give assistance in just such matters.

Many are deterred from underdrainage by lack of funds. It should be encouraging to such to learn that they can borrow money from the Government through the Municipal Council at the nominal rate of 4 per cent for drainage purposes, the loan to be repaid in 20 years on the instalment plan. There is every reason to believe that the borrowers would receive their money back in increased returns long before they would be required to repay the loan to the Council. As a matter of fact, investments in underdrainage rarely fail to return at least 30 per cent per annum—high interest to be sure, but quite possible for all those in need of underdrainage off their farms. Write the Peterborough County representative of the Department of Agriculture, Mr. H. C. Duff, for literature and information of drainage work.

Much interest is being taken in the class in agriculture now being organized in connection with the High School at Norwood. We have it from the agricultural specialist, Mr. H. C. Duff, that already a goodly number have signified their intention of taking advantage of the instruction in agriculture to be given in the course offered. Those interested in boys who will make farming their occupation should communicate with Mr. Duff with a view to having these boys enrolled in the class to be started September 1st.

THIS WORKS BOTH WAYS

Signboards With Farmers' Names and Advertisements for Local Firms

A good scheme of indicating the residences of farmers is being adopted in this county in connection with an advertising enterprise. The name of the farmer and the concession and lot are painted on a small but noticeable sign-board, and on the same board is announced the name of some Peterborough firm.

The system seems an excellent one as an outdoor directory and also as a means of giving publicity to the company advertised.

WILL TAKE PART IN D.R.A. MEETING

Local Marksmen From the Peterboro' Rangers Left Saturday Night for Ottawa

Color-Sergeant Moore, Staff-Sergeant Bartlett and Privates Fitzgerald and Cameron of the 57th Regiment left on Saturday night for Ottawa, where they will take part in the Dominion Rifle Association meeting at Rockcliffe Ranges, which opens today and extends over the greater part of the week. There were a large number of entries, and the local shots should make a favorable showing, as each has the reputation of being a splendid marksman.

Canon Davidson, of St. John's church, died yesterday afternoon at her late residence, 30 Charles street, Toronto, after a brief illness. A prayer service was held yesterday in St. Luke's, Toronto, the church which the late Mrs. Davidson attended, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, of which Mrs. Davidson had for many years been a presiding officer. ## DEATH OF ALF B. MCMILLAN

The sad news of the sudden death of Mr. Alfred B. McMillan, a former resident of Peterborough, but lately of Indian Head, Sask., will be regretted by a large number of friends and acquaintances here. He was stricken suddenly with an attack of appendicitis on Friday last and underwent an operation, but death resulted on Saturday. The late Mr. McMillan had been residing in the west for the past four years, and during that time had made a new home for his family, and it is particularly sad that he should be called away in the eve of success. During his residence here he was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends as a result of a cheerful and amiable disposition. He was identified with the 57th Regiment and held the position of corporal of No. 1 company, to which he attached considerable credit by his fine shooting on different occasions. Shortly before leaving for the west the late Mr. McMillan was married and to his wife and young child there will be extended sincere sympathy. The members of his family residing in this city who are left to mourn his loss are his mother, one sister, Mrs. E. Eellegham, and two brothers, Messrs. Albert S. and Herbert McMillan. The remains are expected to arrive in the city on Wednesday, but fuller particulars as to the funeral will be given in to-morrow's issue.

SACRED BAND CONCERT IS SUGGESTED

A gentleman suggested to the Review to-day that the band of the 57th Regiment be asked to give a sacred concert in Victoria Park some Sunday afternoon during September. Peterborough people have not had an opportunity to hear the band in a programme of sacred music, and there is no doubt but that they would turn out in large numbers if a Sunday afternoon concert were given. The band has a fine repertoire of sacred music, and there should be no objection to a Sunday afternoon concert.

City Council To-night

The city council meets to-night at 7.30 o'clock in committee of the whole and in session at eight o'clock.

NOTES FROM JUBILEE POINT

Jubilee, Aug. 23.—The guests at Jubilee Point report very poor fishing down the river and at the lake. There were a couple of fair catches made last week, however. Mrs. "Doc" Armstrong, from Oshawa, who is a guest at this hotel, landed a ten and a half pound lunge the other evening.

Eels and catfish are plentiful at the mouth of the river, and as many as sixty-five were landed by one man on Friday night.

A party of seven from Peterborough took advantage of the nice weather yesterday and went to Jubilee for dinner, but to their surprise on arriving at the hotel, were told that if there was anything left after the boarders got through, they might have it. The party immediately left for Gore's Landing, where you are always made welcome by Mr. Harris, who is very accommodating and obliging. There is no doubt that from this out those seven young men will give the Jubilee Hotel a wide berth. This is not the first time that visitors from Peterborough have received the same treatment at this place.

BRITISH NOBLES MAY FORCE THE REJECTION OF BUDGET

W. T. Stead Says That a Group of Unknown Members of the Upper House Will Not Listen to Lansdowne's Warning—Will Cause Financial Crisis.

New York, Aug. 24.—W. T. Stead cables as follows from London to The American:—The question of questions which is exciting British politicians is the threatened revolt of "unknown Peers" in the House of Lords. As that Legislative Assembly consists of some hundred Peers who attend more or less irregularly during the season, they constitute the working House, and behind them are four hundred Peers who only take trouble to attend Parliament when some Liberal Bill of exceptional importance is to be mutilated or thrown out. As a rule there is a full muster of hereditary legislators once in five years, and it is these non-attending Peers who threaten to revolt. Their mutiny is filling the Tory leaders with alarm and the Radicals with unconcealed delight.

Lord Lansdowne, leader of the Tories in the Upper House, is a Whig by descent, and a statesman by temperament. It is known that he does not contemplate a great constitutional conflict with the Commons over the Budget. He will growl and go as far as he dares in mutilating the non-financial proposals embodied in the Budget, but there he will stop. His policy, dictated by many reasons, is that the Lords have no constitutional right to amend the Budget, and that throwing out the Budget, will fling the country into confusion, precipitate a financial crisis, and render it impossible to collect taxes or pay the Army or Navy.

The Budget, furthermore, is so popular that it is almost impossible to hold a large public meeting against it in any part of the country, and, lastly, a fight to the death between the Peers and the people could not possibly be fought on any issue more disadvantageous for the Peers than on the question of relieving rich landlords by increasing the cost of food to the people. All these considerations weigh with the Tory leader, who earnestly desires to let the Budget pass, but the "unknown Peers" are so furious that a sacrilegious hand should be laid upon their ancient hereditary right to appropriate the result of the industry of their untitled neighbors that it is reported they refuse to listen to Lansdowne's cautious counsels. They feel that the rights of their order and the rents of their estates are endangered, and they are vowing that, come what may, they will throw out the Budget and dare the Liberals to do their worst.

FLAMING LAUNCH ON HUMBER BAY

Toronto Party Have Close Call From Death by Explosion

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Only the quick-witted heroism of Mr. Joseph Whelan, of 170 Markham street, and the prompet assistance rendered by the boat Velde II., averted a tragedy on the Humber Bay early last evening, when the big gasoline launch Topeka, of the National Yacht Club fleet, was burned to the water's edge following upon an explosion. As it was, two persons were burned, and two thousand people thronging the Lake Shore road will long remember the weird scene as the flames devoured the big launch, valued at $1,300.

The party on board consisted of Mr. Whelan; his sisters, Annie and Maggie; his aunt, Miss A. Baker, all of 170 Markham street, and a girl friend, Miss Madge Devine, of 386 Queen street west. The gasoline had leaked out of the tank as it lay at the Humber moorings, and before he started last night, five gallons of fluid were taken on board.

When well out in the lake, Mr. Whelan opened the relief tap to clear it. A spurt of flame followed the opening of the valve, and in an instant it had ignited the gas generated by the gasoline and water at the bottom of the boat. The explosion threw Mr. Whelan several feet. In a second the craft had caught fire.

Mr. Whelan called for all to jump overboard, as he had seen the boats putting off to the rescue. Miss Devine did not move, and Whelan braved the flames long enough to grasp her and place her in the water. One of the Whelan girls crept away out on the stern of the craft and remained there.

A moment later, though to those on board the doomed craft the moment seemed ages, the Velda of the Queen City Yacht Club, also a gasoline launch, came up at full speed, and took the endangered people on board.

Mr. Whelan had been badly burned, and it was thought at first fatally. His hair, eyebrows and lashes were almost burned off, and his face, hands and arms badly blistered.

MORE MINERS ARE AT WORK

Sydney, N.S., Aug. 24.—The official statement of the Dominion Coal Co., covering yesterday's output up to 6 o'clock, is: Hoisted from pits, 6,276 tons; loaded from the banking stations, 4,853 tons. Total output for the day, 11,129 tons. Present indications point to a very substantial increase in the productions from the collieries during the present week and the following days to the close of the month.

A large number of new men have gone to work at No. 2 Colliery and before this week is out the tonnage hoisted from the big shaft will probably reach the 1,600 or 1,700 mark.

The company are now preparing to re-open collieries Nos. 5 and 9. A large number of men came in on Friday, Saturday, Sunday, and to-day from Newfoundland, Inverness, Grand Narrows, Pictou County and from Montreal. About 75 per cent. of these men are practical miners, and most of them have at some previous time been employes of the Dominion Steel Company.

EARL GREY TO VISIT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—Word has been received here that the Governor-General and Lady Grey with their household, will spend a fortnight in Winnipeg, from Oct. 1 to 15.

It is stated that His Excellency has decided that, owing to the growing importance of Western Canada, the Governor-General should spend a portion of each year in the western metropolis.

The Vice-Regal party will occupy the houses of Hon. Colin Campbell and Hon. Robert Rogers, loaned for the occasion, and situated near each other.

YOUTH DEFIES FIFTY MEN

New York, Aug. 24.—The captain, the mate and a shipyard gang of 50 men at work on the steamer Harry Luckenbach, were helpless for half an hour yesterday against Salvatore Farina, a Portuguese youth of 18, who ran amuck with a sheath knife. John Dalton, the mate, was so badly cut across the abdomen that he will probably die, and his brother Joseph, the captain, was less seriously wounded.

The fight began when the mate cuffed Farina for an impudent reply, and ended with two men wounded on the deck. Farina backed up against the fore-mast, an 18-inch blade in his hand, and the crew ringed around at a respectful distance. He surrendered to the police.

W. T. JEROME IS CANDIDATE

New York, Aug. 24.—District Attorney W. T. Jerome announced to-night that he would be a candidate for re-election this fall, running independently. In a brief statement issued last night, he says: "I have been considering whether I should be guided, not by any personal interest, but by the consideration of whether a majority of the electors desire that I should further serve them in this position. But as I know of no way in which I can ascertain this except by offering myself as a candidate, I have decided to seek again a nomination by petition."

Friends of Mr. Jerome will at once start the petition for placing his name on the official ballot. Two thousand signatures are required by law.

WAS ENGULFED IN QUICKSAND

New York, Aug. 24.—In the clutch of treacherous quicksands, Otto Warmersay, a broker's clerk of this city, was swallowed from sight of his two companions before they understood his plight. The three were in bathing suits at Far Rockaway, Warmersay, in about three feet of water, and his friends on the beach. He was seen to stumble, but not until he failed to rise was any fear felt for his safety. Then both young men rushed to the spot where he had disappeared only to find themselves likewise entangled. They had a hard fight to free themselves.

DENTAL WORK OF 3000 YEARS AGO

Berlin, Aug. 24.—A piece of dental work 3,000 years old was exhibited at the International Dental Congress, which opened in this city yesterday. The object is a human jaw taken from an Etruscan Tomb and has a calf's tooth held in place by gold fittings. The workmanship is excellent and seemingly as fresh as though done yesterday. Emperor William's exhibit includes Roman forceps and other dental tools of the second century.

Wholesale Burglary.

Bracebridge, Ont., Aug. 24.—Elias Stonehouse, of Gravenhurst, who pleaded guilty a week ago to several thefts from summer cottages on Gull Lake, south of Muskoka Lake, was yesterday sentenced to three years in Kingston Penitentiary.

TO FLY ACROSS THE LAKE TORONTO TO NIAGARA FLIGHT

C. Foster Willard, of New York, Plans to Out do Bleriot's Feat of Crossing the Channel—He Will Use a Bi-Plane Made by Glenn Curtiss.

Toronto, Aug. 24. Starting from Toronto, C. Foster Willard of New York will attempt next week to fly across Lake Ontario to Niagara Falls on a bi-plane airship. The machine is owned by Edward T. Tandy of New York, a member of the Aeronautic Society of America, and has a record of 25 successful flights, which includes the longest cross-country flights. The cross-country record was made at Mineola, L.I., on Friday, the 13th, when Willard flew 12 miles, sailing over the outskirts of four towns in his passage.

"We are bringing our machine to Toronto with the intention of exceeding Bleriot's feat by flying across Lake Ontario," said Mr. Tandy, at the Walker House last night. The machine, with Willard, who operates it, will arrive on Thursday, and some preliminary flights will be made a few days later or as soon as the machine can be set up."

Mr. Tandy considers that if Willard is successful in his attempt, his feat will greatly exceed that of Bleriot who flew across the English Channel three weeks ago. The distance from Toronto to Niagara is 15 miles further than across the English Channel, and there are strong air currents to be encountered. Willard will make a number of excursions out over the lake to familiarize himself with the currents and decide how high he should sail in order to avoid the worst of them before attempting the main flight. A special raft will be constructed and a speedy tug engaged to follow up the bi-plane as a protective measure in case of accidents.

Mr. Tandy's machine is the smallest bi-plane in the world, being but 29 feet 11 inches across. It was designed and constructed by Glenn H. Curtiss, of Hammond Port, N.Y., who is making flights in Rheims, France, this week with a bi-plane of similar design. Willard recently flew 33 miles in 52 minutes and has flown at the rate of 46.1 miles an hour. In his 25 flights Willard has never had an accident.

The machine weighs 400 pounds outside of a gasoline and driver, and is equipped with a 25-horsepower, 1,000 revolutions per minute, engine. It cost $7,500 to construct.

They will spend six weeks in Europe and then return to China to commence the work of laying out railroads to be built with Chinese capital.

ISLANDS WERE SWALLOWED BY AN EARTHQUAKE

Mexico City, Aug. 24.—Despatches from Acapulco say that the people of that port believe that the Clipperton Islands were swallowed up by the sea during the late earthquake.

No word of any kind has come from the islands, and as the neighboring bed of the ocean is known to have been greatly disturbed and a small tidal wave to have occurred, the port officials at Acapulco are urging the War Department to send out the gunboat General Guerrero in search of the islands.

The claims of the Acapulcoans have not as yet seriously impressed the War Department.

Fred Gambro, former sub-secretary for Foreign Affairs, is now in Europe to present Mexico's claims to the ownership of the islands before the Italian Arbitration Court.

BULLET IN HEAD; BEARS A CHILD

Westbridgewater, Mass., Aug. 24.—After sending a bullet through the head of his wife Mary, who was afterwards taken to the Brockton Hospital, where she gave birth to a child, Mariano Janeiro committed suicide. Janeiro, who was 29 years old, was out of work and deranged mentally on account of sickness.

After dragging his wife from the kitchen to the top of the house, he kissed her good-bye, while she struggled to get away, and then fired. The man placed the revolver to his own head just as his three children rushed up at the sound of the first shot. Laying down his weapon he kissed them, put them out of the room, locked the door, and then blew out his brains.

The infant and mother are expected to live.

D.R.A. MATCHES AT OTTAWA; THE SHARPSHOOTERS GATHER

With 630 Marksmen Present From All Parts of Dominion, Sensational Shooting is Promised—Every Province is Represented in British Challenge Shield—Principal Winners Yesterday.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—Excellent weather favored the opening of the Dominion Rifle Association's meeting at Rockliffe Ranges yesterday, and with a record attendance of 630 marksmen, prospects are good for sensational shooting. The feature of the day was the success of the Western Ontario representation.

For the first time in history the nine Provinces of the Dominion will be represented by teams in the British Challenge Shield match, Alberta and Saskatchewan both having teams in the running. Alberta has 19 men, and Premier Rutherford gave them a generous contribution of $1,000 towards their expenses. As to rifles, the men are fairly well divided between the Ross and Lee-Enfield, but the backsight used at Bisley is barred, and as a make-up of time to wake up old shots the 45 seconds limit for shots will be strictly enforced.

Montreal, Ottawa and Toronto are strongly represented, and the 8th Rifles have 19 men on their squad. The statistical office is handled by G. B. Johnson of Montreal. The total in prizes is $10,618, and the number of employes 200, including 73 register [illegible] and 13 markers.

After a night's rain yesterday morning opened with beautiful weather, practically no wind, but a bright sun.

Colonel Barlow, of England; Major Winter, Ottawa; Major Duff Stewart, Vancouver; Major Sutherland, Quebec, and Major McRobbie, New Brunswick, were appointed a match committee to settle all disputes during the meet.

Yesterday's shooting results included the following chief prize winners:

Six hundred yards, seven shots, possible 35, 579 entries—$17 50, Col.Sergt. Greet, Q.O.R., 35; Major Moffatt, 13th S.L.D., 35; $11.34, Sergt. H. Crofton, 15th Light Horse, 34; Sergt. W. A. Smith, G.G.F.G., 34; Pte. A. Taylor, 77th, 34.

Tyros, $4 each—Pte. W. Simpson, 4th, 31; Sergt. Mott, 38th, 31; Pte. Clemence, 91st, 31; Pte. Lowry, 30th, 31; Pte. Mason, 37th, 31.

Seven shots at 200 yards, $10—Cadet Rettalach, Ottawa, 32; $8, Cadet Kendall, Ottawa, 32.

There was no competition for the three team prizes, which were to be of eight men.

BRANTFORD MEMORIAL

Brantford, Aug. 24.—The designs committee of the Bell Memorial Association has awarded to W. S. Allward, Toronto, the contract for the completion of the telephone memorial by 1912 in this city. A subscription of $1,000 has been received from J. P. Morgan. It has been decided to have recognition made by inscription on the monument of the inventions of the automobile telephone by Lorimer Bros. and Romaine Callender, who were Brantford men, who commenced their work in this city, which thus clinches its title of the Telephone City.

DIRIGIBLE BALLOON COMPLETELY WRECKED

Paris, Aug. 24.—The Bayard-Clement dirigible balloon, built recently by the Bayard Cement Company for the Russian Government, was wrecked near Maisons-Laffitt yesterday during its preliminary trial. The aviators on board, including Col. Nach of the Russian Army, were not injured.

The airship made its ascent successfully, remained in the air and then came down without damage. But while on the ground a violent gust of wind tore the balloon from the grasp of the 40 men who were holding it. It was thrown against some trees and telegraph poles nearby, ripping the gas bag to pieces. The ship then fell into the River Seine. The four occupants had stuck to the car during these happenings. They swam for the shore.

The explosion occurred in the purifying chamber.

A Sudden Call.

New Liskeard, Aug. 24.—Alexander Scott, aged 65, an old resident of this place, dropped dead this afternoon. He was for some years an engineer at Windsor Ont. He was walking through his kitchen when he was overtaken by a paralytic stroke.

Russian Tutor Dismissed.

Teheran, Aug. 24.—The Persian Government has dismissed Gen. Smirnoff, the Russian tutor of Ahmed Mirza, the young Persian Shah, and has appointed Hodjasenah, a learned native, to teach the Shah political science.

Raid on the Camorra.

Milan, Aug. 24.—The Marquis Arthur Affaltati, the newly-installed head of the Naples Camorra, has been captured, together with twenty-three members of the Grand Council, which elected him.

The 34 members of the Council were holding a banquet to celebrate the election of the Marquis when they were surprised by a squad of Carbinni. Ten of the men escaped.

Western Fires Not Serious.

Winnipeg, Aug. 24.—The Western Associated Press Nelson correspondent wired that there is absolutely nothing serious in the forest fires in British Columbia. Several small bush fires have excited some alarm on account of the dryness of vegetation in the Kootenay country, but there is little danger, and showers are reported at some places, which have relieved all anxiety.

Jews May Organize.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—As a result of the street fight Saturday between Jews and French-Canadians, an organization to protect the Hebrews is on foot.

One of their leaders declared today he was trying to get together a corps of 500 men to protect their own people from assaults.

The charge against three young Jews arrested by the police for disturbing the peace was postponed till Thursday.

MERGERS

A merger of carriage factories has followed closely upon that of the cement industry. Mergers are, of course, trusts, and trusts of the most pronounced and hidebound type. What has the Grit press to say of "mergers?" Nothing. Their editorial columns are as bare of reference to them are as the Pentateuch to the Canadian navy. Protection, which laid the foundation of Canadian prosperity, has been blamed for being the cause of trusts, but protection-born trusts are 'not in it'' with moderate-tariff mergers.

THE WESTERN MARKET

The idea that Eastern Canada is to become the manufacturing district of Canada as a recompense for its loss in agriculture, might as well be given up. At the present time, even as far west as Portage la Prairie the Americans have captured the industrial market, and that without establishing Canadian branches. When branches are established the struggle will begin in earnest between Americans and Canadians for the western trade, but Eastern Canada will have very little to say in the matter. There are a variety of reasons for it. The west will supply its own wants. Flour, bacon, etc., and all forms of manufactured goods can be got there as cheaply as here, without having to add freight. The same is true, as in the American west, of all manufactured articles. Chicago is New York gone west. St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis, Kansas City, etc., are built up by the manufacturing needs of the west. The New England States farms are largely deserted fields, while in manufacturing they supply the south, the north market, and very little of the west.

We have no north, no south. We are west and east. While it is wise to develop the west, it should not be done by us at our own sacrifice. Ontario is the sure place of development for us, and the only certain one for the future. Straining ourselves for the west looks a good deal like unwisdom, and in a few years, when factories spring up there, it will look worse. In the meantime why abandon, as the St. John Telegraph clearly points out, our own half-developed part of Canada. We are impoverishing ourselves—all except the financiers.

THE ALDRICH BILL

A preference or reduced tariff in favor of any country is an attempt to introduce free trade with that country to that extent. That even a sign of free trade for us is impossible ought to have been apparent before, but the twenty-five per cent. increase of the Aldrich bill in all such cases means that Canada's trade policy is on the rocks, for the country that puts the tax on does not pay the duty. It stops imports. It ends business relations. Our total trade is not more than equal to that of Australia, and now we are to be put in a position in which we shall have to give up a preference or give up our trade with the United States. A preference is, of course, not free trade. It is an attempt to overreach by a decrease of tariff in one case only, other nations which are discriminated against. This unfair treatment will naturally provoke reprisals, and the last stage of those aimed at will be a great deal worse than the first. It is a natural branch of protectionism that the tariff should be regulated according to the wishes and needs of the home people, but for alleged free-traders to seek to accomplish it is common hypocrisy and a resort to a subterfuge. It is a lesson in trade, in good morals and good manners, which, it is to be hoped, will not be lost on our Government.

GERMAN EFFICIENCY

No nation should be judged by a single phase of its history or conduct. That is universally acknowledged. But when the totality is under exceptionally trying circumstances a great success, the idea that some part of its policy, say for example, the tariff, would have been better left out seems foolish. To say "taxing necessaries is wrong" sounds all right taken by itself. It does look idiotic to tax necessaries, but when the whole policy and system of development of a great nation is considered and that policy and that development is constant, consistent and almost terrifying surely it is time to recall amateur denunciations and substitute for them ideas founded upon the facts as they exist. The old Cobdenism was at very horror of selfishness. It left the proletarist wholly at the mercy of the open market. They were always the first to suffer and until the remedy of protection was applied it was just as it now is in England, which is above all a country for the capitalist.

Provisions in Canada and the cost of living were near as high as at present, yet the N. P. was blamed for making living high. But with all the talk there is one thing that cannot be gainsaid and that is that no Liberal Government in Canada dare announce a Revenue Tariff or a Free Trade policy. It is a perpetual talk about something that not only does not exist, but cannot exist. German efficiency was built up and is maintained under a system of thoroughgoing and evenly-adjusted protection.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Speaking of Canada, LaPatrie, the rest Montreal Journal, says;— "Its fleet and its armies will be its own."

It looks to us as if our talk of empire made a noise like nonsense, if the French are right.

The literati are raking up the character of Johnston's Boswell again. The verdict seems to be that Boswell is a great biographer because he was a mere echo. Not as Plato was of Socrates, the immortalizer of both at one and the same time.

There is much mistaken kindness in this world—that is to say kindness that might be placed elsewhere. The reference is to that lavished on the drinker, who goes on a periodical "bust." It is usually a very deliberate proceeding.

The Review is pleased to note the appointment of Mr. W. F. Johnston, of the legal firm of Messrs. Dumble and Johnston, to the Court of Revision, to succeed Judge Roger. Mr. Johnston is in every way qualified for the position.

There are fears of a gigantic water power trust in the United States. Our neighbors show wonderful facility in condemning monopolies, and at the same time strengthen their hold.—The Globe

Why not say a word or two of Canadian mergers? The Globe is not candid enough for that just now.

The records 1 hour 32 minutes for 100 miles, 8 minutes 23 sec. for 10 miles, 43 sec. for one mile are the latest achievements of the motor on this continent. They fairly represent the dangerous proclivities of the present day. The air is a safer medium for speeding, we should think.

The attorney general for Ontario will earn the thanks of the people by seeking to cancel the charter which the state department at Ottawa has given to the Metropolitan Racing Association. This is a revision of provincial rights which should not stand.—Kingston Whig (Liberal).

The Canada Gazette of Aug. 21 contains notice of application to Parliament for no less than six divorces. The usual grounds are alleged. The fortunes of love, like those of war, should be borne with patience. There is no necessity of giving a right to re-marry, and it leads to a vast deal of doubtful happiness. It is a mistake.

Of course, the Imperial naval defence plan will be along the lines of Canadian policy. That was made inevitable by the resolution of our Parliament. Canada notified the rest of the Empire that she would take a certain course. If any other course were taken Canada would have to be left out of the scheme. The rest of the Empire couldn't afford to leave Canada out.—Hamilton Herald.

HAVELOCK

Special to The Review.

Havelock, Aug. 23.—The cement walk in front of the Armstrong House, put down several years ago, lately bulged up in one spot owing to some defect. Several blocks had to be ripped up and men are at present engaged in putting down some more.

Mr. F. Brenton has returned from a visit with friends near Roseneath.

The residence being erected on Mathison street, east, by Mr. Jno. Toman is nearing completion. It will present a handsome appearance when finished, the lower part being veneered with cement block and the upper with brick.

The base-ball team will go to Hastings on Wednesday to play the return game with that town, and the local six artists are confident of turning the tables on the Hastings nine.

Mr. Garnet Barlow was laid up last week with blood poisoning in his left hand, but he is now able to resume his work.

Misses Eliza and Lillian Wright are visiting with friends in London and Goderich.

Rev. Mr. Holdsworth conducted services at Rush Point on Sunday afternoon. The English church orchestra accompanied him.

The C.P.R. telegraph gang who for the past two weeks have been engaged in replacing poles on the company's lines in this district, have moved on to Norwood.

Mr. A. C. Hodgetts, who took Mr. P. J. Wright's place during the latter's vacation, has returned to Toronto.

Mr. R. McPherson spent Sunday at Trent Bridge.

Miss Bertha Bryans has returned from visiting with friends in Peterborough.

Mrs. Wm. Vance's class of St. John's Church Sunday school, had an enjoyable outing at Round Lake on Wednesday last.

Mr. Bruce Copp, of the Havelock Standard staff, is visiting with friends in Madoc.

Mrs. Clark is visiting with relatives in Marmora.

Wednesday afternoon, August 25th, is Havelock's last half holiday. The weekly half holiday has become quite popular and will likely be continued next year.

Mr. Harrison Wing has torn down the barn on his property in preparation for the erection of a large store house.

Mrs. Jas. Craighead visited Mr. Craighead at Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, on Thursday last.

At Green River, on Friday night last, Green River and Brussels, the only teams left in the round for the provincial finals, besides Havelock, met in the first of the home and home games to determine which team should go into the finals with Havelock. The game resulted in a victory for Green River, the score being 1—0. However, Brussels on their own grounds may be able to turn the tables, so it cannot be said which team will be Havelock's opponents. The locals have been neglecting practice lately and if they do not get out and chase the pig skin some more they will have poor chances in the finals.

THIRTY YEAR ARGREEMENT WITH COMPANY DISCUSSED BY THE CITY COUNCIL

In Committee of the Whole last night the Council first took up the application of Cavan township for a grant to assist in opening a road leading through that township to the city.

The general opinion was that the Council should not consider it. A couple of the members wanted to leave it over until next year, while a couple of others wanted to kill it at once.

Aldermen McIntyre and Morgan moved that no action be taken towards helping pay for the Cavan road and it carried.

The application of the Peterborough Light and Power Company for a thirty year agreement with the city was then taken up. The Manufacturers' Committee have been handling this matter and they drew up an agreement for the Council to consider before proceeding further. This agreement was submitted to the City Solicitor for his advice and he made a report to the Council. The provisions of the agreement have already been made public, but they were read again to the members of the Council.

Ald. Bradburn favored sending the proposition to the people to be voted upon.

Ald. Morgan said the matter could be held over for five years.

Ald. Phelan wanted the Manufacturers' Committee to consider the question again, as he did not see why it should be sent to the people when all the aldermen were not satisfied.

Ald. Bradburn then pointed out advantage accruing to the city if the agreement went through.

Ald. Hicks suggested that the Council decide at once whether the agreement should be submitted to the people. If it was to go to the people, a small committee should be appointed to receive all suggestions and embody them in the agreement which must be returned to the Council for approval and agreed to by the company. This was put in the form of a motion and it carried.

The Manufacturers' Committee was then requested to draw up the agreement ready for the Council meeting.

CANOE CO.'S APPLICATION.

The application of the Peterborough Canoe Company for a 21-year lease on the piling ground on the water front just back of their property was considered for a time. The C. P. R. asked the city not to grant the lease until such time as they heard from the company.

It was decided that the Canoe Company be allowed to use the piling ground until such time as the Council asked them to move off.

EXPECTED THAT 150 WILL LEAVE HERE FOR WEST

It will be "all aboard" for the west on Friday of this week. On that day an excursion will be run over the C. P. R. to the Canadian west, and the Peterborough contingent will be a large one. The special train will start at Sharbot Lake and will go right through to Winnipeg. It will leave Peterborough at 1.50 o'clock, and a C.P.R. official stated to-day that it was expected that one hundred and fifty would board the train here for the trip to the west. Many of those who are going are from the country around the city. Towards the end of this week the harvesting in this locality will be pretty well over, and many of the young men are going to the western provinces to assist in the threshing operations there.

THE DRY GOODS REVIEW ON BARGAIN FEATURES

At Turnbull's and Cressman's—Store Kinks That are Giving Good Results—Valuable Special Sales.

Under the heading, "Store Kinks That Are Giving Good Results," the current issue of the Dry Goods Review has the following:

HOUR SALES AS A CLEARANCE EVENT.

"During the first week in August the J. C. Turnbull Company of Peterborough introduced a series of hour sales specials in connection with mid-summer clearances. The schedule of prices was made a feature of the firm's advertising in local papers, the headline of the event being 'Ten Days of Rare Opportunity for Thrifty Buyers.' While there are no records on hand showing actual results, this particular kind looks like a good one. The specials each day were confined to the two hours between 10.30 and 12.30. In some towns a certain period of the afternoon might be preferred for such an event, but merchants know their own people best, and it may be that, after all, in the midst of the clearing season, it is more desirable that the people be induced to shop as early in the morning as possible. Special events must have special hours. Each day in the time mentioned certain lines were placed on sale at very attractive reductions. On July 28 the specials were dress goods and trimmed curtain scrim; on the following day it was English prints, Axminster rugs, and so on. It will be noticed that the offerings did not affect one department alone, but were so arranged as to require intending purchasers to make a pretty thorough tour of the store. This idea was a valuable one in itself, when it is considered how difficult it is to get shoppers to distribute themselves through a store during a heated spell.

BARGAIN ANNEX KEEPS BUSINESS AT HOME.

"The Bargain Annex is a department installed by A. W. Cressman of Peterborough four years ago as a 'clean-up' section. To-day it is a m[illegible] thing more than that. It is now necessary to do special buying for it, and is one of the main features of this progressive Peterborough business. This exclusive bargain department is open on Wednesday only of each week. It has now its own buyer and manager, selling staff and extra special advertising. Every week the whole city is dodgered from house to house with a large bill containing the specials of the day. The leaders are brought out most prominently, as will be noted in the accompanying cut.

The 'Bargain Annex' is a way A. W. Cressman has of meeting the out-of-town shopping problem, and that it has been very successful is evident from the fact that the average number of people served last year in this department from 8.10 to 5.50 was 500. The 'Bargain Annex' term has been copyrighted for Canada, and Cressman, therefore, has the exclusive use of it.'

Kingston, Aug. 24. — Unable to swim a stroke herself, Mrs. C. I. Baltie, wife of an employee of the Royal Military College, plunged from the wharf into sixteen feet of water last evening to save her two-year-old son, Charlie, from drowning. She was able to keep herself and child above water until a neighbor, Mrs. Manning, came to her rescue with a long pike-pole.

MANY LIVES LOST IN COLLISION

Special to The Review.

Buenos Ayres, Aug. 24.—A collision occurred this morning between two excursion steamers at the entrance to Montevideo harbor, resulting in the drowning of from one hundred and fifty to three hundred persons, mostly women and children. One of the boats was the Argentine steamer Columbia carrying passengers from Buenos Ayres to the festival at Montevideo, and the other was a German steamer engaged in local passenger trade. The latter went down so quickly that all attempts at rescue were rendered practically powerless.

PLEASURE TRIP TO LAKE SIMCOE

Last Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. F. Brownscombe left their cottage, Stoney Lake, for a trip up the canal to Lake Simcoe. In writing to a friend Mrs. Brownscombe said they were enjoying their trip very much, and it was not at all tiresome travelling through the canal, as the scenery is beautiful, with mountains of stone on either side.

They camped at Kirkfield over night and next day visited Beaverton and crossed Lake Simcoe to Orillia, and were eye witnesses of the big fire which occurred there. They expect to reach home toward the end of the week. The Anderson party are enjoying the same trip. Both are travelling together on their journey.

MEN EXPECTED TO TURN OUT

SUCCESSFUL PICNIC HELD AT MT. JULIAN

Special to The Review.

Mt. Julian, Aug. 22.—A very successful and enjoyable picnic was held by Holy Trinity and Eden churches on August 12 in a beautiful grove about three quarters of a mile from Mount Julian. An excellent dinner and tea were served by the ladies, and appreciated by all, and the ice cream, fruit, candy and lemonade stand was well patronized. Games and swings were provided for the children, while the young people tripped the light fantastic to the music of the violin ably furnished by Mr. Joe Northy.

The Apsley Lodge of Loyal True Blues, No. 74, numbering thirty-five members, attended in a body, and after holding a business meeting, they marched to the music of drum and flute to Mount Julian and back, after which they favored the gathering with several fine selections. The W. M., Mr. Wellington Lean, deserves credit for his management of the lodge, and the members of it join with him in his efforts to make the Apsley lodge one of the best in the county.

We were pleased to have with us, besides the members of the district, Mr. Lord and Mr. Garbutt, a large number from Apsley, Rev. A. Hart, of St. Mary's Parish, Dovercourt Road, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. J. Reid and Mrs. J. Moore, of Stony Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bell, Cedar Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart, of Mount Julian; Mr. H. Moore and Mr. J. McCracken, of Dummer, and several ladies from Viamede.

The entire proceeds amounted to one hundred and twenty dollars and were equally divided between the two churches after paying expenses.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL TO COST $12,000

Equipment Would Cost $2,000 or $3,000 More—Referred Back to the Property Committee

The Property Committee of the City Council has again been given the task of doing something with the Isolation Hospital question. New plans have been prepared by Architect Blackwell and they have been approved by the Medical Association. The estimated cost, Ald. Bradburn said, was $12,000 and it would cost from $2,000 to $3,000 for equipment. This was about reaching the maximum sum the city was allowed to spend, $15,000. It was hard to figure out what the cost of maintenance would be as it would all depend on circumstances.

Ald. Metheral said the people wanted an isolation hospital.

Another alderman remarked that there would be some revenue from a good hospital, while a poor one would produce very little revenue, if any at all.

On motion of Ald. Phelan and Morgan, the matter was referred back to the Property Committee.

¶ The "Kelsey" warms fresh air by the best method; warms large volumes of air properly and forces to exposed or distant rooms; has double the weight and heating surfaces of the ordinary furnace, and utilizes all the heat to much better advantage; does not heat the cellar or waste heat up the chimney.

¶ The "Kelsey" does not warm the same air over and over like steam or hot water systems with radiators; costs less to install, and for management and repairs; and is more efficient, healthful and economical.

¶ These are a few of the reasons why the Kelsey Fresh Air System has been installed in so many of the finest class of City and Country Homes, Churches and Schools, and why it is being specified in preference to other systems.

ALDERMEN ENGAGE IN SHARP REPARTEE OVER SIDEWALK

Ald. Duncan Objects to Meetings of the Board of Works Being Held in the Afternoon—Member of the Council is Accused of Being a "Jollier."

It was only a proposedd streto. of cement sidewalks three blocks in length but it was enough to cause a lively few minutes at the meeting of the city council last night. There was some sharp repartee before the incident closed. Mr. McCoy was present to press for a sidewalk on the south side of Charlotte street and Pearl Avenue. Mr. McCoy said this walk had been properly petitioned for last year, but it had not been built. New houses were being built there and the walk was badly needed.

Ald. Phelan said this matter was considered at the last meeting of the Board of Works, and it was decided to build the walk this year, if it were possible.

Ald Duncan said he had not been notified of the meeting of the Board of Works, which was held at four o'clock in the afternoon.

Ald. Phelan said he had notified Ald. Duncan. Ald. Duncan said he had received no intimation of the meeting and he charged Ald. Phelan with "trying to run the council." He said he could not attend afternoon meetings.

Ald. McIntyre entered the discussion with the remark that Ald. Phelan had told him after the meeting of the Board of Works that the walk could not be built this year.

Ald. Phelan said the walk would be built, if possible.

Ald. Morgan warmed things up with the statement that Ald. Phelan was a jollier. He charged him with neglecting to build certain sidewalks in ward five. They had been dropped when the frost came last year, and it looked as if the frost would again find them unbuilt this fall.

Ald. Morgan said there were long stretches of sidewalk in the south end of the city where there were no houses at all.

Ald. Duncan moved that the sidewalk be built this year. Ald. Morgan seconded the motion.

Ald. Hicks and Bradburn said they were content with the action that had been taken by the Board of Works.

The Mayor suggested that Ald. Duncan drop his motion.

Ald. Duncan and Ald. Morgan insisted that the motion be put.

Ald Duncans' motion carried, those voting for it being Ald. Duncan, Metheral, Morgan, McIntyre, Turner and Duffus

BURLEIGH FALLS POWER QUESTION CAUSES SHARP DEBATE AMONG ALDERMEN

Motion Passed Not to Have Engineer Make Report Until Instructed to Do So by Council—Waiting Policy Attacked by Some Members of Council—Aldermen Ask Pertinent Questions.

The Burleigh Falls power question is—well, it is difficult to say just what it it.

The one month's option which the city held has expired, and it is not known whether the Central Ontario Power Company will renew it. Some of the aldermen think they will, and others are not sure about it. One member of the Council stated at the meeting of that body last night that the power could be purchased for $100,000. Another alderman chimed in and stated that he had been told the same thing.

Ald. McIntyre read the report of the committee of the whole council, in which it was recommended that R. B. Rogers be employed to make a report on the power at Burleigh Falls and that he be paid $800 for the work.

Ald. Hicks said that the city's option on Burleigh Falls had expired, and if the city did not have an option it would be no use spending $800 to get a report. He moved to have inserted in the report the words: "That Mr. Rogers proceed with the report when instructed to do so by the City Council". Ald. Butler seconded the amendment.

Ald. Morgan then entered the discussion and caused a mild sensation. He wanted to know why a meeting of the council had not been called before the option of the city had expired. Was it true that Ald. Morrow had said that he would refuse to sign a cheque to pay for the services of the engineer to make a report? If it was the case the city was getting a raw deal. Ald. Morgan wanted a report on the power. The aldermen were talking a lot, but they did not know anything about it. He thought Ald. Hicks' motion would result in the matter being shelved, and the city would be worse off than ever.

Ald. Bradburn said the option should be renewed before any money was spent to secure a report.

Ald. Hicks said it might be well to make the company a counter proposition.

Ald. Phelan asked would anyone be in favor of submitting the matter to the people at $120,000 if the report of the engineer showed there was as much power at Burleigh as the company represented.

Ald. Turner and Morgan said they would.

Ald Duncan and Ald. Metheral were not in favor of a waiting policy, and voted against Ald Hicks' motion.

Ald Turner came out strongly in favor of getting a report. It would be worth $600 to the city to know how much power there was at Burleigh. Until this information was secured the aldermen could not deal with the question in an intelligent manner.

Ald. McIntyre moved that the engineer make a report at once if the company would renew the option

Ald. Hicks' motion carried when the vote was taken.

Ald Duncan asked the mayor about the story that was going around that he had held off the meeting of the council till the option had expired.

"Guilty or not guilty?" asked Ald. Duncan.

"Not guilty," said the mayor. He had no intention of holding the meeting over, but it was hard to get the aldermen together during vacation season. In fact, he thought the option did not expire till August 23rd, whereas it expired on the 22nd

Ald. McIntyre said he had made several attempts to get the mayor to call a meeting of the council.

The mayor said this was true, and that no blame was attached to Ald. McIntyre.

EXTRAORDINARY SAVINGS

RETREAT OF THE DIOCESE OF PETERBORO'

The priests of the diocese of Peterborough are in retreat here, with Rev Father Teeft, of Toronto, the preacher. The members of the staff of St. Peter's Cathedral are in attendance, and among the others are Ven. Archdeacon Casey, Rev. Father Kelley, Rev Father McGuire and Rev. Father F. J. O'Sullivan.

LINDSAY IS INTERESTED IN AUTOMOBILES

The automobile has evidently come to stay, and it behooves the horse-owners to get their animals acquainted with the new method of travelling. The McLaughlin-Buick is establishing a record for new beginners. Mr. Stanley Beal drove his new machine over 75 miles without a hitch one day last week, and the machine is travelling like a bird. The agent, Mr. Stevens, of Peterborough, is having a very busy time looking after the numerous prospective buyers who are anxious to try the McLaughlin-Buick.—Lindsay Post.

HAD HIS LEG TAKEN OFF

Accident to Lindsay Engineer in Toronto

John Reed of Lindsay, an engineer employed by the Grand Trunk Railway had one of his legs taken off in the yards at Midland yesterday. How the accident occurred has not been ascertained. Mr. Harry Reed of 146 Major street, Toronto, a brother of the injured man, left for Midland last night, where his brother is resting in the hospital.

NOT DRUNK BUT WEAK IN THE LEGS

Margaret Nellis, hails from Lindsay, but that does not allow her the privilege to get drunk in this city, although the offence may be partly excusable. Anyway she indulged yesterday and was arrested. At Police Court this morning, when asked to explain matters, Margaret said it was not the booze she drank, but that her legs were effected. "I only drank two glasses of ale and was not drunk" said the visitor from Mudville. "Well, we're not going to have women drinking around here," said City Clerk Armstrong, "and you'll have to take the first train out of the city." But Margaret didn't like the idea of returning so quickly, but finally promised to do so, and after going down in her stocking for 50c. to pay for the services of a hack the previous evening, she departed.

Regiment Held Drill

There was a fair turnout of members of the 57th regiment last night at the Armouries in preparation for the trip to Brockville on Labor Day. Another drill will be held next Monday night and there should be a big turnout.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE NORMAL

Walks are Being Constructed, and the Ground Around the School is Being Graded

The granolithic walks are being constructed at the Normal School, and will probably be finished before the opening of the institution in September. A number of men are also engaged in grading the grounds in preparation for laying the sod for the lawn next year. When all this work is completed and the sidewalk built on Benson street, whether on the inside of the trees or not, a big improvement will be noticeable.

James McVeigh and Albert Smith, young men of Georgetown, were each sentenced to jail for six months for breaking into a G.T.R. car.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

AN AUTO, GARAGE

Will be Opened Here by Mr. E. Hanna—Sales Room in Connection

Automobile owners will appreciate the fact that a garage is to be open this city. Peterborough's only "auto shop" will be situated on Simcoe street, between Water and Queen, in the premises formerly occupied by the Excelsior Fruit Cleaning Co.

The garage will be most modern and complete complete in every detail, and the proprietor, Mr. E. Hannah, is thoroughly practical and capable in a mechanical sense, and has had a wide experience with motor cars as chauffeur and mechanic.

The deal for the building was closed to-day, and the work of putting in the cement floor, installing the gasolene tanks, oil tanks and other equipment will be proceeded with at once.

A sales room will be conducted in connection with the garage.

As Peterborough is getting to be quite a centre for "residential" and transient motor cars, Mr. Hannah should do a thriving business.

The garage will be opened in about two weeks' time.

ARCHDEACON CASEY GIVEN PURSE OF GOLD

Lindsay, Aug. 22.—A very, large congregation assembled at St. Mary's church on Sunday morning to witness the address and presentation to Venerable Archdeacon Casey, the popular and beloved pastor of St Mary's church, who has just returned from an extended trip through England, Ireland, Scotland and France.

At the conclusion of the 10.30 o'clock mass Archdeacon Casey was completely taken by surprise when a representative committee of the congregation walked to the altar rail and read an address and presented him with a purse of gold.

THE POWER POLICY

Peterborough is not likely to have a developed power policy, for some time. The Mayor should take the lead in matters of such great importance to the city. We do not profess to say what is the best way to settle the question of power for Peterborough, but we do say, in common with many others, that Peterborough, without command of power, will drop behind in the procession. Western Ontario will easily beat us but at the snail's pace we are now travelling. Ald. Turner and Morgan are heart and soul for bringing the whole question to an issue. Some of the other aldermen, notably Ald. Hicks, are pursuing what might be called a sagacious or waiting policy, while others still are openly hostile to a Burleigh scheme or apparently any other. It is difficult to concur in the last-named idea. At any rate, the problem of power is one that should receive more attention, and it is felt that His Worship is not quite active enough in the matter. If a power policy is wrong, then the Mayor is right in ignoring it, but as it appears to The Review, it would be much better, to have the question of cheap power for Peterborough settled before too late. Certainly no advantage is gained by not answering the question of general policy in order that the Council may be prepared when the psychological moment arrives for striking the hot iron.

AN ATTRACTIVELY DRESSED WINDOW

In the current issue of the Dry Goods Review there is an excellent cut of an opening window trimmed for A. W. Creasman by the firm's advertisement writer and window-dresser, Mr. G. S. Edwards.

The Dry Goods Review, in referring to the window, says: "The color scheme is green, white and gold with apple blossoms and vines as the floral decoration. The two pairs of pillars at the ends of the window were made in the trimmers' department, the lower portion being painted in a pretty shade of green, edged with gold moulding. In the centre was a half pillar finished to correspond with the other sets. All were joined with brass rods and broken drapes of apple blossom vine. Directly over the small centre pillar was a brass cupid holding an electric light shaded with apple blossoms."

THE ROMANCE IS ALL GONE

Observer Disgusted With Appearance Presented by Gypsies

"The most disgusting sight I have ever seen."

Such is the way a well-known resident of this city expressed himself to The Star this morning, referring to the gypsy camp which has been at New Toronto for the past few days.

"I was out walking along the lake shore yesterday," he said, "and the sights we saw were so bad we had to turn back for fear there would be worse to come had we gone further."

Young girls, hardly in their teens, were lounging around, all smoking cigarettes. Another band of youngsters were busily engaged shooting craps, and the noise they made was deafening.

Not only was it offensive to the eye, but to the ear as well, as the language used would have done credit to a school of wharf rats.

The camp is right beside the railway track in full view of the thousands who took the trolley to Long Branch and Port Credit yesterday.

No one seems to know where the band came from or what they are doing there. Complaints have been made to the county police to have them removed.—Toronto Star.

A Plea for Love

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—This at present is a serious question in one of the churches in this city and among a lot of people who profess themselves to be good Christians and churchmen in genera.

I have been going to that same church for about four or five years, during which I personally have found everything as regarding sermons and service to be pleasant and interesting, but during the past year or so things have changed, not for the better, but, to my great sorrow, the other way, through what some people may call a separation of a certain few of the congregation, who profess to know too much about religion, and who at the same time are really not church people, at least not fully having the understanding what a church member is. Some of them think it a great deed to be able to persecute the head or leader of the church by spreading rumors of all kinds about him, and listening to others just as ignorant as they are, instead of trying to suppress them, even should they be true. Should such a thing go on amongst good Christian church people! No, emphatically no.

The members of the church should ask themselves that one question.

Why pay any attention to a lot of gossip among people who have not the slightest idea of the noble and good character of the head of our church! Why should we let a few bigoted people run him down and spoil the good name which our dear church has held so long!

One more point I wish to call the attention of the church people to, which is, that some of the members who cause all this gossip and trouble don't belong to the church at all, and simply commenced going to that church because they liked the service and sermons. Now that they have snatched up a few words which will hurt the minister of the church they keep on spreading them instead of paying no attention to them, and show themselves in want of the good Christian fellowship, which they should feel toward him, who has worked hard day and night, ministered to all their wants, whether it was late at night, or any part of the day that they wanted him.

This shows what co-operation of church members and church union is.

The readers of this article should not be under the impression that this article is written by any one else but a church-goer, not a member of a half dozen churches, but just this particular one, and one who wishes to see the congregation show their appreciation of the minister's services by attending service next Sunday and every other Sunday during the year, and help him, who is ready to work, preach and teach the gospel at all times to make his life as comfortable as possible so as to enable him to do the work for which the Almighty God has given him power.

Hoping that my few lines will reach home to some of the members of the church in this part of the city, and that they will show their appreciation of the man in the pulpit.

Yours, &c.,
A CHURCHGOER.

Much Grain Going Through

Considerable quantities of grain has been passing through the city over the Grand Trunk railway the past few days, and it has been found necessary to use double-headers on many of the freights. In a short time it is expected that the traffic will be very heavy, owing to the splendid grain harvest throughout the country.

WEST ENDS WILL MEET T.A.S. AT RIVERSIDE PARK SATURDAY

Interest continues at fever heat in city league ball circles.

The West Ends are out with the statement that they will scalp the T.A.S. on Saturday when they meet the abstainers at Riverside Park. With this end in view they will have the strongest team they can muster and their efforts to get to Quinlan's slants will be watched with interest. The T. A. S. must have the game to stay in the running and one does not have to put glasses on to see that they will be there all the time.

The game will start at 2.30 and Dan McCabe will do the umpiring. The admission will be the same as last Saturday, fifteen cents general admission and ten cents extra for the grand stand. The popular policy of admitting ladies free will again be in vogue. The attendance should be the largest yet.

LANGFORD AND KETCHEL ARE INTERESTING FIGHT FANS; THE NEGRO TO MEET BURNS

Stanley Ketchel and Sam Langford are going to furnish the most excitement by active operations in the ring for the next few weeks. The men are carded to go ten rounds Sept. 10 in New York, and it seems as if the noise of the battle ought to be heard for several blocks.

This is probably the best contest that could be arranged in middleweight circles, and it ought to furnish a first class bout. Langford has made the claim that he was unable to get matches on account of many dreading his terrific hitting power, and there can be no question that many have dodged him, using the old excuse of every fighter in such a case, who is afraid of a colored opponent, that they "draw the color line." Many of the colored boxers have behaved themselves in far better shape than the same white opponents who fear to meet them.

The best adherents of the boxing game do not think any colored man ought to be permitted in the ring. Aurelio Herrera was a Mexican and his skin was swarthy. But any white opponent who said that he did not care to meet him because their skins were not of the same shade would have shown clearly that he only had one motive in side-stepping—and that would be fear.

The present bout will furnish a good match on account of the ability of both men. Ketchel has said that he will spring a surprise on those who think he has been loafing on the Pacific Coast. He claims that he has taken up his old work as a woodsman and that he has rounded up into first-class shape. He says that while it may be something of an effort to make the middleweight limit for Langford, as he prefers to box at a heavier figure, he will be in first-class shape when he enters the ring. He claims that Langford will not have anything on him in the hitting line, either.

WILL BE A GREAT GO.

If both men can enter the ring in first-class shape, we ought to hear of a bout that will stand out in the history of the middleweights. Langford has a reputation as a terrific hitter—in fact he has made many an opponent wilt by simply bowing his head, catching his opponent's blows on top of his crown, and rushing in, walloping his antagonist around the ribs. Ketchel on the contrary, has generally opened his bouts by trying to get one decisive smash over on his opponent's jaw. He knocked down Billy Papke that way in two of their meetings, almost as they came to the centre of the ring. Whether this blow will prove effective against Langford remains to be seen.

There is only one thing that can prevent this match from being a first-class bout and that is the condition of the men. If either is out of trim, in such a contest of hard hitters, the end may come quickly. Both men have been in such form of late that reports have been spread saying that they were not in the best of shape.

Langford is generally credited with a fondness for sociability that does not walk hand in hand with strict training. He is said to have slowed up considerably in his last battle when the pace to discount him. If this served him as a lesson, and he has really put all his efforts into his work, he is going to be just about as tough an opponent as could be picked for Ketchel.

The reports that Ketchel was not doing his best came from outsiders who had visited him in Mendocino and who think that he was not working as hard as he might. He is naturally large for a middleweight, and this may be his last bout at the exact figure. But if he has really kept himself down to the limit by training in the mountains and by wood-chopping, he ought to be about as hard as nails, even if he is a trifle drawn from reducing. In a short bout this will not cut the figure it would do in a longer match.

Willus Britt left San Francisco last Saturday night for New York to complete arrangements for the bout with Sam Langford at the Fairmount A.C. on September 10. Britt is supposed to have Ketchel with him, but in a telegram to the club he simply stated that he was on his way.

That Ketchel is confident of beating Langford is shown by his willingness to meet the Boston slugger before the Johnson mill at Colma.

The fistic event of the week is the ten-round bout between Sandy Ferguson and Joe Jeannette next Friday night at the Fairmount A.C. If strenuous training means anything, they will enter the ring in the pink of condition.

Langford has been matched to fight Tommy Burns at catch weights, and Hugh D. McIntosh will pull off the mill either in England or Australia next winter.

BACKHANDER FOR ARTHUR

Hamilton "Spec" Recalls His Belland-Knox "Races"

The Hamilton Spectator says:—A strange despatch comes out of the west to the effect that Arf Burn, the Marathon runner, is before the amateur union on charges of professionalism. Burn professes to have a perfectly clean record, and lays great stress on his desire to compete in the next Olympic Marathon, and is greatly horrified to think that he should be charged with professionalism. It is a shame, Arthur, old chap, to think that you are still running amateur, for evidently you forget some of your jaunts with Dave Beland and Walter Knox. Still, it would be a shame to force the curly-headed one into the pro. ranks for it has been said that he couldn't run any faster than a cart horse.

SPORTING NOTES

Toronto broke even with the Skeeters yesterday, losing in the first game by 5-2, and winning the second by 5-4.

If the Providence team wins the Eastern League championship Manager Duffy will give them $1500.

Manager Metheral has got his peepers on a new player, and he may be seen in action if the T. A. S. and and the Strathys come together next Saturday.

Who will umpire next Saturday's game at Riverside? It is necessary that a capable one be appointed, and that right away. The fans of the city are patronizing the league in a splendid manner, and the managers of the teams should get together and see that all arrangements for next Saturday are thorough and of such a nature that will inspire the lovers of baseball in the city with a little confidence.

HAL KENNEDY NOT ELIGIBLE

Ex-Peterborough Athlete Would Play Rugby at Ottawa This Year

An Ottawa despatch says:—The football season of 1909 was ushered in at Ottawa Friday evening, when the executive of the Ottawa Rugby Club got together at the Ottawa Amateur Athletic club rooms.

The general policy of the club was discussed, and it was, as a matter of form decided to remain in the Interprovincial Amateur Football Union, the club having prospered last season in the Big Four. Tom Clancy will again coach the team, and it was announced that nearly all of last year's players would be on hand again, the expected exceptions being Hal Kennedy and Jack Ryan, who are ineligible, and Baz Aylmer, who has moved away. Dr. Nagle stated that Murray Kennedy had offered to return for the football season if his services were required, and it was decided to make an effort to have him in uniform again. It was stated that all the other players of last year had practically promised to get into the moleskins again, the club's prospects looking exceedingly bright. All the intermediates have also promised to get in the game once more, their numbers including many promising juniors.

The football squad will be invited out for an exceptionally early start, the intention being to have the men turn out with the O. A. A. C. crack team at Cartier Square within a week or two. A number of the Ottawa soccer club players have also thrown in their lots with Tom Clancy's men, Currie, Allen and one or two others being expected to make good on the gridiron.

Dr. Nagle, Paddy Baskerville and Tom Clancy were appointed to represent the Ottawa club at the annual meeting of the Interprovincial at Montreal in September, and it was decided to vote in favor of continuing the league along the present lines.

The question of having Jack Ryan and Hal Kennedy reinstated was brought up, but it was understood that the Ottawas will make no efforts to get either back, unless the Montreal club, as rumored, attempts to play Small, Hamilton or other disqualified candidates. The Ottawas, apparently, have little hope of having Ryan or Hal Kennedy, and intend to play only those who are now eligible.

TURF CLUB AND FAIR TRYING FOR SETTLEMENT

The Turf Club and the directorate of the Peterborough Industrial Fair are trying to adjust their differences over the track at the driving park. Secretary Hall of the Fair Society was in consultation with President Dr. Johnston of the Turf Club today at Mr. G. W. Hatton's law office for the purpose of effecting arrangements toward a settlement.

The Turf Club wants the Fair Society to give a stated sum for the lease of the grounds where the track is, and that the Turf Club be allowed the use of the track for their race meets, having nothing to do with the Fair speeding in the ring events.

At the time of going to press no settlement had been reached.

STRIKERS ARE SULLEN AND THREATENING

Special to the Review

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 24.—It is felt to-day that the trouble is not over at the Pressed Steel Car Company's plant. The strikers are sullen and threatening. The deaths of two more wounded strikers last night, bringing death list up to eight, increased their anger, and oaths of vengeance were sworn. The state constabulary patrolled the streets last night with carbines. There was no attempt at further disorder, and the first semblance of an outbreak is sure to be met with a volley of bullets.

WONDERS OF THE HUMAN BODY

Why Many People Never Need a Doctor.

You have a natural laxative in your body. Why, then, should you use a false purgative to move the bowels?

Bile is nature's laxative. It is bile—and bile alone—which moves the bowels as they should be moved. The liver is the store-house for the bile. The liver pours forth the bile into the bowels, which stimulates them to move, and thus causes the waste matter to pass from the body.

Constipation is a disease, OF the bowels, but CAUSED by the liver. When the bowels do not move regularly and naturally, it is because the liver is not giving up enough bile. And the only possible way to cure Constipation, is to cure the liver.

Calomel, cascara, salts, senna, common pills and sweet lozenges and all the other purgatives do not act on the liver at all. They merely irritate and inflame the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" cure Constipation because they act on the liver. The fruit principles stimulate the liver to secrete and give up enough bile to move the bowels, while the tonics and antiseptics tone up and invigorate the muscles. "Fruit-a-tives" are the only medicine ever discovered that will cure Constipation, Biliousness and all other troubles due to a Torpid or Disordered Liver. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

THE DEATH OF MRS. DAVIDSON

Mother of Canon Davidson of This City — Prominent Worker in Women's Auxiliary

Toronto, Aug. 24.—Mrs. Davidson, widow of the late Canon Davidson, formerly of Cobourg, died at her residence, 30 Charles street, yesterday morning. Mrs. Davidson was a prominent member of the Church of England Women's Auxiliary and an officer of the Toronto Diocesan Board, and was greatly beloved by all who knew her. She was the third daughter of Captain George Cheyne, R.N., and a lineal descendant of Nicholas Ferrar, the father of the Nicholas Ferrer of Little Gidding fame. In her early life, as the wife of a missionary, she was always most active in parochial work, and after the sudden death of her husband, which occurred during a convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Toronto in 1892, Mrs. Davidson came to live in this city. She had been the president of St. Luke's branch of the Women's Auxiliary for many years, and had frequently been elected a delegate from the diocese to the meetings of the General Board. Of a family of eight children, the following seven survive her—namely, Rev. Canon Davidson, rector, of Peterborough; Nicholas Ferrar Davidson, K.C., of Toronto, formerly President of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew; William Edward Davidson, of Toronto; Mrs. Ketchum, widow of the late Judge Ketchum, of Cobourg; Mrs. Gossage, Orillia; Mrs. H. Loosemore and Mrs. Harry C. Rae, of Toronto. Although 77 years of age, Mrs. Davidson was, up to the time of her death, a devoted and enthusiastic worker in the missionary cause, the literature department being her special interest.

The funeral service will be held in St. Luke's church at 7.30 on Thursday morning, and the interment will be in Colborne. The members of the Women's Auxiliary in the city will assemble in the guild room of the church at 7.20 and will attend the funeral service in a body.

TWO DEATHS CAUSE GLOOM AT HAVELOCK

Special to The Review.

Havelock, Aug. 22. — A gloom of sadness was cast over the village today on account of the deaths of two of its respected citizens. The first sad death was that of Mrs. Bliss Hart who, after only a few hours' illness, passed out of this life at 4 o'clock this morning. She leaves to mourn her loss a husband, two small children, a father and two brothers, who reside at her old home in Sarnia. The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon from the family residence on Oak street to Maple Grove cemetery. The sympathy of the whole town is extended to Mr. Hart, whose four years of married life has been so sadly ended.

The second death was that of Miss Dolly Voyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Voyer, who passed away at 12.30 to-day. The deceased, who was in her twenty-sixth year, was taken suddenly ill on Wednesday last and grew gradually worse, passing peacefully away to-day. Besides her parents, she leaves three sisters and one brother to mourn her loss. The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning from the family residence to the Roman Catholic cemetery at Norwood.

BRIDAL SHOWERS.

Essentially Feminine Affairs—The Groom Elect Not Invited.

WAYS OF PRESENTING GIFTS.

At a Shower Given in June the Hostess Entertained Upon Her Piazza—An Amusing Surprise For the Guest of Honor.

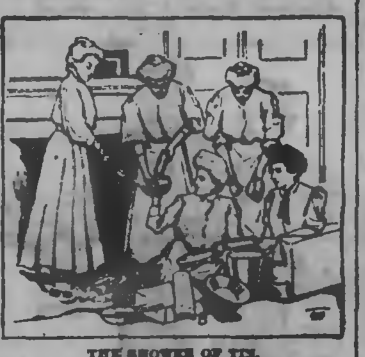
Bridal showers are becoming more and more popular every day. To the bachelor girl whose friends all get married at once, with concentrated demands upon her time and purse, these overfrequent disturbances of the weather are somewhat of a strain.

But from the standpoint of the less beleaguered mortal the bridal shower is a charming function. And to the bride the pieces of linen for her chest or the more prosaic contributions toward her household furnishings will carry with them from the occasion a bit of sentiment that endears them to her even more than their daintiness and usefulness.

Showers are essentially feminine affairs. Not even the groom to be receives an invitation, though if he knows the character of the occasion and is inclined to step in and assist his fiancee to carry home the donations of her friends he is permitted to do so.

To present the bride with the gifts in some particularly novel, dramatic or dainty fashion is the natural desire of every shower hostess. Here are a few of the ways in which the deed can be done or has been done by clever hostesses:



THE SHOWER OF TIN.

At a shower given in June, described in the Boston Cooking School Magazine, the hostess entertained upon her piazza. The guests were all assembled before the bride to be arrived. Her invitation had been for a later hour than those of the rest of the guests in order to accomplish this. The victim of the shower was promptly led up to a window that opened from the living room. Out of this window trailed all sorts of strings. To the other end of the strings, within the living room, were attached the gifts. The bride was instructed to pull the strings, one by one, and see what she got. The result was very amusing. The occasion was a household shower, and according to the description of one guest, "Sometimes she pulled out a cake spoon and sometimes dragged forth a clotheshorse."

A THINNING DIET.

No Necessity For a Too Rigid Dietary. Perseverance Wins.

The girl who would train down should not starve herself. She should eat plenty of the right kinds of food. Most people are fat because they overeat fat making foods.

Here is a diet list that, faithfully persevered in, never fails to take off pounds of superfluous flesh. If you want to get thin you may eat:

Fish—Nearly all fresh fish, boiled.

Meats—Lean beef, mutton or lamb, chicken, game (sparingly).

Eggs—Boiled or poached on toast.

Farinaceous—Stale bread, dry toast or crusts (sparingly).

Vegetables—Spinach, lettuce, celery, cresses, asparagus, cauliflower, onions, white cabbage, tomatoes, radishes, olives.

Desserts—Ripe fruits only, acid varieties preferable.

Drinks—One cup of tea or coffee without milk, cream or sugar or one glass of pure water sipped at the end of the meal.

You must not eat:

Soups, salmon, bluefish, eels, salt fish, pork, veal, sausages, made dishes, fats, potatoes, macaroni, oatmeal, hominy, spices, rice, beets, carrots, turnips, parsnips, puddings, pies, pastry, cakes, sugars, sweets, milk, cream sweet wines, champagne, malt or spirituous liquors.

A Hint to the Housewife.

For the careful housewife intent upon detecting adulterants in foods the following hint from the Scientific American may be acceptable. It is a test for determining the amount of copper used as coloring matter in canned peas, and, while perhaps not so simple as tasting a bit on a spoon or wetting a finger and holding in the breeze, the experiment readily may be carried out in any household fitted with a $10,000 laboratory properly equipped. Here it is:

"The quantity of copper may be determined by incinerating the vegetables, leaching the ash with nitric acid, evaporating to dryness, dissolving the residue in hydrochloric acid, neutralizing the solution with ammonia, acidifying it slightly with hydrochloric acid and precipitating the copper with zinc in a vessel of platinum." Do you think you'll try it?

An Opportune Arrival.

The Monkey (to the porcupine)—Ah, Mr. Quills, you've arrived just in time. I need a toothpick badly.

Better Yet.

"Humph!" said the lady with the extra supply of artificial puffs. "Just listen to this crazy stuff in the woman's department of this magazine: 'To retain your husband's interest in you remember the little traits and ways and mannerisms that won his affections. Be coy, be vivacious. Flirt with him!'"

"Well," responded the lady with the shiny nose, "that seems to me to be good advice."

"Humph! To retain your husband's interest in you flirt with somebody else's husband, my dear!"—New York Life.

Knew His Man.

"Would I fight you?" roars the belligerent man. "You bet I would! I'd fight you at the drop of your hat!"

The other man mumbles something and leaves, whereupon the friend of the belligerent man says:

"Was that just a bluff, or would you have fought him?"

"I don't know whether it was a bluff or not. You see, I knew he was not only stingy, but was wearing a five dollar hat."—Chicago Post.

Up to Him.

"But," said the fiance, "you admitted to my sister yesterday that you were in the wrong."

"Suppose I did?" retorted the fiancee.

"Well, then," he continued, "why won't you make up with me?"

"I will," said she, "as soon as you apologize."—Catholic Standard and Times.

An Unheeding Creature.

"Why do you yell at your mule in that manner?" said the kindly person. "Have you no sympathy for dumb animals?"

"Boss," answered Mr. Erastus Pinkley, "when dat animal takes a notion he's wuss dan dumb—he's deaf and dumb."—Washington Star.

In the Corn Basket.

"Your hat looks like a corn basket," he said.

"Yes," she murmured.

Whereupon he kissed her twice.

"What's that for?" she gasped.

"For your two red ears," he gayly answered.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

More Punishment.

Mrs. Stubbs (reading)—Yes, John, it states here that Abdul Hamid was exiled with twelve wives.

Mr. Stubbs—With twelve wives? Poor old chap! They are determined that he shall not have any peace anywhere he goes.—Chicago News.

Real Pessimist.

"What are you crying about?" asked the kind old lady.

"N-nuttin'," sobbed the small boy.

"Then why should you cry?"

"I—I'm cryin' because der ain't nuttin' to cry about. Boohoo!"—St. Louis Republic.

Veal Cutlet With Bacon.

Divide the cutlet into round pieces two inches across, flatten out with a chopper. Melt one-half ounce of butter on a plate. Add some parsley chopped and an egg. Mix all well together. Flour the cutlets. Dip in the mixture in the plate, then into breadcrumbs. Cut the bacon in thin slices and spread on a skewer. Fry the cutlets in dripping. Drain on paper. Grill the bacon. Make a circle of mashed potatoes on a dish, place the cutlets on the top of the potatoes and garnish with rolls of bacon.

Cables Unchanged—Hogs Active and Five Cents Lower at Chicago.

Butchers.

Prime picked lots of butchers, or rather light exporters, were worth $5.25 to $5.50 loads of good butchers, $5 to $5.25; medium $4.60 to $4.90; common, $3.50 to $4.50; cows, $2.50 to $4.25.

Milkers and Springers.

Sheep and Lambs.

H. P. Kennedy quoted selects, at $8, fed and watered, at the market, and $7.75, f.o.b., cars, at country points.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending Aug. 21 were 2650 cattle, 1700 sheep and lambs, 1800 hogs and 1200 calves. The offerings on the market for local consumption this morning were 1300 cattle, 225 sheep and lambs, 900 hogs and 525 calves.

Owing to the liberal supplies of cattle coming forward, and the quality of stock not being up to the market for this season of the year, an easy feeling continues to prevail in the market, and prices are steadily tending towards a lower level. The weather was fine and cool, and in consequence buyers turned out in large numbers, consequently the demand was good and quite an active trade was done. There was some demand from exporters on account of more encouraging cable advices from Liverpool, which noted an advance in prices of ¼c to ½c per lb. since this day week, with a firm trade doing on account of cooler weather. The result was that supplies of all good cattle on the spot were cleaned up and only a few very inferior bulls were left unsold. The best beeves sold at 5c to 5¼c; good at 4½c to 4¾c; fair at 4c to 4¼c; medium at 3½c to 3¾c; common at 3c to 3¼c, and inferior at 2c to 2½c per lb. Altho receipts of hogs were much smaller than usual, there not being 1000 on the market, yet a weaker feeling prevailed, and prices declined 10c to 25c per 100 lbs. as compared with those paid last Wednesday. This is due to the fact that the quality of the stock coming forward is comparatively thin, they being only spring hogs, consequently they cost considerably more to dress than a good, fat hog, and have to be bought cheaper. The demand from packers was good for supplies, and an active trade was done, sales of selected lots being made at $8.40 to $8.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars. Cable advices from Liverpool, London and Bristol last week reported the markets weaker for Canadian bacon, and noted a decline in prices of 1s to 2s per cwt.

There was no important change in the condition of the market for small meats, except that the feeling in lambs was a little stronger owing to smaller offerings and a good demand, and sales were made at 6c per lb. A fair trade was done in sheep at prices ranging from 3½c to 4c per lb. The demand for calves was good, of which supplies were none too large, and prices ruled high, at from $2 to $12 each, as to size and quality.

At the Canadian Pacific live stock market the receipts for the week ending Aug. 21 were 2217 cattle for export account, 1700 cattle, 1600 sheep and lambs, 700 hogs and 650 calves for local consumption. Supplies on the market this morning consisted of 550 cattle, 400 sheep and lambs, 300 calves and 15 hogs.

ARE NOT ALL DEAD YET BY ANY MEANS

Special to The Review.

Liverpool, Aug. 24. — Shouting "Votes for Women" and "Are We Downhearted?" seven suffragettes who smashed windows during the speech of Minister Haldane were led from the court room to-day after jail sentences had been imposed upon them. Five of the women were sentenced to two months and two others to one month each. The women scorned fines, and were marched to their cells, shouting, and drowning the voice of the magistrate.

RUMOR OF WELL KNOWN MAN OR MAYOR

Although the Review is not at liberty to say who the man is yet, it has good authority for saying that a prominent employer of labor and a man of large experience in municipal affairs is likely to run for the Mayoralty next January. Those who want him to submit his name are in favor of a more progressive policy for Peterborough.

CITY COUNCIL MAY GIVE LARGER GRANT TO INDUSTRIAL FAIR

Two Aldermen Move That the Grant be Increased to $500, But it is Decided to Leave Matter to the Finance Committee—Several Other Questions Considered.

The City Council was in session last night with all the members in attendance except Ald. Morrow. The Council first met in Committee of the Whole, and then in regular session.

A deputation was present from the Peterborough Industrial Fair to ask for the annual grant. President R. H. Leary headed the deputation and acted as spokesman. He thought the Council might increase the grant, as the society had won back the confidence of the people. The buildings were in need of repairs, and the money could be spent to good advantage

Ald Buller moved, seconded by Ald Turner, that the society get a grant of $500.

Ald Duffus said he would not like to see the matter dealt with in the absence of Ald. Morrow, chairman of the Finance Committee.

Ald. Bradburn moved that the matter be left to the Finance Committee. It would only mean a delay of a few days.

Ald. Duffus seconded the motion and it was carried.

The following were among the communications read:

W. T. Carruthers wrote, pointing out the need of a sidewalk on the south side of Charlotte street from Park street to Maitland avenue.

A letter was received from Cox, Kimball & Stowe, barristers, of Buffalo, asking what was the position of the city relative to their claim of their client, the Cameron Septic Tank Company.

F. Bartlett made application for the position of superintendent of construction in connection with the new Smith street bridge.

Notice was received from Dr. Amys secretary, to the effect that the Central Ontario Medical Association approved of the plans for the proposed new isolation hospital.

T. Q. Quartermaine asked for two weeks' holidays.

W. H. G. Armstrong wrote from Buchanan, Sask., regarding a sidewalk for the north side of King street between Pearl and Margaret avenues. He stated that the sidewalk had been properly petitioned for some years ago, but had never been built.

F. J. A. Hall, secretary of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, applied for the annual grant from the city.

His Honor G. M. Roger sent in his resignation as a member of the Court of Revision, owing to his removal to Cobourg.

T. L. Arnott applied for the position of inspector of concrete on the new Smith street bridge. He has completed a course in civil engineering at the Royal Military College.

The Central Milling Co. wrote to the Council in reference to the tax charged against their business assessment for school purposes, alleging that an error had been made.

Mrs J. A. Hartley wrote in reference to her taxes, alleging that an error had been made.

On motion, Caretaker Wilson of the city buildings, was granted two weeks holidays to be taken at once. Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine was also allowed two weeks' holidays after making satisfactory arrangements with Engineer T. A. S. Hay.

Mayor Rush notified the Council that he had appointed Mr. W. F. Johnston to succeed Judge Roger on the Court of Revision.

FINANCE COMMITTEE.

Council of the City of Peterborough:

Gentlemen,—Your Finance Committee beg leave to report as follows:—

Rush, part of park lot No. 1, $1000; W. Overend, part of park lot No. 2, $2200, and Henry Best, park lot No. 3, $3200, provided deeds of the land taken for the streets are given to the city, and that the matter be referred to the Mayor and City Solicitor to procure the deeds.

MANY VISITORS THIS MORNING

Thousands of Flying Ants Congregated on Mr. D. H. Moore's Lawn at an Early Hour

A novel spectacle was noticeable on the lawn of Mr. D. H. Moore on Brock street early this morning, the grass being literally covered with a swarm of flying ants. The insects seemed to take special interest in Mr. Moore's lawn, as they could not be seen on any of the others. There were thousands of the insects, which were about the size of the large black ant. At noon the visitors had all disappeared for parts unknown.

THE DEATH OF P. W. O'FLYNN

The Toronto News says;—After a lingering illness Mr. P. Walter O'Flynn, barrister, thirty-one years of age, died on Saturday. Mr. O'Flynn was a son of the late E. D. O'Flynn, of Madoc, Ont., a private banker of that place. He was a graduate of Toronto University and Osgoode Hall. His practise was largely in Toronto, where he was engaged with Messrs. Moss and Aylesworth, but for a few years he was connected with the firm of Davis, Marshall and McNeill, C.P.R. solicitors, in Vancouver, B.C.

While in Vancouver, Mr. O'Flynn became interested in criminal work, and on his return to Toronto a year ago took up that branch of his profession, making many friends in the police court here. Mr. O'Flynn gained not a little attention by taking cases free of charge of such unfortunates as found themselves under arrest with no money to pay legal fees. His decease will be felt by many of these habitues of the under strata.

He is survived by three brothers, Messrs. F. E. O'Flynn, barrister, of Belleville; F. W. O'Flynn, retired banker, of Toronto; and H. H. O'Flynn, of the head office of the Dominion Bank, of Toronto. Mrs. John A. McKay, wife of a Saginaw, Mich., barrister, is a sister.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday at Madoc.

GRAIN LYING CUT IN FIELDS OWING TO LACK OF LABORERS

Demand for Harvesters is Not Half Satisfied, Says the Authorities—Women and Children Are Working in the Fields in Place of Men.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—An officer of the Provincial Government is authority for the statement to-day that this Province is in urgent need of about ten thousand harvesters, and is facing a serious situation. He said that of all the men who have come west only two thousand have remained here, and gives instances of how certain districts are handicapped by lack of sufficient help. Out on the Hartney branch five hundred men were asked for, but only a dozen could be sent. Grandview asked for 130, and received only twenty. Minto and Southwestern Manitoba are in equally bad condition and several thousand acres are lying unstooked there. The Government has arranged with the railroads to give a cent a mile rate to men from the city who will go out to the fields.

Out around Radisson, Sask., women and children are working in the fields, as men have not been available, and the crops are very heavy.

Mr. F. Cook, Ottawa, representative of The London Times, arrived here yesterday, after a tour of the west. He states that the consensus of opinion throughout the country is that the wheat yield this year will be between one hundred and fifteen million and one hundred and twenty million bushels. Mr. Cook has just returned from Seattle, and in discussing the Fair there he said: "Considering the fact that thousands of Canadians and British people are visiting the Fair, it is somewhat galling to observe the complete absence of the British flag from the Exposition. Nowhere on the grounds can there be seen a single flag of Britain, with the exception of of one on the Canadian pavilion."

A heavy hail storm passed over Baldur section Monday night, and did considerable damage there, at Mariapolis and Glenboro'.

Danger Period Passed.

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—With the critical period—around Aug. 20 and 22—now safely passed without frost, and wheat cutting in progress in many parts of Canada West, a general feeling of optimism prevails among grain men here. Past experience assures that the frost danger is now over until, possibly, the new moon in the middle of next month, by which time a large proportion of the crop should be in stook.

TWO HUNDRED WERE DROWNED WHEN STEAMERS COLLIDED

Terrible Disaster Occurs at Harbor Entrance of Big South American City, When Vessels Collide and Sleeping Passengers Perish.

Montevideo, South America, Aug. 25.—In a driving rainstorm about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, the Argentine excursion steamer Colombia and the North German Lloyd steamer Schlesien collided at the entrance of Montevideo Harbor.

The Colombia was entering port and the Schlesien was outward bound for Bremen. The Colombia's bow was crushed in and she sank almost immediately.

Between 150 and 200 persons were killed or drowned as a result of the accident.

The Colombia carried about 200 passengers and a crew of 48 men. Most of the passengers were asleep at the time and a panic followed the crash.

Almost immediately small boats put out to the sinking steamer, but the work of rescue was rendered very difficult and dangerous by the high [illegible] which was running. About 70 persons were taken into the boats and brought ashore.

Most of the dead are women and children. A majority of the survivors are men. Almost everyone of the crew were saved.

The Colombia was carrying excursionists from Buenos Ayres to the festival at Montevideo, and the disaster has caused the keenest emotion. The Urguayan Government, in consequence, has postponed the fetes arranged for the celebration of the inauguration of the port. The Schlesien was only slightly damaged. Her commander attributes the collision to the wind and the high seas.

Most of the survivors of the vessel were taken from the masts, many of them injured. Scores of bodies have been recovered.

The Colombia was an old steamer of 1,200 tons.

HARRIMAN HAS REACHED HOME AFTER TAKING HEALTH TRIP

All America Awaited Home-Coming of Great Financier, Whose Illness Has Worried the Stock Markets—Will Take a Rest at Country Home.

New York, Aug. 25.—Edward H. Harriman, genius of finance, leader of men, and master builder of railroads, came back to the United States yesterday, while the financial world stood on its tiptoes in anxiety and expectancy.

He came back as he left on June 1st last, a sick, tired man, seeking health.

Last night, surrounded by his family and physicians at his magnificent, though uncompleted summer home at Arden, on the Hudson, he has begun the "after cure," which he needs after the enervating baths and dietic treatment he underwent at the Austrian resort, Bad Gastein. How long he will remain in seclusion, how long it will be before he resumes the active direction of his vast railroad interests, depends solely upon his health.

He arrived yesterday feeble, face gaunt, and voice weak. "And I have come home," he said, "for a cure and not for work."

Many great Americans have returned to their country's shores under extraordinary circumstances, but never has there been a more remarkable home-coming of a private citizen than E. H. Harriman's.

Great stock market operators paused as his ship drew near, the stock itself marked time, and the industrial world turned its eyes seaward, as it were, eager for a glimpse of the face of the man whose illness abroad has furnished much material for stock market rumors.

Contrary to expectations, the financier did not leave the Kaiser Wilhelm II. down the bay, but remained on board until the vessel docked at Hoboken. Then, after being assisted ashore, he boarded a Southern Pacific tug and was taken to Jersey City, where he was again assisted to his private car. From there the trip was quickly made up the Hudson to his mountain home at Arden.

Then, reclining on a couch, pale and enfeebled, but with his usual optimism and tenacity of mind, he talked to an audience of more than a score of newspaper men before leaving for Arden.

Turning to railroad matters, one of the first questions asked concerned his reported option on a controlling interest in New York Central stock, an option which would give him with his other railroads, an unbroken line of steel east and west from coast to coast.

"That is an easy one," said the financier, smiling, "but I would not tell you if I had."

"Do you mean to put the surplus earnings into the roads rather than to turn them over to the stockholders?" he was asked.

"Yes, that's about it," he said, "that is my plan—construction and development—and I guess the public and the press are convinced now that I am not a speculator; it was a hard three years. I wish I could wipe them out, but I am through with that now."

Mr. Harriman would not say just what new undertakings he proposed, "but," said he, "it is in my mind to open up new territory and to build new tributary lines. This means new settlements and more people."

IS DISS DE BAR BACK? BELIEVED SO IN NEW YORK

Windsor, Aug. 25.—The "Flying Rollers" here, the remnant of what was a flourishing colony, are agog over the operations of a self-styled occult priestess, who is holding forth in New York, and claiming to furnish the long sought Elixir of Life by which its devotees may live forever.

She is thought to be none other than "Mother Elinor," or Ann Odelia Diss De Bar, who for a time assumed charge of the Flying Rollers here. She is aided, too, by a young man she calls David, whose description is like that of David McKay, with whom the priestess eloped from here two or three years ago.

Thirteen women and four men attended her first meeting, according to a writer in a New York newspaper. On a throne, under an artificial rubber plant, they found a large women dressed in silk robes, who in a speech informed the flock that the cardinal dogma of the faith was that any who followed its teachings might live forever.

"Mother Elinor" had a sensational career. She left New Orelans some years ago with Theodore Jackson, with whom she went to England and was sentenced to seven years for teaching immoral living. In the Old Country she came in contact with "Prince Michael," leader of the Flying Rollers, and came to Windsor to become queen of the colony here, but her exposure followed soon after, and she disappeared.

LORD STRATHCONA IS AT WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, Aug. 25.—Last night the city was en fete and the population marched along the streets taken by Lord Strathcona. Not since Royalty visited Winnipeg has so much interest been manifested in any one person. Every notability in town was at the depot to greet the High Commissioner, and a guard of honor and escort was furnished by the Strathcona Horse, late R.C.M.R.S. Brief greetings were voiced by Lieut.-Governor Sir D. McMillan, Mayor Evans and several members of the Provincial Cabinet, including Premier Roblin.

Strathcona expressed gratification at again visiting his former home and inspected the cadets outside the depot with the Kilted Boys' Band. Some four thousand took part in a torchlight procession, which passed through decorated streets to Government House, where the High Commissioner is the guest of the Lieutenant-Governor. At the Government House a number of old-timers greeted Strathcona.

HOTEL DESTROYED BY AN EXPLOSION

Elmira, N.Y., Au. 25.—The police are investigating the origin of an explosion and fire which completely destroyed the Olympic Hotel, on West Water street, in this city, and caused the death of Mrs. E. W. Roby yesterday morning. A policeman on his rounds tried the door of the hotel just before the explosion and found them locked as usual. He had proceeded only half a block when there was a terrific report and the rear portion of the building was blown into the Chemung River.

Mrs. Roby was sleeping on the second floor of a frame building adjoining the hotel. The force of the explosion tore a hole 12 feet long and 20 inches wide through the ceiling of her room near her bed, and the shock threw her from the bed to the floor. She had been suffering from heart trouble and the shock killed her.

PROBABILITIES.

Fine and warm. Scattered thunderstorms to-night or on Thursday.

THE NEWS AS TOLD IN DESPATCHES

Windsor, Aug. [illegible] Joseph [illegible], a Syrian, tried to bring a 100-lb sack of peanuts into Windsor yesterday without paying duty. ## SCIENTISTS FOREGATHER

Empire's Greatest Investigators Convene in Winnipeg

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 25.—This morning saw the opening of the Convention of the British Association for the Advancement of Science.

The notables in the realm of learning of the Empire poured into the city all yesterday, until last night it was difficult to secure quarters at any of the prominent hotels.

This morning there were meetings to organize the various sections, while to-night there will be a big mass meeting for men in the Walker Theatre, at which the president, Sir J. J. Thomson, will give his inaugural address. There will also be short addresses of welcome by Premier Roblin and Mayor Evans.

A large contingent of American guests of the British scientists, arrived yesterday to take part in the deliberations.

That the meeting of the Association will be of great practical value to the West and Canada is shown by the action of Rev. Dr. Grey, warden of a large college at Berkshire, England. He has purchased 2,000 acres of land of his own at Fish Creek, to the southwest of Calgary. Here he will establish an up-to-date and thoroughly equipped farming school, to which he can send the boys direct.

With this arrangement, he is certain that a large number of boys will be willing to come, and he will make preliminary arrangements for the first contingent on his arrival home. Dr. Grey will put an experienced man in charge of the farm.

BUGPROOF POTATO HAS BEEN FOUND

Montague, Mass., Aug. 25.—The Rev. Amos N. Somers, a Unitarian minister here, stated yesterday that he has succeeded in growing a "bugproof" potato. He said:

"The vines of my potatoes have a peculiar odor, which is offensive to the potato bug, for it never goes near them. I have taken bugs from plants of the usual type in the next row in my potato patch, and put them in my new vines, and in half an hour I can't find one."

EASTERNER WINS DOMINION MATCH

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—Splendid weather favored the marksmen at Rockcliffe for the second day of the D. R. A. shooting.

The only match completed yesterday was the Dominion of Canada match, 600 and 800 yards. Lieut. Sutherland, of the 78th, Truro, N.S., regiment, won the Patterson Cup and $30 with a score of 69.

Phenomenal scoring was done yesterday by a Toronto man, Sgt.-Major Dymond. He scored 136 out of a possible 140 in shooting at the 200, 500, 600 and 800 yards.

At the "kickers" meeting last night Major Davidson of Quebec said that the bullets used had caused rifles to become coated to such an extent with copper, that a very large number had practically been put out of action. This, he said, would be a serious matter in time of war. Major McRobbie, of St. John, agreed, and instanced cases in the Maritime Provinces where they had trouble with British ammunition.

THE STEAMER COLLINGWOOD WAS DAMAGED

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 25.—The big steamer Collingwood, owned by the Farrar Transportation Co., of Collingwood, Ont., was rammed and sunk in a collision on the river here last night with the steamer George L. Craig. The crew, numbering 23 hands, succeeded in reaching the shore safely.

The Collingwood, immediately after the collision, was headed for the American side, but filled rapidly from a big hole in her starboard side amidships, and sank in 40 feet of water about 100 yards from the bank.

TERRIBLE STORY OF WRECK HAS REACHED VICTORIA, B.C.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 25.—Few more tragic tales of the sea are on record than that brought by the steamer Makura this morning from Australia of the wreck of the Norwegian bark Errot, which struck the Middleton Reef June 18., and the sufferings of the survivors.

Five remained of 22 when they were rescued, so emaciated from thirst and starvation that they had to be carried.

The Makura brings detailed stories of their vain struggles to find water on the reef, their unsuccessful search for a cache of provisions and a life boat maintained there prior to 1886 and which the sailing directions stated to exist, of their abandonment of hope and subsequent delirium.

Captain Anderson and the second mate drowned while building a raft, while his wife and children looked on, and finally after others had succumbed and the remainder were weak from starvation, the captain's wife drowned her four children, aged from one to eight, under the impression that the five survivors were planning to resort to cannibalism, and she followed the children into the waves.

Patrick Palmer, one of the survivors, in relating his story, said: There was another wreck on the reef and we thought it was a store ship. We boarded it, but found nothing to eat. It was musty, old and all it held was a bottle with about two gills of water that must have been there for years by the horrible taste it had.

"I and the carpenter drank that. We afterwards found some more water, and although it was in a bad state, we drank it. We then decided to build a punt from the wreckage, and while we were working at this we lived on shell fish."

PUBLISHER IS CALLED ASSASSIN

St. John, N.B., Aug. 25.—In his address to the Grand Jury yesterday Judge Forbes asked them to find true bills against two Greeks who sold Free Speech, the paper edited by C. Bruce McDougall, who was arrested in Moncton last week and is now in jail here. Referring to the paper, the judge said: "No man is safe from this midnight assassin, who travels in the guise of a secretary, and imperils our families when we are not prepared to come down with the cash."

McDougall, it is likely, will be sent up for trial before Justice White in the Supreme Court. There are eight counts in the charge against him, and should he be convicted he is liable to two years in penitentiary on each count.

THIS FELLOW A REAL PATRIOT

Montreal, Aug. 25.—A humorous turn was given to the work of the civic Royal Commission, when Mr. Rodolphe Brunet, the famous middleman for the distribution of road contracts, came into the limelight on the witness stand. Mr. Brunet described his work as a patriotic triumph for the French-Canadians, as opposed to their English-speaking fellow-citizens.

Despite his patriotism, however, Mr. Brunet was compelled to admit that he had been quite impartial, and accepted commissions from English contractors who wanted to get their tenders approved by the council as readily as he had taken the same from his own friends of the French-Canadian persuasion. He will probably spend some time in the witness box.

LATE NEWS FROM MANY LOCALITIES

Dies Seeking Doctor.

Escanaba Mich., Aug. 25.—Running across lots, stumbling over fences in the darkness and taxing her strength to the utmost, Mrs. Louis Courtright dropped dying on the porch of a physician's home last night after she had gasped out that her young son had been terribly burned. Gramophone Can't Be Stoped by Law.

Kingston, Aug. 25.—Robt. Lipman, owner of the Princess Theatre, was in court yesterday for infraction of civic ordinance recently for running his gramophone to the disturbance of citizens. The council thought it had the matter clinched, but the magistrate after hearing the evidence decided that the noise was not unusual and dismissed the complaint. He said the whistling by steamers in the harbor might be disturbing, but it was not unusual, and the same applied to gramophones.

Short Shrift For Maniac.

Monroe, La., Aug. 25.—Crazed either by whiskey or cocaine, Bill Way, a negro from Hineville, Ark., yesterday dashed down the main street of Monroe with a double-barreled shotgun, firing in every direction.

Citizens returned the fire and the negro finally fell dead after receiving a score or more of wounds. Twenty-one citizens were injured in the fight.

When the negro fell his body was dragged into the street and later taken to a public square and burned in the presence of several thousand people.

Evidence Is Heard.

Fort William, Aug. 25.—Evidence given before the conciliation board is altogether relative to the comparative cost of living here and elsewhere and rates of pay, according to The Labor Gazette. Owen Sound is the only port in Canada paying less than Fort William. The evidence has been completed and the findings mailed to Ottawa.

Dies Erect in Gravel Pit.

Appleon, Wis., Aug. 25.—Standing erect and with a shovel in his uplifted hands, the body of Leo Alesch was dug out of a cave-in and a gravel pit. A farmer saw a slouch hat on top of the gravel. He picked it up and discovered that it rested on a man's head. All but an inch of the victim's head was buried.

LABOUR EXCHANGES

If, instead of spending time and brain-storm in the less considerate, if more showy, arts or artifices of peace, some of our representatives would endeavour to establish labour-exchanges for the gathering of information for men out of work, who want work, a great service would be rendered to the most deserving class in the community. There is plenty of room for such a provision by which the man of small means might be assisted in his search for work, instead of being compelled to pay out all his earnings laid by for a rainy day, in the expenses of looking about for it. Gompers' letters, published in the Review, demonstrate how very far behind we are in Canada in common fairplay labour legislation and money-saving conveniences for the workingman, in comparison with Great Britain and Germany.

FRENCH CANADIANISM

The following news items from the Montreal Witness shows how close to the truth the Toronto News is when it accuses La Presse and other leading French-Canadian journals of being determined to establish French supremacy:

(Montreal Witness)

ALWAYS THE RACE CRY.

Sunday Paper Trying to Work its Favorite Argument Against Referendum.

The race cry is being used for all it is worth in connection with the referendum of September 20. Yesterday the 'Bulletin' published a facsimile of the ballot paper to be handed to the electors to be marked 'No' in answer to the three questions, to be submitted. This was followed by a series of reasons why French-Canadians should vote thus, if they wish to preserve French influence in the municipal government, and, if their civic spirit and their patriotism place them over and above the schemes of those among their compatriots who wish to sell them to the English element. The article says, among other things:

"A reduction in the number of aldermen is a trap laid for your good faith. The object is to deprive the workingmen of their right to take part in the good government of the city, and it is more specially sought to destroy their influence by reducing the number of representatives belonging to the French and working element. The Board of Control is an infamous ambush against which you must be on your guard. If the French-Canadians do not vote against the measure, their influence will be done away with forever. The Board of Works is the Board of Control in disguise, and the English element wish to impose it upon us in default of the other."

CANADA'S TARIFF

A rumor has been going the rounds for some time that the Conservative party was about to declare for free trade, in a hope, supposedly, of going Sir Wilfrid one better and thus ousting him from office. It is needless to say that such a policy was never dreamed of. What was said and what has been said continuously for many years is that a tariff which does not protect has no excuse to live as a mere revenue-extractor, that a tariff that is gradually starving our workingmen to death through reducing wages and raising the cost of living without giving in return anything to the people, but on the other hand, taking away nearly a hundred millions yearly for the financiers, was plainly not free trade or anything else of a recognized commercial character. Great Britain has always had under a sympathetic Liberal government something good to say of a government by [illegible] Liberal Government never anywhere or at any time long maintained satisfactory international relations with anybody, since Liberal trade-policies are not conventions or treaty-arrangements properly so-called, but anarchy—mere trade anarchy, which is in the end, as in the case of the Aldrich bill, brings ruin in their train. It is the same laissez-faire or let-alone policy that brought down Liberalism in Ontario which actually assisted water-power, timber-limit, land and mineral right grabbers to despoil the people, in the name of freedom of trade. It is plain that protection is necessary and is indeed the fundamental function of government.

IN THE SOUTHERN STATES

"The Alabama lawmakers seem to have answered the critics who have been cynically arguing that the Southern prohibitory laws were not meant to be enforced. These critics have claimed that the prohibition was intended to apply to the negro, while the white man could have his drinks at the club, or have them delivered by express at his home. The Alabama Legislature, as if in reply, has passed what are probably the most drastic prohibition laws ever enacted in this country, aimed at these very evasions. One is the Carmichael Act, which has been signed by Governor Comer. It makes illegal the maintenance of "locker clubs," where drinks are obtained, and makes the possession of a United States revenue license by a club evidence of guilt. Little comment has appeared thus far in the Southern press on these laws, but if the enthusiasm of the lawmakers indicates anything, it seems to show that the sentiment of the people is behind them. For criticism we turn to the Columbia State (S. C.), which regards the laws as a dangerous encroachment upon the personal liberty of the individual. It remarks:—

"It is quite true that the law against the sale of whisky is flagrantly violated by so-called locker clubs that have come into being for the purpose of using the name 'club' as a cloak for a blind tiger; it is true that other clubs, not blind tigers, have failed to be scrupulous in conforming to the letter and spirit of the law. But these violations of law, and these careless acts should be punished individually; the whole club system should not be outlawed—and we believe it can not be outlawed—because its privileges have been abused by the lawless.

"If a person can be prevented under the Constitution from keeping a bottle of whisky in a private locker at his club, a place where he may take his meals, or sleep, it seems quite as logical to prevent a man from keeping a bottle in the sideboard at his house.'

Equally severe and still more sweeping in its scope is the Fuller Bill, passed by the Alabama House of Representatives in a frenzy of enthusiasm. By the provisions of this act, declared to be "the most drastic measure ever offered in the South,' to quote a despatch to the New York Tribune:

"No liquors may be sold, no advertisement of liquors appear in any paper or upon any billboard, and no train may leave a car containing liquor upon any track in the state. No place selling any sort of goods may be called a saloon, nor may the word saloon be used. Officers may raid places under suspicion and destroy goods when found. The presence of any internal-revenue license, whether liquor is found or not, is prima-facie evidence of guilt.

"Every corporation of whatever kind must promise when its charter is issued to refrain from bringing in liquors of any kind, violation of which will revoke the license automatically."—Literary Digest.

EDITORIAL NOTES

American journals are wildly jubilant over the return of American prosperity.

That Free Trade has failed, miserably, to make England a paradise for the work is only too plain. That is the foundation of the German scare.

The tax on inventions in Great Britain is three times that in Canada or United States, and twenty times that in Germany. Surely a foolish way of raising revenue!

The British budget seems to be as fair a measure, speaking generally, as can be expected. A free trade country has no other way of giving justice to the masses than by direct taxation.

'Although Britain has the world's best fiscal system, and raises federal revenues with the least margin of burdens above receipts, her direct taxation is far more inequitable than the system in operation for local purposes in this country.—The Globe.

Dear! Dear! And is this the Globe?

One cold morning little Elsie was being bathed by her mother, and usually her bath was a great delight to her. But this morning her mother talked incessantly while she worked. Elsie loved her dearly and tried hard to be patient. But the lecture was so tiresome! Her mother was laying out a course of conduct for the day, and it was all so old. She had heard it over and over again. Finally she said very sweetly but very wearily, "Please, mama, don't talk any more. You do make such a draft!'

"In December, 1906, Mr. Chamberlain, writing to the Parliamentary candidate for the S.E. division of Essex, said: "All we want is fair play in foreign trade, and to treat our friends and kinsmen across the sea better than the stranger outside our gates. Then there will be employment for all who want to work, and with full employment will come a rise in wages and in the standard of living. Though recently few tariff reform leaders have dared to endorse this doctrine in it naked fulness, they assert, one and all, that protective duties imposed upon imports will increase the volume of employment for English workers."

That the tallest trees in the world are not the California "big trees" at all, but the Australian eucalyptus, will be a surprise to many Americans, but not to those who have visited the forests of Australia. In that far-away land, under the Southern Cross, grow trees that tower in the air 150 feet higher than the great Sequoia. Some specimens of the Eucalyptus amygdalina reach to the great height of 480 feet, and specimens abound that are from 120 to 200 feet in circumference. The larger ones are practically of no use for commercial purposes, as the expense of cutting them down and splitting them up is so great that these monsters are passed by the thrifty lumbermen for the smaller ones that are more easily handled.—Literary Digest.

WHY HOT WAVES MAKE US ILL

At the last session of the Ontario Legislature an act was passed fixing the first Tuesday in September as the opening day for High schools and Collegiate Institutes throughout the province.

This year the opening date will, therefore, be September 7th.

In towns and cities it has been found impossible to get the students to attend either the High or Public schools before Labor Day, which accounts for the Act.

In Peterborough the Public schools re-open on the same date as the Collegiate Institute.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

INFANTS DELIGHT
Taylor's Soap

It Leaves the Skin Tingling With Health

There is a wonderful difference in soaps. Have you ever noticed how one kind leaves the skin soft and white while another may leave it red and rough?

Both soaps looked alike, perhaps. But the difference was in the material. Let us tell you what we put into Infants' Delight, then decide if you can continue with common soap.

Ceylon is an island in the Indian Ocean, and from there we bring pure cocoanut oil 12,000 miles to our factory. Then we go to France for vegetable oil, and often pay double what we might pay. But our oil is pure enough for your table.

These oils are doubly boiled and then milled by our own special process, after which they fall like flakes of snow into enormous bins.

Then they are crushed under a weight of 30 tons to press out the moisture. Next they pass through granite rollers and come out in miles of silky ribbons. Finally they are dried eight times and then stamped into cakes.

Could you imagine a more delightful soap than this? It lathers into a rich, creamy foam. It wears as thin as a wafer. It leaves the skin as soft as velvet and as smooth as satin. It is the very utmost in perfect soap.

The perfume is the delicate scent of the roses. We pay $100 a pound for pure Otto of Roses, but it requires 3,000 pounds of rose leaves to make a single ounce. The fragrance is simply exquisite—it brings the breath of a million flowers. Use a single cake and learn how delightful it really is—it costs no more than the common, so why not have the best?

How to Massage

Shave some Infants' Delight into a tub of hot water and let it dissolve. Then immerse your body and remain in the water several minutes. Lather the body thoroughly with Infants' Delight—rub it right into the skin, for it is so pure it will only nourish and soothe. Massage well with the finger tips and the palms of the hands and you will find a most pleasant sensation after the bath is finished.

LABOUR CONDITIONS IN CITY AND DISTRICT

The Labor Gazette for August contains the following report from J. A. Sharp, Peterborough correspondent:—

Conditions during July were steadily improving. The building trades were very busy. The contract for a new public library has been let, a local firm securing it. The price is $21,887. All the large factories were busy, some of them working overtime. The Quaker Oats Co. was working to full capacity. The Central Milling Co. is installing new machinery, and by the first of September will be turning out 400 barrels of flour a day. The Wm. Hamilton Co. was very busy, having received several large contracts lately. The Canadian General Electric Works in some departments were working overtime and were busy in all departments. A carload of machinery has arrived for a company which will start boring for gas and oil.

CONDITION OF LOCAL INDUSTRIES

Agriculture—The hay crop is rather light. Fall wheat presents a promising appearance, also alsike and clover. The farmers are getting a good price for pork, viz., 8 cents for hogs on the foot, the highest paid in any previous season.

Lumbering—Lumbermen were busy getting logs to the mills.

Manufacturing — Industrial establishments were active, and showed some improvement over last month.

Railway Construction—On account of the increased traffic on the main line of the C.P.R., it has been found necessary to contract a meeting siding east of the city half a mile from the station.

CONDITION OF PARTICULAR TRADES

Bricklayers, masons, carpenters and plasterers have been very busy this month. Painters were also busy. Plumbers have been fairly well employed. Builders' laborers were very busy. Iron moulders and core-makers were very busy, also machinists and electrical workers. Wood workers were all well employed. Printers had all they could do. Tailors also had a good month, and bakers were very busy. Cigarmakers reported a slight improvement in business. Among railway employe's conditions have been very good. The traffic on the railway lines was heavy, both in freight and passengers. Steamboat men have had all they could handle. Unskilled labor has been well employed.

DISTRICT NOTES.

Hastings—The first work on this section of the Trent Valley canal started a few days ago, when a gang of men commenced excavating for the water from just above the locks. A larger force of men will be put on soon, and the river front for some distance up will be completely changed by a concrete and steel pier.

Omemee—Lake Bros., of Lindsay, have been awarded a contract for the building of 3,400 feet of granolithic walks in the village.

PROPRIETOR SAYS ITEM WAS WRONG

Mr. Gilman Refutes Statement of Party From Peterborough

Mr. Jack Gilman, proprietor of the hotel at Jubilee Point, claims the paragraph which appeared in the Review on Monday claiming that he showed negligence towards a party from Peterborough on Sunday in not supplying them meals is not correct.

"I would have given them meals" he said, "if they had waited long enough. The tables were full when they arrived and they would have been served all right. The complaint in the Review was an exaggerated statement of facts and very unjust to me."

A Rattlesnake Trap.

Rattlesnakes were the most dangerous wild animals with which the early settlers of New Jersey had to contend. They were very numerous, and their bite, if not treated properly at once, was generally fatal. In "Stories From American History" F. R. Stockton cites an incident which gives an idea of the abundance of the rattlers in the new colony:

In a quarry from which the workmen were engaged in getting out stone for the foundations of Princeton college a wide crack in the rocks was discovered which led downward to a large cavity, and in this cave were found about twenty bushels of rattlesnake bones.

There was no reason to believe that this was a snake cemetery, to which the creatures retired when they supposed they were approaching the end of their days, but it was without doubt a great rattlesnake trap.

The narrow, winding passage leading to it must have been very attractive to a snake seeking retired quarters in which to take its long winter nap. Although the cave at the bottom of the great crack was easy enough to get into, it was so arranged that it was difficult if not impossible for a snake to get out, especially in the spring, when snakes are very thin and weak, having been nourished all winter by their own fat.

Thus year after year the rattlesnakes must have gone down into that cavity without knowing that they could never get out again.

| | Authorized. | To be issued. |
|---|---|---|
| Bonds | $ 8,000,000 | $5,000,000 |
| Preferred | 11,000,000 | 9,000,000 |

Of the $9,000,000 preferred, $4,000,000 will go to pay for properties, so that only $5,000,000 will be issued to the public.

The Star continues;

"It is understood that the merger will embrace important cement concerns in Canada, with the exception of one, and that this concern and the merger will work in harmony.

When seen Mr. W. M. Aitken, who has just returned from New York, said that while everything was going satisfactorily he had nothing to give out for publication.

"A western cement man, however, said that Mr. Aitken's mission to New York had proved fruitful of excellent results, and that, as stated above, Mr. Aitken had completed negoitations with various enterprises that assured the complete success of the combination.

"A strong group of both Canadian and English financiers are already identified with the project."

It is further reported that the merger company is planning the erection of plants at Winnipeg and Victoria where there are inexhaustible marl deposits.

On Saturday evening, after tea, a small regatta was held in front of the dock at Viamede. The events were most interesting, and the excitement was intense.

Miss Chenowith and Mr. Lech won the mixed canoe race after a struggle with Miss Hudspeth and Mr. Teskey. Clifford Cramer won th eboys' single skiff.

At the concert which followed the regatta the prizes were presented by Mr J. R. Silliman, the chairman.

Piano solo—Miss Bell
Vocal solo—Mrs. Passmore.
Recitation—Miss Miller
Vocal solo—Mr. Passmore.
Dance—Miss Stenberg.
Piano solo—Mrs. Silliman.

The programme, though short, was extremely good, and every number was well rendered. After the programme was over dancing began and continued till eleven o'clock. The evening was a most enjoyable one and was greatly enjoyed by all present.

On Sunday morning five young ladies took a long walk in the country intending to loop-the-loop. At Holy Trinity church they kept straight on instead of turning toward the lake and they were several miles on the road to Burleigh before they discovered their mistake. They arrived home tired but none the worse for their experience.

The service on Sunday evening was taken by Rev. J. Bennet Anderson, Diocesan evangelist. Mr. R. S. Soanes took charge of the music. The service was greatly enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Passmore sang a solo during the offertory.

Messrs. Cramer, Farraghen, Kimball, Hibbard, King and Dr. Beir have had splendid luck fishing this week.

He is also an alderman of the city of Woodstock. He has been fortunate in securing an excellent location for his college here, fuller particulars of which will be given when Mr. Gibbon returns to Peterborough the first of next week. The teaching staff for the new institution will be brought from Woodstock.

The Old and New Sale

It's hurry! hurry!! hurry!!! and get the stock shelves and wardrobes empty for the new fall goods and "hurry" it is. Creasman's are right into the beginning of another Fall season and are now exerting every energy to pass out the remainder of their summer stocks. The ready-to-wear stock is being overhauled this week and the summer suits, dresses, skirts, blouses are being priced so low that they are sure to go, and go quickly. Some very natty styles too, yet they must move.

The new cloth garments are coming in fast and you will be pleased when you see them—such a variety of styles and cloths—such an assortment never was shown there before, from the low and medium priced varieties to the highest grade. There are some very handsome effects in the long coat and skirt suits, made of fine French finished broadcloth in very new shades and trimmed with braids and braided buttons in striking panel effects. Just watch for Creasman's display in the windows to-night.

THE BEAUTY OF ASHBURNHAM

The former "Scotch Village," and later on "Ashburnham," is the old part of the present municipality of Peterborough. In "those days" the village of Peterborough (nee Scott's Plains) was in touch with Cobourg. Port Hope not being reachable by water was visited by the back country on foot only. Times were always expected to improve on the opening of navigation—down the river Otonabee. The beautiful house and grounds of Mr Lundy have retained their place name, "Verulam House," the name of the residence of Rev. Mr. Dunsford, situated there long ago, who in all probability brought it down from Verulam, Sturgeon Lake, to which he had come "out" from England. The lake is in full view of the greater part of the village, and from the heights on the north-east side known as Armour's hill, the view is splendid. But it is in the prettiness of the many villas that Ashburnham's attractiveness chiefly consists. They are numerous and shapely with trim, well-kept lawns and an abundance of flowers. The former village is a clean, prosperous and beautiful quarter of the city of Peterborough, to which it has become reconciled after a long period of coyness and disdain. The streets and walks are in keeping with the general trimness of the "suburb." Some day, no doubt, the artistic St. Joseph's Hospital building will be surrounded by more ambitiously kept grounds. At the present the needs of the sick and poor are necessarily the only consideration.

St. Luke's is finely situated and is dear to the hearts of the many Anglicans in that quarter. Possibly St. Mark's will some day occupy a site more in keeping with its importance, but taken all in all, Ashburnham is a lovely part of the city. The loss of the great willows on the west side of the old Rogers homestead will, it is to be hoped, be made up by their regrowth before long. The flowing stream in the shadow of the big willows was formerly one of the beauty spots of the village.

I. O. F. HIGH COURT, IS IN SESSION

Chatham, Aug. 24.—The High Court of Ontario, I.O.F., is now in session here, with the record-breaking attendance of 485. The session opened at 10 o'clock, H. C. R. Foster, of Hamilton, presiding.

After the appointment of committees and the conferring of the High Court degree on new delegates, addresses of welcome were delivered by Bros. Mayor Westman, A. B. McCoig, M.P., and G. W. Sulman, M.P.P., also representatives of local sister societies.

The afternoon session of the High Court was largely devoted to social enjoyment. Following the exemplification of the new ritual by Chatham guard of honor, the companion delegates toured the city in automobiles, after which a reception was held in the I.O.F. lodge rooms. Early in the evening a grand parade of High Court officers, delegates and local Foresters headed by the 24th Regiment band, took place to Tecumseh Park, where a band concert was held, followed by a grand musical and promenade concert was held, followed by a grand musical and promenade concert in the armory, which concluded the day's programme.

The outlook is that Rev. Dean Davis, London, will be elected H. C. R. to-morrow without opposition, while George W. Wands, of Chatham, is so far unopposed for H.V.C.R.

THAT WATCH OF YOURS

Is in many respects similar to a railway engine. Let an engine be run without oil or cleaning and before long it will stop dead. Upon examination it will be found that the friction and wear and tear has ruined the machinery, and it is fit only for the scrap iron heap. Likewise your watch. You put it in your pocket, and while there is a kick in it, you, in your mistaken economy, do not consult the watchmaker, and consequently rob your watch of years of good service and also much of its former accuracy. The time-keeping qualities of a good watch are maintained and often improved by timely and skilful attention. If you have been one of the neglectful ones call around and see us.

TWO DRUNKS EACH GIVEN TEN DAYS

Both Had the Usual Tale to Tell at Police Court This Morning But it Did'nt go

John Sullivan came down from Lakefield on a visit to the city, but unfortunately the extreme heat made John beat it for the bar, and he took a drop too much. This morning at the police court his well-known features were almost indistinguishable by a thick coating of blood, and the visitor looked as if he had become mixed up with a prize fighter. his plea for time to pay a two-dollar fine proved fruitless, and he will holiday at Castle Nesbitt for the next ten days.

ANOTHER REGULAR.

William Murphy, another visitor, who thought he might as well give Barrie as his home as any other place, also made a strong appeal for a few days to pay his fine of two dollars for being drunk last evening, but the yarn didn't go, and he will spend his vacation with Sullivan.

Murphy was picked up last night beside the Grand Trunk railway track in an intoxicated condition. He had previously tried to get next to the bumpers on the Lindsay train.

WHAT IS BEING DONE?

Without in any sense reflecting upon the energy and good faith of the Mayor and City Council, it is yet apparent that the citizens generally are getting a little anxious about the proposed "forward policy." There are some vacant houses in Peterborough and they cannot be filled up except by getting new industries to come here. How do we propose to induce them to come here? That is the germ of the "forward policy" and the citizens generally feel that they are entitled to the information from those they look to to manage their municipal affairs. Some day a by-law connected with the policy will be placed before the people and it will be defeated. Why? Because the tendency is to keep by-laws in the quiet seclusion of the hatching coop too long. The people want to see the process of incubation and when they do they will not only understand the by-laws, but will be prepared to pronounce upon them. And then no deserving by-law will meet the fate of many of its predecessors.

It is impossible to enlighten the people by talking without coming to a conclusion. Where are we just now? Are we drifting or are we developing a policy? An answer will oblige a large body of inquiring citizens. Again we say that it is through no lack of appreciation of the efforts of their representatives that the people murmur. They are sympathetic, but they are also anxious. It won't do to have any more empty houses. It is not like Peterborough. The whole world over from Norway to the southern limit of Mexico, this is the age of waterpower. The Ontario Government is working might and main to hold water powers for the use of those who wish to make use of them. It is straining every nerve to educate the people up to the situation. Our future as a province depends upon this policy. What is our share in it in Peterborough? Are we abreast of the times?

THE NEW LIBERAL POLICY

The building and maintaining of a navy by Canada as a separate and distinct naval force of her own is the Liberal sea policy. It will be enormously and disastrously expensive. How much better, cheaper and vastly more imperial and patriotic for us to have done as Great Britain wanted and expected us to do, viz. to contribute a ship or two to the British imperial fleet. It may well be asked why this expensive and unsympathetic policy was adopted. The answer is contained in all the articles of the slavish Laurier press. It is because the French-Canadians will not stand for closer imperial union. The British empire is being sacrificed to the jugglery of insincere politicians. They do not truly represent Canadian sentiment. Our action was a great disappointment to the Mother Country, as La Patrie admits, and it will be a still greater one to Canada, as time will show.

LIFE-SAVING

We are indebted to Mr. F. M. Dela Fosse for the information that Mr. William Hendry, the father of marine life-saving in England, is likely to come to Peterborough to lecture. If there is one thing more than another that we Canadians are callously neglectful of, it is the lives of those who go down to the water in canoes. All regattas should have a life-saving stunt as an item in their programmes. Nothing is more necessary than object lessons in this respect. Many valuable lives are lost and homes desolated for want of a little of the general knowledge of rescuing and reviving those in peril in the water. It is a move that will secure the hearty sympathy of every lover of his fellows, and we hope that those promoting it will succeed in inducing Mr. Hendry to come here.

LEAVES NORWOOD FOR THE WEST

Mr. George J. Sherry, the well-known barrister, has sold his residence in that village and will leave for the west in the near future. He intends residing there. Mr. Sherry has been prominent in the affairs of Norwood and East Peterborough for a number of years, and his departure and that of his family will be greatly regretted. He has been secretary of the East Peterborough Liberal-Conservative Association, and in that position has rendered excellent service. It is understood that Mr. Sherry will reside in Vancouver.

WATCHING FOR COMING COMET

Local Astronomers on Lookout for Halley's Which is Approaching Earth after Absence of 75 Years

The local members of the Royal Astronomical Society are keeping a sharp lookout for the appearance of Halley's comet, which, as one gentleman stated to the Review to-day, is "expected to appear at any hour." When it does appear it is likely that attempts will be made by those who have the necessary apparatus to secure photographs of it.

Halley's comet, which is approaching the earth at a constantly increasing speed, and to catch the first traces of which photographic plates are being exposed at observations all over the world, will not be so striking an object as Donati's comet, which in 1858 spread scimitar-like over a great part of the heavens. Yet, two points in its history make it the most famous of all comets; its long sequence of appearance at intervals of about seventy-five years, which have been traced back to 240 B.C., and the circumstances under which it became associated with the name of Edmund Halley.

Newton's theory of gravitation suggested that comets might belong to the solar system, moving about the sun in long ellipses and parabolas. Halley, on his appointment as Savilian professor of geometry at Oxford, in 1704, followed up the work of his beloved master by computing the orbits for twenty-four comets from 1337 to 1698.

As an accidental outcome of this he discovered that the orbits of three of them—those of 1531, 1607 and 1682—were so nearly alike as to suggest the identity of the comets. The period of their appearances varied between seventy-four and seventy-seventy-six years, but this could be accounted for by the pull of the planets, and hence Halley decided that they were really reappearances of the one comet.

Before his death in 1742 he reflected that although he could not hope to see the comet's return, if it did appear "about the year 1758," posterity would remember that it was an Englishman who first predicted it.

The comet returned in 1759, as Halley predicted, the slight delay being also foreseen as due to planetary attractions. It has appeared once since then, and we are now watching for its third calculated appearance.

Earl Grey will visit Winnipeg in October.

EACH TEAM CONFIDENT OF WINNING SATURDAY

Judging by reports from the practice grounds of the T.A.S. and West Ends each team is doing some tall talking about their chances of winning the city league fixture at Riverside Park Saturday afternoon. Each team will have a big following of supporters on hand and the West Enders will go into the game with all kinds of confidence in their ability to take the measure of the abstainers and it will take a good guesser to figure out the winner. Both teams are working hard and the fans are sure to see an interesting struggle. The fair members of fandom demonstrated at the last game that they can root some, and a large number are looked for this coming Saturday. The regular prices of admission will prevail and another big crowd will no doubt greet the two teams when they come together.

MIDDLEWEIGHT WRESTLER WOULD LIKE MATCH HERE; WON BOUTS IN THE NORTH

Charles Fraser, a middleweight boxer and wrestler, was in the city today, and is looking for a match with any middleweight boxer or wrestler in these parts. Fraser says he has only wrestled a couple of professional bouts, but is anxious to stay with the game and would like to meet some of the mat artists in this part of the province. He is prepared to make a match for $100.00 a side and 50 per cent of the gross gate, catch as catch can, Police Gazette rules to govern.

Fraser recently wrestled a couple of matches at Elk Lake with two New Ontario heavyweights, Bert Church and Charlie Lothian, winning both. He also had an engagement with Artie Edmunds to throw the pocket Hercules twice in an hour, but he only managed to get one fall on the featherweight wonder.

Fraser is 6 feet 2 inches in height and looks as though he might be a husky member. Any acceptances of his challenge may be addressed to the sporting editor of the Review.

THE CANADIAN CRICKETERS WON

Montreal, Aug. 24.—Canada scored an easy victory in the international cricket match against the United States eleven, winning out on the two innings concluded this afternoon by a margin of 143 runs. Canada today ran up an overnight score of 31 runs for the loss of one wicket into 194 runs, the innings ending at three o'clock this afternoon.

United States were then faced with the task of getting 266 runs to win. After the weak showing of the eleven in the first day's play, this was practically hopeless and a victory for Canada was certain. Evans and Fellowes proved the only batsmen to improve on their work of Monday, the former scoring 42 runs and the latter 20.

After a little over two hours at the wicket the side was dismissed for 122 runs.

Godwin, who bowled in fine form for the Canadians on the first day, was again the leading trundler for Canada, taking five wickets for 44 runs.

The Canadians continued to show smart work in the field, and no less than seven of the United States batsmen were caught out, several on very difficult chances. Heygate, of Ottawa, was the biggest scorer of the match, with 24 runs in the first innings and 55 in the second. Scores:—

SPORTING NOTES

The Lindsay baseball team, under the management of "Bill" Cinnamon, have completed arrangements to play the T.A.S. team in Peterborough on Labor Day.

The team will be composed of Lindsay boys and they are asked to be on hand at the Agricultural Park on Wednesday evening for a practise game.—Lindsay Warder.

No matter what club wins the major league pennants, the first game of the 1909 world's championship series, will be played on Saturday, Oct. 9. The American leaguers [illegible] thus have a four-day rest [illegible] call- [illegible] do batt[illegible] [illegible] [illegible]nds the bo[illegible] in the senior organization. Both the big organizations are having spirited pennant sprints. In each league three clubs have chances for the pennants—Pittsburg, Chicago and New York in the National, and Detroit, Philadelphia and Boston in the American League.

Shortstop Kid Mabling, of the Toronto Club has made only one error in the last 20 games, and that on a thrown ball. He has not missed a ground ball in four weeks.

Five—is it a lucky number? Walsh, White, Smith, Fiene, Scott, Sutor, Burns. Those are the labels of the White Sox seven pitchers. It's peculiar that each name embraces five letters, but it's a fact.

The Strathconas will practice at the Oval this evening. All players are asked to be on hand as early as possible.

SHOOTING PIGEONS ON THE WING

Yesterday three members of the Gun Club hired themselves out at nothing per day to rid a well-known Monaghan farmer of pigeons. Pigeons to the number of two score were eating up the pease as they were brought in from the fields until the crops of the pigeons contained more pease than the crop in the barn. It was exciting sport while it lasted, popping them off as they wheeled high over the roost. Washed down with a pail of buttermilk it was a pleasant outing.

BOX OF CIGARS FOR HOME RUN

A box of 25 cigars has been put up by the secretary and the vice-president of the City Baseball League, to go to the player making the first home run during the balance of the season. The heavy sluggers of the T. A. S. and the West Ends will make a big attempt to land the "smokes" on Saturday.

CRICKET

A most enthusiastic meeting of the cricket club was held in the Y.M.C.A. parlors last night. A goodly number was present, and the following team was chosen to play against the Warkworth team at Nicholls Oval on Thursday next: C. H. Hill, A. Campbell, D. C. Ferguson, M. F. Hughes, A. Elliott, W. Elliott, J. Gibson, H. W. Clark, C. Green, C. Doucette.

Luncheon will be served on the grounds by Coleman Bros. at 12.30. The game will start about 11 o'clock.

Warkworth will not be able to play the local cricketers here to-morrow and the match has been cancelled.

THE RING

A match is expected to be clinched to-day in San Francisco between Jack Johnson and Al Kaufman, the California heavyweight. Johnson arrived in Frisco last night and Jimmy Coffroth immediately made him an offer to fight Kaufman for twenty rounds at Colma, Cal., on the afternoon of Sept. 9th. Johnson at first thought that the time was too short, but he finally told Coffroth that he would see him again to-day and would in all probability agree to the match. Morris Levy, who is manager of Kaufman now, said he was willing to sign up for the bout.

The big bout this week will be the ten-round go between Joe Jeanette, the colored heavyweight, and Sandy Ferguson of Boston, which takes place at the stag of the Fairmont A. C. on Friday night. They fought a hard 12-round battle in Boston a few months ago, Ferguson being awarded the decision. Jeanette claims he was robbed out of the verdict, and intends to get even with Ferguson this time by putting him away. Both men are training hard, and will be in fine shape.

QUITE WARM ENOUGH TO-DAY, THANK YOU

Vive la straw hat!

There is a mixture of French and English about the above sentence, but there is no mixture about the weather to-day. It is hot and nothing else.

It was warm yesterday, and last night the temperature was as mild as a glass of buttermilk. The mercury took an upshoot to-day, and at noon the glass registered ninety in the shade. Summer "rags" are again much in evidence, and a good many people who were complaining about the cold a day or two ago are now kicking about the heat, for

Man is somewhat of a fool,
When it's hot he wants it cool,
When it's cool he wants it hot,
Always wanting what is not.

Launch Afire; Occupants Saved.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—A yachting party had a narrow escape from death near Sorel. ### Saved By Heroic Mother.

Kingston, Aug. 25.—Unable to swim a stroke herself, Mrs. C. I. Mrs. Manning, a neighbor, saved both lives by extending a long pike pole.

Messrs. C. E. Dittman, of Wyanesburg, Pa., and Jas. Peat, of Petrolia, are in the city to-day in connection with the gas drill operations now being carried on at Kincaid's farm, in North Monaghan. Granite has been struck by the drill in the well where the work has been carried on and Mr. R. H. Leary sent for Messrs. Dittman and Peat to come and make an inspection and decide on what steps would be taken.

The three went to Kincaid's farm this afternoon. As granite has been struck it will be impossible to continue the drilling in the well and for further operations a new shaft will have to be sunk.

WHICH MILKMAN OWNS SAMPLE OF MILK NO. 20

The hearing of the two milkmen charged with peddling adulterated milk, was resumed at the police court this afternoon at two o'clock.

Mr. G. G. Nasmith, of Toronto, chemist of the Provincial Board of Health, was the first witness, and he stated that he had analyzed the sample of milk numbered 20. There was a quantity of borax in the sample but he could not say how much. The chemical was used as a preservative to keep the milk from fermenting, and his opinion was that it was a detriment to the health of the consumer of the milk.

[illegible] one of the accused milkmen, and he said that the sample of milk secured from his wagon by Mr. Ball was taken at the laneway leading into the Oriental Hotel yard, and not on Simcoe street, as stated by Mr. Ball. It was about 10.35 in the morning and Mr. Ball did not put the number on the bottle while in his presence. He used borax to clean out the milk pails at the farm, but had never put any in the milk which he delivered.

Mr. R. F. McWilliams, who is representing the defendants, was of the opinion that a mistake had been made in the numbering of the samples, and that the wrong party was being prosecuted.

On going to press the hearing had not been concluded.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trade-mark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ills., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

TENNIS CLUB HAD USE OF TELESCOPE

And Members of Nicholls Oval Club Greatly Enjoyed the Evening

From tennis to astronomy is quite a distance, but the Nicholls Oval Tennis Club delved into both last night. The club had a picnic at the Oval in the evening, and about twenty-five of the members were in attendance, and thoroughly enjoyed the excellent repast that was served. Through the courtesy of the president of the club, Mr. D. E. Kennem, a large telescope belonging to the local branch of the Royal Astronomical Society, was on hand, and as soon as it was dark enough it was turned on the moon, which is in a favorable position for observation at the present time. A fine view of the lunar body was obtained, and several double stars were also seen to advantage. The telescope used had a magnifying power of sixty and brought the bodies used that many times nearer the earth.

The outing was greatly enjoyed by the members of the club.

WHAT IS ITCH DIRT ?

It is the old Anglo-Saxon name for Dandruff and it's a good one. If you have dandruff you have itch dirt and the little microbes that are part and parcel of dandruff are working persistently night and day and sooner or later will reach the very life of your hair and destroy its vitality.

Then you'll be bald—Bald to stay—for not even the wonderful rejuvenating properties in Parisian Sage can grow hair after the hair bulb or root is dead. Parisian Sage cures Dandruff. Wm. Madill, the druggist, sells it; only 50 cents a large bottle and your money back if it fails to cure Dandruff, Falling Hair and itching of the Scalp.

REVIVAL OF CROSS STITCH.

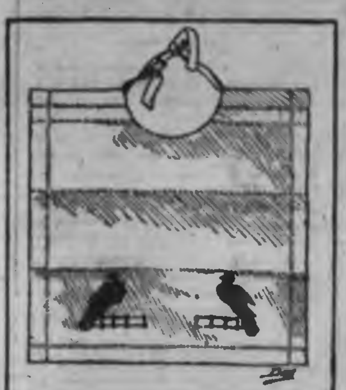
An Absurdly Easy Embroidery That Is Seldom Well Done.

Cross stitching is "one of those absurdly easy things," so we are assured, "that even the smallest child can do." Yet one rarely sees an entirely satisfactory piece of this old time fancy work, a perfect expression of the real art of cross stitching. If you will resurrect some sampler done in particolored yarns by a faroff grand dame when almost in her babyhood, but under the watchful eye of a quaint mother of the olden times, you will find, contrary to your expectation, that even she did not know how. The cross is seldom made so that each and every top stitch slants but one way and the same way. There is an intangible method in cross stitching that produces the perfect piece of work, just as there is in knitting. No second person can take it up and continue exactly as it was begun.

It is generally known that a coarse stuff called penelope canvas is first basted over the material as a guide. The colored stitches are made through its squares, and its separate linen threads are pulled out when the work is completed. The only correct way to cross stitch is the working in of the understitch in one direction and the crossing of every top stitch in the other direction.



BIB WITH CROSS WORK DESIGN.

On only a few materials of a canvas scrim or basket weave and perchance a linen or burlap of unusual evenness can the work be done without this penelope canvas. Cross stitching is quite as dependent upon the design as any other of the embroideries. It may be just plain monotonous or else positively fascinating in the way the pattern develops.

The bib illustrated is a bit of cross work with a design of blue peacocks comfortably perched on their red fence. The hemstitching on this linen huckaback is no finer than the hand done hem about the neck, and even the tapes are finished at the ends.

Perhaps a child's bib is the most simple of all the garments on which this cross work may be shown, but it serves quite as well as any other to prove the whys and wherefores of nice cross stitching.

DOMESTIC FINANCE.

Pitiful Ignorance of the Average Girl Concerning Household Expenses.

Miss Grace Pitman, who lectures on domestic finance before schools and colleges, had an interesting experience recently when she lectured before a fashionable school for young women. She happened to have just been reading something about the army and noticed that the salary of lieutenants is $1,500. So when she stood up before her audience she announced that she would explain to them her system of administering an income of $1,500, which was the salary of a lieutenant in the United States army. A smile ran round the room, which became almost a titter. One girl right down in front of the lecturer had a very rosy face, but did not look at all happy. Miss Pitman divided up the income, showed what such a family would have to have and what the things would cost. She could allow only $10 a month for service, and that, she showed, would secure only one pitiful greenhorn in the kitchen. The lecturer's scheme allowed only $7.88 a week for food, and she showed what could be got for that amount. A young housekeeper, she said, could hardly be expected to feed her family for less than $10 a week, but an experienced housekeeper could do it for $6.

As the lecturer continued the girl down in front looked more and more sober. That evening she called upon the lecturer and explained the cause of the cheerful smiles of that afternoon. She was engaged—as all her schoolmates were aware—to a lieutenant and expected to marry him as soon as she was graduated in June. But now she was frightened. She did not know whether she would marry him or not.

"She had actually," said Miss Pitman, "had no idea of what it meant to live on $1,500 a year. She was planning to keep three servants. She had no idea that three servants could not be kept on this sum, and her mother was allowing her to marry this man with no conception of what it meant to live on his salary. Talk about $6 a week for food! Twenty dollars a week would not have sufficed for that girl."

Probably Hanged.

A writer in the Argonaut tells of the sister of Lord Houghton, who was frequently annoyed at the guests whom her brother brought to the house.

"Do you remember, my dear," he asked her at dinner one day, "whether that famous scoundrel X. was hanged or acquitted?"

"He must have been hanged," she replied, "or you would have had him to dinner long ago."

The two-year-old Mueller child that was lost six days ago near Stellarton, has not yet been found.

SEWAGE REQUIREMENTS OF CITY GIVEN BY MR. CHAPMAN

For South Western District.—Mr. Willis Chapman Deals with Sewage Pumping Station, Romaine Street Sewer, Rink and Park Street Drains and the Cost.

The following letter on the sewage requirements of the city by Mr. Willis Chapman, of Toronto, will be of interest to the ratepayers;—

Chairman Board of Works:

Dear Sir,—I beg to submit for your consideration the following interim report upon the sewerage and drainage of the south-western part of the city of Peterborough;—

TOPOGRAPHY.

The greater part of the area lying south from the General Electric Company's works has a continuous and practically uniform slope to the Otonabee river, although apparently level ground. There is not one well defined water course in the whole area, the surface water running southerly down Park street side ditches, easterly along the ditches or gutters on the streets at right angles to Park and Lock streets. At the C.G.E. the surface water flows easterly to the river through a timber drain built for the purpose.

MAIN SEWER.

The main sewer on Lock street, constructed in 1891, was designed to convey the entire domestic sewage of and levels taken under my direction examinations were made of this sewer and level stakes under my direction early this season, and I am pleased to be able to say that the sewer is in a good condition, and that it was built carefully to the grade intended, reports to the contrary, notwithstanding.

It is of ample capacity for the domestic sewage from a city much larger than Peterborough if the surface water be excluded. During high water in the river, however, this main sewer would be flooded for many blocks if nothing were flowing down the sewer, not the flow further sorges it, and I am inclined to believe that at times it may run full from Townsend street to its outlet.

An overflow was constructed at Townsend, but this also serves as an inlet in high water. Proper valves and chambers should be provided at this point to control the flow.

From Perry street to the outlet of the main sewer, tributary sewers would be subject to flooding during freshets in the river.

ROMAINE STREET SEWER.

Mr. Chapman did not think that the present Romaine street sewer would ever prove satisfactory. This was due to improper laying of the pipes. The sewer was designed all right and would have been satisfactory for at least eleven months of the year.

PUMPING STATION.

After a careful study of the problem I have reluctantly arrived at the conclusion that the domestic sewerage for that part of the city lying west of the river and south of Rink street cannot be conveyed by gravity to the river, unless cellars and basements be prohibited throughout the greater part of the area.

I am of the opinion that the problem can best be solved by constructing a sewage pumping station as near as possible to the lowest point in the area under consideration. The exact location is not important, but I have selected Romaine street at its intersection with the G.T.R. line to Port Hope. It should be possible for the city to acquire a triangular piece of land at this point at a reasonable price.

The Romaine street sewer west of the pumping station should be relaid at such lower depth as will permit all streets within the low area being surveyed by gravity to the proposed pumping station. Between the railway and the Lock street main sewer, the Romaine street sewer as laid may be used as an outlet.

PUMPING MACHINERY.

The pumping machinery should be in duplicate, one pump being operated by an electric motor that will start and stop automatically with the fall and rise of the sewage, the other pump to be operated by a gasoline engine, this latter unit to be held in reserve for an emergency.

The power required will not exceed 10 horse-power for the immediate service, but I would advise 15 horse-power.

The building for housing machinery should be about 16 feet wide by 24 feet long to accommodate the machinery, the basement to be of full size to serve as pump wells. It is quite possible that you may intend to erect in this district a fire station or other municipal building, if tion or other municipal building; if so it might be combined with the pumping station. The supervision of the plant would then be constantly under a city employe.

Pumping sewers are no novelty in this province. This year I have designed two sewage pumping stations one for Brantford and the other for Orillia.

By laying the Romaine street sewer at a sufficient depth it will serve as an outlet for all sanitary sewers to be constructed between the Electric works in the north and the city limits in the south.

When the area now lying outside the city limits becomes part of the city, another sewage pumping station will be required.

STORM WATER.

The timber drain on Tink street from the General Electric to the river should, in my opinion, be replaced by a proper concrete drain, from which all domestic sewage should be rigidly excluded. At the time of my visit in June it was in a foul, unsanitary condition.

If the surface drains on Park and Lock streets and Monaghan road be cleaned out and brought to uniform grades, it will not be necessary to construct underground drains or sewers for the removal of surface water until these streets are well built upon.

Eventually it may be necessary to construct another main sewer on Park street, but it is not now required, and when built it will not drain basements and cellars in the low area without pumping the sewage into it.

If a large main sewer were laid on Park street at sufficient depth to serve as an outlet for all tributary sewers, it would be necessary to pump the entire flow in this sewer at the outlet, and this scheme may be adopted at some future date.

RINK STREET DRAIN.

The timber drain on Park street, north of Rink street, should also be replaced by a concrete or tile drain, and if there be not a proper sanitary tile sewer in this street, one should be laid at the same time as the storm drains.

COSTS.

Romaine street pumping station will cost from $10,000 to $12,000, and probably $400 per annum for power and maintenance. Romaine street and Aylmer street sewer from $3 to $4 per lineal foot. The sanitary sewers $3 per lineal foot. On streets where there is no quick sand the cost should not exceed $2.

New storm drain on Rink street about $5.50 per foot, and Park street about $3.

A CORNER IN COINED GOLD

Who is the most powerful man in England? The Chancellor of the Exchequer says it seems to be Lord Rothschild. And one is tempted to think there may be something in it when it is pointed out that Lord Rothschild is the official head of a firm controlling £100,000,000 $2,000,000,000.

The Rothschilds are said to have doubled their wealth in eighteen years, and if the present rate continues they will be absolute masters of some two thousand millions of pounds by the middle of the present century.—Boston Transcript.

THE BLUE MOUNT AT STONEY LAKE

Few people have the courage or endurance to climb this dome of granite 1,500 feet high. It is 500 feet higher than the mountain at Montreal, and from the top 21 lakes are visible. It is a difficult hill to climb, but it is the one really mountainous feature of this district. It is about six miles back from the shore line, and is approached by paths leading into the bush.

NEW BRIDGE FELL

Alexandria, Ont., Aug. 11—The new steel and concrete bridge which was being built across the River Au l'Isle on the 9th concession road of Lancaster, Glengarry county, collapsed last evening at 5.55, but although several workmen were on the structure at the time, none were hurt.

The bridge, which had a span of 90 feet, was being constructed by the Chatham Bridge Co., after plans prepared by M. J. McLennan, C.E., of Williamstown, and would have been completed to-day.

The steel work of the bridge was in place, and the men putting in the concrete expected to finish their work in another two hours, when the first hint of trouble came in the buckling of the girder at the centre of the span, and the whole structure swayed to one side, finally settling down about four feet till it came to rest on the pier of the old bridge, which had been left in place.

The specifications called for a bridge to sustain a weight of 15 tons in addition to its own weight. Including approaches, the total cost was to be $4,000.

THE JULY REPORT OF THE CROPS

Ottawa—Field crops and live stock are not uniformly good, but they denote on the whole a very satisfactory condition for all parts of the Dominion. Timely rains at the end of June and frequent showers throughout July proved to be very helpful, and there are only a few localities where all crops are under an average.

Fall wheat has done well in the parts of Ontario where it is chiefly grown; it was cut early and gathered in fine condition. Reports of threshings already made show averages ranging from 20 to 35 bushels per acre, and the estimated average for the province is 23 1-2 bushels for an acre of 581,100 acres in crop. Alberta is the only other province growing a considerable quantity of fall wheat, and there fully one-third of the area sown was killed by the hard winter weather. The 81,000 acres of crop harvested has an estimated yield of 23.40 bushels per acre.—Government report.

AN UNUSUALLY FINE PICTURE

The Leopard Queen is being Shown at the Crystal.

"The Leopard Queen," a fascinating picture, and one greatly in demand by the managers of moving picture houses, is being shown at the "Crystal," and is proving highly entertaining to the audiences. It is one of the strongest pictures featured this season, and the remarkable control of the queen over her treacherous subjects shows the wonderful degree to which wild animals may be mastered by the human mind and will power.
